Food Industries Circle for City of Hope - 1998 Harvest Ball

November 20, 1998

Century Plaza Hotel

Los Angeles, California

Attendees: 2500; senior-level executives of the food industries and their guests

- Good evening and congratulations to the Food Industries Circle on another outstanding year of support and service for City of Hope.
- This evening marks the 25th anniversary of the food industries' support for the hope, healing and humanitarian care City of Hope provides, which is so crucial. I wish that I could be with you in person to celebrate and to applaud the groundbreaking medical advances your support over the past 25 years has afforded our country and the remarkable volunteer spirit you embody that is the root of America's greatness and the hope for America's future.
- Over the past 25 years, your support has paved the way for so many critical discoveries and achievements in the treatment of cancer and other devastating diseases at City of Hope, from...
- ...the creation of the human insulin gene which led to a new source of insulin now available to people with diabetes worldwide to...
- ...bone marrow transplantation, initially pioneered at City of Hope 25 years ago for the treatment of leukemia, which now holds new promise for the future treatment of many other cancers--as well as other catastrophic diseases such as AIDS, multiple sclerosis and other neurological diseases that may benefit from BMT, along with gene therapy.
- Hope and healing has come a long way in our country over 25 years, thanks to the compassion and commitment of organizations like City of Hope and the Food Industries Circle.
- Each of you has played a vital role in City of Hope's medical achievements throughout the past 25 years; and you play a crucial role in those that lie ahead in the next 25.

- F. Scott Fitzgerald said, "America is a willingness of the heart." The Food Industries Circle proves how true this is.
- Congratulations to all of you; and thank you for extending yourselves to touch the lives of millions.

PRESIDENT WILLIAM J. CLINTON
VIDEOTAPED REMARKS FOR CITY OF HOPE
November 5, 1998

I am very pleased to Good evening. Thank you for asking me to be a part of the Food Industries Circle's 1998 Harvest Ball. On the 25th anniversary of your dedicated service, I want to congratulate you on another outstanding year of support for the City of Hope. What I need to

Over the past quarter century, your help has paved the way for so many critical discoveries and achievements in the treatment of cancer and other devastating diseases. From the creation of the human insulin gene to combat diabetes, to new treatments for AIDS, leukemia, and multiple sclerosis, your financial, moral, and especially scientific support has built a solid foundation for healing and humanitarian care.

Each of you is a powerful testament to what is possible when we work together ~~private businessmen and women~~ work together to improve their community. For that, Hillary, I, and the American people offer you our most heart-felt thanks. Join up

Each of you is a powerful testament to what we can achieve when we work together -- at every level between our business & government community and our country

REVISED asking me to be a part

Thank you for ~~inviting me to speak~~ to

Good evening. It is an honor ~~to join~~ the Food Industries Circle as you celebrate your 1998 Harvest Ball.

I want congratulate you another outstanding year of service to the City of Hope,

Tonight, on the 25th anniversary of your dedicated service, we can look back and see the good you have done. Your financial, practical and moral support has provided a strong foundation for the City of Hope in its fight against cancer and the other terrible diseases that plague mankind.

With your help, through your efforts to volunteer and raise funds, over the past quarter decade, Los Angeles' City of Hope has worked to create the human insulin gene which led to a new source of insulin to help diabetics, and has pioneered work on bone marrow transplantation, which has provided hope for all the men, women and children suffering from leukemia. Now, City of Hope is bravely waging the war against cancer, AIDS and multiple sclerosis, and is moving along the cutting edge of technology, ~~looking deep into the future and the great promises of gene therapy and new uses for bone marrow transplantation~~ ~~(can say BMT to not be redundant).~~ ~~and~~ the promise

Most of all, I want to thank you for the community

As you probably know, ~~since last year in Philadelphia~~, I have spoken quite often on the need for a revival of volunteerism in this country, for a renewed dedication by each of us to help those less fortunate than ourselves. ~~It's an honor for me to speak to you tonight -- to speak to the men and women who so fully embody my wishes and desires for a new American activism.~~

Each of you is a powerful testament to the possibilities what is possible when you are all a great and encouraging example of private businessmen and women giving back to the community. By encouraging volunteerism, in being actively involved and in giving all you can for the betterment of this great nation, you've made a fundamental choice to help others. For that, Hillary, I, and the American people, offer you our most heart-felt thanks. We all appreciate your time, effort and dedication to serving Los Angeles, the United States and the global community.
