Writes to the President telling him that at the time of his (the President's) departure from the Willow Run Bomber Plant they left in the train a small model of the B24E Consolidated heavy bomber which is being built at the Willow Run plant. They thought the President might be interested in having one of these original models, as well as the knocked-down pieces, which represents an exact reproduction on a small scale of the assemblies as they are being forwarded by road in the special trailers to the assembling plants in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Fort Worth, Texas.--Attached is a letter to Mr. Early - same date - from Mr. Ford explaining that they would like very much to send a better finished one of the above-mentioned models, if, as Mr. Early states, the model may be placed in the Museum at Hyde Park. Asks to have the model returned for more appropriate mounting and cleaning.--Attached is Presidential memo for STE, 10/6/42, as follows: "Prepare a nice letter for me to send to Edsel Ford --- saying I would be delighted to have it."--On 10/6/42 the President wrote to Mr. Ford stating that he sill be delighted to have the model of the B24E Consolidated heavy bomber being built in Willow Run plant. The President states: "It will symbolize in striking fashion the splendid contribution you are making to the war effort and will also serve as a happy reminder of my very interesting visit to the plant last month."--Mr. Early also wrote to Mr. Ford on 10/6/42 to the effect that in accordance with the latter's request he is returning under separate cover the model which he gave for the President, that Mr.Ford may have it re-mounted.

Called and wanted to talk with Mr. McIntyre re presentation of the bust he made of the President and would like it to be on Dec. 7, 1942, commemorating Pearl Harbor. Attached to this file are many letters re this presentation to and from Mr. Russell and Mr. George C. Vournas, President of the Order of the Ahepa, who is to present the bust. The President suggested that the bust be made of stone instead of bronze to which they agreed. Edmondo Quattrocci was to make it in stone. Due to transportation problems, it was decided to deliver the bust to Franklin D. Roosevelt Library and have the presentation on 3/10/43 with pictures of the bust at the White House. Mr. Russell presented Mrs. Roosevelt with small reduction desk size a and has 25 others for her to deliver to her friends. Also will give one each to Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, Hon. Marvin H. McIntyre, Hon. Stephen T. Early, Miss Grace Tully, Hon. Rudolph Forster and Rear Adm. Ross T. McIntire. The list of the Ahepas at the presentation to be: George C. Vournas, Charles Davis Kotsilibas, Stephen S. Scopas, John F. Davis, Leo J. Lamberson, Constantine J. Critzas, and Vasilios A. Vasiliou, with Mr. Vournas makeing the Presentation speech and "still pictures" to be made. Fraternal Order of Eagles
No. 557

September 8, 1942

To his Excellency
Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt
President of the United States
White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

x697

In behalf of the 1033 members of Beloit, Wisconsin Aerie # 557, Fraternal Order of Eagles, we are mailing you under separate cover, a full color lithograph reproduction of " OUR FLAG", an oil painting which hangs in the lobby of the McCleary Clinic at Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

We members of Beloit aerie are very proud of this masterpiece, doubly so, because it was painted by one of our members, Fred Tripp. Mr. Tripp was seventy one years old when he painted the original oil painting. This man never had a painting lesson in his life but he expressed on canvas what he felt in his heart about the Flag of our Country. Truly a genuis and his work a masterpiece.

We give this picture to you with our best wishes and trust that you will see fit to honor Mr. Tripp by placing this picture in some appropriate place.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. President:

This timely little volume is being sent to you in the hope that it will instantly find a place in your heart.

It speaks for itself.

Its primary purpose is to stimulate greater interest in the Bible, thereby helping to maintain civilian and soldier morale in these times of stress.

I have been told that it is as "timeless as the Bible itself"; that it should be in every soldier's and sailor's pocket; on every executive's desk; in the possession of every man, woman and child.

It is my hope and prayer that this little book may help to lighten your own heavy load and to sustain you in the noble work you are doing.

ICKES, Hon. Harold L.,
Secretary of the Interior
October 6, 1942

Writes to the President sending him a book entitled "Fading Trails: The Story of Endangered American Wildlife", which, he states, is a product of the National Park Service.--On 10/8/42 the President wrote to Mr. Ickes thanking him for the book, above mentioned. He said that it reminds him os something he wishes Secretary Ickes would ask the Biological Survey people to make a little study of. President says that he think American venison is not so good as European venison, "which comes from the little spotted roe deer; says that in nearly all of Central Europe venison is, in peace time, a common article of diet which can be purchased in the little local Inns or even in the markets. The small deer costs very little to raise, etc. President wonders if "we could take, after the war, some cheap acreage from the edge of a national park or a national forest, fence it in, stock it with European roe deer, raise a little hay for the Winter, keep careful accounts and see whether it would pay for private individuals or companies to go in for this as a commercial proposition." The President adds: "It is possible that the Department of Agriculture might claim that the European roe deer have ticks!"--Attached is a letter to the President, 10/9/42 from Secretary Ickes in which the latter stated that the subject of the European venison was brought up by the President on an earlier occasion, and that the Secretary had looked into it, and reported that it didn't seem feasible to undertake anything until Hitleritis had been abated in Europe, and that nothing more has been done along this line. Sec'y. Ickes said that he thinks that the President will find them ready to go forward and make some concrete suggestions after the war.

BRITISH EMBASSY

WASHINGTON, D.C.

October 3, 1942

Dear Mr. Davis,

The Ambassador has received a request which is a little out of the ordinary and about which I have asked the advice of Mr. Homer Fox, who after enquiry suggests that I may put it up to you.

The British Red Cross Society and Order of St. John of Jerusalem would like to present to President Roosevelt a wool rug, the work of disabled veterans, which bears the insignia of the Society and the Order, together with the crossed flags of the United Kingdom and the United States. The gift would be a token of appreciation for what America has done for these organisations.

At the same time they expressed the hope that if the presentation be allowed it might be honoured by your making it yourself as Chairman of the American Red Cross.

It is appreciated that there is a general rule that the President does not receive gifts, but perhaps he would be so good as to view this particular suggestion in an exceptional light. I wonder if you would be so good as to find out for us if the President would honour and gratify these kind people by making the exception in their case and accepting the gift.

Yours sincerely,

/s/ H. Cotton Minchin

My dear Captain Minchin:

I shall look forward to meeting you in the near future and talking over the problems about which I used to talk with Mr. McCormick-Goodhart.

In the meantime, I acknowledge receipt of your letter of October 3rd and am making inquiries at the White House as to the President's wishes concerning the presentation of the wool rug, the work of disabled veterans, which the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John of Jerusalem wish to present to the President. I am hopeful that the President will feel that he can accept this token of appreciation from the British Red Cross Society and order of St. John of Jerusalem and if it is agreeable to him, I shall be very pleased to make the presentation as you suggest. As soon as I hear from the President's office I shall communicate with you.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

From the breadline of one of your fellowmen comes this meticulous and accurate drawing to sustain the monotony and my determination to try not to weaken by the darkness and the struggle sweeping back and forth across my mind what appears to be a pressaging doom; for, in this condition, a lover of beauty, freedom and kindliness who cannot leave home share in the 'War effort' to divorce himself from the bread-line (Welfare Role) to enable him to fight against want and the fear that comes from degradation as a result of want — like leaves falling from the tree of security — no comfort to sustain him,

Dear Mr. President:

I am sending you under separate cover a book titled "Momentary Stoppage". It was a gift to me by the sister of the Author. Since it is a mystery story, and I have the knowledge that this is the kind of book you thoroughly enjoy, I asked permission to send it on to you. Incidently the mystery starts in the first chapter which, I understand, is also according to your liking. I don't know that you will have much time to read, but perhaps you will and, if so, I trust you will enjoy it.

These are very uncertain and unhappy days. It is gratifying to know that we have a good President to lead us through the fire. I, along with millions of other Christians, remember you and your associates at the Throne of Grace daily. The outcome of the conflict, we know, is Victory with Honor. Please God it may come soon.

Very sincerely,

My Dear President:-

Please permit the writer to offer a suggestion which I believe will assist in helping our people to become more war minded.

When parades are enroute we all like to listen to the band especially where a thrilling loud military march is being played, flags waving, etc. I know this stimulates me and must do likewise to others.

My idea is to offer the public three (3) phonograph records at a bargain price, any of the record manufacturers could put up such a package.

On each record will be one loud U. S. Military Band playing a military march, the other side a home record such as-

Home Sweet Home
Star Spangled Banner Played by U. S. Army Band

Home on the Range
Dixie " " Navy Marine "

Silent Night
Some good march or Overthere " Salvation Army "

People use Radio but it does get one jittery at times, however its continuous and thats what people like.

Utica Area Women Devote Leisure Time to Hobbies

BUTTONS HER HOBBY. Mrs. H. J. Haberer has more than 20,000 in her collection; at right, Mrs. Edgar Schwald, Clinton, shows part of her big collection of salt and pepper shakers.

SCRAPBOOKS FOR SOLDIERS. Mrs. Nellie Benson, 83, with some of the scrapbooks on the current war which she is making to give to veterans in hospitals.

Utica Area Women Have Many Hobbies

Collecting Buttons, Shakers and Scrapbook Pictures Included

Utica, Sept. 26.—Many women in the Utica area devote their leisure time to hobbies. Here are three typical examples:

Mrs. Edgar Schwald, 10 Mulberry Street, Clinton, has more than 200 sets of salt an dpepper shakers; Mrs. H. J. Haberer, 143 Eagle Street, has collected more than 20,000 buttons; Mrs. Nellie R. Benson, 83, 109 Meeker Avenue, makes scrapbooks to send to patients at veterans' hospitals.

Mrs. Schwald's shakers are of wide variety in materials and shapes. They include china, glass, plasticand wood,and are shaped as fish, fruits, birds, animals and boats. In her collection are specimens from England, Canada and the Hawaiian Islands. Some of the sets are more than 200years old.

Mrs. Haberer, wife of Oneida County's senior coroner, has one of the largest collections of buttons in Central NewYork. It includes a wide variety of types from many lands.

Mrs. Benson fills her scrapbooks with pictures of the war. Since Pearl Harbor she has been busy at such work and intends to continue for the duration, giving the books to veterans' hospitals.

Scrapbook making has long been here hobby and she has books filled with pictures of water transportation, including watercraft of the Nile, the kyak, battleships of the United States Navy and of other Allied Nations, the Queen Mary, pioneer steamship, the Old Ironsides, Titanic, Maine, many vessels of World War I and many pleasure yachts.

A collection of pictures of English royalty includes those of Queen Mary Tudor, Elizabeth, Victoria, Anne, Buckingham Palace, the Royal Coach, crown jewels and swords.

Another collection includes views of the thatched roofof the typical Irish countryman, a sunset on Lake Killarney and Blarney Castle, as well as pictures of scenes in Switzerland and Italy. One book is devoted to President Roosevelt and his famil from his first election to the present time.

Mrs. Benson observed her 83d birthday anniversary on Aug. 14. On her 80th birthday she took her first airplane ride. She is active in club affairs and finds time to make novelties from odds and ends to amuse small inmates of local institutions.

Dr. Graham Slated for Council Seat

Retired Chancellor to Be Nominated Tomorrow, Mayor Reveals

SUCCEEDS CHASE

Assents to Serve as Patriotic Duty to the City

William Pratt Graham, retired chancellor of Syracuse University, is to be nominated for councilman-at-large in the Syracuse Common Council tomorrow, with unanimous approval of the sitting members, it was announced yesterday afternoon by Mayor Kennedy and President of the Common Council Carl A. Young.

Dr. Graham assented to the request of the city administration that he serve as a patriotic duty in the place made vacant by the retirement of Councilman-at-large Philip R. Chase, who is in military service. Captain Chase left Syracuse Sept. 2 with General Hospital 52, as an administrative officer. His term extends to Dec. 31, 1943.

Dr. Graham, 45 years associated with Syracuse University and serving as its head from 1936 to 1942, is the most distinguished Syracusan proposed for the Common Council in recent years.

Decision Is Unanimous

The Common Council president said trat the members were of one mind with regard to naming the educator. Councilman-at-large Donald H. Mead, as acting majority leader in the absence of Captain Chase, will make the nomination.

Mayor Kennedy said that in a consideration of possible successors to Captain Chase attention focussed on the University section as the geographical area in which the retired councilman resided.

Fifth District Councilman Melle E. Lowman, who represents the Fifth and 17th Wards, is ill and the other council members reside generally in the north, south and west sectors of the city.

The vacancy is filled by the Common Council under provisions of the Stilwell charter of 1935. If not so filled within 30 days of the vacancy arising, it would be filled by appointment by the Governor, according to a war-time emergency law adopted in July.

Law Is Defined

According to that law the new incumbent will serve for the term of the absent legislative officer, or until his return.

The law applies to counties, cities, towns, villages and districts. The Syracuse case is one of the first arising under that statute.

Except for the special legislation any vacancy arising before Aug. 11 would have to be filled by election this year. Other laws set an even later date for vacancies arising to be filled at the next election, but the special law covers the Syracuse Common Council case fully, according to advice from the law department.

Dr. Graham and Mrs. Graham, who live at 121 Windsor Place, are at Ganonoque, Ont. A native of Oswego, born Nov. 24, 1871, graduated from Syracuse University in 1893 and four years later at Berlin with a degree of Doctor of Philosophy, he made further postgraduate studies at Darmstadt, Germany, before returning

FRANKFURTER, Hon. Felix
Washington, D. C.,
Oct. 31, 1942.

The President wrote saying he was glad to have "Brendeis on Zionism" and what a great historical pity that Holmes and Brandeis were born, one of them thirty years too soon and the other twenty years too soon! The President said that all mankind suffers therefrom and that he really thinks the world needs them more today than it did then. The President asked if Mr. Frankfurter had noted that Henry Morgenthau, was said by the papers, to have been chosen the next leader of Zion. Said he and Mrs. Roosevelt were telegraphing Mr. Morgenthau when he reaches Miami that they will not receive him unless he arrives with a long black beard. The President asked Mr. Frankfurter to jot down that story of his namesake on the farm in Bethlehem ---- which the President states is the greatest compliment he ever received.

Honored Sir;

(Not attached)

The enclosed cartoon was clipped from the 'Brooklyn Daily Eagle' of October 11th.

I am taking the liberty of forwarding under separate cover two packages of 'Boston's Mint-in-Tea',- one so you may anticipate Mr. Churchill's next visit and the other for your good self.

Although I believe it is common practice among the peoples of India, it is indeed interesting to note that an Englishman, and such a fine Englishman as Mr. Churchill, prefers tea infused with mint. Aside from possible beneficial properties mint infusion enhances the flavor of tea. This may be effected with or without a resultant minty taste. On Sept. 3rd I wrote to Mr. Leon Henderson in some detail that the addition of mint to tea would augment the supply of tea in this country by over 3,000,000 lbs. In view of our national tea shortage it might be worth considering.

With sincere appreciation of the good job you are doing and every wish for your continued good health, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

Howard Lynch,

TRANSLATOR'S STATEMENT

This is a pamphlet entitled "World Collaboration, Spiritual and Material After the War". The name of the author is not given but the statement is made that the pamphlet is issued by "A Christian who loves to serve the Master". The pamphlet is No. VIII and is dated "Genève 1942".

The last page gives the table of contents as follows: "Letter to the Leaders of the Multitudes"; "Determination of Personal Value"; "The Film of Creation"; etc. The author writes in a religious vein, in fact, the whole work is like a long sermon.

This copy was sent to the President. On the back of the envelop there appears the name of the sender, rather illegibly. Apparently, however, his name is J. E. de Vies, Campagne du Port, Jores [?] sur Genève, Switzerland.

My dear Senator:

I have your letter of October seventeenth concerning the material which Mr. Arthur Buxbaum of Baltimore, Maryland, wishes to present to the President.

As you well know, the pressure of business is so terrific here that it is not possible for the President, or even his Secretaries, to have any appointments of a personal nature. Therefore, I am wondering if you would be kind enough to suggest to Mr. Buxbaum that he might mail the volumes in my care, and I shall be very glad to see that the President receives them.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mac:

Mr. Arthur Buxbaum, 1206 Hollins Street, Baltimore, Maryland, has assembled several volumes containing President Roosevelt's addresses, proclamations, executive orders, etc. and is desirous of being allowed to present them to some one at the White House so that the President could see them.

I have written to him that I was requesting information as to the best way to handle this presentation of the material with the thought in mind that these are war times which make very pressing demands upon the President and his staff.

With the best of wishes, believe me

Sincerely yours,

Many thanks for your letter of October 23rd in regard to the request of Mr. Arthur Buxbaum to present certain material to the President. I think your position is absolutely reasonable and I am going to recommend to Mr. Buxbaum that he send the volumes to you. As a matter of fact I have already suggested to him that such a method of handling the matter is the one which would be most suitable.

My Dear Mr President.

Writing this letter to you I hope you will have time to read it in these difficult times.

Sometime ago I read an article in the paper about Lincoln daily being placed on Lincoln favorite chair while living in Springfield,

Now the chair is on display at the Chicago Historical Society, and had the original daily on, but pretty well worn, so I made a duplicate and as a gift donated to the Chicago Historical Society and they accepted and place it Lincoln room

I've also send Lincoln dollies to the interesting people in Lincoln collections

Lincoln home in Springfield Ill. and To,

Mr R Gerald Mc Murtry to be placed in the Lincoln Memorial University of Harrogate Tennessee, which my husband has visited and meeting Mr Mc Murtry and Mr Stewert W Mc Clelland the President of the University..

My husband has a hobby collecting Lincoln books and Lincoln penny's, which by collecting Lincoln penny's, he has donated full board of Lincoln penny's to the Museam in Salem Illinois and also to the Lincoln Memorial University. x169

It would please me to have you accept the Lincoln doily, that I am sending to you Mr President, and place it in your favorite place, whether it be in Washington or in your Hyde Park home a Library

You often mention President Lincoln name, and so it must be dear to you heart, because you are experamenting

the same difficult times as did
President Lincoln
Mr President I hope sincerely
that you will accept the gift
And may God Bless you and lead you in your hard work
This is our prayer

Faithfully yours
