Dear Mr. Jashnani:

Thank you for your letter of October 7. I regret that, to my knowledge, I have not received your letters of August 16 and 22 and September 1. We have received thousands of letters from concerned individuals such as you and we do try to respond to each and every person.

I ask your patience in writing again with your original comments. Please be assured that your views and concerns are important to the Clinton Administration.

Thank you again for writing.

Dear Mr. Jenner:

Thank you for writing about the reductions in Medicare reimbursement rates that your company is facing. I have forwarded your letter to Bruce Vladeck, the Administrator of the Health Care Financing Administration. I have been told that his office is aware of the issues that you raised in your letter and would be happy to work with you to address them.

Please feel free to contact me with any additional questions.

Dear Ms. Williams,

Please allow me to introduce my company, Superior Mobile, Inc.. We provide mobile diagnostic services to nursing homes and facilities in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. These services include mobile x-ray, EKG, pulmonary function exams and ultrasound studies to small hospitals. We have been in business since 1989.

As of January 1, 1994, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan reduced our reimbursible rate by 18%. They plan to do this again next year and the year after. A total of 55% in reduction is expected. Enclosed is a letter that explains in detail what happened in the last six months. Our company will no longer exist after this year.

The reason I am writing you is that there is a rumor that the First Lady may be coming to the U.P. to discuss healthcare. Please brief her about my companies situation.

I would very much like the opportunity to ask Mrs. Clinton a couple of questions and she in turn could relay them to the head of H.C.F.A.

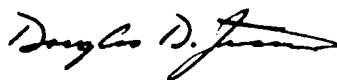

1. If health care services for the elderly are being cut in 1994, what is going to happen in five years when there will be three times as many seniors needing these same types of services?!
2. Since the U.P. is considered "rural" (remote is more the word) H.F.C.A. is making it impossible for some elderly care services to be provided. This is contrary to what health care reform hopes to provide. Shouldn't Medicare and its agencies be working with people like us instead of putting us out of business?

I would be happy to talk about healthcare (in particular, elderly programs) and how it will effect the elderly in the U.P.

If you need more information or have any questions please don't hesitate to call.

Ms MARGARET WILLIAMS
CHIEF OF STAFF TO FIRST LADY
THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON, D. C. 20510

Ms Williams:

Enclosed please find copies of correspondences from the Democratic National Committee Chairman David Wilhelm--one of which is addressed to me and the other addressed to the First Lady's Scheduling Secretary at the White House.

Enclosed please also find a brochure of our foundation along with a programme of one of our most memorable events here in the State of Mississippi.

The Foundation prides itself in being able to help others--especially those less fortunate than ourselves--but it would give us special gratitude to be in position to be of some financial assistance to the President and the First Lady in their efforts to meet the financial burdens of their current legal troubles. As a longstanding democrat--and a financial contributor to the national democratic party--we all know that most, if not all, of these problems confronting the First Family are political, yet they must be dealt with, legally.

If the First Lady could find our annual banquet beneficial and could squeeze some time in to attend, it would be most helpful to us, both financially and otherwise, not to mention its total benefit to the President's re-election and the First Family's legal problems as well.

We should like to solicit your aid and assistance in helping our organization to bring the First Lady to Mississippi for our annual civic awards banquet. Our banquet is normally held the third Saturday in November, but to accommodate the First Lady's schedule--as we did for Miss America in 1991--we will not set a date for the event until the First Lady confirms her attendance.

Mind you, there are a lot of diehard democrats here in Mississippi, but there are equally as many "independents" as well, and the First Lady's attendance, in a large way, could do much to influence votes for the President's re-election.

Thanking you for your consideration, I am

Sincerely,

James Monroe Johnson

Dear Patti:

I am writing to bring your attention to the enclosed request that I received from James Monroe Johnson, Executive Director of the Demus Foundation, inviting the First Lady to attend their Annual Awards Banquet in Mississippi. A date for the event will be set according to the First Lady's schedule.

The Demus Foundation is an educational institution which aids economically deprived and socially disadvantaged citizens in order to further their educational and economic opportunities. Mr. Johnson would like the First Lady to be the keynote speaker at the Demus Foundation's Awards Banquet which will help raise the funds necessary for their annual scholarships. Mr. Johnson is an active member of the Democratic National Committee and I hope that you will give his request every possible consideration.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions you may have. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

David Wilhelm

The sixth year, 1989, marked the first time that two scholarships were awarded — which also was a first for a male recipient. Equal scholarship amounts were awarded to students entering Mississippi State University and Wood Junior College, respectively, making each of these institutions of higher learning second-time recipients of the DEMUS Memorial Scholarship.

In 1990, Jackson State University was the institution of the seventh scholarship recipient — a first for the traditional black school of higher learning.

Miss America 1991, Marjorie Judith Vincent, was the guest of honor at the Foundation's Seventh Annual Civic Achievement Awards Banquet at Mississippi State University on April 3, 1991. Reigning beauty queens from throughout the State were in attendance to greet Miss America, including: Mississippi State University's Miss Hospitality; Miss Mississippi State University; Miss Jackson State University; Miss Mississippi Valley State University; Miss Rust College; Miss Mary Holmes College and Miss Demus Foundation. Two awards each were presented to local citizens in the categories of business, education, community service, government service and public affairs. Miss America's pre-banquet press conference drew media attention and coverage from local and state-wide radio and television stations and newspapers.

Planned Foundation activities include the establishment of a Minority Business Development Center and development of Homeless Assistance and High-Risk Youth Demonstration programs, which include twenty-four-hour counseling sessions for drug and alcohol at-risk students

How The Foundation Operates

The Demus Foundation is a non-profit 501 (c) (3) tax-exempt private foundation. It has no affiliation with any branch of federal, state or local government, political party or interest group. Members of the Foundation's Board of Directors hold a variety of political viewpoints and represent both major political parties and independents.

The Foundation receives no funds from public sources. All funds received are from private individuals, civic and other charity organizations, religious groups, businesses and industries. The Foundation is privileged to have the support and endorsement of Mississippi's Congressional Delegation as well as various local and state elected officials, including educational and industrial leaders of North Mississippi. Because of this widespread support, the Foundation is able to support the participation of individuals — and students — from all economic backgrounds.

The Foundation's History

The first public activity of the Foundation occurred on Saturday, November 17, 1983 — First Annual Civic Achievement Awards Banquet at Mitchell's Restaurant, Eupora. Awards were presented to local citizens in the categories of business, education, agriculture, law and ministry. Keynote speaker was Dr. William Ware, Ph.D., Associate Professor of

Coaching Psychology, Mississippi State University

The first scholarship was awarded to a Eupora High School graduate as she registered at Mississippi State University in September 1984.

The Second Annual Civic Achievement Awards Banquet was held in November 1984 at the Cotton Boll Restaurant in Eupora with the keynote speaker being Mrs. Beverly W. Hogan, Executive Director, Governor's Office of Federal/State Programs, Jackson, Mississippi. Awards were presented to local citizens in the categories of business, education, military, ministry and student. The scholarship for the second year was awarded to an entering freshman at the University of Mississippi in September 1985.

The third year began a new series of events for the Foundation. Beginning with the Awards Banquet in November 1985, a Black History banquet followed in February 1986 and a legal seminar in March and the third scholarship was awarded to another Ole Miss entrant in August 1986. Awards for the banquet were presented in the categories of business, education, military, ministry and student. Keynote was again Mrs. Beverly Hogan of the Governor's Office.

The Fourth Annual Civic Achievement Awards Banquet, held at Eupora High School Cafeteria, was — at the time — the most profitable and most prestigious of all. Featured as special guest was the reigning Miss Mississippi, Toni Seawright, the first Black to hold that title. Ticket sales increased three-fold and the standing-room-only crowd was thrilled tremendously by the singing of Miss Mississippi and her runner-up, Eupora's own Judy Booth.

Awards were presented in the categories of business, military, education, ministry and sports for 1987, and the scholarship awarded to another Ole Miss entrant the following spring.

In 1988, the Fifth Annual Awards Banquet enjoyed Fayette Mayor Charles Evers as the keynoter, which also marked the first time that more tickets were sold and more state-wide guests were in attendance than local. A small contingent of guests were in attendance from Rust College of Holly Springs to witness the lovely and talented voice of one of their own gospel vocalists, Mrs. Mary LeSueur. Awards were presented in the categories of education, community service, professional humanitarianism and sports. In September, the Foundation sponsored the Miss Black Webster County Beauty Pageant, in which both a Miss Black Webster County and a Miss Demus Foundation were crowned, entitling both to VIP status at all Foundation activities and functions.

The sixth year, 1989, marked the first time that two scholarships were awarded — which also was a first for a male recipient. Equal scholarship amounts were awarded to students entering Mississippi State University and Wood Junior College, respectively, making each of these institutions of higher learning second-time recipients of the DEMUS Memorial Scholarship.

THE DEMUS FOUNDATION

The Ester L. "Demus" Mhoon Memorial Foundation, Inc. was established in 1984 as a non-profit, nonpartisan educational organization committed to the belief that informed civic participation is essential to a responsive government and a healthy community, and that process begins with education.

The Demus Foundation is named in honor of Ester Lee "Demus" Mhoon, a Webster County native son. During his short lifetime, Demus struggled and overcame a diversity of physical and environmental handicaps in achieving his goals and in his efforts to aid economically-deprived and socially-disadvantaged citizens. Since its inception in 1984, funds generated by the Foundation have been used to recognize outstanding civic achievements of local citizens and to support educational/economic opportunities for deserving high school seniors. The 1991 awards and scholarship are being made to the citizens and students in the Oktibbeha County/Starkville area. Funds generated as a result of Miss America's appearance are earmarked for scholarships to one 1991 high school graduating senior in each of the five area public schools.

MARJORIE VINCENT MISS AMERICA 1991

Miss Vincent was crowned Miss America in September, 1990. Her hometown is Oak Park, Illinois. She is a graduate of DePaul University with a degree in music and was third-year law student at Duke University at the time of her winning the coveted title of Miss America.

She speaks fluent French and Creole and is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Since becoming Miss America, Marjorie has toured the nation making special appearances at shelters, rehabilitation centers and university campuses to speak out against domestic violence. Her main objectives are to increase public awareness of the severity of this problem, and generate support at the local, state and national levels.

Marjorie's on-stage question during the Top Ten final competition during the 1990's Miss America Pageant related to her essay topic—"battered women"—which now stands as her platform, to which she said: "I always recognized abuse as a social concern but wasn't sure how I could help, until I saw the opportunity through the Miss America program."

Her travels as Miss America has enabled her to meet with community and government leaders, shelter and rehabilitation program directors, and young people in college communities, so as to further the understanding of this problem.

Earlier today, Marjorie spoke to students and faculty of Maben High and O. J. Wicks Elementary schools at Maben High School gymnasium.

THE DEMUS FOUNDATION

The Ester L. "Demus" Mhoon Memorial Foundation, Inc. was established in 1984 as a non-profit, nonpartisan educational organization committed to the belief that informed civic participation is essential to a responsive government and a healthy community, and that process begins with education.

The Demus Foundation is named in honor of Ester Lee "Demus" Mhoon, a Webster County native son. During his short lifetime, Demus struggled and overcame a diversity of physical and environmental handicaps in achieving his goals and in his efforts to aid economically-deprived and socially-disadvantaged citizens. Since its inception in 1984, funds generated by the Foundation have been used to recognize outstanding civic achievements of local citizens and to support educational/economic opportunities for deserving high school seniors. The 1991 awards and scholarship are being made to the citizens and students in the Oktibbeha County/Starkville area. Funds generated as a result of Miss America's appearance are earmarked for scholarships to one 1991 high school graduating senior in each of the five area public schools.
