Sandy asked me to deliver a couple of messages to you.

Please be sure and take a copy of the Tom Sheridan letter with you to the meeting this afternoon.

Also, the community had asked Sandy whether POTUS would be mentioning NE in his speech in SF on Monday to the US Conference of Mayors. They want to be prepared for any press that may follow because of that and would like the opportunity to prepare any press releases that may be needed. Therefore, Sandy instructed them to provide her, which I have, a copy of where they could be reached this weekend. Please let me know as soon as you know, so that I may be able to tell them what POTUS will be saying, or not be saying.

Thanks,

Education/Private School Vouchers

Q: Recently columnist William Raspberry, long a public schools loyalist, has said the time has come to try out vouchers where the public schools are failing. Earlier this year, one of your former advisors, Bill Galston, called for a national experiment on the effectiveness of private school vouchers. Given the numerous horror stories of how public schools are failing students in our cities today, do you remain opposed to private school vouchers?

A: We can and should work to provide our students with the safe and disciplined public schools and the world class education they deserve. Where schools are failing, we need to take tough action and fix them, by getting rid of watered-down curriculum and retraining the teaching staff. If the school still doesn't respond, then it should be closed down and reopened with a new staff that will get the job done.

Moreover, every family should have the right to choose which public school their child will attend. I have challenged every state to pass a charter school law that allows parents and teachers to start new public charter schools that stay open only as long they do a good job. In fact, I have proposed nearly doubling the charter school start-up program (to $100 million next year) to help start 3,000 charter schools over the next several years.

While I support public school choice, I continue to oppose federally funded tuition vouchers for private elementary and secondary schools. I also oppose state funded and locally funded vouchers. Vouchers take money away from public schools, and controversy over vouchers distracts communities from the hard work of improving our schools.

Questions & Answers On Campaign Finance Reform

Question: Isn't the decision by the Justice Department to seek a case to overturn Buckley v. Valeo grandstanding.

Answer: No. First, circumstances have dramatically changed in the 21 years since Buckley was decided and the Buckley Court could not have anticipated the corrosive effect that unlimited expenditures have had on federal elections.

Second, the Buckley Court also could have not anticipated the effect that striking down expenditure limitations would have in undermining the effectiveness of contribution limitations. While the Buckley Court held that contributions could be limited in order to prevent corruption or the appearance of corruption, the Court has not since that time had the opportunity to consider how the interrelationship between expenditures and contributions adversely affects these concerns.

Finally, there are a number of strong interests underlying limiting campaign expenditure limitations that were either not raised or fully considered in the Buckley litigation. These include minimizing the time that candidate's must devote to fundraising, and leveling the playing field so that voters can fairly be exposed to all the candidate's views.

Question: What makes you think the FEC has the authority to ban Soft Money?

Answer: In 1996, as you know, both parties raised unprecedented amounts of soft money funds from corporations, unions, and large individual contributions. I strongly support legislation that would prohibit both political parties from raising these funds. But we don't need to wait for legislation. The soft-money system is largely the product of FEC opinions and rules over the years. The FEC could act to prohibit nearly all uses of soft money under its existing statutory authority. They acted in good faith when they wrote these rules, and the parties lived under them. I believe that the changes in campaign financing have been so substantial – in terms of the amount of money spent, and what it is spent for – that the FEC should revisit its rules.

Question: What about independent expenditures or issue advertisements by outside groups – why doesn't your proposal to ban soft money proposal cover those practices?

Answer: This petition would deal with soft money, the fastest growing and most widely criticized aspect of campaign funding. This proposal doesn't try to do everything. That is one more reason we need comprehensive legislation, and why I support the McCain-Feingold bill. It's worth noting that Representatives Chris Shays, and Marty Meehan --the House sponsors of this legislation --have petitioned the FEC for the same action.

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

Question: If the FEC grants your petition's request to ban soft money, would that stop the type of issue ads the DNC ran in 1995 and during the 1996 campaign?

Answer: My petition would ban the use of all soft money by the DNC, the RNC, and all other party committees, both for issue ads and for any other activity that impacts a federal election. [Note: Parties would still be able to run issue ads, but would have to use hard money, which did pay for the bulk of the issue ads in 1995.]

Question: Is this just for Democrats, as some Republicans have charged?

Answer: No --both parties, including Democrats, raise substantial sums of soft money.

Question: Why not stop taking soft money?

Answer: As I have said before, both parties raise huge sums of money --the Repbulicans more than the Democrats. I will not ask the DNC to unilaterally disarm. The answer is for both parties to stop raising soft money --voluntarily, as the DNC has challenged, or by law (either through the FEC or preferably by legislation).

Question: Isn't this an empty gesture --the FEC is missing a member and is comprised of weak and partisan commissioners, many of whome voted for this system in the first place. When are you going to name new FEC appointments?

Answer: The FEC is fully capable of acting on this ruling with its current commissioners. As for new appointments, we are in the middle of the appointments process, and will be making any announcement when the time is right.

Question: Are your petitions before the FEC on soft money and FCC on free TV an attempt to divert attention from the legislation, which appears to be dead?

Answer: No. it is a token of our determination to make this the year that we reform our campaign finance laws – however we have to do it. I strongly support legislation. But we must not wait for Congress if we have a chance to reform elections. I think this should be taken as a sign by congressional opponents of reform – one way or another, we will see campaign finance reform this year. Given all the focus on these issues this year, it will be very hard for Congress to say we're not going to act.

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

Question: There are now 57 separate proposals for campaign finance reform. Isn't the legislation dead for this Congress?

Answer: As it has often been said, in Congress there are 535 "experts" on campaign reform. That's certainly true. But there is only one broad-based proposal that is supported by Democrats and Republicans – the legislation introduced by McCain and Feingold and by Shays and Meehan. I think that when the matter is proposed to Members of Congress, and they are forced to vote yes or no on this legislation, they will have a very hard time explaining to their constituents why they voted no. As for people who say "there won't be reform this year" – on an issue like this, popular sentiment can crystallize very quickly. Legislation that didn't look like it had a chance of passing, a month later, can be on its way to the President's desk. That's what happened, for example, on the lobbying reform legislation and the gift ban in 1995.

Question: Some people say that the McCain-Feingold approach will require as much fundraising as today. Senators John Kerry, Paul Wellstone, and John Glenn have proposed legislation to provide complete public financing for congressional elections. If candidates accepted the public funding, they wouldn't be able to raise private money. What is your view of this approach?

Answer: I believe that the basic test for campaign finance reform must be that it be comprehensive, that it be fair to both parties, that it level the playing fields, and that it curb the amount of money in elections. I welcome any effort that works to build consensus toward these goals. I believe that McCain Feingold – which doesn't have public financing, but instead gives candidates free TV time provided by broadcasters – is the most realistic way to achieve these goals. Of course, Sens. Kerry, Wellstone and Glenn also support McCain Feingold.

As for public financing, my 1993 campaign finance reform legislation provided partial public financing for congressional candidates; and I think that states who are experimenting with public funding should be able to do so. But we have a rare chance to enact broad and bipartisan reform – reform that does not include public funding – and we can't lose sight of that mission.

Question: Your July 4 deadline for passage of campaign finance reform legislation is fast approaching. What are you going to do to insure passage of a bill by then?

Answer: We are going to continue to push this issue on the Hill, as we have throughout the year, with the leadership of both parties. I am committed to passing real bipartisan legislation. But we are also going to take action when and where we can without Congress. The soft money petition is one example.

Automated Records Management System

JUVENILE HANDGUN DIRECTIVE
JUNE 11, 1997

JUVENILE CRIME

Q. What is the Administration's position on the various Republican proposals to combat juvenile crime?

A. First of all, we are opposed to H.R. 3, the bill that passed the House. It does not come close to representing a comprehensive attack gangs and guns. It doesn't guarantee that Boston's successful juvenile crime initiative -- Operations Cease-fire and Nite Lite -- can be replicated. It doesn't include any provisions relating to kids and guns. And it does not specifically address the high number of crime committed by juveniles when school goes out.

We're hopeful that the Senate will work with us to address these issues. The Senate Judiciary Committee is scheduled to consider legislation this Thursday, and we are communicating our concerns to them now. We will have to wait and see how the mark-up in that committee goes before we know whether or not we'll be able to support a Senate bill.

Q. What does the Administration's juvenile justice proposal do?

A. The legislation proposed by the President in February is part of an overall Anti-Gang and Youth Violence Strategy that seeks to crack down on violent gangs, reduce youth violence, and provide our kids with positive alternatives to steer them away from gangs, guns, and drugs.

The strategy provides critical resources for state and local prosecutors to target, prosecute and convict violent youth gangs. It permits Federal prosecutors to prosecute juveniles in adult court when they commit violent crimes. It requires child safety locks for guns to prevent accidents and thefts, and extends the Brady Law so that violent juveniles can never own a gun. Finally, the Strategy also calls for at least 1,000 after school initiatives to keep kids off the streets and give them positive alternatives.

Juvenile crime legislation passed by Congress must address these key issues, too.

DIRECTIVE ON HANDGUNS AND YOUTHS

Q: What is the directive on handguns that the President signed last week?

A: The President signed a directive to ensure that the Treasury Department do everything possible to enforce the Youth Handgun Safety Act -- including requiring that federal gun

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

dealers post signs and issue written warnings that:

(1) Make clear that it is generally illegal for any adult to transfer a handgun to a minor (under 18), or for that minor to possess that handgun, period;

(2) Make clear that transferring a handgun to a minor may be punishable by up to 10 years imprisonment;

(3) Warn that handguns are a leading contributor to juvenile violence and fatalities; and

(4) Suggest that safely storing and locking handguns can help ensure compliance with this law.

Q: What is the impact of this directive? How is it any different -- or how does it augment -- current law?

A: This directive will require, for the first time ever, that federal firearms dealers (FFLs) post signs and issue written warnings about the responsibility that gun purchasers have under current law to not transfer a handgun to juveniles -- as well as about the dangers that handguns pose to kids generally. That's an important change for two reasons.

First, for almost every gun that gets into a juvenile's hands, an adult had the opportunity -- in fact, the legal responsibility -- to stop that transfer from taking place. Today's directive puts adult gun purchasers on notice about this responsibility -- and warns them about the legal sanctions that may apply if this responsibility is ignored.

Second, the mix of kids and guns is at the heart of the nation's youth violence epidemic. Since the mid 1980s, the number of kids killing with a gun has quadrupled; the number of kids killed by guns has nearly tripled; and teenage boys today are more likely to die of gunshot wounds than all natural causes combined. Still, we do more to warn Americans about the dangers of most household products than we do about the dangers that guns pose to our children. Today's directive represents an effort to correct this imbalance.

Q: Do you think that this directive will really help keep handguns from juveniles? Shouldn't your directive do more than simply call for signs and warnings?

A: Of course, we believe that this directive is meaningful and will have impact. And it certainly makes as much sense to warn gun purchasers about their legal responsibilities and the dangers of handguns as it does for the many other products that are sold with similar warnings.

At the same time, there is only so much we can under existing law to keep guns out of the hands of juveniles. That's why our juvenile crime bill includes 3 key gun provisions: it increases penalties for transferring guns to juveniles; it prohibits violent juveniles from ever owning guns; and it requires that federal gun dealers provide child safety locks with every gun sold. With these additional changes in law, we will be able to do even more to keep guns away from our kids.

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

NEEDLE EXCHANGE Q & A
JUNE 19, 1997

Q: Do you believe local communities ought to be able to spend Federal money for needle exchange programs to help prevent spread of AIDS?

A: Under current law, the Administration cannot authorize the use of Federal funds for needle exchange programs unless there is conclusive evidence that these programs reduce the spread of AIDS and do not encourage drug use. Although there is strong evidence indicating that needle exchange programs help reduce the spread of AIDS, we have not concluded our review on whether these programs increase the use of drugs. However, local communities remain free to use non-Federal funds to support such programs if they choose to do so.

Welfare Reform and Congressional Action on the Bipartisan Budget Agreement

Question: Why do you oppose the Congressional efforts to restore benefits to legal immigrants?

Answer: Both the House and the Senate proposals alter the provisions in the bipartisan budget agreement. In general, the Congress restores permanent SSI and Medicaid benefits only to immigrants already receiving benefits prior to August 23, 1996; by contrast, the bipartisan budget agreement policy restores SSI and Medicaid benefits to any immigrant in the country as of that date who is or becomes disabled.

Limiting health and disability benefits to those already receiving them on August 22nd would protect 75,000 fewer immigrants than the budget agreement by the year 2002. And in leaving unprotected any person who becomes disabled after August 22, 1996, it fails to target assistance to the most vulnerable individuals.

Question: Is Congress following the budget agreement in its actions to implement legislation to date?

Answer: No. The Congressional proposals to restore disability and health benefits to legal immigrants are inconsistent with the budget agreement and treat disabled legal immigrants unfairly. In addition, the House has added language outside the scope of the agreement which would prevent working welfare recipients from getting a minimum wage.

On the other hand, I am very pleased that the Congressional committees are developing $3 billion welfare-to-work proposals that meet many of my priorities. These include: targeting funds to areas and individuals with high needs, directing funds to cities and local governments, awarding some funds competitively, and allowing communities to create successful job placement and creation programs.

But the provisions addressing legal immigrants and the minimum wage are clearly unacceptable.

Question: Why do you oppose House action on paying the minimum wage to workfare recipients?

Answer: I strongly oppose the House provisions on the minimum wage, which undermine the fundamental goals of welfare reform. I believe that everyone who can work must work -- and that those who work should earn the minimum wage, whether they are coming off of welfare or not. The House proposal does not meet this test. It effectively creates a subminimum wage for workfare participants. And it weakens the welfare law's work requirements.

Welfare Privatization

Question: You recently denied Texas' request to privatize its welfare programs. Doesn't your decision contradict the welfare reform law which grants states the flexibility to run their own programs?

Answer: No. Based on the new welfare law, Texas already has the authority to proceed now with the welfare portion of their proposal. In addition, States already have tremendous flexibility to take advantage of private sector efficiencies in the Medicaid and Food Stamp programs. They can hire private firms to design and operate information systems, develop and recommend revised eligibility processes, and provide management training and assistance.

Question: Do you oppose Congressional efforts to change the law to allow privatization of Medicaid and Food Stamp operations?

Answer: We strongly oppose these proposals, believing that allowing states to privatize health and human services programs would not be in the best interests of program beneficiaries. While certain program functions, such as computer systems, can currently be contracted out to private entities, the certification of eligibility for benefits and related operations (such as obtaining and verifying information about income and other eligibility factors) should remain public functions.

Welfare Caseload

Question: You have bragged about the fact that welfare caseloads have declined by 20 percent in the last four years. If the welfare rolls were declining before the new welfare law, why did you need to sign it?

Answer: The caseload reductions show why I signed the welfare law -- they're the best evidence that welfare reform works. As you know, this Administration granted welfare reform waivers to 43 states so they could impose tough work requirements and time limits and provide incentives that made work pay better than welfare. The 20 percent decline in welfare caseloads since January 1993 shows that these kinds of actions work. With the new law, governors can expand these welfare reform actions without having to petition Washington.

A recent study by my Council of Economic Advisors showed that, while 40% of the decline in the welfare caseload is due to the strong economy we have, about a third is due to the welfare waivers my Administration granted to 43 states prior to the signing of the welfare law.

HEALTH Q&As FOR DENVER CONFERENCE

BUDGET

Q: WHAT IS YOUR GENERAL RESPONSE TO THE SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE MARK UP. WHAT ARE YOUR PRIMARY CONCERNS RELATIVE TO THE BUDGET AGREEMENT?

A: I applaud the Finance Committee Members for taking steps to push the balanced budget process forward. I am pleased that they are improving the way that the $16 billion in children's health is invested to provide meaningful coverage for as many children as possible.

I also am also happy to see that they passed many of the structural reforms that I have long proposed in Medicare. As a result of these reforms, beneficiaries will have more choices, more preventive benefits, and the life of the trust fund will be extended for at least a decade.

Having said that, I am concerned that the Senate Finance Committee did not include any protections for low-income beneficiaries. We explicitly agreed on $1.5 billion for these protections. I am also concerned that beneficiaries may be exposed to excessive cost-sharing which could impose undue burdens on our seniors.

We will work with the Congress to improve this legislation. I am confident that the final legislation will be a product that I am proud to sign.

CHILDREN'S HEALTH

Q. DO YOU BELIEVE THAT THE VOTE AGAINST THE CHAFEE-ROCKEFELLER CHILDREN'S AMENDMENT WAS A REJECTION OF THE YOUR HEALTH CARE PRIORITIES?

A. While we were disappointed that Chafee-Rockefeller amendment did not pass, the Senators made important improvements that responded to many of the concerns that I had raised about the Chairman's mark and the Commerce Committee bill.

Before the final compromise was reached, the original Finance legislation fell well short of assuring that the $16 billion for children's health care was being effectively targeted to ensure that the greatest number of children would be given a meaningful benefits package.

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

For example, it would have permitted states to use the $16 billion for purposes other than expanding health insurance coverage to children, and it would have allowed states to offer health plans that would not have included many important benefits that children need.

The final recommendations that came out of the Senate Finance Committee, however, were much more consistent with our priorities. They include a much stronger benefits package, and they ensure that the new money for children's health will only cover new expansions for children's coverage.

I do, however, believe that we need to continue to work to ensure that the final bill includes provisions that guarantee that low-income children are not exposed to excessive cost sharing.

I fought extremely hard to ensure that the $16 billion for children's health was in the Budget Agreement. I will continue to work to ensure that the final children's health legislation provides children with a meaningful benefits package and covers the most children possible.

MEDICARE

Q: DO YOU SUPPORT THE INCOME-RELATED PREMIUM PROPOSAL THAT WAS IN THE SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE MARK?

A: First, what passed the Senate Finance Committee was not an income-related premium but rather an income-related deductible that would allow high-income beneficiaries to pay deductibles beyond the current limit.

The proposal is also outside of what was decided in the Budget Agreement. We decided on what beneficiary savings were in the agreement and all assumed there would be no other beneficiary cost-sharing burdens.

We believe that it would be administratively complex and potentially unworkable in a practical context. Regardless, it needs much consideration before we could support it as an addition to the Medicare program.

For this reason, we do not support this proposal in the context of the budget negotiations. However, we would be happy to have discussions with Senator Kerrey and others about this provision in another context.

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

Q: THE HOUSE COMMERCE COMMITTEE, THE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE AND THE SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE ALL VOTED TO FORM A MEDICARE COMMISSION. DO YOU SUPPORT THIS AS WELL?

A: We are committed to setting up a bipartisan process to address the long-term needs of the Medicare program. However, our first goal is to pass the Medicare reforms in the Budget Agreement that will extend the life of the trust fund for at least a decade. We still have lots of work to do on this deal to ensure that we get the provisions agreed to in the Budget Agreement.

The Agreement will lay a solid foundation for the next steps; the new payment systems, the new plan options, and the new preventive benefits will help the next generation have a much more modern and responsive program.

After that, however, we want to set up a bipartisan process to address the long-term financing concerns of the Medicare program. And we look forward to working with the Congress and others as to how best to do that.

Q: WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT THE MEDICARE DEMONSTRATION IN DENVER?

A: I am aware that it is currently in a court proceeding. As such, it is not appropriate for me to comment on the details of the demonstration at this time. However, I would like to say that I believe that it is important to inject market-oriented competition into the Medicare program to help it become a more fiscally prudent purchaser with regard to the way it purchases health care services and coverage.

AIDS

Q: IF WE ARE INVESTING MORE TO DEVELOP AN AID VACCINE AREN'T WE TAKING AWAY FROM INVESTMENTS ON TREATING PEOPLE WHO ALREADY SUFFER FROM THIS DISEASE?

A: Since I took office, I have made an extraordinary commitment to increasing our investments in AIDS. Funding for AIDS research, prevention and care increased by more than 50 percent in the first four years of the Clinton Administration. Funding for AIDS Drug Assistance Programs (ADAP), which help low-income people purchase needed therapies, has tripled, while funding for the Ryan White CARE Act in my budget has increased 168 percent over the FY 1993 budget. We need to continue to increase our investments in all of these areas, and my FY 1998 budget reflects that commitment, with additional investments in AIDS research, prevention and care.

Q: DOESN'T YOUR CHALLENGE RING HOLLOW SINCE YOU ARE NOT INVESTING ANY NEW RESOURCES DEVELOPING AN AIDS VACCINE?

A: I have committed additional resources to developing an AIDS vaccine. In the last two years, we increased funding for the AIDS vaccine by 33 percent and my FY 1998 budget increases spending for AIDS vaccine research by $17 million.

Moreover, scientists have informed me that it is not only money that we need to meet the challenge of finding an AIDS vaccine, but that we also need to promote collaboration between experts in this area. That is why I called for the new AIDS Vaccine Center at NIH that Dr. Varmus is announcing which will unite scientists in immunology, virology, and vaccinology to join in a highly collaborative effort to develop an AIDS vaccine.

That is also why I am calling on the leaders of the eight major industrialized nations meeting here in Denver to support a worldwide AIDS vaccine research initiative. These important initiatives are what scientists believe we need to do to fully commit ourselves to the goal of developing an AIDS vaccine.

Automated Records Management System

Q: THE BALANCED BUDGET AGREEMENT CALLS FOR CAPS ON DISCRETIONARY DOMESTIC SPENDING. WON'T ADDITIONAL FUNDING FOR AN AIDS VACCINE MEAN LESS FOR OTHER IMPORTANT PRIORITIES? WHY NOT EXPEND THIS KIND OF ENERGY AND RESOURCES ON A CURE FOR BREAST CANCER OR HEART DISEASE OR DIABETES?

A: This Administration has made a strong improving biomedical research an extremely important priority. We have increased investments in biomedical research at the National Institutes of Health by an impressive 16 percent since the I took office.

These additional investments has been used to increase investments in biomedical research in a number of important areas. For example, funding for breast cancer research has increased by 76 percent since 1993 .

Developing an AIDS vaccine is one important priority in our investments in biomedical research. Without an effective vaccine, AIDS will soon take over as the leading cause of death for persons between the ages of 25 and 44. Between 650,00 and 900,000 Americans are estimated to be living with HIV and over 300,000 have died of AIDS.

While we have made enormous strides in the last year in treating AIDS, these treatments are not always effective and are often prohibitively expensive both for Americans and throughout the world. Also scientists at NIH believe that it is only a matter of time before we develop an AIDS vaccine. Increasing our commitment to developing a vaccine could save millions of lives both in this country and throughout the world.

Q: HHS ISSUED GUIDELINES TODAY ON AIDS TREATMENT. HOW CAN YOU ISSUE THESE GUIDELINES WITHOUT SAYING HOW YOU WILL PAY FOR THESE DRUGS. IN FACT, YOU RECENTLY REJECTED A REQUEST FOR ADDITIONAL AIDS TREATMENT FUNDING.

A: The Department is reviewing the budget implications of the new treatment guidelines for the AIDS Drug Assistance Programs (ADAP). We are working with states to determine whether our current budget does enough to help states treat those in need. Last year, when we determined we needed more funding for this program to cover the then new protease inhibitor drugs, we sent two budget supplementals to the Hill. My Administration has nearly tripled funding for ADAP since I took office, and my current budget represents an 168 percent increase for Ryan White. We certainly understand the importance of funding AIDS treatment.

Q&A on Tobacco Settlement
June 20, 1997

Q. Did the Administration help close the deal?

A. No. My staff monitored the talks closely so that we would be in a position to evaluate and respond to any possible settlement. We consistently told the parties that they would have to close an agreement on their own, and they were able to do so without any help from the Administration.

Q. How will you proceed?

A. I have asked my Domestic Policy Advisor, along with the Secretary of Health and Human Services, to undertake a thorough public health review of this agreement. They will consult with all interested agencies, members of Congress, and the public health community.

Q. How long will the review take?

A. The review will take as long as necessary to conduct a careful analysis, but we will seek to work promptly and expeditiously. We expect this to be a matter of weeks, not months.

Q. Dr. Kessler and Dr. Koop have asked in a letter to you that you give them 30 days to complete their own review before signing off on anything. Are you going to wait?

A. I intend to consider closely the views of the public health community, including Drs. Koop and Kessler, before rendering any judgment on the settlement. But it is premature to commit to any firm timetable for reaching my conclusion.

Q. What will you look at in evaluating this agreement?

A. We will evaluate whether this agreement protects the public health -- and particularly the health of our children. We will pay special attention to the part of the agreement dealing with FDA jurisdiction. The actions the FDA has taken under this Administration forced the industry to the bargaining table, and we will insist that the FDA has all necessary authority to regulate nicotine and tobacco products. We also will carefully review the financial terms of the settlement, including whether the money will go toward protecting the health of our children and the general public.

Q. The final deal limits punitive damages -- a key concession to the tobacco industry. Won't you oppose that given your previous opposition to caps on punitive awards?

A. The limitation on punitive damages for past misconduct is not a deal-breaker for us. We understand that the attorneys general extracted substantial concessions from the tobacco companies for this limitation, and we will evaluate whether the agreement as a whole advances the nation's public health interests.

Q. Are you taking a political risk in considering approval of this settlement?

A. This isn't about politics; it's about protecting the public health. We didn't think about politics when we took on the tobacco companies last year with our announcement of the FDA rule. And we won't look to politics now in evaluating this agreement.

Automated Records Management System

The x-ray machine at the 17th & G entrance is currently not working. The USSS has requested the necessary parts to repair the machine and expect to have it back up and operational by the end of the day.

I apologize for the late notice but the USSS did not notify us of the outage. I have stressed to them the importance of notifying our office of outages so we can inform the appropriate staff on the complex.

Please call me with any questions at x62023.

FYI -

I know you're working on getting back with Jason. I wanted you to read an email he just sent me.

Let me know if I can help with anything. I did have a thought. If HHS is strapped for positions, maybe we could think of other HHS affiliated agencies that work on HIV/AIDS issues who might be willing to hire Jason. Let me know. I'll be happy to brainstorm with you or do some research, but I wanted to ask your opinion first.

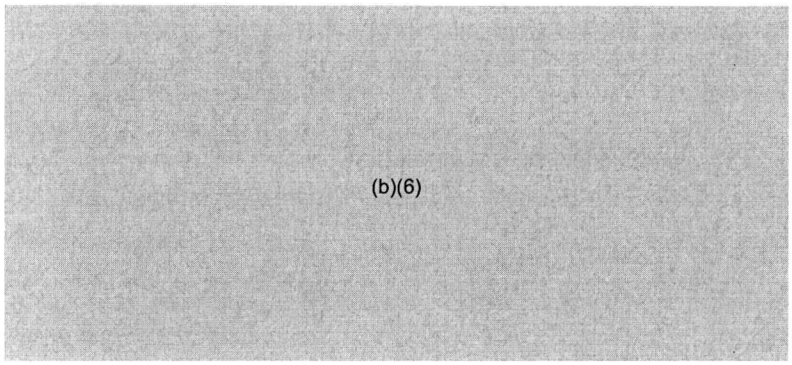

Thanks,

Hey Eric:

Sarah Knight in Presidential Correspondence is needing some language for remarks to Governor Pataki in reference to ADAP. I believe she has left you some messages regarding potential language. I asked her to touch base with you regarding that language and/or proper referral for that language.

Also, she recently received another letter addressed to the President from the ADAP Working Group asking for increased funding and will probably need and/or use similar language. If you get a moment, please call her and let her know. If you need a copy of the letter(s) she will be happy to fax you one. She can be reached at 456-5514.

Hi Eric:

Jason is going to visit with Joan Holloway in Joe O'Neill's office when they can arrange a meeting. I was speaking with Joan yesterday about our interns and mentioned Jason being a PMI. She said that Deborah Parham had been a PMI and that's how she got started in government. I also explained how you had been working to try and find a slot for him, but that it had been difficult.

Who knows maybe with the reorganization they might be able to find a slot for him.

Jason said that he would let me know when he went to visit with Joan.

Given our difficulty, whatever possibilities you might have, I know that Jason would be very appreciative of your efforts.

Victor Zonana is on the case and going to push hard. Can you fax both him a clean copy of the final op-ed. For some reason my copy comes through with white streak.

TEXT:
Hi EPG:

I will need a travel approval for the upcoming PACHA meeting in Atlanta.

Departure date: Monday, July 21
Return date: Sunday July 27

I will also need a hotel room for my stay in Atlanta. The Hotel is the Wyndham Garden Hotel on Peachtree street.

Can I be issued a federal credit card for travel or will I be provided an advance for the trip?

I am hoping that within the next couple of months, I can focus my energies full time on the Council and therefore would like to attend conferences relevant to the Council. I haven't brought this up till now given our schedule over here, but will your office be able to fund the Atlanta trip and relevant trips, per your approval of course.

Take care and have a great 4th of July.

Please advise.

THE WHITE HOUSE AT WORK

Thursday, July 3, 1997

THURSDAY: PRESIDENT CLINTON'S NATO ENLARGEMENT PLAN IS ENDORSED

Today at the White House President Clinton will announce endorsements of his plan for NATO enlargement by the American Legion and the Reserve Officers Association.

- Four years ago, President Clinton set out his vision for an undivided European continent, democratic and at peace for the first time in history. Working closely with our European allies, the President has helped realize that vision by opening NATO's doors to Europe's new democracies. Next week's NATO summit in Madrid represents a culmination of American and European leadership efforts in building a new Europe -- a capstone for the 20th century and a cornerstone for the 21st century.

- Today, the President's realized vision for NATO expansion will be endorsed by the veterans groups, the American Legion and the Reserve Officers Association.

- Our own Independence Day is a symbolic launching point for next week's historic NATO summit, where we will help ensure Europe's freedom -- and strengthen our own. Today, with surviving Polish and American veterans of the Battle of the Falaise Gap -- in which Free Poles and the American 90th Infantry joined forces to prevent Nazi panzer divisions from escaping into the French countryside after D-Day -- the President will highlight that new Nato allies are in fact old allies who will add to NATO's strength.

TUESDAY: THE PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT ANNOUNCED ACTIONS TO PROMOTE ELECTRONIC COMMERCE AROUND THE WORLD

In the East Room of the White House, President Clinton and Vice President Gore announced several actions to advance electronic commerce around the world and released a report -- "A Framework for Global Electronic Commerce" -- that outlines a strategy to ensure a market-oriented approach toward commerce on the Internet.

In just a few years, trade on the Internet will generate hundreds of billions of dollars in goods and services. In order to ensure safe and stable terrain for those who wish to trade on the Internet, the President announced a new framework for global electronic commerce, establishing a global free-trade zone. As part of this new approach, the President:

- Directed Treasury Secretary Rubin, Commerce Secretary Daley and Trade Representative Barshefsky to oppose any new taxes on electronic commerce, to work to eliminate tariffs and non-tariff barriers to the Internet, to establish basic consumer and copyright protection for global electronic commerce, and to establish a predictable legal environment for electronic commerce.

- Challenged the private sector to develop effective methods for protecting the privacy of every American, especially children who use the Internet. In the wake of the Supreme Court decision on the Communications Decency Act, he asked the high tech community to work with the Administration to develop effective means to protect children from access to inappropriate materials.

TEXT:
I have just recieved the resumes of the new interns who will be starting on Wednesday. I am going to put the resumes in a folder in room 211 at 8:30 tomorrow morning and people can choose their new interns prior to the staff mtg. on a first come first serve basis. Some of you may have made prior arrangements with these interns- if so please let me know as soon as possible so I can take their names out of the mix. There should be about one intern per team. Once you choose your intern please remove their resume from the folder so they are not choosen again. Please let me know if you have any questions.
