Dear //:

Thank you for your recent letter to the President, cosigned by 61 of your colleagues, regarding his meeting with Israel's Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir.

Your comments regarding our country's critically important relationship with Israel are certainly appreciated. Please know that I forwarded your letter to the President's foreign policy and national security advisors and asked that they provide you with any appropriate information concerning the President's meeting.

Thank you again for your interest in writing.

With best regards,

Sincerely,

Frederick D. McClure

Enclosure

December 10, 1990

The President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

On Tuesday, December 11, you will meet with Israel's Prime Minister Shamir for the first time since Iraq's invasion of Kuwait. Mr. President, you must take this opportunity to reaffirm unequivocally your commitment to our most important regional ally, Israel.

In your meeting with the Israeli Prime Minister, you will have the opportunity to restate publicly the preeminence of Israel's relationship with the United States.

For over forty years, Israel has been the United States' most important and reliable ally in the Middle East. As our coalition against Saddam Hussein has evolved, America is beginning to develop new relationships with other Middle Eastern nations. These new alliances have not weathered the test of time that America's alliance with Israel has. You must assure Prime Minister Shamir that these new regional relationships will not evolve at the expense of Israel's special and long-established relationship with the United States.

Mr. President, we applaud your standing up to Hussein's "naked aggression" and resisting all attempts to link Israel to this conflict. Now, you must reassure Israel that its fears are completely unfounded and that nothing will be done to impair her security.

Respectfully,
