Entertainment

Thomas Hampson's versatility and breadth of achievement in opera, recording, research and pedagogy has garnered him acclaim as America's leading baritone. Mr. Hampson conceives and performs thoughtfully constructed programs that explore the rich diversity of song idioms, languages and styles. He furthers his commitment to the art of song not only by teaching, but also by researching the repertoire. A soloist of choice for today's most prestigious conductors, he enjoys an international career as a preeminent recitalist and one of the most prolific recording artists of his generation.

Mr. Hampson's operatic roles span a diverse repertoire that ranges from Rossini to Verdi and Puccini, and from Monteverdi to Britten and Henze. His recent celebrated portrayals include the title role in Eugene Onegin (Wiener Staatsoper, 1997); Riccardo in I Puritani (Metropolitan Opera, 1996-97); Père Germont in La Traviata (Opernhaus Zurich, 1997); and Amboise Thomas in Hamlet (Monte Carlo, 1994 and San Francisco, 1996).

His numerous awards include six Grammy nominations, two Edison Prizes, three 1994 Gramophone Awards, 1992 Grand Prix de la Nouvelle Académie du Disque and 1994 Charles Cros Académie du Disque Lyrique, as well as the esteemed Toblacher Prize for his recent Mahler recordings. To these recording honors are added the 1997 Citation of Merit for Lifetime Contribution to Music and Education from the National Arts Club of America, 1997 and 1994 German critics' Echo Preis for Best Male Singer, Musical America's 1992 Vocalist of the Year and 1994 Cannes Classical Awards Best Male Singer.

In 1996, Mr. Hampson performed for the State Visit honoring President Jacques Chirac of France. It is with great pride that the President and Mrs. Clinton again welcome Thomas Hampson to the White House for a performance on this historic evening.

Renée Fleming has a devoted international following on the operatic stage, in concerts and recitals, on television, radio and recordings. In the 1998-99 season, she reached new pinnacles in her career at the San Francisco Opera where she created the role of Blanche Dubois in the world premiere of André Previn's A Streetcar Named Desire -which was telecast on PBS's "Great Performances" and released on CD. She also starred in the new Metropolitan Opera production of The Marriage of Figaro, conducted by James Levine.

An internationally renowned recitalist, chamber musician and champion of new music, this soprano has graced many distinguished stages, including New York's Metropolitan Opera, La Scala, Bayreuth, the Royal Opera House at Covent Garden, Paris' Opéra Bastille, Palais Garnier, Teatro Colón in Buenos Aires and Vienna State Opera. She has also performed in the world premiere of John Corigliano's The Ghosts of Versailles at the Metropolitan Opera; Conrad Susa's The Dangerous Liaisons with the San Francisco Opera; and in the Lyric Opera of Chicago's first performance of Floyd's Susannah.

Honored with three Grammy nominations and lauded by Musical America as the 1997 Vocalist of the Year, Ms. Fleming was saluted in 1996 with the first Solti Prize of l'Académie du Disque Lyrique for her outstanding recording artistry. Her numerous awards include the 1988 Metropolitan Opera National Auditions, Richard Tucker Award, George London Prize, Grand Prix at the International Singing Competition in Belgium and a Fulbright Scholarship to Germany.

The President and Mrs. Clinton welcome Ms. Fleming to the White House this evening and are honored to share with our guests the impeccable talents of one of America's finest young opera singers.

Maestro Heinz Fricke has been the Music Director of the Washington Opera since 1993. The former Music Director of the Berlin State Opera and the Norwegian National Opera, Maestro Fricke has led the premier operas of the world, including Hamburg, Munich, Brussels, Copenhagen, Stockholm, Milan, Paris, Zurich and Madrid. Last year, Maestro Fricke made his Covent Garden debut conducting Parsifal with Plácido Domingo. His symphonic activities have taken him to the major orchestras in Europe, South America, Japan and Australia.

The Kennedy Center Opera House Orchestra is the resident orchestra of the Kennedy Center, and plays most Kennedy Center ballet, dance and musical theater productions, as well as for all Washington Opera performances. The orchestra was founded in 1979 and has performed under such conductors as Heinz Fricke, Daniel Barenboim, Rafael Fruhbeck de Burgos, Cal Stewart Kellogg, Mstislav Rostropovich, Julius Rudel, and Leonard Slatkin.

Entertainment - - Jessye Norman and Dan Saunders

The phenomenal Jessye Norman possesses one of the world's most unique and beautiful voices. Known for her innovative programming and fervent advocacy of contemporary music, Miss Norman frequently has been recognized as a singer whose talents are found only once in a generation.

Jessye Norman's varied repertoire has been heard in the great opera houses of the world, including La Scala in Milan, Teatro Comunale in Florence, Covent Garden's Royal Opera House, the Stuttgart Opera, Vienna State Opera and the Opera Company of Philadelphia. In October 1987, Miss Norman was awarded the Legion d'Honneur by French President François Mitterrand. She performed at the White House in November 1993 for the Korean State Dinner and in December 1997, the President and Mrs. Clinton were again pleased to honor Miss Norman at the White House as she became the youngest artist ever to receive a Kennedy Center Honor — the highest performing arts award given in the United States.

Jessye Norman continues to delight listeners with her Grammy award-winning voice, bringing her sumptuous sound and immense passion to recital performances, operatic portrayals and appearances with symphony orchestras and chamber musicians around the world. This season, Miss Norman stars in How!Do!We!Do!, a new theater creation at New York's Lincoln Center. Her summer European tour will take her to London, Vienna and Salzburg. She makes her first trip to South Africa this year to perform in a special benefit concert for President Mandela and the Children's Trust Fund.

Miss Norman has won admiration for her tireless charity work, which includes serving as a spokeswoman for the LUPUS Foundation and The Partnership for the Homeless. She is also an active board member of The Elton John AIDS Foundation, The New York Public Library, The Dance Theatre of Harlem and the Citymeals-on-Wheels in New York City.

It is a great honor and privilege to again have Miss Norman grace the stage at the White House for this historic occasion. An American icon who maintains a personal friendship with the President and Mrs. Clinton, Jessye Norman has specially selected a program this evening of traditional American music. It is the hope of the President and Mrs. Clinton that her words and music will express the warmth and friendship we treasure this evening.

Dan Saunders has served as an Assistant Conductor to James Levine at the Metropolitan Opera, as well as at the Salzburg and Ravinia Festivals. He has assisted Seiji Ozawa at Tanglewood, the Salzburg Festival, the Saito Kinen Festival, and the Hennessy Opera Series. Most recently, Mr. Saunders worked with Kurt Masur at the New York Philharmonic and with Maestro Ozawa at the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Saunder's appearances on the concert stage include a tour with Jessye Norman, recitals with Miss Norman in Japan; with tenor Gary Lakes at Lincoln Center; with Marilyn Horne at L'Opéra Bastille in Paris; with soprano Lauren Flanigan at Carnegie Hall; and with soprano Alessandra Marc at the Salle Gaveau in Paris. Other concert appearances include performances at the Kennedy Center, the Chatelet in Paris and London's Wigmore Hall. This season, Dan Saunders made his debut with the New York City Opera National Company conducting Puccini's Madame Butterfly.

Draft follow up letter to confirmed guests

April 21, 1999

Dear Friend:

Many thanks for accepting the DLC's invitation to attend this Sunday's reception and roundtable discussion, The Third Way: Progressive Governance for the 21st Century. As promised, I am writing now to follow up with additional details.

I am delighted to announce that in addition to British Prime Minister Tony Blair, we have also confirmed the participation of the following Honored Guests, all important leaders of the Third Way governing philosophy that is changing politics across America and around the world.

Hillary Rodham Clinton, First Lady of the United States
Gerhard Schroder, Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany
Wim Kok, Prime Minister of the Netherlands
Roy Romer, General Chairman of the Democratic National Committee
Kathleen Kennedy Townsend, Lieutenant Governor of Maryland

The DLC is proud to host this event and proud that many of the ideas and themes that have fueled the Third Way movement worldwide—like opportunity, responsibility, community, and accountability—originated at the DLC in 1990 and 1991 during the time President Clinton was our chairman.

The reception and roundtable will be held at the National Press Club, at 528 14th Street, NW, (13th Floor) in Downtown Washington. The reception will run from 3:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., and the roundtable from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

I'm sure you are aware of all of the security precautions that will be in place downtown for this weekend's commemoration of the 50th Anniversary of NATO. With that mind, we STRONGLY ENCOURAGE our guests to take public transportation to the event and to CARRY PHOTO IDENTIFICATION in case they pass a security checkpoint. (Via METRO, the National Press Club is a short walk from the Metro Center Station on the Red, Orange, and Blue lines.)

In addition, the DLC will operate a Will Call Desk for tickets to the event to further facilitate your smooth arrival. Will Call will take place at the DLC office (600 Pennsylvania Avenue, SE, Suite 400) at the following times:

Thursday, April 22	2:00 p.m. - 5:00p.m.
Friday, April 23	10:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.

For those not able to pick up their tickets before Sunday, Will Call and registration for the event will begin at the National Press Club on Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

This will be a singular event in the history of the DLC, and we are very glad that you will be joining us. If you have additional questions, please contact the DLC at (202) 546-0007, or watch our web site at www.dlcpqi.org for further details.

Sincerely,
Al From

Dear Ms. Mason,

I spoke to your office last week about getting approval to send this out to some press. It would basically go to The Washington Post music columnist, and classical music newsletters and magazines.

Thank you very much. I am sure you're incredibly busy with NATO. Yours truly,

Suzanne Stephens

Washington Opera Music Director Heinz Fricke to Conduct Kennedy Center Opera House Orchestra at White House to Honor 50th Anniversary of NATO

Washington Opera Music Director Heinz Fricke and the Kennedy Center Opera House Orchestra will perform at the White House on Saturday, April 24, in honor of the 50th Anniversary of NATO. The conductor and orchestra will participate in a special program with soprano Renée Fleming and baritone Thomas Hampson, for the gathering of leaders from over 40 countries.

The program was selected by Maestro Fricke, Ms. Fleming, and Mr. Hampson to honor the guests, who, though from diverse backgrounds, are all united by the universal language of music. The program includes Glinka's Overture to Ruslan i Lyudmila, with Ms. Fleming singing "Hymn to the Moon" from Dvorak's opera Rusalka and Kander's "A Letter from Sullivan Ballou." Mr. Hampson will sing "Komm, Zigány" from Kalman's operetta Gräfin Maritza and "Largo al factotum" from Rossini's Il Barbiere di Siviglia. Together Ms. Fleming and Mr. Hampson will sing "Lippen Schweigen" from Lehár's Die lustige Witwe and "Tonight" from Bernstein's West Side Story.

Maestro Heinz Fricke is the music director of both The Washington Opera and the Kennedy Center Opera House Orchestra. He previously held the positions of music director of the Berlin Staatsoper (1961-91) and the Norwegian National Opera (1984-90). He has conducted on the stages of the world's leading opera houses, including Hamburg, Munich, Brussels, Copenhagen, Stockholm, Milan, Paris, Zurich and Madrid. His symphonic activities have taken him to the major orchestras in Europe, South America, Japan and Australia, and he has made numerous recordings of both operatic and symphonic repertoires.

The Kennedy Center Opera House Orchestra is the center's resident orchestra for dance and musical theater, as well as for all Washington Opera performances. The Orchestra was founded in 1979, and John Mauceri, now the principal conductor of the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra, was its first music director. The orchestra has performed under such conductors as Daniel Barenboim, Rafael Frúbeck de Burgos, Daniel Oren, Mstislav Rostropovich, Julius Rudel, Gerard Schwarz, Leonard Slatkin, as well as The Washington Opera's artistic director Plácido Domingo. Under the leadership of Heinz Fricke since 1993, the orchestra has developed into a highly praised ensemble, particularly noted for its playing of Mozart and Richard Strauss.

The Washington Opera celebrates its forty-third season as one of the foremost opera companies in the United States. Holding the title of "Resident Opera Company of the Kennedy Center," The Washington Opera has grown from presenting sixteen performances of four operas in 1980 to 74 performances of eight operas in 1998. Over the last thirteen years, the company has averaged 98% attendance, selling out virtually every performance. In 1996, tenor and conductor Plácido Domingo became artistic director of The Washington Opera.

Subject: Quick note: NATO WH Dinners

This is FYI - for whoever needs it now - that these dinners are different than our usual State dinner drills and so is their coverage. The dinners are:

- 1) the Friday dinner in the East Room for the 20 NATO leaders and spouses,
- and 2) the Saturday dinner in a mega-tent, a real pavilion, for the 44 leaders and spouses, ministers, cabinet, congress for a total of nearly 900 people.

We will get you a longer note with details on coverage for those who need them, but for now:

- * We have a tentative plan for each night on which all offices have collaborated;
- * There is an INTERNAL decision made to not cover the entertainment either night; the entertainment is not glitzy - - it's quite serious and proper - - but everyone was agreed to just do it privately: NO pools.

This is so different, that we're treating it as a big site on an overseas trip and Karen Burchard of the press advance office is acting as a "lead press advance" to co-ordinate the pieces. Brenda Anders is taking care of the special needs of the NATO-TV project, and Karen is working with Julie Goldberg and Julie Mason of the two press offices.

Coverage for White House press each night will be a big NATO pool and the WH Inhouse Pool.

Friday:

- * WH Inhouse Pool for arrivals at the North Portico and for the toast. That's it.

Saturday - (to Teague) we will need TWO Inhouse Pools:

No press can get from the North side of the house to the Pavilion.

Leader arrivals at North Portico: WH Inhouse Pool #1 and NATO Pool
Foyer/receiving line: WH Inhouse Pool #1 and NATO Pool

*where socials?
can do both pavilion pool*

Pavilion: This pool pre-positions and sees this:
Individual entrances of all 44 EAPC leaders into the Pavilion.
Entrance of the President and Secretary General
Toast by the President
Toast by the Secretary General (in English)
(then the pool goes home for the night)

Pavilion Pool: Big NATO Pool and WH Inhouse Pool #2
(Teague: We're okay on some other photographers; I'll call you).

RE: NATO

Our office only needs to get involved in two parts, as far as I can tell:

- 1) social reporters at Saturday's dinner
- 2) Life photographer at the dinner where official leaders' photo will be taken (I don't know which dinner).

Overall meal sked:

Friday

Dinner in East Room (NATO leaders and spouses, approx. 40)

Saturday

HRC lunch in Yellow Oval (NATO spouses, approx. 17)

Dinner in tent (EAPC members, etc, approx. 800)

- "socials" options: guest arrivals, toasts at dinner. NOT entertainment.
- Anne Edwards wants to limit us to 5 or 6 press. I told her we'd have no photogs.
- Those who've called about covering this so far include Ann Geracimos and Robin Groom. I haven't called Robin back, but Ann knows its probably just Saturday evening.

Sunday

HRC lunch at Blair House (EAPC spouses, approx. 23)

Questions:

- guest list
- menus for all meals
- entertainment

FYI – Julie Goldberg is working with Anne Edwards on press aspect of NATO.
