Dear Bill,

I tried to get in to see you on Tuesday when I was in town very unexpectedly. I not only wanted to show the flag but also—although not quite as important—I wanted you to seriously take my suggestion of a Special Envoy to the Middle East peace process. To repeat, Secretary Albright is spread far too thinly and Dennis Ross has developed a reputation for ineffectiveness. Swat is needed.

I would also recommend Under-Secretary Pickering. Action on that front would be very helpful domestically right now.

Respectfully,

Stanley K. Sheinbaum

Subject: House vote last night on Hefley Amendment

✓ Nancy: If you get a chance, please let the President know that gay and lesbian civil rights leaders and our friends and supporters in the gay community are elated over the vote last night in the House defeating the Hefley Amendment, which would have overturned the President's non-discrimination executive order. This was the first time in history the Congress has sustained civil rights protections for gay and lesbian Americans and people are extraordinarily grateful to the President for his leadership on this issue. Many have asked that I communicate their thanks to him.
