The National Service Reauthorization Proposal

Key Principles

Expand opportunities for Americans to serve

- Reduces the cost per AmeriCorps member, allowing each dollar invested in the program to go further.
- Supports innovative national service programs like the AmeriCorps Challenge Scholarships and the high-school National Service Scholarships, promoting new opportunities for individuals to participate in national service.
- Broadens the age and income guidelines for National Senior Service Corps participants, expanding the pool of older Americans who can perform results-oriented service in their communities.
- Simplifies the administration of Learn and Serve America, so states and communities will more easily be able to provide opportunities for students to learn through service in their schools and neighborhoods.

Provide states additional flexibility to administer national service programs

- Creates authority to enter into Service Collaboration Agreements with Governors to provide a means for coordinating the planning and administration of national service programs in a state. The authority will be used selectively and voluntarily, will be tailored to the circumstances of those states wishing to participate and will incorporate performance goals and indicators.
- Increases the minimum amount of AmeriCorps population formula grant per State Commission is from $450,000 to $500,000.
- Increases the minimum grant for State Commission administration from $125,000 to $200,000.
- Reduces matching requirements for State Commission administration.
- Provides for greater coordination between State Commissions and Learn and Serve programs in a state.
- Provides for greater coordination between Governors State Commissions and AmeriCorps*National Civilian Community Corps projects in a state.

Strengthen partnerships with traditional volunteer organizations

- Makes recruiting, training, and supervising unpaid volunteers by AmeriCorps members an explicit priority. Currently, AmeriCorps members -- on average -- "generate" at least 12 community volunteers in this way.
- Codifies the National Service Scholarships program honoring exemplary service by high school students.
- Expands the AmeriCorps Challenge Scholarships through which national service participants, supported almost entirely by national non-profits, religious groups, or other organizations, can access education awards.
- Authorizes Congressional appropriations to the Points of Light Foundation through the year 2002.
- Highlights representatives of the volunteer sector as potential members of the Governor-appointed State Commissions on National Service.
- Encourages cost-sharing agreements for AmeriCorps*VISTA in which sponsors pay most of the costs associated with the participant.
- Adds to the purpose of the AmeriCorps*VISTA program ensuring the long-term sustainability of program activities after direct support to an organization ends.
- Allows some Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) and Foster Grandparent Program, and Senior Companion Program participants to serve as leaders in recruiting, training, and supervising other unpaid volunteers; and provides these National Senior Service Corps programs with the flexibility to explore other service options and opportunities.

Codify agreements with Congress and others to reduce costs and streamline national service

- Repeals authority for five redundant or obsolete national service programs, including explicit authority for AmeriCorps grants to federal agencies.
- Shrinks the Corporation's average budgeted costs per AmeriCorps member to $15,000 (adjusted for inflation) beginning in 1999.
- Simplifies administration of Learn and Serve America.
- Expands the number of schools at which AmeriCorps members can use their education awards.
- Broadens the age and income eligibility for Senior Corps participants.

Build on the Success of National Service

March 12, 1998

Dear Colleague:

We invite you to join us as an original co-sponsor of the National and Community Service Amendment Act of 1998.

This bill will reauthorize national service programs, including AmeriCorps, the Foster Grandparents program, AmeriCorps VISTA, the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), Learn and Serve, the Senior Companions Program, and the AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps (NCCC); as well as the Points of Light Foundation.

The National and Community Service Amendment Act will also make needed changes and improvements to the current programs by:

- Shrinking the Corporation's average budgeted cost per AmeriCorps member to $15,000 (adjusted for inflation) beginning in fiscal year 1999 (FY 99);
- Repealing five redundant or obsolete national service programs;
- Providing greater flexibility to States and local communities in implementing national service programs;
- Eliminating the alternative cash benefit for AmeriCorps NCCC members; and
- Encouraging cost sharing agreements for AmeriCorps VISTA program — where sponsors pay most of the cost of the participant.

In the last three years, approximately 70,000 AmeriCorps members have served their communities in every state and every district in this country. A recent evaluation by President Ford's Commissioner of Education examined the activities of AmeriCorps Members in the class of 1996 and found they had:

- Taught, tutored, or mentored over 600,000 students;
- Ran violence-prevention after-school programs for 85,000 youth;
- Collected, organized and distributed over 15 million pounds of food and clothing;
- Helped over 70,000 homeless people find shelter;
- Built or rehabilitated over 5,600 houses and housing units;
- Provided over 1 million people with health care information; and
- Planted more than 24 million trees.

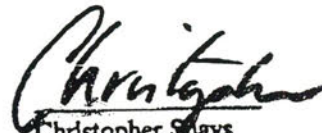

By coordinating and recruiting other volunteers, National Service participants are able to implement lasting results in communities throughout the country.

Join us in cosponsoring this legislation to build on the successes of these programs. Deadline to be an original cosponsor is close of business Tuesday, March 17. Please call Audrey Williams (Andrews) at x5-6501 or Kristin Miller (Shays) at x5-5541.

PURPOSE

The National and Community Service Amendments Act of 1998 will extend and amend national service law, including the National and Community Service Act of 1990 and the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973, to further the Corporation's mission.

The legislation would reauthorize appropriations for the major national service programs for fiscal years 1998 through 2002. These programs include:

- AmeriCorps, including (1) AmeriCorps*State, which provides grants to State Commissions on National and Community Service appointed by Governors; AmeriCorps*National, which provides direct grants to national organizations; (2) AmeriCorps*VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America); and (3) AmeriCorps*NCCC (National Civilian Community Corps).
- Learn and Serve America, including Elementary and Secondary Education, Community-Based, and Higher Education programs.
- The National Senior Service Corps, including the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program, the Foster Grandparent Program, and the Senior Companion Program.
- The Points of Light Foundation.
- Demonstration, training and technical assistance, evaluations, and other support services necessary to provide for the infrastructure and quality improvement necessary to enable national service programs to be of the highest possible quality.

SUMMARY OF SPECIFIC PROPOSALS IN THE BILL

Consistent with the Federal-State partnership through which national service has operated since 1993 and the recommendations of the Vice President's National Performance Review, a new authority -- Service Collaboration Agreements -- will provide a means for devolving the planning and administration of the Corporation's national service programs in a State. The authority will be used selectively and voluntarily, and tailored to the circumstances of those States wishing to participate. Service agreements will be made with Governors and will incorporate performance goals and indicators.

Changes affecting AmeriCorps*State and National include:

- Explicit authority for making AmeriCorps grants to Federal agencies is removed.
- Recruiting, training, and supervising unpaid volunteers by AmeriCorps members is made an explicit priority.

- Response to natural disasters is added as a purpose of NCCC.
- A non-residential summer program is authorized.

- The impact of senior service within communities is emphasized.
- The minimum age for Senior Corps participants is made uniform across all three Senior Corps programs at 55 years.
- The ability to provide incentives for a Leaders program under the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program is added; meeting community needs is added as a purpose; and a 45-day period for review of certain RSVP grants is eliminated.
- For the Foster Grandparent Program, authority for Leaders is included; eligibility is raised to 150 percent of the poverty level; up to 10 percent of Federal funds may be used to support individuals who exceed income eligibility; and funding for programs of national significance is simplified.

- Repeal of various redundant or obsolete authorities, including the VISTA Literacy Corps; certain Special Volunteer Programs; and Challenge Grants for National Service Programs under the National and Community Service Trust Act.
- Removal of a requirement limiting the use of AmeriCorps*VISTA members to support Senior Corps programs, and removal of a redundant requirement mandating a minimum number of AmeriCorps*VISTA service years.

Appropriations earmarked for the Points of Light Foundation are reauthorized for five years. The Points of Light Foundation has worked closely with the Corporation on several joint initiatives, including co-sponsorship of the Presidents' Summit for America's Future in Philadelphia.

Authority for appropriations is provided as follows:

- For fiscal years 1998-2002, such sums as are necessary.

March 18, 1998

Dear National Service Colleague,

Tomorrow, the President forwards legislation to the Congress reauthorizing AmeriCorps, Learn and Serve America, and the National Senior Service Corps. As partners in these initiatives, I want to salute you for your outstanding efforts that have strengthened communities, rewarded responsibility, and expanded opportunities for millions of Americans. Your leadership has demonstrated that service is a strategy that can help to solve some of the nation's most intractable problems. But we have work still ahead of us to secure the future vitality of national service and community volunteering.

National service has flourished. Thanks to the work of our partners in the nonprofit, public and private sectors and, above all, to the participants who themselves serve, AmeriCorps has grown to its largest size and is recognized in more and more communities for the quality of service rendered. This includes the hundreds of state and national grant programs and both the Volunteers in Service to America (AmeriCorps★VISTA) and National Civilian Community Corps (AmeriCorps★NCCC). Learn and Serve America is at the forefront of the expanding service-learning movement. Our senior service programs are winning greater recognition for their impact in solving community problems, which is part of the reason that the Foster Grandparent Program (FGP), the Senior Companion Program (SCP), and the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) have received significant increases in funding.

There have also been program and process innovations that strengthen the impact and broaden the reach of national service:

America Reads, the nationwide literacy initiative to ensure that every child can read by the end of the third grade is assisting national service and community volunteer efforts in local reading programs in every state.

The rapid growth of our education awards program to about 14,000 new low-cost AmeriCorps positions with nonprofit and faith-based groups is a model of how national service can grow in effectiveness in the private sector while drastically reducing federal per-member cost.

The National Service Scholarship Program which recognizes outstanding service by our nation's high school juniors and seniors has been funded by Congress and matched by a host of community foundations, local businesses, and religious and civic organizations to support scholarships in up to 10,000 high schools.

And, the Presidents' Summit for America's Future held last April in Philadelphia focused attention on the need for a new level of concerted citizen action to turn the tide for millions of young people. In support of the post-Summit campaign for America's Promise led by General Colin Powell, national service is playing an active role in achieving the five goals set at the Summit, with a particular focus on the fifth ... an opportunity for all young people to give back through their own service.

Despite these and other successes, national service is too often misunderstood. Too many people persist in the belief that it is a top down, Washington-run program that is expensive and unable to reach its stated goals. By paying "volunteers", the detractors say, national service undermines the traditional volunteer sector. In fact,

National service is locally-driven --- operating through partnerships with states, nonprofits, foundations, and businesses in which local programs select their participants and run their programs to meet focused community needs.

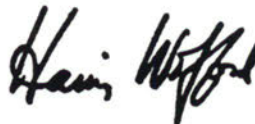

National service also operates through alliances with large national nonprofits and religious organizations. For instance, the largest partners in the AmeriCorps Education Awards program are faith-based organizations which support the service of over 5,000 AmeriCorps members.

National service is an increasingly efficient and effective investment of public and private resources. Per-participant costs have been reduced. And foundations, corporations, nonprofit organizations, city councils and state legislatures are using their resources to match the federal investment to bring service to bear on their most pressing social problems.

National service supports, rather than supplants, community volunteers. The Senior Corps programs deploy over a half a million volunteers in thousands of communities and have been doing so for over thirty years. Learn and Serve America is teaching the ethic ... and habit ... of service through service-learning in academic and community organizations in every state in the union. The newest member of the family, AmeriCorps, estimates that each member recruits and/or organizes an average of twelve community volunteers. As George Romney liked to say, national service and community volunteering are twin engines that need to pull together to get important things done for our communities.

The best answer to the doubters comes in the daily service of national service participants. Whether tutoring children to read, running after-school programs, building homes, restoring natural resources, or assisting victims of disaster, national service participants and the people they serve depend on our success in telling their story. We need to help a broader public understand how national service works, what national service has accomplished and how national service has become an integral part of community strategies for solving problems. We need to work together with you so that Americans of all ages and backgrounds are challenged and inspired --- and have the opportunity --- to serve.

With warm regards.

RE: Reauthorization Outreach Meeting Agenda

Thank you so very much for all you are doing to help us reach out to our national service partners. We are getting a terrific response to the invitation to the reauthorization outreach meeting Wednesday. At this rate, it will be a full house.

Following is a brief agenda for your review and suggestions. As Bruce Reed is not available, I've recruited Steve Silverman, one of our fieriest advocates. I will also ask Diana Fortuna if she can attend as well to cover on some of the substance of our efforts from a DPC point of view. Her in-depth knowledge of the program will be important during Q&A.

A strong angle for Maria would be how this program is actually a partnership with all of those assembled and a critical asset to those who care about communities and about opportunity. She may want to share some facts and figures about the reach and depth of national service --- AmeriCorps, Learn and Serve, and Senior Corps --- how many have served, who are the major partners, and what we are getting done. It's impressive. Steve would make the case on the importance of this program, and the legislation, to the President and the Administration. Both Steve and Maria should help us energize support from these partners and advocates. Another speaker, Nick Bollman of the Irvine Foundation and the head of the Grantmakers for National Service, would be our outside "validator". From the perspective of a major private sector investor, he would speak about his support for this program and the sector-wide support from the Grantmakers (foundations who fund our programs). Harris would outline the principles and substance of the legislation. Gene Sofer, our Congressional Affairs director, is pursuing with White House Congressional the option of inviting one of the legislation's co-sponsors such as Rep. Chris Shays (R-CT) who can articulate the bi-partisan aspect of the effort.

A final thought: would an expert from OMB be a help here? Would your office invite Larry Matlack, or Gail Zimmerman (who is pitch hitting on this legislation for Pam van Wie), or even Pam herself (who may want to come in) to serve as a resource for any questions about the financial priorities that the Administration has set for this program?

- 3:05 Welcome and introduction by Maria Echaveste
- 3:15 Summary and principles of the legislation by Harris Wofford ✓
(Note: insert Member of Congress if available)
- 3:25 Investors in partnership with the Administration by Nick Bollman ✓
- 3:30 Priority and potential of national service by Steve Silverman
- 3:40 Questions and answers by all.

Finally, please give some special thought to the remarks you think Maria would like to make. I'll put together background information, facts and figures, to support what message she feels would be the most effective. Just give me a call at (202) 606-5000 ext. 193.

Again, thank you for shepherding this important meeting for us.

cos. John Gropius →

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING ABOUT AMERICORPS...

"AmeriCorps is doing a lot of good things around this country. They're leveraging up other volunteers who come in to work with AmeriCorps."

— General Colin Powell

"We have found AmeriCorps to be an enormously beneficial addition to the traditional voluntary sector... Rather than replacing volunteers or diminishing volunteerism, we are finding over and over again that national service participants are helping draw more volunteers into service in communities across the country."

— Leaders of twenty-four national nonprofit organizations, including Big Brothers/Big Sisters, YMCA/YWCA, AARP, and the Girl Scouts

"It is a big help to disaster victims to work with motivated, self-sufficient young AmeriCorps members who will be in the community long after the TV cameras have been turned off and interest has flagged."

— James Lee Witt, Director, Federal Emergency Management Agency

"These kids, they're bright, they're clean-cut, they are wonderful role models. It's really the best program I know of, and I would commend it to every community."

— Mayor Joseph Riley, Mayor of Charleston, South Carolina

"During my twenty-five years of experience with Atlanta's public schools, I have observed a lot of 'new' programs, but the positive experience that AmeriCorps has had on this school far exceeds anything I have experienced."

— Don Doran, Principal,
Bentene Elementary School
Atlanta, Georgia

"Well, four years after the President launched AmeriCorps, and two years after Congress moved in for the kill, it's alive and kicking. The value of full-time, low-pay service a la AmeriCorps and its precursors—Peace Corps and VISTA—is being celebrated at the Presidents' Summit. Now it's time to dramatically expand these programs."

— The Philadelphia Inquirer

"AmeriCorps has helped turn around one of the most troubled parts of our city. The neighborhood has come together, crime is down, and families can use the parks in safety. The partnership of national service and community policing is a winner for Kansas City."

— Steven C. Bishop, Police Chief
Kansas City, Missouri

"I do want to suggest one Clinton agenda item that Christians ought to be proud of, and support—the AmeriCorps program. Instead of giving away grants, the AmeriCorps program enables young people to get the financial help they need for education by working for it in programs that are cutting back on urban crime, cleaning up the environment, and improving education in urban schools."

— Tony Campolo, Evangelist and Author

"Every taxpayers' dollar we spend on AmeriCorps comes back threefold, when we add up the value of your innovative ideas, your physical labor, and all of the skills you bring to the workforce when you finish your education.... It is one of the most intelligent uses of taxpayers' dollars ever."

— Governor William Weld, Massachusetts

"As AmeriCorps members gain in construction skill, our affiliates are able to expand the number of occasional volunteers through increased capacity to supervise and manage volunteers.... We at Habitat for Humanity feel privileged and honored to have the AmeriCorps people with us, and we want more of them as time goes on."

— Millard Fuller, Founder, Habitat for Humanity
