Just heard about Alan Shepard's death, and Dan said this is the last day for BC sigs for a while. Should we try to do something today? Also, we weren't sure about whether or not to do a letter for Robert Young, and if that would be a BC sig as well.

July 22, 1998

Dear Representative Greenwood:

I am writing to express my concern over Congress's plans to override my veto of H.R. 1122, a bill banning so-called partial birth abortions, rather than to pass the legislation I have called for to prohibit this procedure except when necessary to save the life of the mother or prevent serious harm to her health. In taking this approach, Congress is jeopardizing the safety of women and using this painful issue as an opportunity to score political points, rather than to pass appropriate legislation.

The procedure addressed in H.R. 1122 poses a difficult and disturbing issue. I strongly believe that we generally should prohibit the use of this procedure. I have insisted, however, on exempting those few but tragic cases in which this procedure is necessary to save a woman's life or to protect her against serious injury. I again call upon Congress to add such a narrow, tightly drawn exception to this bill, so that I can sign the legislation and put an end to all other uses of this procedure.

The legislation that you have sponsored with Representative Hoyer -- which prohibits all late-term abortions, except those necessary to save the life of a woman or prevent serious harm to her health -- is also consistent with my principles. As you know, I have long opposed late-term abortions, and as Governor of Arkansas, I signed into law a bill that banned them, with an appropriate exception for the life or health of the mother. If Congress were to pass your bill, I would sign it immediately.

Congress's refusal to consider such constructive proposals - proposals that would put an end to inappropriate abortions while protecting women from death or serious injury -- prevents us from resolving these issues and moving forward. Similarly, Congress's recent votes restricting safe medical choices and access to family planning information and services stand in the way of progress on these issues. I urge Congress once again to move beyond ideology and political maneuvering, to protect women's lives and health, and to reduce the need for abortions.

Sincerely,

The Honorable James C. Greenwood

House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Frank:

I am writing to express my strong support of your amendment to the Transportation Appropriations bill lowering to .08 the national legal blood alcohol content (BAC) level for driving a motor vehicle.

As you know, statistics reveal that virtually all drivers are substantially impaired at .08 BAC in tasks critical to driving, increasing the risk of being involved in a crash. In contrast, those states that have already adopted this law, have seen a decrease in traffic fatalities. This amendment will send a strong message and help prosecutors fight drunk driving, ultimately saving thousands of lives and preventing many more thousands of injuries to our citizens. We are obligated to make our streets safe and our drivers sober -- this provision is vital to that effort.

Thank you for your hard work on behalf of this issue so critical to the safety of our nation's people. I urge the Senate to approve your amendment and join my commitment to making .08 the national standard in the enforcement of drunk driving laws.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Frank R. Lautenberg
United States Senate

Redlines are all fine, of course. On USEC, as you know we don't give multiple pens to a single member, so I'd say give him just one.

Mr. Bill Joy, Co-Chair
Dr. Ken Kennedy, Co-Chair
National Coordination Office for Computing,
Information, and Communications
Suite 690, 4201 Wilson Boulevard
Arlington, Virginia 22230

Dear Bill and Ken:

Thank you for your Interim Report advising me of the President's Information Technology Advisory Committee's (PITAC) findings and recommendations on future directions for federal support of information technology research and development. The Vice President joins me in thanking you and the other PITAC members for your guidance on how best to preserve America's commanding lead in computing and communications technology.

Our nation's economic future and the welfare of our citizens depend on continued advances and innovations in the information technologies that have produced so many remarkable developments in science, engineering, medicine, business, and education. Sustained prosperity for America requires a steady stream of technological innovation. The knowledge-based society of the next century makes our participation in the front ranks of research essential if our nation is to capture the gains of scientific and technological advances. Half of our economic productivity in the last half century is attributable to scientific and technological innovation. One third of our economic growth since 1992 has been spurred by businesses in the computing and communications industries. Information technology sustains our global competitiveness, provides opportunities for lifelong learning, and expands our ability to solve critical problems affecting our environment, health care and national security.

Through my Administration's initiatives in computing and communications, such as the Next Generation Internet, the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency's support for breakthrough technologies, the Department of Energy's high performance computing programs, and the National Science Foundation's Knowledge and Distributed Intelligence emphasis, we have laid the foundations for the technological advances that promise to profoundly transform the next millennium. Yet, to maintain this momentum, we must adequately fund critical federal investments in fundamental research. In my recent speech at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, I proposed significant increases in computing and communications research. Your proposed research agenda will help guide Dr. Neal Lane, my Assistant for Science and Technology, in developing a detailed plan for my review.

For six years in a row, I have proposed budget increases to sustain American leadership across the frontiers of scientific knowledge. Most recently, I was pleased to sign into law the National Science Foundation Authorization Act of 1998, which will create new knowledge, spur innovations, foster future breakthroughs, and provide cutting-edge research facilities that will produce the finest American scientists and engineers for the 21st century.

I am hopeful that the Congress and my Administration can work together to advance the leading edges of computational science to help us discover new technologies that can make this a better world. We have a duty -- to ourselves, to our children, and to future generations -- to make these and other farsighted investments in science and technology to take America into the next century well-equipped for the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead.

Sincerely,

Bill Clinton

MEMORANDUM FOR THE HEADS OF EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

SUBJECT: Cutting Greenhouse Gases through Energy Savings Performance Contracts

My Administration has made addressing the threat of global climate change one of our top environmental priorities. As the Nation's largest consumer of the fossil fuels that scientists believe are driving global warming, the Federal Government has a special responsibility to lead in developing clean energy solutions and in reducing Federal energy consumption. While Government-wide energy saving activities over the last several years have resulted in significant achievements, we can and should do more.

On March 9, 1994, I issued Executive Order 12902, Energy Efficiency and Water Conservation at Federal Facilities, which directed all executive agencies to reduce energy consumption 30 percent below 1985 levels by the year 2005. We have made significant strides, but in order to achieve this goal we must make better use of a critical energy management tool. Energy Saving Performance Contracts (ESPCs), which are authorized under the National Energy Conservation Policy Act, as modified by the Energy Policy Act of 1992, provide significant opportunities for making Federal buildings more energy efficient at little or no cost to taxpayers. Under ESPC authority, agencies can contract with private energy service companies to retrofit Federal buildings with no up-front payments by the Government. These companies recover their costs from a negotiated share of the energy cost savings, with the remaining savings being returned to the contracting agency and to taxpayers. The Federal Government must make more use of these highly cost-effective contracts.

I therefore direct all Federal agencies to maximize use of this authority by the year 2000, when the authority expires. I also direct the Department of Energy (DOE) to lead an interagency effort to develop a legislative proposal extending ESPC authority past the year 2000. As part of this effort, I direct all agencies to identify and propose areas for expansion of ESPC authority -- for instance, as appropriate, to some leased buildings, mobility, and other Federal assets. In addition, I direct agencies to propose ways to procure electricity produced using cost-effective renewable sources.

While ESPC authority has existed for some time, I have encouraged significant steps to streamline and promote greater use of this tool. To this end, the DOE and the Department of Defense (DOD) have negotiated contracts with energy service companies over most regions of the country. These ESPCs currently allow up to $5 billion worth of projects at Federal facilities within these regions. The DOE and the DOD anticipate that by the end of this year they will negotiate contracts allowing an additional $2.7 billion worth of such work in specific regions. The combined $7.7 billion provides, in effect, the total dollar amount of retrofit projects that Federal agencies can complete at their facilities using ESPCs. In addition, the DOE anticipates negotiating over $1 billion for ESPCs to finance the installation of renewable energy and other efficient technology systems in the near future.

To further compliance with this directive, I have asked the Office of Management and Budget to provide new guidance to agencies that will help remove barriers and provide more incentives for using ESPCs. This guidance will change the budgetary treatment of these contracts to be consistent with the unique statutory authority for ESPCs. Specifically, the full amount of budget authority for the contract will no longer be needed up front, but can be made available over a number of years. In addition, this guidance will encourage agencies to permit up to 50 percent of the energy savings from ESPCs to remain at the facility or site where they occur. Both of these policies will help motivate Federal energy managers to make greater use of ESPCs and reduce agency operating costs.

To make use of this authority, Federal facilities need to contact the DOE or the DOD to engage contractors already pre-approved to complete ESPC work. Agencies can also consider using direct appropriations or contract with their local utilities. I also direct Federal agencies to maximize efforts to earn an ENERGY STAR label, demonstrating to the public that they rank in the top 25 percent for building energy efficiency. Combining energy savings contracting authority with utility programs and agency funded efforts can save taxpayers as much as one billion dollars a year in energy costs over the next 15 years, and can reduce greenhouse gas emissions by up to 3 million metric tons of carbon annually.

To ensure the full use and benefits of ESPC authority, I further direct each executive agency to submit to me, in the next 90 days, a memorandum detailing:

1. Your agency's accomplishments in reducing energy consumption since 1985, and your plans to reduce energy consumption 30 percent below 1985 levels by 2005, in compliance with Executive Order 12902;
2. Your agency's plans to use ESPCs and other tools, as well as your plans to achieve ENERGY STAR labels for your facilities, as part of your increased attention to saving money through energy efficiency and renewable energy;
3. Your proposals on how to expand the Federal Government's use of these tools, for inclusion in our request to the Congress for extending ESPC authority beyond the year 2000; and
4. Your strategy for encouraging use of ESPCs and other financing mechanisms to install renewable energy production systems -- such as those called for in the Million Solar Roofs Initiative.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON

Memorandum for the Heads of Executive Departments and Agencies

Subject: Cutting Greenhouse Gases through Energy Savings Performance Contracts

This Administration has made efforts to address the threat of global climate change one of its top environmental priorities. As the nation's largest consumer of the fossil fuels that scientists believe are driving global warming, the federal government has a special responsibility to lead in developing clean energy solutions and in reducing Federal energy consumption. While government-wide energy saving activities over the last several years have resulted in significant achievements, we can and should do more.

On March 9, 1994, I issued Executive Order #12902, on Energy Efficiency and Water Conservation at Federal Facilities, which directed all federal agencies to reduce energy consumption 30% below 1985 levels by the year 2005. We have made significant strides, but in order to achieve this goal we must make better use of a critical energy management tool. Energy Saving Performance Contracts (ESPCs), which are authorized under the National Energy Conservation Policy Act as modified by the Energy Policy Act of 1992, provide significant opportunities for making federal buildings more energy efficient at little or no cost to taxpayers. Under ESPC authority, agencies can contract with private energy service companies to retrofit federal buildings with no up-front payments by the government. These companies recover their costs from a negotiated share of the energy cost savings, with the remaining savings being returned to the contracting agency and to taxpayers. The federal government must make more use of these highly cost-effective contracts.

I therefore direct all federal agencies to maximize use of this authority by the year 2000, when the authority expires. I also direct the Departments of Energy to lead an interagency effort to develop a legislative proposal extending ESPC authority past the year 2000. As part of this effort, I direct all agencies, to identify and propose areas for expansion of ESPC authority --for instance, as appropriate, to some leased buildings, mobility and other Federal assets. In addition, I direct agencies to propose ways to procure electricity produced using cost-effective renewable sources.

While ESPC authority has existed for some time, I have encouraged significant steps to streamline and promote greater use of this tool. To this end, the Department of Energy and the Department of Defense have negotiated contracts with energy service companies over most regions of the country. These ESPCs currently allow up to $5 billion worth of projects at federal facilities within these regions. DOE and DOD anticipate that by the end of this year they will negotiate contracts allowing an additional $2.7 billion worth of such work in specific regions. The combined $7.7 billion provides, in effect, the total dollar amount of retrofit projects which federal agencies can complete at their facilities using ESPCs. In addition, DOE anticipates negotiating over $1 billion for ESPCs to finance the installation of renewable energy and other efficient technology systems in the near future.

To further compliance with this directive, I have asked the Office of Management and Budget to provide new guidance to agencies that will help remove barriers and provide more incentives for using ESPCs. This guidance will change the budgetary treatment of these contracts to be consistent with the unique statutory authority for ESPCs. Specifically, the full amount of budget authority for the contract will no longer be needed up front, but can be made available over a number of years. In addition, this guidance will encourage agencies to permit up to 50 percent of the energy savings from ESPCs to remain at the facility or site where they occur. Both of these policies will help motivate Federal energy managers to make greater use of ESPCs and reduce agency operating costs.

To make use of this authority, federal facilities need to contact DOE or DOD to engage contractors already pre-approved to complete ESPC work. Agencies can also consider using direct appropriations or contract with their local utilities. I also direct federal agencies to maximize efforts to earn an ENERGY STAR label, demonstrating to the public that they rank in the top 25% for building energy efficiency. Combining energy savings contracting authority with utility programs and agency funded efforts can save taxpayers as much as one billion dollars a year in energy costs over the next fifteen years, and can reduce greenhouse gas emissions by up to 3 million metric tons of carbon annually.

To ensure the full use and benefits of ESPC authority, I further direct each federal agency and department to submit to me, in the next 90 days, a memorandum detailing:

1. Your department's or agency's accomplishments in reducing energy consumption since 1985, and your plans to reduce energy consumption 30% below 1985 levels by 2005, in compliance with Executive Order 12902;
2. Your department's or agency's plans to use ESPCs and other tools, as well as your plans to achieve ENERGY STAR labels for your facilities, as part of your increased attention to saving money through energy efficiency and renewable energy;
3. Your proposals on how to expand the federal government's use of these tools, for inclusion in our request to Congress for extending ESPC authority beyond the year 2000; and
4. Your strategy for encouraging use of ESPCs and other financing mechanisms to install renewable energy production systems --such as those called for in the Million Solar Roofs Initiative.

Finally, I urge you to be certain that your key energy use managers participate in ENERGY98, a Federal energy conference to be held August 3-5, 1998 in Bellevue, Washington. This conference should be extremely useful in helping train and educate the appropriate personnel in your agency on the range of tools available to cut energy use.

Subject: Executive Order American Heritage Rivers Amending Executive Orders 13061 and 13080

THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of the Press Secretary
(Albuquerque, New Mexico)

For Immediate Release
1998

July 27,

EXECUTIVE ORDER

AMERICAN HERITAGE RIVERS,
AMENDING EXECUTIVE ORDERS 13061 AND 13080

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America, and in order to increase the number of rivers that the President may designate as American Heritage Rivers, it is hereby ordered that the second sentence of both section 2(d)(1) of Executive Order 13061 and of section 2(a) of Executive Order 13080 are amended by deleting "ten" and inserting "up to 20" in lieu thereof.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON

THE WHITE HOUSE,
July 27, 1998.

Could I get it done by Friday? Sure. But I try to reserve the occasions when I go kick OMB in the ass for times when something is genuinely urgent.

So, help me help you - - what's the reason they need it immediately?

Subject: ISTE A pen, etc.

Sen. Sarbanes (D-MD) has requested a pen from the H.R. 2400 ISTE A signing ceremony. He received a letter and redline when the others went out. He attended the ceremony but did not receive a pen from the President.

In addition, Cong. Whitfield has requested a letter and a pen commemorating the signing of S. 2316 (the United States Enrichment Corporation bill). Chuck asked me for this yesterday. i will put the letter together soon.

thanks.

WITH DISABILITIES

As we commemorate the eighth anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act ("ADA"), we have much to celebrate. This landmark civil rights law is making it possible for millions of Americans to participate more fully in society, including employment, access to public facilities, and participation in community and leisure activities, and to do their part to make us a stronger and better country. At the same time, we are reminded that significant challenges remain. Far too many of the 30 million working-age adults with disabilities are still unemployed, especially those with significant disabilities.

To address barriers to work for people with disabilities, I issued Executive Order 13078 on March 13, 1998 establishing the Presidential Task Force on Employment of Adults with Disabilities. The Task Force will issue in November the first in a series of reports on what the Federal Government can do to help bring the employment rate of adults with disabilities to a rate as close as possible to that of the general population. The Task Force, however, already has identified important ways to reduce barriers to work for people with disabilities, and I hereby direct you to act on these findings.

First, although awareness of the ADA is increasing among persons with disabilities, employers, and the general public, too many people still are not aware of their rights and responsibilities under the ADA. There is a particular need to educate the small business community, which employs most of the private work force and includes the vast majority of employers.

I therefore direct the Attorney General, the Chair of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and the Administrator of the Small Business Administration to expand public education regarding the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 to employers, employees, and others whose rights may be affected, with special attention to small businesses and under-served communities, such as racial and language minorities that may not have ready access to information that is already available.

Second, lack of adequate private health insurance options is a disincentive to leave Social Security programs for work. Few private health plans cover the personal assistance and other types of services that make it possible for many people with disabilities to work. Recognizing this problem, I proposed and the Congress passed a new Medicaid option last year that allows people with disabilities to buy into Medicaid without having to receive cash assistance. A number of states have expressed a strong interest in offering this new option and I have instructed the Secretary of Health and Human Services to work with them to do so. Much more, however, needs to be done to increase the public outreach and education activities about these important laws and options.

I therefore direct the Secretary of Health and Human Services ("HHS") to continue to take all necessary actions to inform Governors, state legislators, state Medicaid directors, consumer organizations, employers, providers and other interested parties about Section 4733 of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997. Section 4733 allows states to provide Medicaid coverage for working individuals with disabilities who, because of their earnings, would not qualify for Medicaid under current law. Additional guidance, letters, technical assistance, and other efforts by HHS about the enormous benefits of this option can go a long way in encouraging states to adopt and use this Medicaid buy-in.

This memorandum is for the internal management of the executive branch and does not create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable by a party against the United States, its agencies or instrumentalities, its officers or employees, or any other person.

REVISED 8/3/98 - 2pm

(Proposed Presidential Foreword for Changing America: Indicators of Economic and Social Well-Being by Race and Hispanic Origin, a forthcoming publication by the CEA prepared for the President's Initiative on Race.)

FOREWORD

As we approach the 21st century, America is once again a nation of change, with the opportunity to become the world's first truly multiracial, multiethnic democracy. In as few as 50 years, there may be no majority race in our nation. This rich and growing diversity should be a source of great pride and strength as we enter the new millennium.

In June 1997, I launched The President's Initiative on Race: One America in the 21st Century, in part to educate Americans about the facts surrounding the issue of race in America. I appointed an Advisory Board of seven distinguished Americans to help lead this national conversation. I asked my entire Administration to participate in this effort, and we have taken many significant policy actions in just this last year. I also called upon all Americans to recognize the lingering problems and limitless possibilities of our diversity. We face a variety of racial challenges in our country, many of them deeply rooted in our history. If we are to harness the great opportunities within these challenges, we must better understand the contours and nature of racial issues.

By providing much needed information about racial disparities, this statistical factbook provides the basis for an informed discussion about the problems faced by people of different races and backgrounds in America. There is much good news here, with improvements over the past 20 years for all Americans in education, in economic status, and in health. But in far too many areas, there are still troubling disparities between people of color and other Americans.

Understanding the disparities highlighted in this factbook is important, but to widen the circle of opportunity for all Americans, we must also continue to act. We must make sure that our federal, state, and local governments, our public schools, our health care system, and our courts deal fairly with all people and provide equal opportunities for every American to participate fully in our society. We must also reach out to our neighbors and co-workers of other races or ethnicities, for it is only by getting to know one another that we will realize that what unites us is far stronger than what divides us.

Only by honestly confronting the walls that continue to separate us, can we break down those walls and move closer to creating a community in which we recognize diversity as a source of strength rather than a cause of division. A decade from now, I hope that people will look back and see that this Initiative made a difference by supplying much needed information, encouraging conversation, and inspiring concrete actions to provide equal opportunity for all Americans. I hope that when we revisit the facts and trends presented in this book, we will see much progress in closing racial gaps. Above all, I hope we will continue to build on that progress, and continue to build one America in the 21st Century.

TEXT:

I recommend reading this with a calendar handy.

Tim, Jim and I have been talking about bills. Here's the deal: there's 1 bill here, 16 have cleared; more will be passed this week. The one that's here (Elephants) will get done today or tomorrow; and one bill (Foreign Serv. Reform) isn't expected anytime soon. That leaves 15 known incoming.

Today, Jim has offered to identify some number of this group of 15 that OMB could have memos on by late this week. (A review of our lists reveals 6 or 7 minor bills that might fall in this category.) Tim will then check in with the Hill to judge the chances of getting those bills down first/immediately. If we can get them by tomorrow or Thursday, and have the memos ready when they arrive, we could maybe have the President sign a half dozen bills this week.

As you know, the President will then be out of town next Monday through Wednesday. When he returns, we'll have a bunch of bills (say 8 or 9) that he'll have to sign on Thurs/Fri (next week). We'd really need to have OMB's memos for all of those bills by Wednesday the 12th or early Thursday the 13th. (Advance drafts would obviously be a plus.) We'll request that the Hill deliver the bills in this group by Wednesday the 12th.

Trouble spots: if the Hill doesn't cooperate and we receive bills on Thursday the 13th or Friday the 14th we'll get jammed, but we'll still have the President around until Monday if we really have to get something done. Worse will be bills received late on Monday the 17th or Tuesday the 18th, because the President will be gone and we'll need to have them signed before he returns. Anything received on Wednesday the 19th or thereafter could be signed when he's here on the 31st (or I could carry them to Russia, if I'm on the trip).

As you'll see, Tim's list contains the five bills you mentioned in your earlier e-mail and five others. What are the chances we can get the 5 you mentioned done this week (and maybe one or two more along with the workforce bill, if it shows up)? Knocking out 6 or 7 this week would make things a lot easier on the President next week. What do you think?

HR 3731 - Schiff Auditorium

S 2344 - Emergency Farm Financial Relief Act

HR 765 - Shackleford Banks Wild Horses.

The next two should also be doable quickly, but I am slightly less confident of being able to get agency letters quickly:

HR 434 - Carson Forest land conveyance

HR 4354 - U.S. Capitol Police Memorail Fund

Subject: Proclamation: Designation of American Heritage Rivers

THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of the Press Secretary

(Ashe County, North Carolina)

For Immediate Release

30, 1998

July

DESIGNATION OF AMERICAN HERITAGE RIVERS

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

In celebration of America's rivers, and to recognize and reward grassroots efforts to restore them, last year I announced the American Heritage Rivers initiative. My goal was to help communities realize their visions for their rivers by making it easier for them to tap existing programs and resources of the Federal Government. From across the country, hundreds of communities answered my call for nominations, asking that their rivers be designated American Heritage Rivers. I applaud all of the communities that have drawn together and dedicated themselves to the goal of healthy rivers, now and forever.

Having reviewed the recommendations of the American Heritage Rivers Initiative Advisory Committee, I am pleased to be able to recognize a select group of rivers and communities that reflect the true diversity and splendor of America's natural endowment, and the tremendous energy and commitment of its citizenry.

Pursuant to Executive Orders 13061, 13080, and 13093, I hereby designate the following American Heritage Rivers:

The Blackstone and Woonasquatucket Rivers, in the States of Massachusetts and Rhode Island;

The Connecticut River, in the States of Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Vermont;

The Cuyahoga River, in the State of Ohio;

The Detroit River, in the State of Michigan;

The Hanalei River, in the State of Hawaii;

The Hudson River, in the State of New York;

The Upper Mississippi River, in the States of Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, and Wisconsin;

The Lower Mississippi River, in the States of Louisiana and Tennessee;

The New River, in the States of North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia;

The Rio Grande, in the State of Texas;

The Potomac River, in the District of Columbia and the States of Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia;

The St. Johns River, in the State of Florida;

The Upper Susquehanna and Lackawanna Rivers, in the State of Pennsylvania;

The Willamette River, in the State of Oregon.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this thirtieth day of July, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and ninety-eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and twenty-third.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON

THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of the Press Secretary

For Immediate

Release
1998

STATEMENT BY THE PRESIDENT

The vote for final passage of the Shays-Meehan bipartisan campaign finance reform bill is a heartening sign for the health of our democracy. The House vote to ban soft money and improve disclosure, in defiance of the Republican leadership, is a rebuke to the cynical view that political reform can never happen. Now, only a minority of the United States Senate stands in the way of campaign finance reform becoming the law of the land. I call upon those few Senators who now block reform to heed the actions of the House and the will of the people, and pass bipartisan campaign finance reform. I again congratulate Representatives Christopher Shays, Marty Meehan, and all their colleagues who set aside partisanship to make real progress today.

Subject: Last Night's Schedule

I don't understand what happened with last night's schedule. I made two schedules to give to Barbara. The private schedule included the names of Representative Barcia's constituents as well as the private dinner. I showed my intern how to tell them apart and he ran them over. They were two different schedules.

I received an email this morning that was sent at 9:45pm from Barbara asking why the dinner was not on the schedule. If Barbara had paged me or called me at home, I could have told her that perhaps she was overlooking the private schedule.

I gave Carol a second copy of the private schedule this morning, and I hope that everything is straightened out. I just wanted you to know what I sent over and that something must have happened from there. Had I been notified that there was a problem, I could have dealt with this much more quickly.

PRESIDENT CLINTON AND VICE PRESIDENT GORE'S
ACCOMPLISHMENTS: California

EXPANDING ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL

- Unemployment Down to 5.7%: The unemployment rate in California has declined from 9.7% to 5.7% since 1993.
- 1,488,700 New Jobs: 1,488,700 new jobs have been created in California since 1993 -- an average of 274,837 jobs per year. In contrast, an average of 11,350 jobs were lost each year during the previous administration.
- 1,391,000 New Private Sector Jobs: Since 1993, 1,391,000 new private sector jobs have been created in California -- an average of 256,800 jobs per year, compared to an average loss of 38,600 private sector jobs per year in the previous administration.
- 96,500 New Manufacturing Jobs: 96,500 manufacturing jobs have been created in California since 1993 -- an average of 17,815 jobs per year. In contrast, an average of 66,475 manufacturing jobs were lost each year during the previous administration.
- 163,900 New Construction Jobs: 163,900 construction jobs have been created in California since 1993 -- an average of 30,258 jobs per year. In contrast, an average of 28,025 construction jobs were lost each year during the previous administration.
- Business Failures Down 1.7% Per Year: Business failures in California have decreased an average of 1.7% per year since 1993, after increasing 21.8% per year during the previous 12 years.
- New Business Incorporations Up 4.8%: New business incorporations in California have increased at an average rate of 4.8% per year since 1993. In contrast, new business incorporations fell an average of 10.8% per year during the previous administration.
- 1.2 Million Have Received a Raise: 999,000 California workers benefited from an increase in the minimum wage -- from $4.25 to $4.75 -- on October 1, 1996. They, along with 200,000 more, received an additional raise -- from $4.75 to $5.15 -- on September 1, 1997.
- Home Ownership Has Increased in California: Home ownership in California has increased from 55.6% to 55.9% since the first quarter of 1993.
- Home Building Up 3.3%: Home building in California has increased by an average of 3.3% per year since 1993, after falling over 21.2% per year during the previous administration.
- A $500 Child Tax Credit to Help Families Raising Children: To help make it easier for families to raise their children, the balanced budget includes a $500 per-child tax credit for children under 17. Thanks to President Clinton, the balanced budget delivers a child tax credit to 3,229,000 families in California.

August 1998

- Personal Income Has Risen 2.4% Annually: Personal income in California has risen at an annual rate of 2.4% since 1993, compared to an average growth of just 1% per year during the previous administration.
- 4.4% Growth in Total Bank Loans and Leases: California has seen a 4.4% average growth rate in total bank loans and leases per year since 1993, after falling over 1.5% per year during the previous 12 years.
- 7.2% Growth in Commercial and Industrial Loans and Leases: Since 1993, California has experienced a 7.2% annual growth rate in commercial and industrial loans and leases. In contrast, commercial and industrial loans and leases fell over 7.8% per year during the previous administration.
- Over $25,000 of Reduced Federal Debt for Every Family of Four: The national debt will $1.7 trillion lower in fiscal year 1999 than projected in 1993 -- that's $25,000 less debt for each family of four in California next year.

EXPANDING ACCESS TO EDUCATION

- $509 Million in Head Start Funding: In FY97, California received nearly $459 million in Head Start funding benefitting nearly 80,000 children. This year, California receives $509 million for Head Start, an increase of $50 million over 1997. President Clinton's FY99 budget proposal will increase Head Start funding for California's children by an additional $41 million.
- $54.8 Million in Goals 2000 Funding: This year [FY98], California receives $54.8 million in Goals 2000 funding. This money is used to raise academic achievement by raising academic standards, increasing parental and community involvement in education, expanding the use of computers and technology in classrooms, and supporting high-quality teacher professional development.
- $46.6 Million for Technology Literacy: This year [FY98], California receives $46.6 million --more than doubling its funding over FY97 -- for the Technology Literacy Challenge Fund which helps communities and the private sector ensure that every student is equipped with the computer literacy skills needed for the 21st century. President Clinton's FY99 budget proposal will raise funding for technology literacy by $5 million over FY98.
- Nearly $830 Million for Students Most in Need: California receives $829.5 million in Title I Grants (to Local Educational Agencies) providing extra help in the basics for students most in need, particularly communities and schools with high concentrations of children in low-income families [FY98]. President Clinton's FY99 budget proposes to increase funding for Title I Grants by $95 million to aid California's students.

- $877.6 Million in Pell Grants: This year [FY98], California will receive $877.6 million in Pell Grants for low-income students going to college, an additional $170.3 million over last year. With this increase, a total of 439,800 California students will benefit, 25,400 more than the previous year. And President Clinton's FY99 budget proposal increases Pell Grant funding to $907.4 million.
- Over 11,300 Have Served in California through AmeriCorps: Since the National Service program began in 1993, over 11,300 AmeriCorps participants, working in 640 different programs, have earned money for college while working in California's schools, hospitals, neighborhoods or parks. [through 3/98]
- Tuition Tax Credits in Balanced Budget Open the Doors of College and Promote Lifelong Learning: The balanced budget includes both President Clinton's $1,500 HOPE Scholarship to help make the first two years of college as universal as a high school diploma and a Lifetime Learning Tax Credit for college juniors, seniors, graduate students and working Americans pursuing lifelong learning to upgrade their skills. This 20% tax credit will be applied to the first $5,000 of tuition and fees through 2002 and to the first $10,000 thereafter. 761,000 students in California will receive a HOPE Scholarship tax credit of up to $1,500. 934,000 students in California will receive the Lifetime Learning Tax Credit.

FIGHTING CRIME AND VIOLENCE

- Crime Falls 19% in California: Since 1992, serious crime has fallen 19% state wide. In California's cities, between 1992 and 1997, serious crime has declined 38% in Long Beach, 40% in Los Angeles, 21% in Oakland, 36% in San Diego, and 32% in San Francisco. Notably, murder has dropped 46% in Long Beach, 48% in Los Angeles, 40% in Oakland, 54% in San Diego and 50% in San Francisco. [1996 and preliminary 1997 Uniform Crime Report data, FBI]
- 9,150 More Police: The President's 1994 Crime Bill has funded 9,150 new police officers in communities across California. [through 8/98]
- Fresno and San Bernardino Will Receive Targeted Funding to Hire More Community Police: Fresno and San Bernardino were recently selected as pilot cities for the President's new effort to target high crime neighborhoods. The pilot program will provide full funding for new officers by waiving the usual matching requirements. Fresno and San Bernardino will deploy new officers to help meet the unique needs of their communities, such as combating gangs or targeting drug "hot spots."
- Reducing Crime with Drug Courts: Working to reduce drug-related crime in California, the Clinton Administration has recently awarded Drug Court grants to communities including Compton, El Cajon, Hanford, Indio, Los Angeles, Merced, Napa, Orange, San Francisco and San Bernardino. Drug courts use the coercive power of the criminal justice system to combine drug testing, sanctions, supervision and treatment to push nonviolent, drug-abusing offenders to stop using drugs and committing crimes.

- Over $13 Million to Combat Domestic Violence: Through the Violence Against Women Act, California receives $13,327,000 in federal funds this year [FY98] to establish more women's shelters and bolster law enforcement, prosecution, and victims' services.
- $6,810,844 in Grants for Battered Women and Children: This year [FY98], California will receive $6,810,844 in HHS's Family Violence Prevention Program grants to assist women and children fleeing domestic abuse, an additional $1.2 million increase over last year. President Clinton's FY99 budget proposal increases HHS's Family Violence Prevention Program grants to nearly $7 million.
- $59.5 Million to Keep Drugs & Violence Out of California's Schools: California receives $59.5 million in FY98 for the Safe & Drug Free Schools Program, which invests in school security and drug prevention programs.

MOVING CALIFORNIANS FROM WELFARE TO WORK

- 312,417 Fewer on Welfare: There are currently 312,417 fewer people on welfare than there were in the beginning of 1993 -- a 13% decrease. [through 3/98]
- Child Support Collections Up 38%: Child support collections have increased by over $249 million -- or 38% -- in California since FY92. [through FY96]
- California Receives $190 Million in Welfare-to-Work Grants: In FY98, California is eligible to receive $190 million in welfare-to-work state formula grants, helping California prepare welfare recipients for work and to place them in jobs. Part of the President's comprehensive efforts to move recipients from welfare to work, this funding is included in the $3 billion Welfare-to-Work Jobs Challenge Fund signed into law in the 1997 balanced budget.

INVESTING IN CALIFORNIA'S HEALTH

- Health Care for Uninsured Children: The balanced budget includes the largest single investment in health care for children since the passage of Medicaid in 1965 -- an unprecedented $24 billion over five years to cover as many as five million children throughout the nation. This investment guarantees the full range of benefits -- from checkups to surgery -- that children need to grow up strong and healthy. It ensures that prescription drugs, vision, hearing, and mental health coverage now offered at the state level are extended to millions of uninsured children. To expand health coverage to more than 1.2 million uninsured children in California the balanced budget provides $855 million in 1998. This compares to the 1995 Republican plan vetoed by President Clinton that would have denied health care coverage to 356,600 children in California.
- Helping California Women and Children with WIC: The Clinton Administration is committed to full funding in the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC). Last year, in California, 402,496 more women and children in need received health and food assistance than in 1994.
- More Toddlers Are Being Immunized: As a result of the President's 1993 Childhood

August 1998

Immunization Initiative, childhood immunization rates have reached an historic high. According to the CDC, 90% or more of America's toddlers in 1996 received the most critical doses of each of the routinely recommended vaccines -- surpassing the President's 1993 goal. In California in 1996, 94% of two-year olds received the vaccines for diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis; 91% received the vaccine for polio; 90% received the vaccine for measles, and 90% received the vaccine for Haemophilus influenzae B, the bacteria causing a form of meningitis.

- Increased Funding for HIV/AIDS Programs by 105%: In FY97, California communities received $169.8 million in Ryan White formula and other HIV/AIDS program funds, a 105% increase over FY93 levels. This funding provides people living with HIV and AIDS medical and support services, including the AIDS Drug Assistance Program which helps those without insurance obtain much needed prescription drugs. [HHS, Health Resources and Services Administration, 4/98]
- President's Tobacco Plan Will Cut Smoking and Premature Deaths by 40% in California: If the Clinton Administration's tobacco proposal on youth smoking is enacted, by 2003, California will see a 40% cut in youth smoking and resulting premature deaths. Over the next five years, 248,000 young Californians will be kept from smoking and 83,000 will be spared a premature tobacco-related death. [Treasury Dept., 3/23/98]
- 13,090,000 Americans in California Cannot Be Assured They Have Patient Protections. Even if California enacted all the protections in the Patients' Bill of Rights, 13,090,000 people in California cannot be assured they have the comprehensive patient protections recommended by the President's Advisory Commission. This is because the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) may preempt state-enacted protections. That is why the President has called on Congress to pass a federally enforceable patients' bill of rights so that everyone enrolled in managed care may have a basic set of protections. Notably, 6,230,000 California women are in ERISA health plans and are therefore not necessarily protected. Women are particularly vulnerable without these protections because they are greater users of health care services, they make three-quarters of the health care decisions for their families, and they have specific health care needs addressed by a patients' bill of rights.

PROTECTING THE ENVIRONMENT

- 14 Toxic Waste Sites Cleaned Up: Since 1993, the EPA has completed 14 Superfund toxic waste cleanups in California, in Sunnyvale (3), Santa Clara (2), Porterville, Coalinga, Palo Alto, Richmond, Oroville, Cloverdale, Fillmore, Riverbank, and Scotts Valley [through 1/98]. Only 14 sites were cleaned up in the previous 12 years combined.
- Revitalizing Brownfields in California: As part of the Clinton-Gore Administration's efforts to clean up Brownfields, the EPA has awarded grants to counties and communities in California -- East Palo Alto, Emeryville, Oakland, Pomona, Richmond, Sacramento, San Diego, San Francisco, Colton, Long Beach, Montebello, West Hollywood, Los Angeles, Stockton, Hoopa Valley Tribe, Santa Barbara County and Alameda County -- for environmental clean-up and economic revitalization. In addition, the State of California

Trade and Commerce Agency, which will target six sites for redevelopment, will benefit from a Brownfields grant. These projects are intended to jump-start local clean-up efforts by providing funds to return unproductive, abandoned, contaminated urban properties to productive use.

SPEARHEADING URBAN RENEWAL EFFORTS

- $128 Million to Los Angeles: Los Angeles/ Huntington Park was designated an enterprise community in December, 1994 and was awarded $3 million to create more jobs, housing, and economic opportunity for city residents. Later, it was designated a Supplemental Empowerment Zone and was awarded $125 million for similar job creation efforts.
- $28 Million to Oakland: Oakland was designated an Enterprise Community in December 1994, and was awarded $3 million to create economic opportunity for area residents. Later, it was designated an enhanced enterprise community and was awarded an additional $25 million.
- $12 Million to Other Communities Across California: Additionally, Imperial County, San Diego, San Francisco, and Watsonville were all designated Enterprise Communities and were each awarded $3 million for job creation efforts.
- Expanding the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit Will Help Develop 12,700 To 15,200 New Affordable Housing Units in California Over the Next 5 years: In January, the Vice-President announced the Clinton-Gore Administration's proposed 40-percent expansion of the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit. If enacted, it will mean an additional 12,700 - 15,200 quality rental housing units for low-income American families in California during the next five years.

EXPANDING FUNDS FOR TRANSPORTATION IMPROVEMENT

- Nearly $9.5 Billion in Federal Highway Aid: Since 1993, California has received $9.46 billion in federal highway aid. These funds have helped generate nearly 400,000 jobs. [through FY97]
- Over $800 Million in Aviation Funds: From FY93-FY97 California received $825,560,000 in AIP funds to help build and renovate airports, and, when necessary, to provide funds for noise abatement to improve the quality of life for residents who live near airports.
- Over $1 Billion in Transit Funds: California has received a total of $1.1 billion in FTA funds since 1993.
- $15 Million for Soundproofing: In April 1997, the city of Los Angeles announced the establishment of the LAX Airport Residential Soundproofing Bureau (ARSB) to expedite noise abatement actions that will ultimately soundproof about 9,000 homes. The ARSB has allocated $15 million for Phase I of this project involving approximately 1,500 homes.

[Automated Records Management System Hex-Dump Conversion]

- $2.3 Million to Improve Transit for Low-Income Communities: In July 1994, $2.3 million was awarded to the Los Angeles County Municipal Transit Authority (LACMTA) for the Los Angeles Neighborhood Initiative (LANI) which is a two-year transit-based demonstration program covering eight transit dependent, low-income LA communities.
- $750 to Improve Transit to the Airport: On June 30, 1997, FTA committed $750 million in New Starts funds over an eight year period to provide mass transit to San Francisco Airport (SFO).

ACCOMPLISHMENTS: Kentucky

EXPANDING ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL

- Unemployment Down to 4.4%: The unemployment rate in Kentucky has declined from 6.3% to 4.4% since 1993.
- 216,700 New Jobs: 216,700 new jobs have been created in Kentucky since 1993 -- an average of 40,006 per year, compared to average of 30,575 jobs each year during the previous administration.
- 200,500 New Private Sector Jobs: Since 1993, 200,500 new private sector jobs have been created -- an average of 37,015 jobs per year, compared to an average of just 22,850 private sector jobs per year in the previous administration.
- 25,000 New Manufacturing Jobs: 25,000 manufacturing jobs have been created in Kentucky since 1993 -- an average of 4,615 jobs per year. In contrast, an average of only 1,900 manufacturing jobs were created each year during the previous administration.
- 17,900 New Construction Jobs: 17,900 construction jobs have been created in Kentucky since 1993 -- an average of 3,305 jobs per year. In contrast, an average of only 950 construction jobs were created each year during the previous administration.
- 160,000 Have Received a Raise: Approximately 91,000 Kentucky workers benefited from an increase in the minimum wage -- from $4.25 to $4.75 -- on October 1, 1996. They, along with about 69,000 more, received an additional raise -- from $4.75 to $5.15 -- on September 1, 1997.
- The Poverty Rate Has Fallen: Nationally, the poverty rate has fallen from 15.1% in 1993 to 13.7% in 1996. Since the President signed his 1993 Economic Plan into law, the nation has seen the largest three year drop in poverty in a decade. In Kentucky, the poverty rate has fallen 3.4 percentage points since 1993. [1996 data]
- A $500 Child Tax Credit to Help Families Raising Children: To help make it easier for families to raise their children, the balanced budget includes a $500 per-child tax credit for children under 17. Thanks to President Clinton, the balanced budget delivers a child tax credit to 423,000 families in Kentucky.
- Business Failures Down 17.1%: Business failures have dropped 17.1% per year since 1993, after increasing 17.8% per year during the previous 12 years.
- New Business Incorporations Up 3.4%: New business incorporations in Kentucky have increased at an average rate of 3.4% per year since 1993. In contrast, new business incorporations increased at an average rate of just 0.6% per year during the previous administration.
- Home Ownership Has Increased in Kentucky: Home Ownership in Kentucky has increased from 69.0% to 74.3% since 1992.

- Home Building Up 6.4%: Home building has increased by an average of 6.4% per year since 1993, after increasing only 2.4% per year during the previous administration.
- 2.7% Growth in Personal Income: Personal income in Kentucky has risen at an annual rate of 2.7% since 1993.
- 4.7% Growth in Total Bank Loans and Leases: Kentucky has seen a 4.7% average growth rate in total bank loans and leases per year since 1993, after increasing only 0.7% per year during the previous administration.
- 3.2% Growth in Commercial and Industrial Loans and Leases: Each year since 1993, Kentucky has experienced a 3.2% growth in commercial and industrial loans and leases. In contrast, commercial and industrial loans and leases fell over 7.4% per year during the previous administration.
- Over $25,000 of Reduced Federal Debt for Every Family of Four: The national debt will $1.7 trillion lower in fiscal year 1999 than projected in 1993 -- that's $25,000 less debt for each family of four in Kentucky next year.

EXPANDING ACCESS TO EDUCATION

- Nearly $71.3 Million in Head Start Funding: In FY97, Kentucky received $65.6 million in Head Start funding benefitting nearly 15,000 children. This year, Kentucky received $71.3 million, an increase of $5.7 million over 1997. President Clinton's FY99 budget proposal will increase Head Start funding for Kentucky's children by an additional $4.6 million.
- $7.2 Million in Goals 2000 Funding: This year [FY98], Kentucky receives $7.2 million in Goals 2000 funding. President Clinton's FY99 budget proposes to increase Goals 2000 funding by an additional $80,000. This money is used to raise academic achievement by raising academic standards, increasing parental and community involvement in education, expanding the use of computers and technology in classrooms, and supporting high-quality teacher professional development.
- Nearly $7 Million for Technology Literacy: This year [FY98], Kentucky receives nearly $7 million for the Technology Literacy Challenge Fund which helps communities and the private sector ensure that every student is equipped with the computer literacy skills needed for the 21st century. President Clinton's FY99 budget proposal will raise funding for technology literacy by $950,000 over FY98.
- $127.5 Million for Students Most in Need: Kentucky receives $127.5 million in Title I Grants (to Local Education Agencies) providing extra help in the basics for students most in need, particularly communities and schools with high concentrations of children in low-income families [FY98]. President Clinton's FY99 budget proposes to increase funding for Title I Grants by nearly $2 million to aid Kentucky's students.

- $120.6 Million in Pell Grants: This year [FY98], Kentucky will receive $120.6 million in Pell Grants for low-income students going to college, an additional $23.4 million over last year. With this increase, a total of 63,300 Kentucky students will benefit, 3,700 more than the previous year. And President Clinton's FY99 budget proposal increases Pell Grant funding to $124.7 million.
- Nearly 1,200 Have Served in Kentucky through AmeriCorps: Since the National Service program began in 1993, nearly 1,200 AmeriCorps participants, working in 143 different programs, have earned money for college while working in Kentucky's schools, hospitals, neighborhoods or parks. [through 3/98]
- Tuition Tax Credits in Balanced Budget Open the Doors of College and Promote Lifelong Learning: The balanced budget includes both President Clinton's $1,500 HOPE Scholarship to help make the first two years of college as universal as a high school diploma and a Lifetime Learning Tax Credit for college juniors, seniors, graduate students and working Americans pursuing lifelong learning to upgrade their skills. This 20% tax credit will be applied to the first $5,000 of tuition and fees through 2002 and to the first $10,000 thereafter. 71,000 students in Kentucky will receive a HOPE Scholarship tax credit of up to $1,500. 86,000 students in Kentucky will receive the Lifetime Learning Tax Credit.

FIGHTING CRIME AND VIOLENCE

- 810 More Police: The President's 1994 Crime Bill has funded 810 new police officers to date in communities across Kentucky. [through 8/98]
- Reducing Crime with Drug Courts: Working to reduce drug-related crime in Kentucky, the Clinton Administration has recently awarded Drug Court grants to the communities of Covington, Elizabethtown, Newport, Owensboro, Paris, Shelbyville, and Winchester. Drug courts use the coercive power of the criminal justice system to combine drug testing, sanctions, supervision and treatment to push nonviolent, drug-abusing offenders to stop using drugs and committing crimes.
- Over $2 Million to Combat Domestic Violence: Through the Violence Against Women Act, Kentucky receives $2,063,000 in federal funds this year [FY98] to establish more women's shelters and bolster law enforcement, prosecution, and victims' services.
- $829,827 in Grants for Battered Women: This year [FY98], Kentucky will receive $829,827 in HHS's Family Violence Prevention Program grants to assist women and children fleeing domestic abuse, an additional $146,000 increase over last year. President Clinton's FY99 budget proposal increases HHS's Family Violence Prevention Program grants to $849,000.
- Nearly $8 Million to Keep Drugs & Violence Out of Kentucky's Schools: Kentucky receives

$7.9 million in FY98 for the Safe & Drug Free Schools Program, which invests in school security and drug prevention programs.

MOVING KENTUCKY RESIDENTS FROM WELFARE TO WORK

- 98,109 Fewer People on Welfare: There are 98,109 fewer people on welfare in Kentucky now than there were at the beginning of 1993 -- a 43% decrease. [through 3/98]
- Child Support Collections Up 52%: Child support collections have increased by $49 million -- or 52% -- in Kentucky since FY92. [through FY96]
- Breaking the Cycle of Dependency -- Preventing Teen Pregnancy in Kentucky: Since 1993, President Clinton has supported innovative and promising teen pregnancy prevention strategies, with significant components of his strategy becoming law in the 1996 Personal Responsibility Act. The law requires unmarried minor parents to stay in school and live at home or in a supervised setting; encourages "second chance homes" to provide teen parents with the skills and support they need; and provides $50 million a year in new funding for state abstinence education activities. Efforts are making a difference, adolescent pregnancy rates for teens aged 15-19 decreased between 1992 and 1995 and fewer teenagers gave birth from 1991 to 1996. Teen abortion rates are also declining. Notably, between 1992 and 1995, teen pregnancy rates declined 8.1 percent in Kentucky.
- Kentucky Receives $17.7 Million in Welfare-to-Work Grants: In FY98, Kentucky is eligible to receive $17.7 million in welfare-to-work state formula grants, helping Kentucky prepare welfare recipients for work and to place them in jobs. Part of the President's comprehensive efforts to move recipients from welfare to work, this funding is included in the $3 billion Welfare-to-Work Jobs Challenge Fund signed into law in the 1997 balanced budget.

INVESTING IN KENTUCKY'S HEALTH

- Health Care for Uninsured Children: The balanced budget includes the largest single investment in health care for children since the passage of Medicaid in 1965 -- an unprecedented $24 billion over five years to cover as many as five million children throughout the nation. This investment guarantees the full range of benefits -- from checkups to surgery -- that children need to grow up strong and healthy. It ensures that prescription drugs, vision, hearing, and mental health coverage now offered at the state level are extended to millions of uninsured children. To expand health coverage to more uninsured children in Kentucky the balanced budget provides $50 million in 1998. This compares to the 1995 Republican plan vetoed by President Clinton that would have denied health coverage to 84,500 children in Kentucky.
- Helping Kentucky Women and Children with WIC: The Clinton Administration is committed to full funding in the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC). Last year in Kentucky, 7,093 more women and children in need received health and food assistance than in 1994.
- More Toddlers Are Being Immunized: As a result of the President's 1993 Childhood Immunization Initiative, childhood immunization rates have reached an historic high. - Increased Funding for HIV/AIDS Programs by 279%: In FY97, Kentucky communities received $2.2 million in Ryan White formula and other HIV/AIDS program funds, a 279% increase over FY93 levels. This funding provides people living with HIV and AIDS medical and support services, including the AIDS Drug Assistance Program which helps those without insurance obtain much needed prescription drugs. [HHS, Health Resources and Services Administration, 4/98]
- President's Tobacco Plan Will Cut Smoking and Premature Deaths by 51% in Kentucky: If the Clinton Administration's tobacco proposal on youth smoking is enacted, by 2003, Kentucky will see a 51% cut in youth smoking and resulting premature deaths. Over the next five years, 58,000 youth of Kentucky will be kept from smoking and 19,000 will be spared a premature tobacco-related death. [Treasury Dept., 3/23/98]
- 1,730,000 Americans in Kentucky Cannot Be Assured They Have Patient Protections. Even if Kentucky enacted all the protections in the Patients' Bill of Rights, 1,730,000 people in Kentucky cannot be assured they have the comprehensive patient protections recommended by the President's Advisory Commission. This is because the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) may preempt state-enacted protections. That is why the President has called on Congress to pass a federally enforceable patients' bill of rights so that everyone enrolled in managed care may have a basic set of protections. Notably, 860,000 Kentucky women are in ERISA health plans and are therefore not necessarily protected. Women are particularly vulnerable without these protections because they are greater users of health care services, they make three-quarters of the health care decisions for their families, and they have specific health care needs addressed by a patients' bill of rights.

PROTECTING THE ENVIRONMENT

- 7 Toxic Waste Sites Cleaned Up: Since 1993, the EPA has completed 7 Superfund toxic waste cleanups in Kentucky in Calvert City (2), Auburn, West Point, Mayfield, Howe Valley and Brooks [through 1/98]. This is more than the number of sites cleaned up in Kentucky during the previous twelve years combined (4).
- Revitalizing Brownfields in Louisville: As part of the Clinton-Gore Administration's efforts to clean up Brownfields, the EPA has awarded grants to Louisville, Kentucky for environmental clean-up and economic revitalization. This project is intended to jump-start local clean-up efforts by providing funds to return unproductive, abandoned, contaminated urban properties to productive use.

SPEARHEADING RURAL RENEWAL EFFORTS

- $40 Million to the Kentucky Highlands: The Kentucky Highlands were designated a Rural Empowerment Zone in December, 1994 and were awarded $40 million to create more jobs, housing, and economic opportunity for area residents. In addition, Louisville was designated an Enterprise Community and was awarded $3 million for similar efforts.

McCreary was also designated an Enterprise Community and was awarded $1.6 million.

- Expanding the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit Will Help Develop 2,700 To 3,200 New Affordable Housing Units in Kentucky Over the Next 5 years: In January, the Vice-President announced the Clinton-Gore Administration's proposed 40-percent expansion of the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit. If enacted, it will mean an additional 2,700 - 3,200 quality rental housing units for low-income American families in Kentucky during the next five years.

EXPANDING FUNDS FOR TRANSPORTATION IMPROVEMENT

- Over $1 Billion in Federal Highway Aid: Since 1993, Kentucky has received $1.38 billion in federal highway aid. These funds have helped generate over 58,000 jobs. [through FY97]
- Nearly $300 Million in Aviation Funds: From FY93-FY97 Kentucky received $298,470,000 in AIP funds to help build and renovate airports, and, when necessary, to provide funds for noise abatement to improve the quality of life for residents who live near airports.
- Over $90 Million in Transit Funds: Kentucky has received a total of $90,280,000 in FTA funds since 1993.

Subject: Biomaterials Signing

I do not know when the President will sign this bill next week (deadline is Aug. 15th), but I will be out of the office on Monday and Tuesday, so I wanted to circulate this draft signing statement and provide the background attached in case this comes up then. If you have comments, please email to both me and Jake Siewert, who will incorporate comments if necessary while I am out.

If you need to reach me, I should be page-able through signal or at 1-800-sky-page, pin #216-8036 or reachable at (516)329-1186. If I can't be reached and you have a legal question, you also can call Fran Allegra who is helping out family in Cleveland at 216-251-2598 or page him through the DoJ command center at 514--5000.

STATEMENT OF THE PRESIDENT

August XX, 1998

I am pleased to sign today the Biomaterials Access Assurance Act of 1998, which should help to ensure the continued availability of life-saving and life-enhancing medical devices. The bill protects certain raw materials and parts suppliers from liability for harm caused by a medical implant. Congress heard significant evidence that these biomaterials suppliers are increasingly unwilling to sell their goods to implant manufacturers. Although these suppliers have never been found liable, they fear that the ir costs to defend themselves, if dragged into litigation over the medical device, would far outweigh the profits they would earn from supplying the raw materials. But without those materials, Americans would have to live without the heart valves, jaw implants, artificial hips, and other medical devices (including many not yet imagined) that can help the victims of disease and injury stay alive or improve the quality of their lives. This bill is an appropriate limitation on tort liability, because there has been a showing of an important need -- maintaining the supply of biomaterials -- and the law is narrowly crafted to accomplish that objective. This bill addresses concerns that I raised, when I vetoed the product liability bill in 1996, about that bill's biomaterials provision. Changes made in this bill ensure that no plaintiff will be unable to recover the full amount of the damages she was awarded, because a supplier, whose negligence or intentionally tortious behavior was a cause of the plaintiff's harm, was protected from liability under this bill. As narrowed in this way, this bill represents a limited and balanced response to a demonstrated need and merits signature.

BACKGROUND ON BIOMATERIALS

August 7, 1998

What are biomaterials?

“Biomaterials” are raw materials or component parts used in the manufacture of an implant -- a device placed in the body or in contact with bodily fluids or internal human tissue (e.g., joint replacements, pacemakers). Examples of biomaterials include the resin used in artificial heart valves and Teflon once used in jaw implants.

What is the problem?

Suppliers of raw materials and component parts are increasingly unwilling to sell their goods to implant manufacturers out of fear of being dragged into costly litigation over the medical devices. Under current law, the suppliers have rarely if ever been found liable; however, they can be brought into the litigation. Some suppliers have spent considerable sums defending themselves. The suppliers argue that the potential litigation costs faced so dwarf the profits from these sales that the suppliers are better off refusing to sell to the manufacturers of these goods, since sales of the materials for use in medical devices are generally only a small portion of the overall market for these materials.

During Congressional hearings, industry representatives gave as an example the total global revenues in 1992 for polyacetol resin (used in artificial heart valves) for all medical applications was only $214.50. In another story, a supplier alleged that a nickel's worth of Teflon in a jaw implant caused the supplier to incur $40 million in court costs. Several studies suggest that these problems are not isolated. Suppliers argue that without protection from liability, biomaterials would be unavailable leading to the unavailability of lifesaving and life-enhancing medical devices.

What does the Biomaterials bill do?

Under the biomaterials title of the bill, raw material and component part suppliers could not be liable for harm and could obtain an expeditious ruling on a motion to dismiss or for summary judgement if the generic raw material or component part supplied met contractual specifications and if the supplier could not be classified as either a manufacturer or a seller of the implant. The provision would immunize most biomaterials suppliers from suits for deficiencies in the design or testing of a medical device or for inadequate warnings with respect to that device.

What was the Administration's position on biomaterials?

On May 2, 1996, the President vetoed product liability legislation that contained an early version of the biomaterial provisions. While generally supportive of the legislation's purpose, the President said that he could not support provisions that protected suppliers when they knew or should have known that the material they were supplying was unsuitable for the purpose intended. Amendments were added to address our concerns. Under a new impleader section in this bill, once a final judgment had been rendered in a claimant's action against a manufacturer, a court could bring back into the case a supplier whose negligence or intentionally tortious conduct was a cause of the harm, if the manufacturer's liability should be reduced because of that negligence or intentionally tortious conduct or the manufacturer is insolvent. The White House remained concerned that the impleader rule was still too restrictive. However, Senator Lieberman agreed to drop the most limiting provision -- a requirement for "clear and convincing" evidence demonstrating that the supplier's negligence caused the claimant's injuries.

What was the "Baxter amendment"?

The Baxter amendment is not included in this bill. It was incorporated in a version of the biomaterials title of the broader product liability bill when it came to the Senate Floor early this summer. However, when the stand-alone biomaterials bill moved this year, Baxter was not added.

The Baxter amendment would have broadened the definition of "implant" to include IVS and catheters.

Specifically, implant would include: "containers and their related products to be used to collect fluids or tissue from the body or to infuse or otherwise introduce fluids or tissue into the body in conjunction with a medical device [that is intended by the manufacturer of the device (1) to be placed into a surgically or naturally formed or existing cavity of the body for a period of at least 30 days; or (2) to remain in contact with bodily fluids or internal human tissue through a surgically produced opening for any period of time]."

By broadening the definition of implant, the amendment would broaden the protection from liability to those who supply raw materials or component parts for use in the manufacture of such IVS and catheters.

The Administration has been told that the goal of the Baxter amendment is to address concern of the Baxter Healthcare Corporation that their regular supplier of raw materials was purchased by a larger company which is concerned about potential liability, will no longer enter into long-term contracts to supply the plastics materials, and may eventually be unwilling to supply the material at all. If so, the company would need to retool and reengineer its plants at great expense to use the other materials available that might be adapted for this use. The Administration expressly asked whether there had been any litigation involving the biomaterials that would be covered by the bill and was told that there had been none.

What has the Administration said on the Baxter amendment?

On May 1, 1998, in a private letter to Senators Gorton and Rockefeller, which does not appear to be in the public domain, Gene Sperling and Bruce Lindsey wrote:

“We are not prepared to expand the biomaterials provision to cover raw materials and component parts of IVS (intravenous apparatuses) and catheters, which are unlike the medical implants covered by the provisions where only a few hundred are used each year, materials suppliers face a demonstrated litigation threat, and there is a current danger of product unavailability.”

Thereafter, when the product liability bill came to the Senate floor in a version that incorporated the Baxter amendment, the White House confirmed publicly that Senator Lott had been told that the President would not veto that bill over the inclusion of the Baxter amendment.

Jennifer is out of the office today. Right now, I have that the President will be doing his down time in Los Angeles, not San Francisco, and that he will be leaving Los Angeles at 10:15pm. That would have him arriving in DC at about 6:00 am (I think). Then, he will be down most of the morning on Wednesday and have Foreign Policy meetings in the afternoon.

As soon as we have something on paper, I will send it your way.

August 10, 1998

Mr. Bill Joy, Co-Chair
Dr. Ken Kennedy, Co-Chair
National Coordination Office for Computing,
Information, and Communications
Suite 690, 4201 Wilson Boulevard
Arlington, Virginia 22230

Dear Bill and Ken:

Thank you for your Interim Report advising me of the President's Information Technology Advisory Committee's (PITAC) findings and recommendations on future directions for federal support of information technology research and development. The Vice President joins me in thanking you and the other PITAC members for your guidance on how best to preserve America's commanding lead in computing and communications technology.

Our nation's economic future and the welfare of our citizens depend on continued advances and innovations in the information technologies that have produced so many remarkable developments in science, engineering, medicine, business, and education. Sustained prosperity for America requires a steady stream of technological innovation. The knowledge-based society of the next century makes our participation in the front ranks of research essential if our nation is to capture the gains of scientific and technological advances. Half of our economic productivity in the last half century is attributable to scientific and technological innovation. One third of our economic growth since 1992 has been spurred by businesses in the computing and communications industries. Information technology sustains our global competitiveness, provides opportunities for lifelong learning, and expands our ability to solve critical problems affecting our environment, health care and national security.

Through my Administration's initiatives in computing and communications, such as the Next Generation Internet, the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency's support for breakthrough technologies, the Department of Energy's high performance computing programs, and the National Science Foundation's Knowledge and Distributed Intelligence emphasis, we have laid the foundations for the technological advances that promise to profoundly transform the next millennium. Yet, to maintain this momentum, we must adequately fund critical federal investments in fundamental research. In my recent speech at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, I proposed significant increases in computing and communications research. Your proposed research agenda will help guide Dr. Neal Lane, my Assistant for Science and Technology, in developing a detailed plan for my review.

For six years in a row, I have proposed budget increases to sustain American leadership across the frontiers of scientific knowledge. Most recently, I was pleased to sign into law the National Science Foundation Authorization Act of 1998, which will create new knowledge, spur innovations, foster future breakthroughs, and provide cutting-edge research facilities that will produce the finest American scientists and engineers for the 21st century.

I am hopeful that the Congress and my Administration can work together to advance the leading edges of computational science to help us discover new technologies that can make this a better world. We have a duty -- to ourselves, to our children, and to future generations -- to make these and other farsighted investments in science and technology to take America into the next century well-equipped for the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead.

Sincerely,

Bill Clinton

Doug Matties tells me you'll be out next week - - If it's okay with you I'd like to pull this working group together in your absence, while the President's away (and when I can focus on this stuff). I'll keep you posted on our progress. I've done a good bit of groundwork already and I'm convinced that reaching consensus among ourselves on seeking a policy statement is the way to go. SLDN would view it as real progress, if we can get it done right, and it would do some real good out in the field. As important, I think it's a realistic goal that Erskine/John can say yes to, and that DoD will have trouble saying no to. The biggest problems, I think, are inertia within our own group and the slow-rolling we'll face at the Pentagon. But I think if we go at this the right way, we can come up with something doable that's also worth doing.

Subject: Military Issues

I'd like to pull together a brief meeting next Tuesday, August 18, at 3:00 p.m., in my office (ground floor, west wing) to compare notes and see where we are on military issues. Romy, Bruce and I met a couple of weeks back after our last large-group meeting to discuss a general approach. Since then I had a get-acquainted meeting with Michele Beneke and Dixon Osburn, of SLDN, which was very useful. I also had a lengthy discussion with Laura Marcus, who gave me a good sense of where things stand and what might be possible. I know some of you have been working on these issues independently and I think it's important to coordinate our efforts. There seems to be a broad consensus here and at SLDN that the most productive, short-term step, that's also a realistic goal, is to seek the issuance of a DOD policy letter or handbook that clarifies what's okay and what's not under the existing policy. I'd like to suggest that this idea be the primary agenda item of our meeting. Please call me at 456-2702 or rsvp by e-mail if you can make it. Thanks.

I'd like to pull together a brief meeting next Tuesday, August 18, at 3:00 p.m., in my office (ground floor, west wing) to compare notes and see where we are on military issues. Romy, Bruce and I met a couple of weeks back after our last large-group meeting to discuss a general approach. Since then I had a get-acquainted meeting with Michele Beneke and Dixon Osburn, of SLDN, which was very useful. I also had a lengthy discussion with Laura Marcus, who gave me a good sense of where things stand and what might be possible. I know some of you have been working on these issues independently and I think it's important to coordinate our efforts. There seems to be a broad consensus here and at SLDN that the most productive, short-term step, that's also a realistic goal, is to seek the issuance of a DOD policy letter or handbook that clarifies what's okay and what's not under the existing policy. I'd like to suggest that this idea be the primary agenda item of our meeting. Please call me at 456-2702 or rsvp by e-mail if you can make it. Thanks.

Signing Statement for S.2344

August 12, 1998

Today I am signing into law the Emergency Farm Financial Relief Act, which will allow farmers to receive their market transition payments earlier than usual. This legislation is necessary in a year marked by low crop prices, a series of natural emergencies, and other financial stress in agricultural markets. By speeding up payments to farm families, this law will help many farm families, particularly those facing financial strain through no fault of their own. Secretary Glickman proposed this idea earlier this year, and I am pleased that Congress has moved forward on it. However, this plan does not provide any additional direct federal income support payments; it simply accelerates them. We must take more action to provide a proper safety net for family farmers during this difficult year.

There is more we can do. Earlier this month, the Department of Agriculture purchased 535,000 tons of wheat for donation to hungry people overseas, the first step in the plan I announced in July to purchase more than 80 million bushels of American wheat and wheat flour. This will help strengthen crop prices and meet humanitarian needs abroad. I have also urged Congress to move forward on the proposal of Senators Dorgan and Conrad to provide at least $500 million of this emergency assistance to farmers have been hit hard by natural disasters and low prices. That emergency legislation would provide a supplemental crop insurance benefit to producers with multiple-year losses; compensate farmers whose crop and pasture land has been flooded; and provide emergency feed assistance to livestock producers suffering from drought. That legislation has passed the Senate, and I urge the Congress to send it to me as soon as possible so we can give hard-pressed farmers the relief they deserve.

Moreover, Secretary Glickman and I have challenged Congress to improve the farm safety net in a number of very specific ways. Our proposals would extend the term of marketing assistance loans; give farmers real flexibility in planting by allowing them to insure new and different crops; make credit more widely available and modify the "one strike" policy for farmers who had a debt write-down; use leftover EEP funds in future years for food aid and other purposes; let farmers use USDA guaranteed operating loans to refinance; and expand and improve crop insurance. Congress must also end its delay on IMF funding so that we can stabilize the markets in Asia that are such important customers for our farm exports.

These are tough times for many American farmers. We will continue to look for ways to help the farm community through them.

In this instance, I took the pens off the signing table before any Members got one, so there shouldn't be any issue.
