Dear Jack:

Thank you for your warm message of congratulations. I was glad to learn that you and Jean enjoyed the inauguration.

I am proud of the close and cooperative relationship that we have developed with Israel and plan to build on it in the coming years. I appreciate knowing that I can count on your support and assistance in encouraging even stronger bonds between the United States and Israel.

Barbara joins me in sending you our best wishes.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

It is a very exciting and satisfying opportunity that I have now to address you as "Mr. President" and I regard it as a privilege to relate to you in this fashion. Jean and I participated in the inauguration and enjoyed being a part of the salute to you and Barbara.

I am leaving next Thursday with some leaders of the Conference of Presidents for meetings with Prime Minister Shamir, Foreign Minister Arens and Foreign Minister Peres. If there is any personal service I can render in connection with this visit, I would be most honored to do so.

I remain willing to assist and support you and your administration in any way that you think appropriate.

I look forward to continuing the practise that I enjoyed of meeting with you for an occasional personal chat.

Jean joins me in sending love to you and Barbara and to the many members of your family that we enjoyed meeting.

Cordially

Jack
