Dear President Bush,

I wanted to thank you for your help in resolving my family's disagreement with Princeton University. I am quite sure that without your assistance the library in Robertson Hall would be dedicated to another family.

I am learning that philanthropy, though often a very rewarding experience, sometimes requires that a donor fight to preserve the integrity of a gift.

It was a great pleasure to meet you and Mrs. Bush at Princeton. Thank you again for responding to my letter and for helping me pursue my parents' dream.

BERT WALKER ANNOUNCES EXPLORATORY CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE FOR CONGRESS

ST. LOUIS -- Longtime St. Louis businessman and civic leader George H. "Bert" Walker today announced the formation of an exploratory campaign committee for Missouri's Second Congressional District.

"Carol and I have thought long and hard about the possibility of seeking the Second District congressional seat, and we have decided to take this very important first step in that process," Walker said. "Over the coming months, we hope to test our potential support in the district."

Walker, 60, is a native of St. Louis and is currently chief executive officer of Stifel Nicolaus & Company, Incorporated, a St. Louis stock brokerage and investment banking firm. Walker is chairman of the board for Webster University and is on the board of directors of St. Louis Children's Hospital and on the advisory board for the St. Louis Council of Boy Scouts of America.

"St. Louis and St. Charles Counties face tremendous challenges in maintaining a strong economy and quality of life for all of its citizens," Walker said. "I am hopeful my practical business background and involvement in the community will appeal to the citizens of the Second District."

Walker serves as vice chairman of the St. Louis County Republican Central Committee and is Clayton Township Republican Committeeman.

Serving on the Bert Walker for Congress exploratory committee are:

Dear «Salutation»:

Earlier this year, citizens of Missouri's Second Congressional District witnessed just how important elections are when Congress voted to authorize the President to use force in the Persian Gulf. Our new representative, liberal Democrat Joan Kelly Horn, failed us when she voted to oppose President Bush.

Since that time, my wife Carol and I have given a great deal of thought about the possibility of challenging Joan Kelly Horn in next year's election. We have decided to form an exploratory committee to "test the waters" for political support over the coming months.

As a Republican leader, you have been on the front lines of many political battles over the years. You know that election victories do not come easy, and I am acutely aware that even the best candidate cannot win without the full and enthusiastic support of leaders such as you.

I have more than 30 years experience running a successful business and have had the honor of serving on several boards of important institutions such as St. Louis Children's Hospital, St. Louis Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, and Webster University. I have tried to help our Republican Party by serving as Clayton Township Republican Committeeman and St. Louis County Republican Central Committee Vice-Chairman.

Most importantly, I think I am in tune with the issues and values of the Second District. I would have voted to support our President in the Persian Gulf, and I support term limitation, fiscal responsibility, tax policies which encourage savings and investment, and political reform.

I would appreciate your early support of our exploratory efforts and welcome any comments, ideas, recommendations, etc. I look forward to meeting with you and talking about the campaign in the coming months.

Sincerely yours,

WALKER FOR CONGRESS

Bert Walker brings a lifetime of community involvement and business achievement to the 1992 election for Missouri's Second Congressional District.

A native of St. Louis, Walker has distinguished himself as an aggressive advocate for a strong regional economy. He is chief executive officer of Stifel, Nicolaus & Company, Incorporated, a long-established St. Louis stock brokerage and investment banking firm with offices through the midwest United States. He is a past chairman of Downtown St. Louis, Inc. and serves as a Commissioner of the Downtown St. Louis Business District.

Walker is a tireless civic activist who serves on the board of directors of St. Louis Children's Hospital and the Missouri Historical Society and is on the advisory board of the St. Louis Area Council, Boy Scouts of America. He is currently chairman of the board of Webster University.

A respected Republican leader, Walker is vice-chairman of the St. Louis County Republican Central Committee and is Clayton Township Republican Committeeman. He also was Missouri finance vice-chairman for the Bush for President campaign in 1988 and finance chairman for Reagan/Bush in 1984.

Governor John Ashcroft appointed him to the Missouri Welfare Reform Advisory Committee where he is working to give welfare recipients opportunities to get out of the welfare trap. Attorney General William Webster recently appointed him to the Missouri Crime Commission where Walker is an advocate for victims' rights and tough sentencing measures.

Walker also served as Civilian Aide to the Secretary of the Army from 1973 to 1979.

Walker's wife, Carol, is on the board of directors of the Municipal Opera Theatre and is active in the LIFT literacy program. Carol is a candidate for a master's degree of theological studies at Eden Seminary and hopes to be ordained an Episcopal priest. She serves on the Board of the Episcopal City Mission and Care and Counseling. The Walkers are members of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Ladue.

Bert Walker has four daughters, one son, and three grandchildren.

Welcome once again to the Great State of Maine as our Nation remembers those who gave their lives for the freedom of our country.

Mr. President, dreams are fulfilled sometimes because one dares not only to dream but to act. So, this is why my letter is coming to you today.

Next year on Friday, May 22nd our Parish will celebrate the One Hundreth Anniversary of its' foundation with an afternoon liturgy followed by a dinner in Portland, Maine at the Holiday Inn. If by chance you can only attend one function because of your heavy schedule, we would be honored to have your presence at either function.

In the name of my Parishioners and in the name of your dear friend, Mr. Emile Roy, who is a member of this Parish, I want to invite you both to this celebration.

I realize that it is difficult for you to commit yourselves a year in advance to such an invitation considering your many duties and demands.

However, if time would allow you to be present, we would be highly honored by your presence.

I pray that God will continue to bless you and Mrs. Bush and may He also guide you in your decisions that will touch the Nation and the World.

I want to commend you on your choice of College Station as the site of your library. I have worked in another presidential library, in other national archives, and in the British Museum's Library as well; invariably, I have found them to be staffed by wonderfully helpful and capable people. In Texas, your library will have fine, qualified people to run it. Bush rips accusations of Iran-hostage plot.

By Basil Talbott

Washington Bureau / Chicago Sun-Times

WASHINGTON—President Bush on Friday rejected as "sickening" accusations that the 1980 Reagan-Bush presidential campaign schemed with Iran to hold up release of U.S. hostages in Iran until after the election.

Seeking to stem the controversy, Bush denied a central element of the plot—the assertion that he attended a meeting on the subject that year in Paris—but refused to discuss the matter further.

Reporters raised the issue at a photo session in the Oval Office a day after Gary Sick, chief Middle East adviser in the Jimmy Carter administration, made the case for a thorough inquiry at a meeting with key House Democrats.

The plight of the hostages in Tehran had become a major embarrassment for Carter, and Sick and others have asserted that the Reagan-Bush campaign sought to delay their release to increase the Republicans' chances of defeating the one-term Democratic incumbent.

The hostages were released just minutes after Ronald Reagan succeeded Carter as president.

In an article for the New York Times on April 15, Sick described evidence he found on his own that a deal for the delay had been struck with Iranian operatives in exchange for weapons.

The scenario included several meetings in Paris, including one that some people claimed Bush attended while running for vice president. Sick wrote that at least five sources "insist Bush was present" and that three said they saw him. But Sick admitted he still had not made up his own mind about the allegation.

Asked Friday whether he was "ever in Paris in 1980," Bush replied: "Was I ever in Paris in 1980? Definitely, definitely no."

Then Bush was asked if he had met with Iranians.

"That's all I'm going to tell you," he said. "That's all, but please print it. Let's try to stop this rumor-mongering that's going on."

Turning to walk away, Bush was heard to mutter, "Rumors in the press. It's sickening."

As Bush attempted to toss water on the simmering controversy, the State Department added some potential fuel by agreeing to grant a visa to Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, president of Iran in 1980, so he can visit the United States to promote a book in which he makes assertions similar to Sick's.

A congressional aide said Bani-Sadr may be invited to talk to a panel of House Democrats.

The informal panel was assembled by Speaker Thomas S. Foley (D-Wash.) after Sick's article appeared, followed by a Public Broadcasting Service documentary on "Frontline" covering the same ground. Foley called for an "informal" look at the charges to see if a full-fledged House investigation was in order; but he refrained from fanning the controversy.

Bush had not responded before in public to the allegations. His aides have denied that he was in Paris at that time but have refused to say where he was at all times during the month.

Bush's spokesman said Friday that Bush "was in the middle of the campaign" during the period.

"You give me a date when he was in Paris, and I'll tell you where he really was," press secretary Marlin Fitzwater said.

Although Sick's credibility gave old speculation about an "October surprise" in the 1980 election new life on Capitol Hill, there does not appear to be great enthusiasm for another formal inquiry on some of the ground gone over in the Iran-contra investigation.

"There will have to be more than this for a formal inquiry to be ordered," said one Democratic source close to the leadership.

In Chicago, Sen. Alan J. Dixon (D-Ill.) discounted the reports of Bush's involvement but said he doesn't oppose investigating the reports. Dixon said of Bush, "I don't think he would do anything that devious and sneaky."

In making the case for a formal investigation, Sick, now a professor of Middle East politics at Columbia University, argued that a House panel could get documents and question witnesses that Sick wasn't able to nail down as a private citizen.

While Sick conceded he found no "smoking gun" to implicate anyone in the Reagan-Bush campaign, he said he found many sources who swore the deal had been struck.

Dear Cynthia,

Barbara and I are so sorry about your mother. The hurt is deep, I know, with the losses you have suffered this past year. But I hope it helps a little to know that you have many friends here at the White House who care and who are thinking of you.

Heartfelt condolences to you and your family.

Sincerely,

President Bush,
I'm very happy that I can write you.

My name is Hatsune Sakata.
I teach Japanese to foreigners as a volunteer after retiring.
My students are almost Americans.
One of them is Joyce's friend.
I respect and feel intimate you after I know Joyce.

My students (Americans) support and honor you as a great person.
Of course, I and my family, too.

Can you understand my English?
I'm not good at English, but there is no mistake about Japanese.
Please don't worry!
I teach correct Japanese to Americans.

I hope you are well forever.

I am delighted to send warm greetings to the members of the Maryland Republican State Committee and to all those gathered for the State GOP Convention.

We Republicans are proud of the progress that our Party has made during the past decade. It's been a decade of growing membership and of accomplishment at every level of government. More important, under 10 years of GOP leadership, we have experienced a renewed sense of pride and of confidence in America.

Clearly the Republican Party has made progress because more Americans are realizing that the GOP stand on issues is the right one. We are the Party that insists on maintaining a strong defense, on pursuing policies that spur economic growth, and on encouraging government to give families opportunities to choose what's best in child care, in housing, and in education.

Each of you who have devoted your time, talents, and resources to helping our Party pursue the goals that we share can take justifiable pride in our achievements. Under the leadership of Joyce Terbes, you have played a pivotal role in getting our message out to the people of the Old Line State. However, there is still much to be done if we are to elect more capable leaders like Helen Bentley, Connie Morella, and Wayne Gilchrest. Judging by your outstanding efforts in the past, I know that I can depend on you to keep up the good work.

Barbara joins me in sending best wishes to all of you for a memorable event and for every future success. God bless you.

I am delighted to extend my warmest greetings and congratulations to the members of Fort Pepperrell Post No. 9 of the American Legion as you celebrate your 50th anniversary.

The American people will never forget the extraordinary sacrifices made by those who served our Nation as members of our Armed Forces. You have courageously and selflessly defended the cause of freedom, earning the lasting gratitude of your countrymen and that of all freedom-loving people. The triumph of democratic ideals in nations that once bore the heavy chains of totalitarianism is, in large measure, a tribute to each and every one of you.

Your efforts in behalf of your fellow veterans and their families remind us of the lasting debt we owe to the men and women who answered their country's call. The patriotism and dedication that you demonstrated while part of our Armed Forces are reflected today in your commitment to community service. It is a commitment that serves as a shining example of the great good that can be accomplished when we give of ourselves for the benefit of others.

I salute each one of you for all that you have done, and continue to do, for our country. God bless you.

As an Honorary Life Member of the Health Occupations Students of America, I am delighted to send greetings to all those gathered for your 14th Annual Leadership Conference.

We Americans enjoy a health care system that is second to none. Yet, as you well know, it could be better. Many health care facilities are understaffed, and some members of our population -- such as inner-city residents, the elderly, and those who live in rural areas -- are underserved. That is why your efforts to interest qualified students in rewarding careers in health care are so important.

My Administration shares your commitment to encouraging more of our citizens to enter health-related fields and to ensuring that these people have the required knowledge and skills. For example, our proposed Health Care Liability Reform and Quality of Care Improvement Act of 1991 has been designed to resolve malpractice problems, which often discourage talented individuals from entering high-risk branches of medicine. One of the goals of America 2000, our national educational strategy, is to make American students first in the world in science and in mathematics -- subjects that are crucial to success in the health care field. I am confident that, by working together, we can produce a more highly skilled work force and a healthier America.

Barbara joins me in sending best wishes for a productive conference.

As an Honorary Life Member of the Health Occupations Students of America, I am delighted to send greetings to all those gathered for your Fourteenth Annual Leadership Conference.

We Americans enjoy a health care system that is second to none. Yet, as you well know, it can be better. Many health care facilities are understaffed, and some members of our population -- such as inner-city residents, the elderly, and rural Americans -- are undeserved. That is why your efforts to attract qualified students to rewarding careers in health care are so important.

PRESIDENTIAL FOR HEALTH OCCUPATION STUDENTS

As America approaches the beginning of a new century, the challenges facing the health care industry are going to be considerably different, both in scope of the population served, and the technologies that must be applied to meet the health needs of that population.

Health care professionals, must have a solid educational background -- and a lifelong learning attitude -- to stay abreast of the changing face of health care for our 21st century needs. ✓

The new education strategy, America 2000, is going to create a new and innovative school environment from which a better prepared generation of students will enter the health care world.

One of technology's most exciting challenges will be in the creation of a new generation of American schools. America 2000, is going to require "out of the box" thinking about how to apply new ideas, new technologies to all aspects of education, and will certainly have a major impact on the way we prepare students to enter the higher education health occupations studies.

The new generation of schools will incorporate the results of that thinking, and I encourage all of you to apply your considerable skills and energies to helping us plan for those schools.

Because student achievement, especially in science and mathematics, is so important to the nation's future, and to the future of health care and health care education, we must never allow America to settle for a silver in world competition.

We have set a goal for world-class academic excellence for the nation by the year 2000. To ensure that meet that goal, and do so as a healthy, vibrant nation. I am counting on you to set the standards that will inspire the classes following you to get us to that goal.

Dear Dr. Koeninger:

I have been asked to respond to your letter to Mr. Demarest inviting the President to address the National Leadership Conference for the Health Occupations Students of America (HOSA) June 26-29 at the Washington Hilton or receive your delegates for a White House Ceremony.

While the President appreciates your extending this opportunity to him, due to the heavy commitments of his official responsibilities, we are unable to schedule his attendance or the ceremony in the Rose Garden.

The President regrets not being able to do this for you and sends you his very best wishes for the success of your conference.

HEALTH OCCUPATIONS STUDENTS OF AMERICA

March 29, 1991

Mr. David Demarest
Assistant to the President for Domestic Affairs
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

June 26

Dear Mr. Demarest:

In June of this year, 3,000 health occupations education students, instructors, and health care industry leaders will participate in the National Leadership Conference for the Health Occupations Students of America (HOSA), a national organization for students who are pursuing a career in the health profession. The shortage of health care workers has reached an alarming level but we believe HOSA, the largest in-school organization of future health care workers, has the network to significantly reduce the shortages by more aggressively marketing the health profession to qualified students and especially minorities in secondary schools.

To help us launch our national marketing campaign, we would like President Bush to address our conference at the Washington Hilton Hotel. His presence would obviously demonstrate his support of the health profession and help us gain visibility and momentum for our cause.

We are quite flexible as to when we could accommodate his involvement, including:

Wednesday, June 26	7:30 - 9:30 pm	First General Session
Thursday, June 27	7:30 - 9:30 pm	Second General Session
Friday, June 28	8:00 - 10:00 pm	National Recognition Session
Saturday, June 29	7:30 - 10:00 pm	National Awards Session

Knowing the security systems at the Washington Hilton are able to accommodate the President's needs, we can deliver a very enthusiastic and appreciative audience comprised of future health professionals and representatives of leading health care associations and companies.

If the President or White House staff prefers, we are willing to transport all or a portion of our delegates to the White House for a Rose Garden Ceremony to highlight the critical need for health care workers in this country.

If the President is not available, I will appreciate your recommending who might best be approached to help us gain maximum visibility for our cause. Only two persons were identified who we felt would be able to draw national attention. They were:

- a. Barbara Bush
- b. Vice President Quayle

In 1982, George Bush became an Honorary Life Member of Health Occupations Students of America and a HOSA blazer was presented to him by the National President. It would be a special treat for our organization if President Bush could renew his association with our organization. If he is able to join us, we would like to present him with a very special award that recognizes his commitment to the health profession and especially his contribution to encouraging the youth of America to consider health care for their life's work.

Finally, we would like to include a letter of welcome from President Bush in our conference program. It would be most helpful if we can receive his letter by May 7 since the program book will go to press on or about May 10. Enclosed are materials that might be helpful and informative.

Please let me know what additional information is needed about HOSA, the National Leadership Conference in June, or our flexibility in accommodating the President's schedule.

Thank you for your help in channeling this request to President Bush or the White House staff for consideration.

Sincerely,

Jimmy G. Koeninger, Ph.D.

SUBJECT: Response to your May 8 request for talking points for Presidential message to Prince George's County
Firefighters' 25th anniversary.

* Firefighters are America's first-line responders to natural and man-made disasters, the citizen's protection against fire, flood, tornado, hurricane, earthquake, hazardous materials spill, or other threat to life and property.

* Over the last quarter century you, the members of Prince George's County Professional Fire Fighters Association, Local 1619 of the International Association of Fire Fighters, have demonstrated that you are real pros when it comes to saving lives and protecting property.

* You also have demonstrated through your outreach to and participation in the civic life of the county that you are dedicated members of the Prince George's community. Your efforts on behalf of raising funds for muscular dystrophy and participation in the Christmas in April Program show that you not only put your lives on the line for your fellow citizens, you also put your lives to work for the common good.

* Too many people die in fires in America and too much property is destroyed. But through efforts of trained firefighters like you, the fire death rate is dropping and the American people are learning that taking preventive measures ahead of time is our best weapon against fire.

* I salute you on your 25th anniversary and I hope you all will be around to celebrate your 50th anniversary. Meanwhile, we must all continue to work for a fire-safe America.

Dear President Bush:

This letter is to bring to your attention the 25th Anniversary Celebration of the Prince George's County Professional Fire Fighters Association, Local 1619 of the International Association of Fire Fighters on May 31, 1991. The reason I bring this to your attention is because of the outstanding efforts the membership have accomplished over the past 25 years.

Although, the organization is labor based in mission, the membership have extended their scope of activities into the community, government, and national fire service, seeking what is best for all concerned. An example of their activities is the institution of an annual softball tournament for fire department teams across the nation and Canada, with all proceeds going to muscular dystrophy. To date, over $450,000 has been raised for this charity.

Also, the membership has a commitment to community sponsored programs such as Christmas in April. Their support has helped Prince George's County achieve an outstanding level of success in these types of programs during past years. In every aspect, the members of Local 1619 have come to the aid of and support of our County. To include reopening their negotiated contract and deferring pay raises, until the economic situation that our area faces turns more productive.

Despite years of conflict and division in the Middle East, our friendship has endured. This Parade provides a welcome opportunity to reaffirm our commitment to the security of Israel and to mutually beneficial cooperation between our peoples. The United States remains determined to help promote a comprehensive, just, and sustainable peace between Israel and its ^L≡Arab neighbors, and we pray that this celebration of the Jewish State might one day hail, as well, the end to bitter fighting in the Middle East.

Barbara joins me in sending best wishes to all of the participants and spectators for a memorable Parade.

I am pleased to send greetings to everyone attending the 27th Annual Salute to Israel Parade.

The United States and Israel have a long and close friendship based on common culture and democracy. Through the conflicts and chaos of the past year, this friendship has endured, and it is appropriate to remeber^m our ties. Through the Salute to Israel Parade, and all through the year, American Jews and Gentiles should celebrate the State of Israel as a free land in a troubled region.

Barbara joins me in sending our best wishes to the participants and spectators of the Parade.

SALUTE TO ISRAEL PARADE

This year marks the 27th anniversary of the Salute to Israel Parade. It is in this celebration that we, as American Jews, deliver a message of unity and strength. This message is a clear statement of the American partnership with Israel and its hope for peace. It comes with special gratitude to the United States Armed Forces for their efforts and ultimate success in destroying the Iraqi threat to Israel. As in the past, Israel has been a country determined to share the same value of democracy that has been the cornerstone of the American objective.

The Salute to Israel Parade is a show of moral inspiration; it is the largest single event of its kind in support of Israel and recognition of Israel as a sovereign Jewish state. The Parade features 75,000 marchers, 35 marching bands, 30 professionally designed floats and over a half million spectators. The pageantry and spectacle of such a highly visible event attracts broad media coverage and demonstrates the commitment that the American Jewish community continues to make to Israel.

History of the Parade:

The first Salute to Israel Parade took place in 1965 as a short, four block march from 72nd Street and Third Avenue west to Fifth Avenue. In 1967 the Middle East Crisis, which preceded the Six Day War, coincided with the Parade date. By this time, the Parade had moved to Riverside Drive. Strong support was shown in this Parade, with over a million persons viewing the march. This established the Salute to Israel Parade as a major community-wide event in celebration of Israel's independence. In 1968, the Parade moved to its present route on New York's Fifth Avenue.

Educational Aspect - Theme:

Although each year there is one overall theme for the Parade, lists of suggested sub-topics are provided for participating schools and organizations. A creative and educational presentation is developed with the assistance of a Parade Consultant.

Parade Route:

The Parade route begins at 57th Street and Fifth Avenue and continues north on Fifth Avenue to 79th Street, turning right and concluding at Third Avenue.

Time Span of Parade:

12 noon to 3 p.m.

Sponsors:

The Salute to Israel Parade is a joint community event supported by over 100 national and local organizations who lend their support to this vital event through financial contributions, sponsorship of professionally designed and built floats and advertisement in the Journal of the Salute to Israel Parade. Permanent administration of the Parade is under the direction of the Salute to Israel Parade Steering Committee, an affiliate of the American Zionist Youth Foundation.

Dear Ms. Miller:

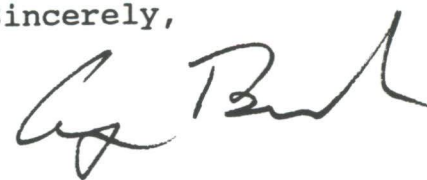

Thank you for your message. As you know, I have made revitalization of our Nation's educational system a top priority for the Administration, and I am pleased to hear from Americans like you about this issue.

The solution to every problem, to every challenge, that our country faces begins with education. Whether combating drug abuse and crime or creating opportunities where there is despair or ensuring America's competitive edge and role as a leader for good in the world, a well-rounded education is the starting point.

We must do a better job of educating our children and American adults -- we must transform our educational system. I believe that there is an appropriate role for the Federal Government to serve as a catalyst for innovation, accountability, and choice throughout the education system. America 2000, our National Education Strategy, is an aggressive and innovative plan to bring about a true renaissance in education. Education Secretary Lamar Alexander and his team will be working with the Nation's Governors, with educators, with the private sector, and with Americans in all walks of life to advance our goals. However, to make America's schools the best in the world, concerned citizens like you will have to be involved.

I have enclosed information on America 2000, and I hope that you will do whatever you can in your community to encourage a renewal of excellence in education.

President Bush,

Thank you for bringing a swift end to the Gulf War and I know my brother will be home soon. The message that follows is just from a concerned parent. I just felt like I should let you know that some parents want to better the education system.

Education, it has been on our minds for years. Now some are saying whatever anyone does it will be a little to late. But I say so what go ahead and do something. It may be a little to late now but so what just do something. What about next year or five years from now, will it still be a little to late. Anything is a step in the right direction. As a parent I have more respect for school teachers than I do for my city and county officials. We trust our most precious gift from God to them five days a week for nine months of the year. There are some who would just consider teachers baby-sitters or school just somewhere their kids have to be sent, but not me. I was never very good in school because I could not read, it was not until my oldest daughter started to school that I realized what my problem had been. Through my daughters, Stephanie and Julie, I learned to read. Now I know that the teachers of our school made my daughters what they are today, because I only encouraged them, but the teachers made it enjoyable and interesting enough to learn. Stephanie will graduate from Dickson High School on May 19, 1991. She is fifth in her class of eighty-six students and has a grade point average of 3.5. She will be attending Southeastern Oklahoma University in the fall and I know that she will do well there also. Julie will be a Junior next year and she is doing just as well as her sister. I take pride in what my children have and will accomplish, but I know that without good and caring teachers that make education work, none of us would be where we are today. So let me as a parent encourage you to do whatever will help the children of today and tomorrow. Because without the grace of God and the children there will be no future.

Best Regards,

Kenda Miller

Dear Mr. President and Mrs. Bush:

Many, many thanks for your warm hospitality and gracious participation in the events of the National Day of Prayer. Your willingness to host the breakfast in your "home" continues to be deeply appreciated, and the thoughtful, personal touch you brought to the occasion -- including the comfortable chairs -- meant more than I can say. We are especially grateful that you took some of your valuable time to stay and mingle with those in attendance. And, of course, your personal observance of the Day gave it a boost nothing else could have provided!

I've been honored to work alongside Vonette Bright as Co-Chairman of the Task Force this year, and I'm looking forward with great anticipation to serving God and my country as the new Chairman. Let me also take this opportunity to thank you for serving as our Honorary Chairman, and for signing the National Day of Prayer Proclamation on April 25th. I hope you will consider joining us in the same capacity next year.

In closing, I'd like to compliment your Special Assistant, Leigh Ann Metzger, and her very competent staff on the fine job they did. The warm, cordial, and efficient way in which they attended to our needs and concerns made a strong impression on all of us.

Again, thank you for giving so generously of yourselves to assist us in our efforts to turn the heart of America toward the Lord in prayer. Our prayers are with you. May His grace and peace be yours in abundance!

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

As is true of so many Americans, Joyce and I have been reading of your health problem, thinking of you and certainly wishing you well. The Presidency is a tough enough job without having that added burden.

When we were serving in the Ford Administration, now some 17 years ago, and I was in the White House and then the Pentagon, I had a thyroid problem myself. It turned out to be a tumor on the thyroid, which had to be surgically removed in July of 1976. During that period, the doctors were trying to stabilize me on medicine, as I understand now may be the case with you. It was a long process to finally get the dosage correct and it certainly was not pleasant while they were working the problem.

In any event, because of that background, I have a sense of what you are very likely going through and certainly hope it sorts through well for you.

With my best regards,

Sincerely,

Donald Rumsfeld

Dear Mr. President,

On 31 May 1991, the Orange Chamber of Commerce is going to honor the city's only recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor, Colonel Jay Zeamer, Jr. (USA Ret.). Colonel Zeamer was a member of the Army Air Force during World War Two, was wounded in action and saved the lives of his bomber crew, while engaging the Japanese fighters sent to shoot down his mission. Col. Zeamer, while severely wounded, managed to return some 594 miles back to his base, with not one man unaccounted for.

His service medals were awarded by the then Chief of Staff to the Secretary of War, George C. Marshall. At the ceremony, Senator Lautenberg will present Col. Zeamer with a copy of the Congressional Record with the Colonel's service entered into it. A fitting tribute to a real life hero.

If you can Mr. President, ~~will you send a proclamation to be read to the Colonel?~~ I am sure that it will mean a lot to one of America's finest. There will be at least 200 people in attendance; a very bipartisan affair.

Enclosed please find a copy of Col. Zeamer's war record and Medal of Honor citation.

I hope you are recovering from your recent hospitalization!!

Sincerely yours,

Bennett M. Herman

JAY ZEAMER, JUNIOR

(AO 363 971)

Jay Zeamer, Junior was born in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, 25 July 1918. He was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Infantry Reserve on 2 September 1939. He enlisted in the Regular Army as a flying cadet and was honorably discharged on 14 March 1941 to accept a commission and active duty in the Air Reserve. During his enlisted service he was awarded the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He was assigned to duty as an Engineering Officer and Pilot with the 96th, 63d and 19th Bombardment Squadron, Langley Field, Virginia from 15 March 1941 to 15 September 1942, when he was assigned overseas to the Southwest Pacific Area.

On 27 November 1943, while serving as Operations and Executive Officer with the 403d and 65th Bombardment Squadron in New Guinea, he was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action above and beyond the call of duty at the risk of his life. On 16 June 1943, he volunteered as Pilot of a bomber on an important photographic mapping mission covering the formidably defended area in the vicinity of Buka, Solomon Islands. While photographing the Buka airdrome, his plane was attacked by enemy fighters. In the ensuing engagement Lieutenant Colonel Zeamer (then Major) received gunshot wounds in both arms and legs.

Despite his injuries he was able to maneuver the damaged plane so that at least five enemy planes were destroyed, one of which he shot down himself. He remained at the controls until the enemy had broken combat. He then turned over the controls but managed to direct the flight to a base five hundred and eighty miles away despite lapses into unconsciousness. Lieutenant Colonel Zeamer (then Major) with superb resolution and courage accomplished a mission of great value.

For the injuries received on this mission he received the Purple Heart. He was returned to the United States and confined at Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C. until his return to duty.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington 25, D. C., 4 January 1944.

II--MEDAL OF HONOR.--By direction of the President, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved 9 July 1918 (Bull. 43, WD, 1918), a Medal of Honor was awarded by the War Department in the name of Congress to the following-named officer:

Major Jay Zeamer, Jr., O-383971 (then captain), Air Corps, United States Army. For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action above and beyond the call of duty. On 16 June 1943, Major Zeamer volunteered as pilot of a bomber on an important photographic mapping mission covering the formidably defended area in the vicinity of Buka, Solomon Islands. While photographing the Buka airdrome, his crew observed about 20 enemy fighters on the field, many of them taking off. Despite the certainty of a dangerous attack by this strong force, Major Zeamer proceeded with his mapping run, even after the enemy attack began. In the ensuing engagement, Major Zeamer sustained gunshot wounds in both arms and legs, one leg being broken. Despite his injuries, he maneuvered the damaged airplane so skillfully that his gunners were able to fight off the enemy during a running fight lasting 40 minutes, and to destroy at least five hostile airplanes, of which Major Zeamer himself shot down one. Although weak from loss of blood, he refused medical aid until the enemy had broken combat. He then turned over the controls but continued to exercise command and, despite lapses into unconsciousness, to direct the flight to a base 580 miles away. In this voluntary action, Major Zeamer, with superb skill, resolution, and courage, accomplished a mission of great value.

Dear Dr. Bernstein:

Congratulations on your retirement as Health Commissioner for the State of Texas.

You stand in a proud tradition, for our Nation has always relied on people like you to help fulfill the promise of this wonderful experiment in self-government we call America. You've given the people of Texas your very best talents and devotion. Such a distinguished record merits gratitude and commendation, and on behalf of our fellow citizens, I gladly convey both to you.

Barbara joins me in sending best wishes for the future.

Sincerely,

This is a follow up to my memorandum of May 20, 1991 requesting your assistance in providing a Presidential letter for Dr. Robert Bernstein, Health Commissioner for the State of Texas, on the occasion of his retirement. We are very appreciative of your efforts in providing this letter on such short notice.

The Assistant Secretary for Health will be leaving for Texas on Saturday, June 1, 1991, and would like to carry the letter with him to Dr. Bernstein. I would like to arrange with you to pick up the letter. Please call me at 301-443-4010.

Again, thank you for helping in this effort. I'm sure that the letter will be greatly appreciated by Dr. Bernstein and highly cherished in the years to come.

Subject Request for Retirement Letter

To Presidential Letters

This is to request a retirement letter be prepared for Dr. Robert Bernstein, Commissioner of Health, Texas Department of Health. Dr. Bernstein is retiring after 42 years of dedicated service to military and public health.

Dr. Bernstein began his health career in the U.S. Army in 1947 after earning his medical degree at the University of Louisville in 1946. He had a distinguished military career obtaining the rank of Major General and named Commander of the Walter Reed Army Medical Center on July 1, 1973. He served in that capacity until his retirement from the Army on February 28, 1976.

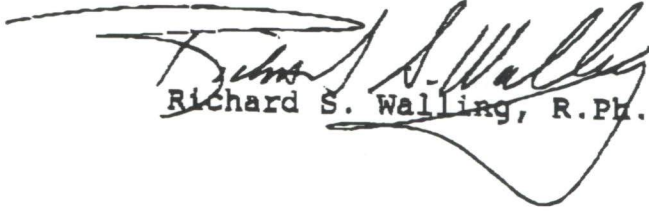

Dr. Bernstein's career with the Texas Department of Health, begun in 1976, has been no less distinguished from his military career. Since his appointment as Commissioner on January 5, 1980, he sought and obtained funds for an Office of Border Health Initiatives to deal with issues related to the colonias, safe water, sewage disposal and health care services on both sides of the border and brought Texas into 1990 Health Objectives Process as the first state to develop, publish and work on state objectives. The infant mortality rate has decreased annually during his tenure. Now below the national average-well below most other Southern states.

Dr. Bernstein will retire on June 7, 1991. Dr. James Mason, Assistant Secretary for Health, will be recognizing him for his dedication to improving relationships between and among health officials along both sides of the Texas-Mexico Border and, thereby, the health of those communities at an upcoming meeting in El Paso, Texas, June 4, 1991. We would like to present Dr. Bernstein with a Presidential Letter on the occasion of his retirement at that time. We will need the letter by May 31, 1991.

Thank you for your assistance.

Dear Jim:

Just a short note to tell you how grateful I am for the leadership that you showed during your tenure as Co-Chairman of The Business Roundtable.

The budget deficit reduction and process reforms that were passed last year have helped us to reassert control over our economy, and your input was instrumental in our success.

Of course, your record of service to our Nation is a long and illustrious one, and you have my best wishes for the future.

RE:

ATTACHED CORRESPONDENCE REGARDING A PERSONAL NOTE
FROM THE PRESIDENT TO JIM LYNN, CHAIRMAN AND CEO OF AETNA LIFE & CASUALTY, FOR HIS LEADERSHIP AS CO-CHAIRMAN OF THE BUSINESS ROUNDTABLE.

As you may know, Jim Lynn ends his term as Co-Chairman of the Business Roundtable in June and will be retiring from Aetna Life and Casualty next year. His staff is preparing a commemorative book which marks the work that Jim did as Co-Chairman of the Budget Task Force and will be presented to him, as a surprise, at the June 11 meeting of the Business Roundtable, as he ends his term as Co-Chairman. The book will include his correspondence with Administration officials and Members of Congress urging their support and work on the budget deficit. His staff has requested a personal note of thanks from the President to Jim Lynn for his leadership of the Business Roundtable's work in support of the budget reform legislation last year (see attached draft note). Jim is very supportive of the President and a personal note from the President would really mean a lot to Jim.

Dear Louie and Colleen:

I'm delighted to add my congratulations to those of your many friends and admirers as you leave National Presbyterian Church after 18 years of service to God and to your fellowman.

I commend you for your valuable community involvement over the years, which has helped so many in our Nation's Capital to draw closer to our Creator and to one another. In your work as a religious leader, you have helped your parishioners to gain the spiritual strength and peace of mind that are often elusive but always needed in a very challenging world. Of that you can be truly proud. On behalf of your fellow Washingtonians, thank you for a job well done.

Barbara and the entire Bush family join me in sending best wishes. May God bless you as you continue His work.
