

Original FOIA Number: 2003-0255-F

2nd FOIA Number:

3rd FOIA Number:

4th FOIA Number:

5th FOIA Number:

FOIA MARKER

This is not a textual record. This is used as an administrative marker by the George Bush Presidential Library Staff.

Record Group:	Bush Presidential Records
Office:	Records Management, White House Office of (WHORM)
Series:	Subject File - General
Scanned/Unscanned:	Scanned

WHORM Category Code:	FO004-02
WHORM Category Name:	Loans - Funds

Document Number:	177093 to 177093SS	Entire Category Processed
Alpha File Name:

177093

F0004-03

THIS DOCUMENT IS NOT TO BE COPIED OR REMOVED WITHOUT APPROVAL OF THE ORM DIRECTOR'S OFFICE.

F0004-02

DATE

920724

PLEASE NOTE

A copy of the attached document has been certified as true, accurate and identical to this document as of this date. The copy may be used as evidence in a court case.

Therefore, please do not alter, modify, or add any papers or writings to it.

THIS DOCUMENT IS NOT TO BE COPIED OR REMOVED WITHOUT APPROVAL OF THE ORM DIRECTOR'S OFFICE.

g

177093

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

F0004-02

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Alexander:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

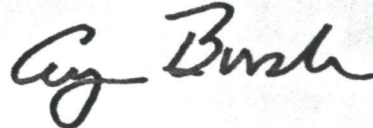

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large, stylized "G" and "B".

The Honorable Bill Alexander
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Atkins:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Chester G. Atkins
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman AuCoin:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large initial "G" and a stylized "Bush".

The Honorable Les AuCoin
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Bevill:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

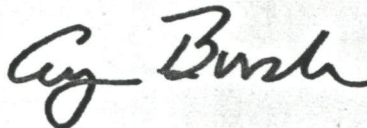

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letter of the first name being a large, stylized capital 'G'.

The Honorable Tom Beville
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congresswoman Boggs:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

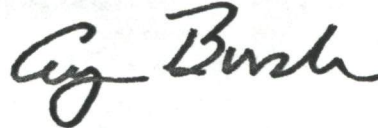

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Lindy Boggs
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Carr:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Bob Carr
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Chapman:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Jim Chapman
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Coleman:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "C. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letter "C" being large and prominent.

The Honorable Ronald D. Coleman
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Conte:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Silvio O. Conte
Ranking Minority Member
Committee on Appropriations
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Coughlin:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Lawrence Coughlin
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman DeLay:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Tom DeLay
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Dicks:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letter of the first name being a large, stylized capital 'G'.

The Honorable Norman D. Dicks
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Dixon:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

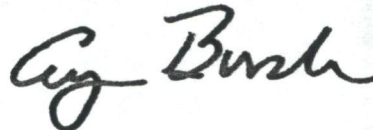

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large, stylized "G" and "B".

The Honorable Julian C. Dixon
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Durbin:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "George Bush". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the word "Sincerely,".

The Honorable Richard J. Durbin
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Dwyer:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large, stylized "G" and "B".

The Honorable Bernard J. Dwyer
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Early:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

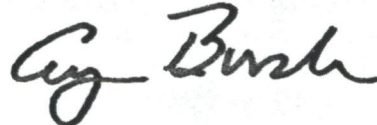

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "G" being particularly large and stylized.

The Honorable Joseph D. Early
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Edwards:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "G" being particularly large and stylized.

The Honorable Mickey Edwards
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Fazio:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

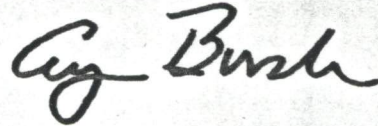

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "G. Bush".

The Honorable Vic Fazio
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Mr. Speaker:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "C. B. Bunt". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "C." and last name "Bunt" clearly distinguishable.

The Honorable Thomas S. Foley
Speaker of the
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Mr. Speaker:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Guy Bush". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style with a large initial "G".

The Honorable Thomas S. Foley
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Gallo:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "G" being particularly large and stylized.

The Honorable Dean A. Gallo
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Gephardt:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

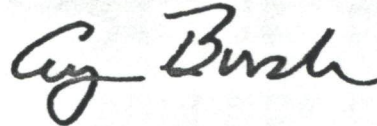

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Richard A. Gephardt
Majority Leader
House of Representatives
Washington DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Gingrich:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

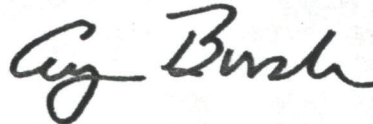

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Newt Gingrich
Republican Whip
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Gray:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable William H. Gray, III
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Green:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Bill Green
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Hefner:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable W.G. (Bill) Hefner
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Hoyer:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush", written in a cursive style.

The Honorable Steny H. Hoyer
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congresswoman Kaptur:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "C. J. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Marcy Kaptur
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Kolbe:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Jim Kolbe
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Lehman:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

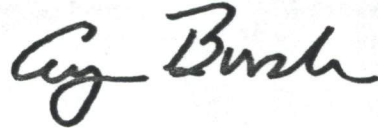

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style with a large, prominent "G" and "B".

The Honorable William Lehman
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Lewis:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Jerry Lewis
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Livingston:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush", written in a cursive style.

The Honorable Bob Livingston
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Lowery:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Bill Lowery
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman McDade:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Joseph M. McDade
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman McHugh:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

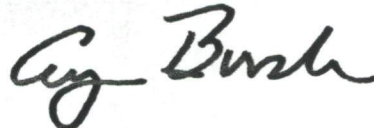

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Matthew F. McHugh
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Michel:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letter of the last name being a large, stylized capital 'B'.

The Honorable Robert H. Michel
Republican Leader
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Miller:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Clarence E. Miller
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Mollohan:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Alan B. Mollohan
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Mrazek:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letter of the last name being a large, stylized capital 'B'.

The Honorable Robert J. Mrazek
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Murtha:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

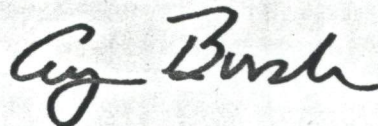

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letter of the first name being a large capital 'G'.

The Honorable John P. Murtha
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Myers:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush", written in a cursive style.

The Honorable John T. Myers
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Natcher:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

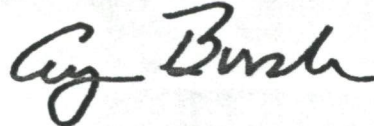

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letter of the first name being a large, stylized capital 'G'.

The Honorable William H. Natcher
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Obey:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

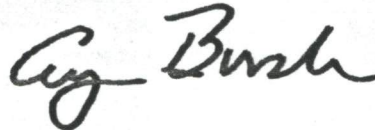

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large initial "G" and a stylized "Bush".

The Honorable David Obey
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Porter:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large initial "G" and a stylized "Bush".

The Honorable John Edward Porter
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Pursell:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush", written in a cursive, flowing style.

The Honorable Carl D. Pursell
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Regula:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Ralph Regula
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Rogers:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letter of the first name being a large, stylized capital 'G'.

The Honorable Harold Rogers
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Roybal:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

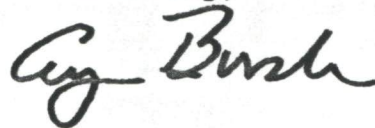

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of each name being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Edward R. Roybal
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Sabo:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "C. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large initial "C" and a stylized "Bush".

The Honorable Martin Olav Sabo
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Skeen:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Joe Skeen
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Smith:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

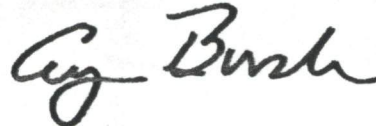

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "George" and last name "Bush" being the most legible parts.

The Honorable Neal Smith
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congresswoman Smith:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

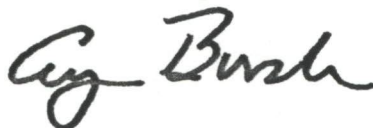

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letter of the first name being a large capital 'G'.

The Honorable Virginia Smith
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Stokes:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

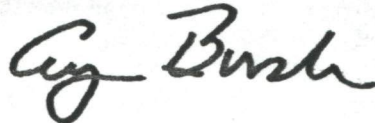

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letter of the first name being a large capital 'G'.

The Honorable Louis Stokes
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Thomas:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Lindsay Thomas
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Traxler:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Bob Traxler
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Watkins:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Wes Watkins
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Weber:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush", written in a cursive style.

The Honorable Vin Weber
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

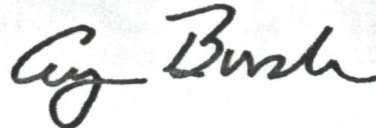

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Jamie L. Whitten
Chairman
Committee on Appropriations
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Wilson:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

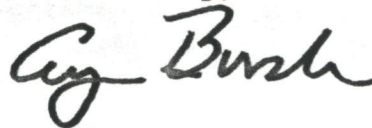

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush", written in a cursive style.

The Honorable Charles Wilson
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Wolf:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

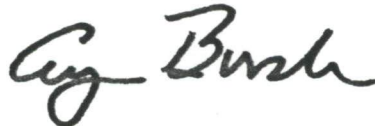

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large, stylized "G" and "B".

The Honorable Frank R. Wolf
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Yates:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

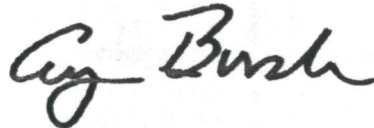

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable Sidney R. Yates
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

Dear Congressman Young:

Your support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness and my legislative initiative is critical for two essential reasons. First, the maintenance of a strong and united Persian Gulf policy is in the U.S. national interest. Second, and more importantly, it will send the message that Egyptian President Mubarak's courageous acts, which are essential to the success of our policy, have the admiration and support of the United States.

Egypt has played a pivotal role since 1978 in the search for peace in the Middle East. It has kept the peace with Israel, despite a decade of hostility and ostracism from other Arab states. Under President Mubarak's leadership, Egypt has led the moderate Arab world as a counter to extremism in the region. And, Egypt has tirelessly sought ways to promote the peace process, including an Israeli/Palestinian dialogue.

In the wake of Iraqi aggression, Egypt spearheaded the Arab League's condemnation of the invasion, demand for an Iraqi withdrawal, and support for an Arab defense force. Egypt immediately committed substantial numbers of its own forces to Saudi Arabia, the first Arab state to do so. Egyptian leadership, with popular support from the Egyptian public (who constitute almost one-half the Arab world), has been crucial in preventing Saddam from turning this into an Arab-U.S. issue. I might add that, given its population and economic strength, Egypt's planned troop deployment will be comparable to our own.

Egypt has assumed enormous political, economic, and military risks by its actions. Mubarak's leadership role and prestige at home and within the Arab world are at stake. He needs clear, tangible support for his courageous and principled stand. Cancellation of Egypt's military debt is of enormous import to him, both politically and economically. Egypt's heavy debt burden is unsustainable--the more so with this crisis. Our support will reinforce Egypt's leadership, which must be maintained if our policy is to succeed. We are undertaking tremendous risks with our Persian Gulf policy; we need full Congressional support for all elements--and Egyptian debt forgiveness is a cornerstone of this endeavor.

Therefore, obtaining Congressional approval of my legislative initiative for Egypt's debt is essential to sustaining our Persian Gulf policy. I strongly urge you to support my legislative proposal as contained in the Desert Shield Supplemental Appropriations bill and to report it from Committee to enable your colleagues to consider it on the House floor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. H. W. Bush". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Honorable C. W. Bill Young
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515