Lissa,

Claire Shipman and I are covering the Vice President's campaign, and will be reporting from the floor of the Democratic Convention for NBC News this month in LA. We understand that Chelsea Clinton has up to now refrained from conducting media interviews. Nevertheless, if there is any chance she might consider participating in a quick informal chat with Claire when she arrives at the convention we would be extremely grateful.

I think the First Lady would agree that both Claire and I can be trusted to conduct a respectful and comfortable interview within whatever parameters she'd like to establish.

Respectfully
