Dear Ms. Irsfeld:

I received your letter of June 30, 1993. Thank you for your expression of interest in obtaining an internship with the Clinton Administration. We are pleased to know that so many talented people are anxious to be a part of the team.

Although we are fully staffed at this time, we will keep your resume on file for future reference. Thank you again for writing and for your support of the Clinton Administration.

Sincerely,

Forward to Personnel

Dear Ms. Williams:

I have just finished my second year of law school at Loyola of Los Angeles, and I am currently seeking an unpaid internship in Washington in order to obtain law school credit for the fall semester of 1993. As you can see from my resume, I have some experience in politics. I have also worked on many campaigns, including that of President Clinton. I am planning to go into legislative work when I graduate from law school, and I can think of no better way to prepare myself for that endeavor than to do an internship in the administrative side of government. I am also currently working on an independent study paper on gender discrimination in the law, and I can think of no better experience to help me better prepare my research material than to work in the office of Hillary Clinton.

I would like you to consider my resume as an application for an internship with your office. I know that working for Hillary Clinton would be an invaluable experience for, especially give my desire to work for a woman in politics. I also know that I could be of help to you; I would like nothing more than to dedicate all my time and energy into promoting the policies that Hillary Clinton stands behind.

Whatever your response, I thank you for taking the time to review my resume, and I look forward to hearing from you in the future.

Sincerely,

Hannah C. Irsfeld
