I am pleased to send greetings to the employees of the Social Security Administration in Baltimore as you hold your Sixth Annual Holocaust Memorial Observance.

On Yom HaShoah, American Jews and countless others gather together to remember the atrocities inflicted by the Nazis a half-century ago. By keeping the memory of the Holocaust alive, you help to ensure that nothing like it will ever happen again. I commend you for your dedication to that worthy goal and for your continuing efforts to overcome the destructive forces of prejudice and hatred.

Barbara joins me in sending best wishes for every future success. God bless you.

The Honorable Benjamin L. Cardin
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Congressman Cardin:

The Social Security Administration (SSA), in coordination with the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA), will be commemorating their sixth Holocaust Memorial Observance Program this year on April 11th. As in past years, we would appreciate receiving a citation from the President on the occasion of this observance. Also, as has been past custom, we are requesting that the President's message be forwarded to reach us in time for inclusion in our national publicity for this event. This should be by March 20th, if at all possible.

Our headquarters memorial program is usually attended by upwards of 700 persons, with the President's remarks featured at this event. The President's statement is also headlined in the SSA Bulletin as well as being spot-lighted at numerous other Holocaust observances where there are large concentrations of HCFA and SSA employees.

Copies of the past several Presidential messages sent to us in veneration of this solemn event are enclosed for reference.

We appreciate your assistance in facilitating this request.

Sincerely,

Michael Gruber
President

I am pleased to send greetings to the employees of the Health Care Financing Administration and the Social Security Administration in Baltimore as you hold your Fifth Annual Holocaust Memorial Observance.

The memory of the horrors that befell Jews and Gentiles under the brutal Nazi regime must never be allowed to fade. Each time we remember the millions of innocent men, women, and children killed as a result of the Nazis' vicious militaristic and racist ideology, we remind ourselves of the devastating power of bigotry and hatred. We also remind ourselves that these destructive forces must be overcome wherever, and in whatever form, they appear.

Today, as we witness a rebirth of freedom and respect for human rights around the world, it is important to remember that these rights are God-given and inalienable and that their defense is the only sure foundation for lasting peace.

Commemorations such as yours give us an occasion to rededicate ourselves -- as individuals and as a nation -- to ensuring that genocidal terror never happens again.

Barbara joins me in commending you for participating in this important event.

I am pleased to greet the employees of the Social Security Administration in Baltimore as you hold your Fourth Annual Holocaust Memorial Observance.

Your observance is a powerful reminder of the suffering caused by the Nazi's thirst for power and brutal disregard for human life. We must never forget the millions who died under Nazi Terror; we must always remember the need for constant vigilance to ensure that such crimes against humanity are never repeated. Today, let us renew our commitment to defending human rights around the world and strengthen our resolve to denounce bigotry and persecution wherever they occur.

Barbara joins me in commending you on participating in this memorial observance.
