Dear John:

As I mentioned to you, a couple of the Executives of the Parker Pen Company and the Gillette Company would like to meet with you some time in early October at your convenience.

I have advised them that I would contact you as soon as they know their definite schedules so that we can fit them in with yours.

Thanks again for all your help.

Sincerely,

John

Dear John:

Thank you for meeting with me last week when I was in Washington.

As I explained to you, Laura Wells (the young lady who replaced Connie Dierman at the State Department) now has an inventory of black Duofold Parker pens which are used on special occasions.

Because of a few "close calls" in the past, Connie and I set up this arrangement some time ago so that the pens would always be available when needed by the White House and State Department.

Laura also has available the necessary "wooden" presentation boxes and some of the small brass plates. Thus, even with short notice, all that is required of her is to have the event and the date engraved on the brass plate which is then mounted on the box. This arrangement should be invaluable to all concerned.

If there is any further information you need or want, I am always available to you.

Sincerely,

John W. Gibb

Dear John,

So what if it's the White House: you shouldn't be there at 8:30 on a Friday night. And anyway, it wasn't the President meeting with Oliver North. It was Elvis (North gets things mixed up).

Sincerely,

Clendon Lee

Did you handle the know Elvis was there? Suspicious.
