Mr. Steve Silverman
Old Executive Office Bldg.
Room 160
Washington, DC

Dear Mr. Silverman:

As we discussed at our meeting on Tuesday, we are sending you the following pages which are draft remarks for Mrs. Hillary Rodham Clinton for Sunday evening's Presidential Service Awards Presentation. These pages are draft remarks only and we look forward to receiving the actual remarks from your office or please inform us if you need any further assistance from our end

On Sunday evening, Oprah Winfrey will introduce Mrs. Clinton. Her segment of the show will involve one of the five fundamental resources of the summit "A Healthy Start". Mrs. Clinton's remarks should include a discussion of this issue. She will then welcome Rob Reiner to the stage and ask him to share a story about his work in the area of early childhood development.

Mrs. Clinton and Rob Reiner will introduce the Healthy Start honorees, who will come to the stage to receive their awards and remain on stage. After the three recipients are recognized, Mrs. Clinton will salute the winners and make any concluding remarks she wishes. If Mrs. Clinton would rather, Oprah Winfrey can salute the recipients and thank the presenters to close this segment.

You can call and speak with Jill Jackson at (215) 625-6781 with any changes or questions to these pages. You might also reach her at (215) 625-6780, 82, or 83, or by cell phone at (215) 284-1439. We look forward to your comments.

Sincerely yours,

Peter Kaminsky

In Fayette County, Kentucky, Baby Health Service has been providing infant formula to those in need since 1914. But growing children have growing needs - and sixteen percent of the children in that county have no health insurance whatever -- so the Service has shifted its focus, to health care. Last year, seventy volunteers - provided free immunizations, check-ups, and medication to three-thousand children. Accepting the President's Service Award on behalf of the Volunteer Physicians is Alice Burchart.

Spousal abuse is something that happens -- as the news has finally made us all too well aware. In Glendale Arizona, there is New Beginnings -- a transitional home for abused women and their children. It provides not only safety, shelter and educational opportunities for the mothers, but, most importantly, it keeps families together while they prepare to make a new start in life. Here's New Beginning's founder, Cindy Silverman.

Kids One Inc., in Santa Rosa California, promotes just one essential issue - child safety. Galvanized by the Polly Klass tragedy--which proved that unspeakable horror can happen anywhere--Kids One is teaching kids and parents never to take safety for granted. With the support of community organizations and business, Kids One educates -- and saves precious lives. Its founder is Elizabeth Ecke.

Twelve years ago, when he was an still intern at a Miami hospital, Dr. Pedro Jose Greer, Jr. led teams of young doctors into the streets to make house calls to the homeless. Today, his Camillus Health Concern is one of the largest providers of medical care for the poor in Florida. He still makes his rounds - visiting his patients, under the bridges and overpasses, in the abandoned buildings and decayed lots of Dade County. Here is Doctor Pedro Jose Greer, Jr.

FIVE FUNDAMENTAL RESOURCES FOR CHILDREN AND YOUTH

An Ongoing Relationship with a Caring Adult: Mentor, Tutor, Coach

It is more important than ever for young people to have the sustaining presence of caring adults in their lives. While there are currently hundreds of thousands of mentoring and tutoring relationships, it is estimated that as many as 15 million young people would benefit from the intervention of a caring adult. Our goal is to create the additional tutoring and mentoring relationships necessary for a positive impact on the lives of these young people.

Safe Places and Structured Activities During Non-School Hours to Learn and Grow

Young people cannot flourish, develop and properly mature into productive citizens in a climate of fear and chaos. Our goal is to increase safe places and structured activities during non-school hours so that young people can study, play and receive the necessary guidance to reach their full potential in life.

A Healthy Start

Adequate health care and healthy behaviors are essential to every child's development and well-being. Our goal is to find new ways, in cooperation with government, health care providers and business, to assure that this is achieved.

A Marketable Skill Through Effective Education

Many young people attend school with little or no concept of how their studies will prepare them for a job or economic opportunity. Our goal is to forge new partnerships among businesses, schools and citizen volunteers to provide more young people with mentors, summer jobs, internships, and the essential skills of reading and mathematics.

An Opportunity to Give Back Through Community Service

Often young people are not encouraged, or given the opportunity, to help others. Our goal is to provide young people with the opportunity to serve, so that they become part of the solution and experience first-hand the benefit of being active citizens.

The Points of Light Foundation and the Corporation for National Service have taken the lead in building a working partnership with many of the nation's leading nonprofit organizations and businesses. Funding is being provided by The Amelior Foundation The Annie E. Casey Foundation, The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, The Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation, The W.K. Kellogg Foundation, The David and Lucile Packard Foundation, and The Pew Charitable Trusts.

The spirit of the Summit transcends the individual concerns of its sponsoring organizations. Americans need not be separated by their differences. Through service, we can build strong connections with one another. And together, we can fulfill the American promise for all of our people.

That is why priority must be given to expanded and more effective citizen service and new commitments from our nation's most important institutions. We must ensure that all of our youth have access to five fundamental resources that can help them lead healthy, fulfilling and productive lives:

- an ongoing relationship with a caring adult: mentor, tutor, coach
- safe places and structured activities during non-school hours to learn and grow;
- a healthy start;
- a marketable skill through effective education;
- an opportunity to give back through community service.

Certainly, all Americans can agree that we are all capable of doing more to achieve these goals.

The Presidents' Summit for America's Future will be both a celebration of our nation's heritage of volunteer citizen service and a call to action. It will be a call to commitment - for Americans to pledge to serve; for each of us to put our individual gifts to work for the common good; for us to renew the sense of civic responsibility that has served us well throughout our history as a nation.

The Summit will be the beginning of a new effort. A national partnership is being organized to engage leaders from business, labor, the media, religious and educational institutions, and the voluntary sector. They will develop specific numerical targets in making available the five fundamental resources for our children against which we can measure our progress through the year 2000. The partnership will also develop appropriate mechanisms so the momentum generated by the Summit will be sustained.

The Summit itself will have three focal points. First, the Presidents and First Ladies will join in the historic call to commitment and to action. Second, local and national leaders from all sectors will announce their organizational commitments to action -- mobilizing their people and their abilities for an unprecedented effort to turn the tide for America's youth by the turn of the century. Third, delegations from 127 communities and all 50 states will work together to turn the message of the Summit into concrete plans for action.

ORGANIZERS' MISSION STATEMENT

HONORARY CO-CHAIRS

PRESIDENT
WILLIAM J. CLINTON

PRESIDENT
GEORGE H.W. BUSH

GENERAL CHAIRMAN
GEN. COLIN L. POWELL

VICE CHAIRMAN
HENRY G. CISNEROS

On Monday morning, April 28, the President of the United States and former President Bush will stand with other former Presidents together on the steps of Independence Hall in Philadelphia. Together, as Honorary Co-Chairs of The Presidents' Summit for America's Future, they will issue a call to action through service.

General Colin Powell, the former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will serve as General Chairman of the Summit and the campaign that will follow. Henry Cisneros, former Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, will serve as Vice Chairman.

The promise of America rests in the commitment, creativity and energy of its people to respond to our shared problems and to envision a shared future. Every day, Americans are doing that work -- helping one another, addressing serious social problems, building stronger communities. Somewhere in America, in some way, solutions are being found to the problems we face.

But, unfortunately, our problems are vast and complex. There is a growing sense of disconnection. Too many of our people have been left out of the mainstream, and too many of our communities are fragmented along racial, ethnic, religious or economic lines. We find ourselves feeling that what divides us from one another is more powerful than the glue that holds us together in communities and as a nation.

The impact of this is greatest on America's young people. In small towns as well as big cities, far too many young people are growing up without the kind of adult role models and relationships needed for success. Far too many do not have adequate safe places to learn and grow, are not getting a healthy start, or the kind of education that creates real opportunities. And too many are unaware that giving through community service can make a difference in the lives of others and can be an enriching experience.
