WE

Dear Chris:

Earlier this week, your support for national service contributed to a significant legislative accomplishment -- the passage of S. 919. This was a victory not for person or party, but for our country. The Senate proved that government can work -- in a spirit of community and for the common good.

You and a majority of your colleagues showed the spirit of service that we need in Washington and around the country. Members of both parties recognized that national service isn't Democratic or Republican. It's just plain American -- helping young people who help America. The bill embodies principles that all Americans share: community, responsibility, and opportunity.

Years from now, when we look back on our careers, we will remember with pride having launched national service. Thank you again for your leadership.

Sincerely,

Rin A
