President Franklin D. Roosevelt,

My dear Sir:

The books on "Naval Architecture" were posted to you to-day. Since you have some letters of Joshua Humphreys, it will be of interest to see whether the signature in these books corresponds to that of the letters.

I am enclosing a fac-simile of a newspaper published in Halifax, Nova Scotia, in 1813. The sheet sent you is a part of the Annual issue of 1913.

It is of interest because it shows the way in which Capt. Dacres letter to his Admiral described the recent action with the Constitution:

Pawtuxet Valley Woman to Send NRA Bed Quilt to Roosevelt

Grateful to President Roosevelt for leadership which has resulted in renewed activity in Pawtuxet Valley mills, Miss Theresa Provost of Fiskeville wondered how she could express her appreciation of the dawn of a better day for the industrial section in which she lives. An enthusiastic supporter of the NRA, she came to the conclusion that she might show her gratitude by making a bed quilt and sending it to the President as a birthday present.

For five months she labored in her spare time, fashioning a comforter that won first prize at the Pawtuxet Valley Fair and was carried in both the Providence and the Pawtuxet Valley NRA parades. This comforter is to be sent to the President sometime this week to reach him on his birthday.

The quilt has a white background. There is a large Blue Eagle in the centre. Twelve smaller NRA insignia surmounted with the letters NRA embroidered in red complete the design. The 13 Blue Eagles represent the 13 original States. Miss Provost cut each of the Eagles out of blue cloth. The sewing fastening them to the comforter as well as all of the guilting was done by hand, and the exceptionally fine needlework as well as the originality of the design counted with the judges when they gave the quilt first prize at the Pawtuxet Valley Fair. All of the material used in the quilt was made in Pawtuxet Valley mills.

Dear Sir:-

I am sending you under seperate cover a copy of "Your Next Twenty Years", by Wynn. No doubt you are familiar with this magazine, but in case you are not; there are some very good predictions in it. I am sure it will be of your interest to read it carefully.

I had the pleasure several evenings ago to see and hear Mr Wynn in an Educational Film Corp. picture. I believe the people are ready to accept the teachings of Astrology now, more than at any time in the past and I would like to recommend that you endorse the movement.

It is a recognized fact that no people can hope to progress and be happy and still disregard the laws of nature.

I do not wish to impress you that I am narrow in my viewpoints. I am only twenty nine years of age, a college man, strong, healthy and quite normal. During the past five years life has handed me a number of various experiences, some of which have cost me dearly in different ways. During the last two years however I have been studying astrology and have gained considerable, both materially and spiritually.

Giving you my moral support, may you be able to pilot us to greater and better times ahead.

Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States,

Sir:

I am taking the liberty of sending you a copy of a little booklet entitled "A Road to Opportunity", which I have written in a purely private capacity, offering suggestions for more permanent relief for those now deprived of a normal chance to make a living.

Should you take time to read it, you may note that I am heartily in accord with the ultimate objectives of the "New Deal" but that I am not hopeful of accomplishing permanent results by the present policy of artificially raising prices and of increasing public debt. There still seems to be lacking a workable plan that shall definitely offer to each of our citizens for all time a chance to earn an honest living.

As I am constantly surrounded by fine young men facing what is probably the most discouraging thing a young man can face - futility, hopeless inactivity - it seems that I cannot refrain from offering some suggestions based partly on observations made in Russia in 1930, suggestions which might at least serve as a starting point for a more satisfactory system.

Since you are the man with the best understanding of the situation and the most opportunity for accomplishment, I am sending this copy of "A Road to Opportunity" to you direct. Should any of these suggestions prove to be of value in again offering opportunity to our people, it will be a fine thing; if not, there is no harm done.

Wishing you all the success in the world, I am

Dear President Roosevelt:

Through the courtesy of Mr. Lucien Franck, of the New York Times, New York Lodge No. 1, B. P. O. Elks is sending you a photograph made in its Lodge Room on the occasion of its Sixty-sixth Anniversary of the Birth of our Order, February 18,1934.

The picture is interesting, not only from the fact that it portrays a notable group of citizens, but that it also demonstrates the power of our fraternity to bring men of every shade of political thought and rivalry together in the name of brotherhood.

Somehow the photograph, with its representatives of so many divergent political views, standing by the Flag draped altar of our Order in amicable accord, seems to symbolize the thought of brotherhood, which I know underlies your heroic efforts in behalf of "the New Deal".

Respectfully and fraternally yours,

My Dear Mr Howe,

Regret to hear, and I hope by this time recent illness. There is so little the most of us can do to help the President in his huge task. Yet it is possible we can help in a small way those who are in a better position to help the President carry on.

It is with pleasure that I am sending to you a wonderful bath salt which I came in contact with here in Miami. This preparation was so highly recomended that my wife and I both tried it and find it wonderful. Try it and see the restful effect it has on the nerves. It would do any heart good if the President could get some benifit from this product as I know the strain most of the staff there must be under most of the time. I sincerely hope the second year of the President will be even more successful than the first.

Dear President,

Inside the package to which this letter was attached, you shall find a small Ho-made West Virginia souvenir and present from a hard and eagerlaboring man, to a great man, with a laboring mans heart.

We knew that you would be so busy, thinking and working for us laboring folks, that you would not even have time to go out and buy an Easter basket to gather your bunny eggs, so we are making and mailing you this basket for that very purpose.

With words, we are unable to express our deep and sincere appreciation for the wonderful service that you have rendered to us laboring folks, and from all indications, we are soon to have the chance to again happily work and provide for our families, as honest and hard working families should be provided for.

We were more than glad to hear your recent statement, in regards to shorter working hours and and increase in wages, also shall greatly appreciate your influence toward the Railroaders shorter work week bill, as I am sure you realize the present railroad unemployment situation.

We trust that you shall always be successful in your endeavors, and trust that God shall bless you with the best of health, that you might continue the great work of preserving a great nation.

Always found a strong supporter of Democracy and justice, I am,

An earnest admirer,

Emerson Phillips.

Dear President Roosevelt:

Inclosed in the package is a handkerchief embroidered with your name on it. I am a girl of sixteen years and because of a contest recently held in school I happened to be the lucky girl for having the best looking one of seventy other girls. I have already gone to the newspaper office and had my picture taken holding the handkerchief before me.

I am so proud to have the opportunity of writing to you. I guess I am the proudest girl in the United States. I hope you appreciate this little token from me. It is not very much but you will no doubt treasure it because it is something odd and something that is not seen very often.

I would like you to know that everyone in Rochester appreciates what you are doing now and of all you've done in the White House. I hope you will keep on being guided in the right direction by God toward leading you on the right path. We trust in God that He will give you the right to distinguish between the right and the wrong.

I want to take liberty now of wishing you a very happy Easter and good health on behalf of all my very close friends, my family and myself.

Dear Mr. President:

Thankfulness and sincere gratitude prompts me to write you. I heartily appreciate your kindness in acting so promptly and exactingly on my letter of March 7, ultimo., in reference to helping me save my fathers' home.

I am aware of the fact that grave problems, tiresome and never-ending technical worries continually press upon your every resource; but am grateful, honorable sir, that the spark of Christian humanity beats in your breast---actuates your noble efforts---and that you have saw fit to cast aside the dignities and trappings of a high official office to help solve the problem of a humble citizen of the nation and a full-fledged servant of yourself such as I am---in behalf of my father.

Your facilitate efforts have, in a large measure, made me feel more secure; and through the accepted channels of the Home Owners Loan Corporation, I feel that our home can soon be saved.

Dear Mr. President:-

I am giving myself the pleasure, as well as the honor, in having sent to you from the publishers, a copy of our friend Tannenbaum's book, "Thomas Mott Osborne", for which you were gracious enough to write the introduction. I am doubly honored by his dedication of this book to me. I fear his absence en route to Peru for two years research study on the Guggenheim Fellowship and his always lack of surplus, may have precluded his sending you one. I have availed myself the privilege of this service in sending copies here and there, with real satisfaction in responses.

Dear Ones,

As one of your humble subjects I beg leave to address you, hoping to find favor and acceptance of a small token which I hope you will find, among many greater favors, but none coming from truer hearts than the one I am now mailing you, and which I trust you will, duly receive from my husband and myself.

We are growing old together, he is 76 years of age, while I am 72 years, and in our humble way we are still facing the battles of life with our trust in God whose children we are, and, along life's way

With my failing hands, but clear eye-sight with which my maker has still endowed me, I have crocheted a feeble effort of a Panel — which is now enrout to your home — and we sincerely hope it will be accepted in the same spirit with which it is being sent.

I have never before deigned to address my President, nor the First Lady of our land, but I assure you that I was really inspired through much reading of your wonderful activities to show that we greatly esteem and adore you and in our meagre circumstance could in no other way demonstrate our loyalty to those whom we deem — "God-sent Leaders".

We continually pray God's choicest blessings, and protection, long-life, happiness, health, and abundant success in your world-wide activities for the good of our

Dear Mr. President:

The Newport Chamber of Commerce has shipped you by express the first salmon taken from Lake Memphremagog on the opening day of the current fishing season. We hope that it will arrive in good condition.

This salmon is probably unlike any you have ever seen. Mr. J. A. Rodd, director of Fish Culture at the Canadian Biological Board in Ottawa, has pronounced it to be of the specie of Atlantic Salmon (Salmo Salar) anadromus, or a fish which has never been to sea. The Canadian government first stocked Lake Memphremagog with this specie in 1905 and it has successfully adapted itself to a life in fresh water.

Mrs. Roosevelt paid Newport a brief visit last summer and perhaps remembers the lake in which this salmon was caught.

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. President:-

Returning from Boston, where I have been consulting Houghton-Mifflin regarding the Hudson Valley book, I found that excellent firm in something of a quandary over costs, etc. I wonder what you would think of reducing the scope of the work to include only the middle Hudson from say Ossining to Hudson. By doing so, it would not be necessary to go beyond your present collection of prints and steel engravings; and the expense would be reduced accordingly. The middle river is both the most picturesque and historic; and by concentrating upon that portion the text might be improved as a result of conciseness and closer detail.

I am making bold to send you an autographed copy of my new novel, Once A Wilderness, which I think may interest you as a picture of the blind struggle between agriculture and industry which has been under way in this country for many years and which now engages so much of your attention.
