My dear Mrs. Ouzts:

The President has received your letter of March fifth and was deeply touched by your kind expressions regarding his inaugural address. He was indeed glad that you liked it.

The beautiful quilt which you were good enough to send the President was duly received and he is grateful to you for your thought of him.

Sincerely yours,

LOUIS McH. HOWE,

Most Honorable Friend:-

Words are inadequate to express my thoughts and appreciation -

I feel that every body is happy, and happy days are here again.

I "listened in" to the grandest program of my life. saturday I laughed and I cried - that's all I could do.

Your letter came and now I am going to send you a quilt.

You are the only one that is "big enough" to use it. I trust your dreams will guide and direct you in Yours, the greatest of undertakings

With God all-things are possible.
I want to help you, and I feel every-one else does.
It seems the world have been dying for love- I never saw such demonstrations since you came into our lives, for after all - what is life with out love?
Tell that "Texan" hello!
Best wishes for you and yours
I beg to remain

Your Honor:—

Iam writing this note for Mrs. Florencia R. Crosco, 1801 Alleton Way, Berkeley, Calif. She saw your picture in the San Francisco Examiner, and, made a duplicate of it, in "filet crochet." Now, that it is finished, she is anxious for you, to have it, as, an inaugurial gift. She is sending it to you under separate cover.

Mrs Arosco wishes you the greatest success in the coming years.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

This is a friendly note and trust you will treat it as such.

Since the mishap in Florida I realize more than ever what a difficult battle is ahead of you. You will have enemies the same as Pres. Hoover had.

Please don't think from the following that I am trying to sell you anything, I am not. I have a ring, which, of course, I would not part with, but if you so desire I will secure a similar one for you, providing you send me the measurements of your finger, say the first finger from your little finger, right-hand. There, of course, will be no charge connected with this as it will be a gift to you from the writer. I am sure, when you see the ring, you will have no fear of the future, whatever may happen and that you will never part with it.

In the event that you do not care to receive the ring mentioned above, may I say these words, which I have often heard you say to your radio audience: "GOD BLESS YOU."

Respectfully,

My dear Miss O'Leary:

The President has asked me to acknowledge your letter of February twenty-fourth and thank you for your kind offer and your word of good will.

He regrets that he cannot accept your gift, as he does not care to wear any ring, except the signet ring which he has for a good many years.

Will Send a New Shirt to Roosevelt

When Governor Roosevelt in Omaha last September took the shirt from his back, he gave it to Mrs. Glenn Olson, 2103 North Sixteenth street, for "the forgotten man."

Mr. Roosevelt let it go at that. Now it has done its duty for the forgotten man, and in its place comes a brand new one, made by R. N. Burgess, who made shirts for Grover Cleveland—who wore no man's collar.

Mr. Burgess' handicraft of white madras is just the right dimensions and is patterned after the shirt Governor Roosevelt left behind. Collar size, 16¼; sleeve length, 34 inches.

Tuesday evening Mr. Roosevelt's shirt for the forgotten man will be given away at the ex-service men's ball at the Auditorium. The new shirt, "Made in Omaha," will go forward in time for the inauguration ball.

Loree's Plans Thwarted; Hence His New Maneuver

By B. C. FORBES

After completely failing to create a gigantic eastern railway combination of his own, the scarred, disappointed, but determined L. F. Loree is scheming to get aboard the combination band wagon via New York Central. His buying of 10 per cent of that road's common stock and his attempt to become a factor and force in the road's affairs, is delightfully suggestive of this anecdote once related by Mr. Loree himself:

B. C. FORBES

A little boy put two small children on a trolley car but didn't get on himself. He ran alongside. Amazed, the conductor yelled at him as the car outdistanced him.

"It's all right, mister," shouted the breathless boy. "I'm taking them two kids to 49th St. Let 'em off there, will yer?"

"Sure," said the conductor, "but how about their fare?"

"That's all right, they don't pay. They're both under 5."

Mr. Loree has been running along the eastern railway combination procession, desperately striving to become part of it, but hasn't quite succeeded.

This writer never once believed Loree would be able to achieve his ambition of creating a transcontinental system. Almost five years ago the writer published this:

"Loree is essentially an anti, a fighter. He has fought labor, he has fought the interstate commerce commission, he has fought fellow railway operators.

Although he is on the edge of 75, an age when most corporations shelve executives, he is still full of fight and vim, still resentful of the thwarting of his ambitious combination dreams. His spirit, his spunk, is clearly reflected by his butting into the affairs of New York Central, instead of confining himself to running his own Delaware & Hudson and Kansas City Southern.

Some men love money, others love power. Loree's career indicates that he loves both.

Official statistics revealed that he drew more salary than any other railway executive. Not only so, but he got in terribly Dutch a few years ago, when it was disclosed that he enriched himself when he jumped in and, to quote the Wall Street Journal, "bought stock in Missouri, Kansas & Texas for his personal account when he contemplated purchasing Missouri, Kansas & Texas for the account of the Kansas City Railroad Co., of which he is the head," the record showing Mr. Loree made a profit of $144,707, which neither he nor his lawyer would explain away.

Those were the days, however, when oodles of money were being made in stock speculation by almost every Tom, Dick and Harry. Loree kept on at his posts.

Since then this stormy petrel of the railway world has fought tooth-and-nail the creation of four mammoth eastern railway systems, leaving his own dream-com-

Democratic County Chairman Matthews presenting Mrs. Glenn Olson of Omaha with one of Governor Roosevelt's shirts, so she could show it to an Omaha man who didn't believe the Governor would give his shirt for "the forgotten man." With the shirt Mrs. Olson was able to convince the man, and he promised nine votes for Roosevelt in his family, and a pledge to the Democratic campaign fund.

Roosevelt Gains Nine Votes When He Gives Shirt Away

By giving an Omaha woman one of his freshly laundered shirts, thus proving that he would give the "shirt off his back" for the "forgotten man," Governor Roosevelt won nine votes and a $10 contribution to the Democratic war chest.

Here's how it happened:

Three weeks ago Mrs. Glenn Olson, 2103 No. 16th St., was soliciting funds for the Democratic campaign. She went to a prominent Omaha business man.

"Why are you so strong for Roosevelt?" he asked.

"Because he is for the poor man—'the forgotten man'," Mrs. Olson declared. "Why he'd give you the shirt off his back."

After some further argument, her prospect said:

"All right, bring me his shirt and I and all my family (nine votes in all) will vote for him. And what's more I'll give $10 to the campaign fund."

So Thursday Mrs. Olson sought out Edward R. Burke, Democratic candidate for Congress, who helped her tell the story to Governor Roosevelt.

"Sure, I'll give you my shirt," the governor laughed. "Want it now?"

Flushed, Mrs. Olson said:

"No, you can mail it to me."

But Governor Roosevelt insisted on immediate delivery of the shirt. He met her later at his train and presented her with a freshly laundered shirt.

She departed immediately to get the $10 and the nine votes, but she refused to divulge the name of the man to whom the shirt was to be delivered.

Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States.

Your Excellency:

You will recall that when you were in Omaha last September, you were kind enough to donate one of your shirts to the cause of the "Forgotten Man". This incident was widely advertised, and I am enclosing several newspaper articles which were printed regarding the matter.

The shirt was raffled off at a Charity Ball held here this week, and it was won by a member of our Nebraska Legislature, Mr. Paul Halpine.

Yer Smith

As a token of our appreciation of the interest which you have shown in the welfare of the "Forgotten Man", we are herewith presenting you with a shirt made by Mr. R. N. Burgess, one of the leading shirt tailors of this city. Many years ago Mr. Burgess presented a similar gift to President Cleveland. Please accept the same with our compliments and best wishes.

The people of this part of the country join us at this time in wishing you a long and successful administration.

Dear Fritz:

I have wired you a night letter, as per copy attached, and sent you today by Air Mail a home recorded record of a song which I have just composed dedicated to our new President, Mr. Roosevelt. I am sending this song to you because I would like for you to get the record to Mr. Roosevelt so that he may hear same, and I feel that you will be glad to see that he gets this record. I also hope that you will arrange to get it played.

Phone

I want to caution you, as I wrote on the record, that the record must be played with the special needles which we sent along with the record. The needle will play the record several times, and I sent three needles, and more of the same kind of needles can easily be obtained at any Victor Store.

We put this song on our hook-up of Texas' most powerful radio stations, WBAP, Fort Worth, KPRC, Houston, and WOAI, San Antonio last Monday at 12:30 noon, and we have had a wonderful response from citizens all over the State and from other states commending us for such a patriotic song, and they tell us that they think we are doing much good in putting this song on the air at this time.

It may that you would like to have the song put on a National Broadcasting Chain, and if you do, we will gladly give our permission for same to be used, with the provision that the announcement be made as stated on the song.

I am satisfied that getting this song out to the public at the present time will have a very stimulating effect. It just seems like the whole country is getting back of Mr. Roosevelt, and they like the way he is starting off with his new task. We are glad indeed to make this contribution

The peace of God be with you on the daily rounds of duty,
The peace of God be with you in the silence of the night.

Though grief and care may fling their frown, the peace of God be near you,
To comfort you and help you bear the burthen of your load
Along the upward ways you walk; and then when life is over,
The peace of God be with you at the ending of the road.

That is the message the little shamrock brings to you this year. May it bring you peace! And if it brings you peace it will have brought you the best that we can wish you.

You know the history of the little green shamrock, and how closely it is linked with our Faith. There is no need for us to recall to you the story of the part it played when St Patrick was speaking to our ancestors of the Blessed Trinity. We would only remind you of what it typifies, we would only wish you peace- some faint far off reflection of the wondrous Peace of the Ever-blessed Three.

Have you ever heard the story of how Ireland got its name?
I'll tell you so you'll understand from whence old Ireland came.
No wonder that we're proud of that dear land across the sea
For here's the way my dear old mother told the tale to me:

Chorus

Shure a little bit of Heaven fell from out the sky one day,
And nestled on the ocean in a spot so far away,
And when the Angels found it, shure it looked so sweet and fair,
They said suppose we leave it, for it looks so peaceful there.

So they sprinkled it with star dust just to make the shamrocks grow;
'Tis the only place you'll find them no matter where you go
Then they dotted it with silver, to make its lakes so grand,
And when they had it finished shure they called it Ireland.

'Tis a dear old land of fairies and of wond'rous wishing wells;
And nowhere else on God's green earth have they such lakes and dells!
No wonder that the Angels loved its Shamrock bordered shore,
Tis a little bit of Heaven, and I love it more and more.

Dear Mr. President:

In the fall of 1929 you addressed a gathering of Massachusetts democrats at Springfield. On that occassion I had the pleasure of meeting you and listening to your address. When introduced to you, I was introduced as a resident of Lee, Massachusetts. You informed me that you were considerably interested in Lee because of the fact that your father attended a private school here, then called the "Hyde School". In our talk I informed you the building was still standing and occupied by a member of the Hyde family. You expressed a desire to someday see it. I am almost certain that your duties will prevent this for sometime, consequently I am sending you under separate cover, a book in which on page 93 you will find a picture of the old school.

At the present time the trees are larger, the fences have been removed and the railroad equipment is different than as it appears in the picture but the house is just the same.

Please keep this letter out of the newspapers. I am sending you the picture in the book because I think it will interest you and not for a publicity stunt. You may keep the book.

With best wishes for a continuation of the great success which thus far has crowned your administration, I am,

Faithfully yours,

Recognizing the fact that you, our noble President, are engaged in the stupendous task of the ages, striving to bring peace to a warring world through a world economic plan, we on the far western border of this domain supplicate continually that the new day which you are ushering in may dawn in all its Universal Glory. Because of the spiritual significance of the initiative you have taken, we beg that the Creative Spirit may confer a thought "which will turn the world into a rose garden."

We are taking the liberty of sending a copy of Divine Philosophy. The Prophet of Peace, whose Universal Philosophy is recorded in this book, has said, "It is my hope that the first flag of International Peace may be unfurled in America." May the minds of these men be illumined with this Divine plan. May you be the noble ruler (spoken of on Page 28) with keen mind and firm resolutions, with high ambitions of humanitarian enthusiasm, who will be the cause of bringing happiness to all the human race.

LAW TRIUMPHANT

BY

A PORTFOLIO IN TWO PARTS CONTAINING

THE OPENING OF THE BOOK OF THE LAW

AND

THE MIRACLE OF GENEVA

THE PORTFOLIO

contains Reproductions in colour-collotype of the Mural Paintings by Violet Oakley, in the Supreme Court Room of the State Capitol of Pennsylvania, entitled with Notes from the Addresses delivered at the Unveiling of the Paintings, May 23rd, 1927, by the Hon. George Wharton Pepper, then U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania, and the Hon. Robert Von Moschzisker, then Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; also the Address by Miss Oakley, in explanation of the Theme of the sixteen Panels—based upon "the Octave of THE LAW."

The Second Part is called

and includes fifty-five collotype reproductions of

THE GENEVA DRAWINGS

made during the Eighth, Ninth and Tenth Assemblies of The League of Nations in 1927, 1928, and 1929. The accompanying Text is from the Journal of the Artist while in Geneva during these three visits.

THE THEME of the work traces the steps of human progress in the development of the IDEA OF LAW from earliest times to the present, "showing an essential Unity of Substance beneath a startling difference of Form". It indicates the peculiar value of the contribution made by William Penn as a Law-Giver, pointing out its relation to the codifying of International Law in our own day, to Disarmament and to the vital cause of Security and PEACE.

The Geneva Drawings are divided into three groups: Delegates to the Assembly; Members of the Permanent Secretariat and the International Labor Office; and Visitors and Observers: and there is a composition of The Council of The League of Nations gathered around the horseshoe Table in the famous Glass Room.

"POST TENEBRAS LUX"

The Edition is limited to 300 Copies, each one numbered and signed by the Author; a Quarto Volume, in Leather covers by Alfred Smith & Company of Philadelphia; Metal Clasps by Douglas Gilchrist; the Text is bound and the Plates are loose-leaf; printed on San Marco paper, pages 11 inches by 15 inches; the 71 collotype Plates are by the house of Max Jaffé of Vienna; in the designing of the Typography Miss Oakley has been assisted by Harvey Hopkins Dunn; the Text has been printed under their direction by Joseph W. Tatum of the Biddle-Deemer Printing Company of Philadelphia.

Issued to Subscribers only. Printed privately by Violet Oakley, Lower Cogslea, St. George's Road, Allen Lane, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

THIS SECOND PORTFOLIO BY THE ARTIST IS ISSUED AS A DIRECT CONSEQUENT OF THE FIRST ONE, WHICH APPEARED IN 1922:-

THE HOLY EXPERIMENT

containing the two earlier Series of the Mural Paintings by Violet Oakley in the State Capitol:- those in the Governor's Reception Room, called

THE FOUNDING OF THE STATE OF LIBERTY SPIRITUAL, and those in the Senate Chamber,

THE CREATION AND PRESERVATION OF THE UNION,

with Illuminated Titles and Historical Notes, and its International Supplement giving translations of the Text in French, German, Italian, Spanish and Japanese.

This Edition was also a Limited one, of which some copies are still available. It is a Folio Volume, printed upon the same hand-made San Marco Paper; in Leather covers, by Alfred Smith & Company; the International Supplement was printed by Norman T. A. Munder, of Baltimore; the colour plates were made by The Beck Engraving Company of Philadelphia

"When her task was done, Violet Oakley had raised in the Capitol of Pennsylvania an International Altar to the victory of LAW over Force . . . That she should have become a Pilgrim to Geneva was so logical as to be inevitable. That she should have caught on paper the spirits of those World Leaders is also happily inevitable since they and she seek the same Goal."

Can you let me know at what time after the President's return from his yachting trip it would be convenient for me to bring it to him? If I might have a brief interview in which to give him an idea of the theme and general purpose of the work I should be very grateful.

With admiration and encouragement I have followed his rapid steps in leading our Country out of its depression and its isolation.

My dear Mr. McIlvaine:

Thank you for your kind reply to my letter of July 21st.

In view of what you say concerning the great pressure upon the President, and his departure from Washington on July 28th - he would perhaps prefer not to have anything additional brought to his attention - save the delivery of "Law Triumphant" through your hands.

It would seem wiser, therefore, to wait until after his return to the White House - You could perhaps then advise me as to what would be the best time for me to bring the Pamphlet - and I should be very happy to make

Our President Franklin D. Roosevelt the man of the hour.
Congress gave him full power, and none too soon.
For the big money racketeers were to rule or ruin
He donated his knowledge and service for four months to out smart these grafters and keep our Nation from decay.

He stopped the racketeers from taken our countries Gold away. By closing the Banks on his anauguration day.
And has given the people their Liberty back they had taken away. And is driving the 18th amendment the curse of our Nation and the false promisers panic away.

Honorable President:

I have taken the liberty to send you this small piece of art work, to show in some small way my admiration for a great President. I do hope it reaches you, and I sincerily hope it pleases you very much.

This writing, is like a message from a soldier at the front to the head command. I am a member of the unemployed unit, and have been at the front for a long time. And strange as it may sound, I am glad to have been there. Though I have heard no sound of roaring shell's, nor the ring of steel upon steel, still I have lived upon a field of battle. Many have been the times when poor hungry souls gave up in despair, and the chant of communist propaganda seemed to turn their minds to hope in a wild illusion. Then, it has been that the real front liners have gone into battle. Not to fire shots, but rather to cheer some despairing heart into new hope - To comfort them with a smile, and wake them from their stupor with a voice of hope.

Oh, I know there'll be no medals pinned upon the breasts of many great soldiers upon this front, and perhaps no one will ever know the deeds that were done, but some of them will always be a sacred memory to we who have seen them. Here through the darkest hours men have held faith and hope in their country. But for years we have been like an army unit seperated from our command. But now that we are united all along the entire battle front, and under your command move as one, a new and great hope has been born. Though the past months we have moved our lines up at your command. Employment has taken many of the many and worn back of the lines for relief. And with a smile on our faces, and the thrill of victory in our hearts, we are happy to think that soon this great war will be over. That, then again we may all take up once more, from where we left off before, in the pursuit of our objective in life.

In closing I only wish to say once more, "That all is well along the front, and we are pushing forward with our flag in a final, victorious offense against the enemy.

Humbly yours.

"Just a Soldier at The Front".

Dear Mrs Roosevelt: ack 9/14/33

I have taken the liberty, to send this package, containing a small piece of art work to you, in the hope that you will present it to the "Honorable President" for me. Rather than send it direct to him, and take up valuable time in the study of his mail, I beg this favor of you. If you would give it to him in the quiet of home, then I would not be the cause to take his mind from the problems of his great task, even for a moment.

I have sent this to him, thinking it may be a consoling thought to hear the feeling of heart from someone at the front in this great war against the enemy "depression". Perhaps the thought, of this little creation I have sent, will cause a moments smile within his heart. Just to know we at the front are pushing forward against the enemy at every opportunity, and smiling as we go, for in our hearts his leadership has set to glowing the flame of hope that for the past few years has idly smoldered, kept alive only by the thought that some day, a great leader, like we now have, would take command and lead us through

I know you will do this for me, for your heart is understanding of every one. I could not come to grips with this myself because I'm just a soldier at the front. My clothes are clean but tattered, and my shoes are badly worn, but I'm happy to be here. Just to be able to help some despairing heart with a smile and perhaps a word of cheer. To keep alive, the hope in the hearts of men. Though I'm only a youth and though I am well educated still its not strange that I should be in the front line on this battle ground. Often during the past two years I have found relief in employment, but I gave it to some one on whom little mouths were dependent for the bread of life. Though perhaps the past few years have been wasted years still I have confidence in the future of my country. When war is over I'll take up where I left off, and the thought of small deeds done these years will be my happiness of tomorrow

Very Sincerily yours
"Just a Soldier at the Front"

Dear James:

I thank you for your letter of September 18th.

The Secretary of Commerce has just wired me that his office would cooperate.

Our difficulty is to arrange that either your father or mother should witness and accept the delivery of the potatoes.

This is not a publicity stunt. It is something unique, that is, delivering freight by airplane, en route, without stopping. This is a big step in aviation and at present there is only one plane in the world that can do it, the Trusty Safety Plane. This freight will be dropped from an altitude of from eighty-five (85) to one hundred (100) feet.

The inventor, a native of Maine, now located in Los Angeles, has offered to deliver the potatoes for the donator. He will fly from New York, to and out of Aroostook County, direct to Washington, but to date we have not obtained permission to land the freight on the Capitol grounds, or information that your father or mother will witness the delivery and accept our gift.

Our Congressional delegation is helping to achieve these things, but your further assistance will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

Donald C. O'Regan

My dear Mr. Orsaia:

The President has received your kind letter of September twenty-eighth and has read it with interest. He requests me to thank you warmly for writing and for the medallion which you were good enough to send him. He is pleased to accept this product of your handiwork, and deeply appreciates this evidence of your confidence and good will.

Dear Sir:-

I am sending to you under separate cover "The New Deal Medallion" which depicts you prominently in the foreground, above your head is the Spread Eagle holding the ribbon upon which is inscribed "The New Deal" . In the background is the rising sun depicting the new era and a portion of the American Flag to add the spirit of patriotism.

This medallion is my own conception of the work you have set yourself to accomplish.

My sincere hope is that you will derive as much pleasure on receiving it as I have derived in creating and sending it to you.

With all my best wishes for your success, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

My Dear President Roosevelt,
I am enclosing a sample of my drawing which is not very good, but I am only nine years old. My parents have signed the N. R. A. and I'm for it from top to bottom. I've printed your code on all my school books & hope your sailing trip was enjoyable and that your visit to High Park will be just as joyful.

May your life be long and your spirit kept up.

Dear Mr. President:--

The receipt from our Norwood factory of some of our newest Congress cards causes me to believe that I have shamefully neglected you in this respect for a long time, although your busy routine probably leaves very little, if any, time for card playing recreation.

However, I send these cards to you with my very best wishes for your continued good health, and in the hope that the many problems which you are so happily and successfully solving may still leave you an occasional hour of relaxation.

I trust that by this time the Vincent reproduction has reached you and may please you to the extent that it will be honored with a place somewhere in your environment.

My dear Mr. President:-

Attached herewith, I am sending you a copy of the life of "THOMAS DONGAN" , by the Reverend Thomas P. Phelan, and hope that you might obtain a brief moment of respite from your constant and whole-hearted devotion to duty, in which to peruse its interesting pages.

I deemed it advisable to enclose the letter which I received from you two years ago so that you could refresh your memory, and understand the motive for my sending you the book. May I prevail upon you to return the correspondence to me, for I cherish it highly.

May the Grace of God encompass you and His Holy Spirit inspire you to "carry on" and "venture further" in the cause which you have so arduously espoused, to lead our people out of bondage, is the daily prayer of,

Dear Mr. President:

I have taken the priviledge of sending you by Express, two of my newest creations, in the form of a cigarette and a cigar humidor.

Your election to the Presidency of our Nation inspired me to design something drastically different, yet in harmony with the Century of Progress and the modern movement in the United States: I am therefore, presenting these two objects to you in memory of that inspiration.

I have great confidence in your leadership and your way of directing us to National Recovery, and I earnestly believe that every honest citizen in the United States is 100 per cent in favor of your sincere effort. Few selfish people that will critize your effort will invariably recognize your superiority.
