

105TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

H. R. 3637

To amend the National Housing Act to authorize the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development to insure mortgages for the acquisition, construction, or substantial rehabilitation of child care and development facilities and to establish the Children's Development Commission to certify such facilities for such insurance, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

APRIL 1, 1998

Mrs. MALONEY of New York (for herself, Mr. BAKER, Mr. KANJORSKI, Mr. JACKSON of Illinois, Mrs. MEEK of Florida, Mr. MANTON, Mr. ALLEN, Ms. VALÁZQUEZ, Ms. WOOLSEY, and Mrs. TAUSCHER) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Banking and Financial Services

A BILL

To amend the National Housing Act to authorize the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development to insure mortgages for the acquisition, construction, or substantial rehabilitation of child care and development facilities and to establish the Children's Development Commission to certify such facilities for such insurance, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the "Children's Develop-
3 ment Commission Act".

4 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

5 The Congress finds the following:

6 (1) The need for quality nursery schools, both
7 full-time and part-time child care centers and after-
8 school programs, after school programs, neighbor-
9 hood-run mothers-day-out programs, and family
10 child care providers has grown among working par-
11 ents, and parents who stay at home, who want their 12 children to have access to early childhood education.

13 (2) All parents should have access to safe, stim-
14 ulating, and educational early childhood education
15 programs for their children, whether such programs
16 are carried out in a child care center, a part-time
17 nursery school (including a nursery school operated
18 by a religious organization), or a certified child care
19 provider's home.

20 (3) The number of available enrollment oppor-
21 tunities for children to receive quality child care
22 services is not meeting the demand for such services.

23 (4) In 1995 there were about 21,000,000 chil-
24 dren less than 6 years of age, of whom 31 percent
25 were participating in center-based child care services
26 and 14 percent were receiving child care in homes.

1 Between 1992 and 2005 the participation of women
2 24 to 54 years of age in the labor force is projected
3 to increase from 75 percent to 83 percent.

4 (5) In States that have set up a mechanism to
5 provide capital improvements for child care facilities,
6 the demand for services of such facilities still has
7 not been met.

8 (6) The United States is behind other western,
9 industrialized countries when it comes to providing 10 child care services. In France, almost 100 percent of 11 all children 3 to 5 years of age attend nursery
12 school. In Germany this number is 65 to 70 percent.
13 In Japan 90 percent of such children attend some
14 form of preschool care. In all of these countries early
15 childhood care has proven to increase children's de-
16 velopment and performance.

17 SEC. 3. INSURANCE FOR MORTGAGES ON NEW AND REHA-
18 BILITATED CHILD CARE AND DEVELOPMENT
19 FACILITIES.

20 Title II of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1707
21 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following
22 new section:

1 “MORTGAGE INSURANCE FOR CHILD CARE AND
2 DEVELOPMENT FACILITIES

3 “SEC. 257. (a) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this sec-
4 tion is to facilitate and assist in the provision and develop-
5 ment of licensed child care and development facilities.

6 “(b) GENERAL INSURANCE AUTHORITY.—The Sec-
7 retary may insure mortgages (including advances on such 8 mortgages during construction) in accordance with the 9 provisions of this section and upon such terms and condi-
10 tions as the Secretary may prescribe and may make com-
11 mitments for insurance of such mortgages before the date
12 of their execution or disbursement thereon.

13 “(c) ELIGIBLE MORTGAGES.—To carry out the pur-
14 pose of this section, the Secretary may insure any mort-
15 gage that covers a new child care and development facility,
16 including a new addition to an existing child care and de-
17 velopment facility (regardless of whether the existing facil-
18 ity is being rehabilitated), or a substantially rehabilitated
19 child care and development facility, including equipment
20 to be used in the operation of the facility, subject to the 21 following conditions:

22 “(1) APPROVED MORTGAGOR.—The mortgage
23 shall be executed by a mortgagor approved by the 24 Secretary. The Secretary may, in the discretion of 25 the Secretary, require any such mortgagor to be reg-

1 ulated or restricted as to charges and methods of fi-
2 nancing and, if the mortgagor is a corporate entity,
3 as to capital structure and rate of return. As an aid
4 to the regulation or restriction of any mortgagor
5 with respect to any of the foregoing matters, the 6 Secretary may make such contracts with and acquire 7 for not more than $100 such stock or interest in
8 such mortgagor as the Secretary may consider nec-
9 essary. Any stock or interest so purchased shall be 10 paid for out of the General Insurance Fund, and 11 shall be redeemed by the mortgagor at par upon the 12 termination of all obligations of the Secretary under 13 the insurance.

14 “(2) PRINCIPAL OBLIGATION.—The mortgage
15 shall involve a principal obligation in an amount not 16 to exceed 90 percent of the estimated value of the 17 property or project, or 95 percent of the estimated
18 value of the property or project in the case of a
19 mortgagor that is a private nonprofit corporation or 20 association (as such term is defined pursuant to sec-21 tion 221(d)(3)), including—

22 “(A) equipment to be used in the operation
23 of the facility when the proposed improvements
24 are completed and the equipment is installed; or

1 “(B) a solar energy system (as defined in
2 subparagraph (3) of the last paragraph of sec-
3 tion 2(a)) or residential energy conservation
4 measures (as defined in subparagraphs (A)
5 through (G) and (I) of section 210(11) of the 6 National Energy Conservation Policy Act), in
7 cases in which the Secretary determines that
8 such measures are in addition to those required
9 under the minimum property standards and will 10 be cost-effective over the life of the measure.

11 “(3) AMORTIZATION AND INTEREST.—The 12 mortgage shall—

13 “(A) provide for complete amortization by
14 periodic payments under such terms as the Sec-
15 retary shall prescribe;

16 “(B) have a maturity satisfactory to the 17 Secretary, but in no event longer than 25 years;
18 and

19 “(C) bear interest at such rate as may be
20 agreed upon by the mortgagor and the mortga-
21 gee, and the Secretary shall not issue any regu-
22 lations or establish any terms or conditions that 23 interfere with the ability of the mortgagor and 24 mortgagee to determine the interest rate.

1 “(d) CERTIFICATION BY CHILDREN’S DEVELOPMENT
2 COMMISSION.—The Secretary may not insure a mortgage
3 under this section unless the Children’s Development
4 Commission established under section 258 certifies that 5 the facility is in compliance, or will be in compliance not 6 later than 12 months after such certification, with—

7 “(1) any laws, standards, and requirements ap-
8 plicable to such facilities under the laws of the 9 State, municipality, or other unit of general local 10 government in which the facility is or is to be lo-
11 cated; and

12 “(2) after the effective date of the standards
13 and requirements established under section
14 258(c)(2), such standards and requirements.

15 “(e) RELEASE.—The Secretary may consent to the 16 release of a part or parts of the mortgaged property or 17 project from the lien of any mortgage insured under this
18 section upon such terms and conditions as the Secretary
19 may prescribe.

20 “(f) MORTGAGE INSURANCE TERMS.—The provisions
21 of subsections (d), (e), (g), (h), (i), (j), (k), (l), and (n)
22 of section 207 shall apply to mortgages insured under this 13 and Human Services).

20 agreed upon by the mortgagor and the mortga-
21 gee;

22 “(C) have a maturity satisfactory to the 23 Secretary;

24 “(D) be made by a financial institution or 25 other mortgagee approved by the Secretary as

1 eligible for insurance under section 2 or a mort-
2 gagee approved under section 203(b)(1);

3 “(E) comply with other such terms, condi-
4 tions, and restrictions as the Secretary may 5 prescribe; and

6 “(F) be made with respect to a child care
7 and development facility that complies with the 8 requirement under subsection (d).

9 “(3) INSURANCE REQUIREMENTS.—The provi-
10 sions of paragraphs (5), (6), (7), (9), and (10) of 11 section 220(h) shall apply to loans insured under 12 this subsection, except that all references in such 13 paragraphs to home improvement loans shall be con-

15 loans under this subsection. The provisions of sub-
16 sections (c), (d), and (h) of section 2 shall apply to 20 subsection, to refer to this subsection.

21 “(h) SCHEDULES AND DEADLINES.—The Secretary
22 shall establish schedules and deadlines for the processing
23 and approval (or provision of notice of disapproval) of ap-
24 plications for mortgage insurance under this section.

1 “(i) DEFINITIONS.—For the purposes of this section,
2 the following definitions shall apply:

3 “(1) CHILD CARE AND DEVELOPMENT FACIL-
4 ITY.—The term ‘child care and development facility’
5 means a public facility, proprietary facility, or facil-

7 that—

8 “(A) has as its purpose the care and devel-
9 opment of children less than 12 years of age;
10 and

11 “(B) is licensed or regulated by the State

16 The term does not include facilities for school-age

Dear Mr. President: Mr. President

MAR 23 PM 5:05

As you may recall, during a conversation we had earlier this month I mentioned to you a piece of legislation I am developing which will address the increasing need for quality child care facilities. The members of the child care community with whom I have spoken about this have called it revolutionary, and a new approach to addressing the needs which exist. This bill will create a new government sponsored enterprise which we are calling "Kiddie Mac," which I hope will do for day care what Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have done for home ownership. Equally as important, Kiddie Mac will be an incubator for new ways of addressing issues regarding child care and development.

Kiddie Mac will allow working parents, single parents and stay-at-home parents to have access to quality child care. Rep. Richard Baker of Louisiana, chairman of the Subcommittee on Capital Markets, Securities and Government Sponsored Enterprises, has agreed to co-sponsor this legislation with me, making it a bipartisan proposal.

Kiddie Mac will have four basic components. First, it will have child care facilities be part of the secondary mortgage market by selling the paper to Fannie Mae so it can be bundled into their securities they sell on Wall Street, taking advantage of their high volume and lower interest rates. Second, Kiddie Mac will offer guaranty insurance to those who lend to child care facilities, thereby acting as a catalyst for the private sector, reducing the risk and thereby encouraging lending.

Third, for those who are not building or completely rehabilitating facilities, Kiddie Mac will offer micro-loans. These loans can be used for start-up costs, rent payments, or for improvements for facilities which wish to be licensed.

Finally, Kiddie Mac will offer liability insurance to all child care providers so as to make certain that the costs associated with liability are not a factor against the creation of a facility.

Through the profits created from Kiddie Mac's activities, a foundation will be funded. This foundation will focus on researching child care and development, funding projects and pilot programs. It will also develop materials and aids in order to people in accessing, understanding and taking advantage of the Kiddie Mac process.

Certain elements have been added to the bill in order to make certain that Kiddie Mac stays focussed on the task at hand. These include a capped salary structure for executives, an annual report with congressional hearings similar to Humphrey-Hawkins hearings, and a $2 billion limit on total activity which can be raised by congressional approval.

I believe that this approach to addressing the growing need for quality child care is innovative and feasible. Most importantly, Kiddie Mac, after an initial appropriation for its incorporation, is self-financing. It also provides a location withing the federal government which focusses solely on child care and child development.

Mr. President, Kiddie Mac adds to your child care program by addressing the lack of quality facilities. It allows both for-profit businesses and not-for-profit organizations, including churches and synagogues, to supply their communities. The passage of this bill will mean greater access to quality child care for all American families.

I am enclosing the latest draft of the bill, though there are still a few items to be worked out. I am also adding an outline of the bill and an information sheet. I hope you find the proposal stimulating and I look forward to any questions and comments you or your staff may have.

Thank you for your commitment to affordable and available child care.

KIDDIE MAC SUMMARY

Legislation to be introduced by Rep. Carolyn Maloney (NY)

Status as of 3/20/98

GOAL: To fill the unmet need for quality, affordable child care, the Children's Development Insurance and Mortgage Corporation ("Kiddie Mac"), will be created as a government sponsored enterprise which will be a catalyst for private-sector construction and development lending.

THE BASIC ELEMENTS:

1. The Concept: The private sector now hesitates to provide loans for construction or operation of child care facilities because it perceives a high risk of borrower liability in running such centers. Kiddie Mac will reduce that perceived risk to lenders, thus encouraging loans for the construction and opening of child care facilities.
2. The Key: the Secondary Mortgage Market: Kiddie Mac will do for child care and development what Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have done for home ownership. Kiddie Mac will purchase mortgages and then sell them to Fannie Mae who will bundle them into the securities they sell on Wall Street. This should allow Kiddie Mac to be able to take advantage of the volume of business done in the mortgage market, which leads to lower interest rates.
3. Guaranty Insurance=Low-Cost Loans: Kiddie Mac will offer guaranty insurance to commercial banks for potential child care facility builders and operators. Currently, while the private sector appears to want to do something in this area, the perceived risk is too high. A guaranty should be enough security to spur lending with reasonable terms. In order to prevent the cost of insurance from becoming a barrier for starting a facility, Kiddie Mac will also offer reasonably priced liability insurance to qualifying child care providers.
4. Start-up Costs and Rent: Besides actual facilities being built or rehabilitated, often what is needed is money for start-up costs and rent. Kiddie Mac will offer mini-loans to qualifying child care providers for these costs. These loans will also be available for a facility which needs to make certain improvements in order to meet licensing standards.

5. Foundation: With the money made from its other activities, Kiddie Mac will establish a foundation that will research issues in early childhood development, fund pilot programs and produce educational materials. It will also provide materials and activities to guide applicants through the Kiddie Mac process.

SPECIAL CHARACTERISTICS OF KIDDIE MAC:

1. Executive salaries will be capped.
2. An annual report to Congress and hearings on activities and performance will be required, similar to the Humphrey-Hawkins hearings the banking committees hold with the Federal Reserve Chairman.
3. Total lending and guaranty activity will be limited to $2 billion. If a need is found beyond this amount, Congress may increase the ceiling.

Common Questions about KIDDIE MAC

1. Why is Kiddie Mac Necessary?

A: The United States is falling behind in meeting the needs of its children for high-quality care. Other nations understand the critical role that child care plays in early development, but the quality and quantity of child care space in this country are below acceptable levels. While demand is enormous and growing for trustworthy infant and pre-school slots nationwide, the need is not being met.

2. Do we really need another government sponsored enterprise to do this?

A: YES. Such an enterprise is chartered when private-sector market mechanisms fail for some reason to address a major demand. Child care is an example of a broad demand that profit-seeking firms have been unwilling to meet.

Reasons involve lenders' view that loans to child care facilities carry a high risk because of possible liability claims. Such facilities are also regarded as bad risks because they must be constructed or modified to meet strict safety and facility licensing standards, and are therefore seen as inflexible for conversion to other uses.

The result is that too little space is available; most existing space is too expensive for working parents to afford; and much of what is available is of a quality too low to help much in developing children's potential. Government intervention is needed to overcome the startup barriers and get good child care facilities into operation nationwide.

3. How would Kiddie Mac work?

A: It would have two main components:

1. Use of the secondary mortgage market: In this market, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac buy mortgages, bundle them and sell them as securities on Wall Street. The transactions create additional capital volume, and the mechanism has served to keep interest rates low and home ownership affordable even during market recessions. Kiddie Mac would do the same for child care facilities, buying mortgages for sale to Fannie Mae. In this way it would produce more low-interest capital for child care facilities.

2. Guaranty insurance: Many private lenders want to invest in child care facilities but are uncomfortable with the risks. Kiddie Mac will provide guaranty insurance for mortgages, loans and some other debts, encouraging private lenders to invest in the needs of our children.

4. Will Kiddie Mac help someone who wants to convert a building to child care, add to existing facilities or bring a center up to licensing standards?

A: Yes. Kiddie Mac will provide small-facilities loans for improvements to existing centers for the purpose of meeting licensing standards, or to improve the quality of care and/or increase the number of children who can take part. A family-run child-care home, for example, could qualify for one of these loans to make the changes needed for licensing.

5. Who will pay for Kiddie Mac?

A: After a small appropriation to fund its initial incorporation, Kiddie Mac will offer shares for sale to investors. This stock offering will fund Kiddie Mac startup operations, after which it will become self-financing, never costing the taxpayer anything more.

6. Who will have access to Kiddie Mac?

A: Anyone who is currently licensed or who can demonstrate the ability to be licensed can use Kiddie Mac's services. This includes community organizations, not-for-profit groups, community development financial institutions, for-profit businesses, family-home facilities, churches and other employers.

7. Will those operations be competing against private businesses?

A: Private businesses which want to develop child care facilities, nursery schools or after-school programs are allowed to access Kiddie Mac just like anyone else. As for private lenders, since the problem in child care has been that the needs are not being met by the open market. Kiddie Mac is needed to fill this role.

8. How about churches and synagogues? Aren't they banned from taking government money?

A: Kiddie Mac will be a government-sponsored entity, not part of government itself. If a church or synagogue or any other religious body can qualify to be licensed as a child care provider, Kiddie Mac's services are available.

9. Will Kiddie Mac help in addressing some of the other problems of child care and child development?

A: Yes. Using some of the funds generated by its financial activity, Kiddie Mac will establish a foundation to research problems in child care and child development, fund pilot programs and educational materials, and find ways to make the Kiddie Mac process efficient and accessible to as many people as possible.

The Honorable Carolyn B. Maloney
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Ms. Maloney:

This responds to your March 18 letter to Secretary Rubin requesting the views of the Department of the Treasury on H.R. 3637, the "Children's Development Commission Act." Since the bill as introduced on April 1 differs from the draft that you sent to us in March, we will confine our comments to the bill as introduced. Your bill has been carefully reviewed within the Administration, and we have consulted widely within the Administration in developing the views set forth here.

The Administration shares your interest in increasing the availability of, and access to, quality child care services. We regret that we cannot support H.R. 3637 as it is currently drafted. We would like to suggest ways in which the bill might be improved.

H.R. 3637 would authorize the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to insure mortgages related to child care and development facilities and to establish a Children's Development Commission. The Commission would be charged with certifying child care and development facilities for insurance and for other purposes. The bill would require the Department of the Treasury to submit three nominees for the Children's Development Commission, submit a report to Congress concerning the possibility of creating a secondary market for child care and development facility loans, and submit a report to Congress after the program's expiration in 2005 that evaluates the need for continued mortgage insurance for child care facilities.

We have doubts about whether potential child care facility operators -- either large or small -- face different capital constraints than other types of businesses of like size. It is therefore unclear whether there exists a credit market imperfection that would warrant the establishment of the proposed credit program. Moreover, full HUD insurance of what are essentially commercial property loans with loan-to-value ratios up to 90 percent may not provide sufficient private sector incentives to underwrite reasonably good credit. Poor underwriting or excessive Federal guarantees would increase the government's potential risk exposure. We note that the Small Business Administration (SBA) achieved favorable loss mitigation results by decreasing its maximum risk exposure from 100 percent to 90 percent, and losses were further decreased when its maximum risk exposure was decreased to 75 percent. Accordingly, we recommend that the degree of government guarantee in this proposal be reconsidered.

The proposed Children's Development Commission raises several concerns. First, by establishing national child care standards for program participants, the Commission could actually increase the cost of child care by creating another layer of regulation. Second, the proposed micro-loan program places all of the credit risk associated with these loans on the government and duplicates other Federal programs (e.g., the SBA's micro-loan program). Third, the proposed research foundation is unlikely to be "independent" of the Federal government, particularly if it ultimately relies on the government for funding. For these reasons, we recommend that this section of the bill be eliminated.

MAY-22-1998 16:56 TO:52 - HHS

FROM:DADE, J.

P. 4/22

From a technical perspective, we note that the terms and conditions of the proposed programs do not conform to the principles of OMB Circular No. A-129, "Policies for Federal Credit Programs and Non-Tax Receivables." In keeping with that circular, the proposed guarantees should be limited to a certain percent of the outstanding principal and interest of each loan, as recommended above. The bill also should require a determination that there is a reasonable assurance of repayment before a loan could be guaranteed or made, authorize the collection of guarantee fees, provide a maximum term to maturity for guaranteed loans that is less than the useful life of the physical assets to be financed by such loans, prohibit any guaranteed or direct loan from being subordinated to other debt contracted by a borrower, and prohibit a guaranteed or direct loan from being used to provide significant collateral or security for tax-exempt obligations.

We are also concerned that proposed section 257(c)(1), in authorizing HUD to acquire certain interests in a borrower to facilitate regulatory compliance, would authorize HUD to acquire equity interests in child care and development centers. As a general policy, Treasury opposes the Federal government acquiring equity interests in private businesses.

Several terms and conditions of existing HUD insurance programs would be explicitly applied to the proposed new insurance programs, including the authority of the HUD Secretary to pay default claims by issuing debentures instead of by paying cash. The issuance of such debentures is essentially a form of borrowing by the issuing Federal agency. We oppose such authority because it would be more costly and less efficient than other readily available methods of financing HUD's obligation to make payments under the proposed new insurance programs. We would note that the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990 gives agencies authority to borrow directly from the Treasury if a program agency lacks funds to honor its obligations under its guarantee contracts.

The Office of Management and Budget has advised us that the views set forth herein are consistent with the Administration's policy.

Sincerely,

GOAL: To fill the unmet need for quality, affordable child care, the Children's Development Insurance and Mortgage Corporation ("Kiddie Mac"), will be created as a government sponsored enterprise which will be a catalyst for private-sector construction and development lending.

3. Total lending and guaranty activity will be limited to $2 billion. If a need is found beyond this amount, Congress may increase the ceiling.

Common Questions about KIDDIE MAC

1. Why is Kiddie Mac Necessary?

A: The United States is falling behind in meeting the needs of its children for high-quality care. Other nations understand the critical role that child care plays in early development, but the quality and quantity of child care space in this country are below acceptable levels. While demand is enormous and growing for trustworthy infant and pre-school slots nationwide, the need is not being met.

2. Do we really need another government sponsored enterprise to do this?

A: YES. Such an enterprise is chartered when private-sector market mechanisms fail for some reason to address a major demand. Child care is an example of a broad demand that profit-seeking firms have been unwilling to meet.

Reasons involve lenders' view that loans to child care facilities carry a high risk because of possible liability claims. Such facilities are also regarded as bad risks because they must be constructed or modified to meet strict safety and facility licensing standards, and are therefore seen as inflexible for conversion to other uses.

The result is that too little space is available; most existing space is too expensive for working parents to afford; and much of what is available is of a quality too low to help much in developing children's potential. Government intervention is needed to overcome the startup barriers and get good child care facilities into operation nationwide.

3. How would Kiddie Mac work?

A: It would have two main components:

1. Use of the secondary mortgage market: In this market, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac buy mortgages, bundle them and sell them as securities on Wall Street. The transactions create additional capital volume, and the mechanism has served to keep interest rates low and home ownership affordable even during market recessions. Kiddie Mac would do the same for child care facilities, buying mortgages for sale to Fannie Mae. In this way it would produce more low-interest capital for child care facilities.

2. Guaranty insurance: Many private lenders want to invest in child care facilities but are uncomfortable with the risks. Kiddie Mac will provide guaranty insurance for mortgages, loans and some other debts, encouraging private lenders to invest in the needs of our children.

4. Will Kiddie Mac help someone who wants to convert a building to child care, add to existing facilities or bring a center up to licensing standards?

A: Yes. Kiddie Mac will provide small-facilities loans for improvements to existing centers for the purpose of meeting licensing standards, or to improve the quality of care and/or increase the number of children who can take part. A family-run child-care home, for example, could qualify for one of these loans to make the changes needed for licensing.

5. Who will pay for Kiddie Mac?

A: After a small appropriation to fund its initial incorporation, Kiddie Mac will offer shares for sale to investors. This stock offering will fund Kiddie Mac startup operations, after which it will become self-financing, never costing the taxpayer anything more.

6. Who will have access to Kiddie Mac?

A: Anyone who is currently licensed or who can demonstrate the ability to be licensed can use Kiddie Mac's services. This includes community organizations, not-for-profit groups, community development financial institutions, for-profit businesses, family-home facilities, churches and other employers.

7. Will those operations be competing against private businesses?

A: Private businesses which want to develop child care facilities, nursery schools or after-school programs are allowed to access Kiddie Mac just like anyone else. As for private lenders, since the problem in child care has been that the needs are not being met by the open market. Kiddie Mac is needed to fill this role.

8. How about churches and synagogues? Aren't they banned from taking government money?

A: Kiddie Mac will be a government-sponsored entity, not part of government itself. If a church or synagogue or any other religious body can qualify to be licensed as a child care provider, Kiddie Mac's services are available.

9. Will Kiddie Mac help in addressing some of the other problems of child care and child development?

A: Yes. Using some of the funds generated by its financial activity, Kiddie Mac will establish a foundation to research problems in child care and child development, fund pilot programs and educational materials, and find ways to make the Kiddie Mac process efficient and accessible to as many people as possible.

[INCOMPLETE DISCUSSION DRAFT]

MARCH 17, 1998

105TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

H. R. _____

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mrs. MALONEY of New York (for herself and _____) introduced
the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on

A BILL

To provide for the establishment of the Children's Development Insurance and Mortgage Corporation for the purpose of expanding the availability of child care services.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the "Kiddie Mac Act of 5 1998".

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 The Congress finds the following:

1 (1) The need for quality nursery schools, both
2 full-time and part-time child care centers, after
3 school programs, neighborhood-run mothers-day-out
4 programs, and family child care providers has grown
5 among working parents, and parents who stay at
6 home, who want their children to have access to
7 early childhood education.

8 (2) All parents in the labor force should have
9 access to safe, stimulating, and educational early
10 childhood education programs for their children,
11 whether such programs are carried out in a child
12 care center, a part-time nursery school (including a
13 nursery school operated by a religious organization),
14 or a family child care provider's home.

15 (3) The number of available enrollment oppor-
16 tunities for children to receive quality child care
17 services is not meeting the demand for such services
18 due to several factors. Child care facilities are tai-
19 lored to meet specific regulations, so banks are con-
20 cerned that if they acquire such facilities as a result
21 of foreclosure, such facilities will be unusable for
22 other purposes. Because the profit margin for child
23 care providers is so small, lenders are concerned
24 about the viability of such providers, even though de-
25 faults have historically been low for such providers.

1 (4) In 1995 there were about 21,000,000 chil-
2 dren less than 6 years of age, of whom 31 percent
3 were participating in center-based child care services
4 and 14 percent were receiving child care in homes.
5 Between 1992 and 2005 the participation of women
6 24 to 54 years of age in the labor force is projected
7 to increase from 75 percent to 83 percent.

8 (5) In States that have set up a mechanism to
9 provide capital improvements for child care facilities,
10 the demand for services of such facilities still has
11 not been met. [In New Hampshire, a program set
12 up with a $10,000,000 grant from Providence Bank
13 received requests every 30 minutes and ran out of
14 money solely through funding rehabilitation of such
15 facilities, failing to even begin funding the construc-
16 tion of new child care facilities.]

17 (6) The United States is behind other western,
18 industrialized countries when it comes to providing
19 child care services. In France, virtually 100 percent
20 of all children 3 to 5 years of age attend nursery
21 school. In Germany this number is 65 to 70 percent.
22 In Japan 90 percent of such children attend some
23 form of preschool care. In all of these countries early
24 childhood care has proven to increase children's de-
25 velopment and performance.

1 SEC. 3. CONGRESSIONAL DECLARATION OF PURPOSE; DEF-
2 INITION; INCORPORATION.

3 (a) PURPOSE.—The Congress hereby declares that it
4 is the purpose of this Act to authorize participation of the

Evaluation of "Kiddie Mac" proposal

SUMMARY

Rep. Maloney and Rep. Baker have recently introduced a bill -- H.R. 3637 ("Kiddie Mac") -- to subsidize the supply of high-quality child care. We believe that the proposal in the President's FY 99 budget is a much more effective way of increasing the supply of high-quality, affordable child care. The need for affordable, quality child care is better met by giving subsidies directly to consumers of child care, rather than subsidizing the providers. Furthermore, the provider subsidy offered in Kiddie Mac may be particularly ineffective at increasing the supply of affordable child care. Finally, we are concerned that the bill sets a precedent for the federal government to set national standards for child care providers, a regulatory role that has traditionally been left to the states and could actually serve to limit the supply and increase the cost of child care.

THE PROPOSAL

The proposal is an amendment to the National Housing Act. In order to reduce the cost to qualifying child care providers of loans for construction or renovation, Kiddie Mac will, through HUD, offer guaranty insurance to lenders for making loans to child care facility builders and operators. This is intended to reduce the cost of loans to child care providers by reducing the risk faced by lenders. The HUD guarantee will cover no more than 90 percent of the loan, or 95 percent if the mortgage is a non-profit.

In addition, Kiddie Mac will:

- Establish a Children's Development Commission which will, in conjunction with the Secretaries of HUD and HHS, determine the laws, standards and requirements that a facility must meet, in addition to any state requirements, in order to be eligible for the federal guarantee.
- Offer "mini-loans" to qualifying child care providers to help them meet licensing requirements. These loans will be made by the Development Commission.
- Provide "reasonably priced" liability and fire insurance to qualifying providers.
- Establish and fund a foundation that will research issues in early childhood development, fund pilot programs and produce education materials.

Total lending and guarantee activity will be limited to $2 billion and will expire in 2005.

ANALYSIS

Reducing the cost of child care

The bill argues that liability and fire insurance are not available at "reasonable prices" and that the interest rates on loans are "too high". These rates are high, but there is no evidence that there is some form of market failure that causes prices to be greater than what banks need to cover their costs. The rates are high because the risks are high. Efforts to reduce these rates are designed to increase the supply of affordable child care. But, as we discuss below, subsidies to consumers are a more effective way of achieving this aim.

Will Kiddie Mac increase the supply of affordable child care?

In order for the Kiddie Mac program to reduce the costs to consumers of child care (or, analogously, in order for it to increase the “supply of affordable child care”) an affirmative answer would be needed to both of the following questions:

- Would the interest rates that banks charge child care providers fall in response to the subsidy? The federal guarantee reduces the risks to those who make loans to child care providers. If there are a large number of such lenders eligible for the government guarantee who participate in the program, then their reduced lending costs will be passed on to the child care providers in the form of lower interest rates on loans. But if only a small number of firms are eligible to make such loans or have an incentive to participate in the program, then a large portion of the government subsidy would benefit banks and other lenders rather than child care providers.

The bill stipulates that the HUD secretary must approve the lender. Even if the approval criteria are sufficiently unrestrictive that many lenders are eligible, there is reason to be concerned that few institutions will choose to participate. For example, there may be large start up costs to learning about the program or costs involved in monitoring providers to ensure that they comply with Commission standards.

- Would a reduction in provider costs have much benefit for consumers? Even if the proposed subsidies lower costs to child care providers, consumers may not benefit from these lower provider costs. Available evidence suggests this is not likely to be a problem. But if eligibility standards were made sufficiently restrictive (for example through stringent quality standards) that relatively few providers were eligible, then eligible providers would face little competition from other providers, and could pass through only a limited portion of their cost reductions to their consumers in the form of lower prices.

The uncertain answers to these questions suggest that subsidies to consumers are much more likely to be effective in increasing the supply of affordable child care than indirect subsidies to providers. Evidence that the supply of child care will respond to increases in demand at roughly current prices indicates that subsidizing consumers will decrease the cost to consumers and increase the supply of child care at these lower costs, rather than merely driving up the price of care.

If the proposal did result in an increased supply of affordable child care, what consumers would benefit?

- Reaching particular consumers. Subsidies administered to consumers can be targeted to benefit particular consumer groups, such as low-income parents. Subsidies to providers, however, even if they do result in lower costs to consumers, benefit all of the providers’ customers, regardless of income level, employment of the mother, or any other consumer characteristic.

- Likely beneficiaries are centers rather than family day care. Although in principle any provider that meets the state and Commission's standards can benefit from Kiddie Mac, in practice the federally guaranteed loans to establish and renovate facilities are likely to benefit centers disproportionately, since their operating costs are much higher than family day care homes. This creates an artificial advantage for centers -- without any evidence that center care is better for children than family day care. In addition, center care is used disproportionately by higher income parents and hence benefits would accrue disproportionately to these parents, since any consumer cost reductions benefit the families who were already purchasing the care as well as the families who now start doing so.

Improving the quality

The proposal calls for the establishment of a national Commission which, in conjunction with HUD and HHS, would determine the standards that providers must meet in order to be eligible for any of the subsidies offered by Kiddie Mac. These standards would apply in addition to any state standards.

The federal government currently does not set national standards for child care providers. In doing so, the Commission's work could undermine the goal of increasing the supply of affordable child care. Compliance with regulations can be costly, and the imposition of these federal regulations on top of existing state regulations might either impose costs that make it not worthwhile for providers to comply in order to get the Kiddie Mac benefits, or could result in providers having to raise their prices, thus counteracting the desired decrease in prices from federally guaranteed loans. Furthermore, as discussed above, the result of stringent standards and limited eligibility may be a situation in which a limited number of providers benefit without passing on much of their reduced costs to their consumers in the form of lower prices.

Additional concerns

Is the 5-10% portion of the loan that is not guaranteed the right amount? In choosing what percentage of the loan to guarantee, a tradeoff must be struck between the goal of encouraging an increase in lending and not distorting the incentives of the lenders to make good loans. In general, most government guarantee programs have addressed this tradeoff by choosing lower guarantee rates. For example, the SBA guarantees loans made to small businesses guarantees 80% of the loan if it is under $100,000 and only 75% if it is above $100,000.

Duplicating existing programs

- SBA 7(a) program. The SBA 7(a) program provides partial guarantees on loans to small businesses. Many commercial child care providers could therefore get reduced interest rates on loans for construction and renovation through this program rather than the proposed one.

- “Micro loans” by Commission. This is duplicative of SBA micro loan programs for many for-profit child care providers.

Is HUD the appropriate agency to administer the program? The loans to child care providers for construction and renovation are commercial real estate loans. It is not clear that HUD -- rather than, say, SBA, is the appropriate programmatic agency for the proposal.

Treasury Study of Secondary Markets. The proposed Treasury study of secondary markets for insured commercial real estate loans for child care and development facilities is likely to be infeasible. Due to relatively small loan volumes and geographic dispersion, a private secondary market is unlikely to develop.

COMMENTS: When I am not working on the Census...

The following is a rough draft of Carolyn's "Kiddie Mac" bill, that I mentioned to you the other week.

You said when I had something you wanted to see it. You shouldn't ask cause look what happens.

This is a really neat idea.

Carolyn, per her conversation two weeks ago on Air Force One, is drafting a letter to the President presenting the idea.

KIDDIE MAC SUMMARY

Legislation to be introduced by Rep. Carolyn Maloney (NY)

Status as of 3/16/98

GOAL: To address the unmet need for quality, affordable child care facilities, a government sponsored enterprise will be created to act as a catalyst for private-sector lending to build and develop facilities.

THE BASIC ELEMENTS:

1. Secondary Mortgage Market: Kiddie Mac will do for child care and development what Fannie Mae has done for home ownership. Kiddie Mac will purchase mortgages and then sell them to Fannie Mae who will bundle them into the securities they sell on Wall Street. This should allow Kiddie Mac to be able to take advantage of the volume of business done in the mortgage market, which leads to lower interest rates.
2. Guaranty Insurance: By offering guaranty insurance to those who lend to child care facilities, favorable terms for loans should be achieved. Currently, while the private sector appears to want to do something in this area, the perceived risk is too high. A guaranty should be enough security to spur lending with reasonable terms.
3. Micro-Loans: Besides actual facilities being built or rehabilitated, often what is needed is money for start-up costs and rent. Kiddie Mac will offer mini-loans to qualifying child care providers for such costs. Also, micro-loans can be used for a facility which needs to make certain improvements in order to become licensed.
4. Liability Insurance: In order to prevent the cost of insurance from becoming a barrier for starting a facility, Kiddie Mac will offer reasonably priced liability insurance to qualifying providers.
5. Foundation: With the money made from its other activities, Kiddie Mac will fund a foundation which will research issues in child care and development, fund pilot programs and produce educational materials and activities to guide people through the Kiddie Mac process.

SPECIAL CHARACTERISTICS OF KIDDIE MAC:

1. Capped Salary Structure for executives.
2. Annual Report and Congressional Hearings on Activities and Performance, similar to the Humphrey-Hawkins hearings the Banking committees hold with the Federal Reserve Chairman.
3. $2 billion limit on total lending and guaranty activity. If a need is found beyond this amount, Congress may increase the ceiling.

Prepared by the office of Rep. Carolyn Maloney

Common Questions about KIDDIE MAC

1. Why is Kiddie Mac Needed?

A: The United States is falling behind in meeting the needs of its children. While other countries understand the critical role that child care plays in early development, the quality and space available in this country is below acceptable and needed levels. While there is increasing demand for excellent infant care and nursery school slots in many parts of the country, the need is not being met.

2. Why a Government Sponsored Enterprise?

A: A Government Sponsored Enterprise (GSE) is chartered when there is some sort of market failure which should be addressed by a profit-seeking company, but instead there are barriers which require some initial government intervention to overcome. Child care is a perfect example of an area with just such barriers.

For whatever reason, the private sector has not been able to meet the needs of parents when it comes to providing enough quality child care and nursery schools. Some of the reasons involve the view of lenders that because of costs, loaning to child care facilities is too high a risk as an investment. Also, since these facilities are unique in the way they are built in order to meet licensing standards, the property itself is not considered flexible enough for loan risk. The result is that not enough space is available for children, most existing programs are too expensive for even working parents, and what is available is not good enough to really help in child development.

3. How would Kiddie Mac work?

A: Kiddie Mac would have two main components:

1. Secondary mortgage market-- Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have done a great job of making home ownership affordable and flexible, even during housing recessions. The reason they can do this is that by buying mortgages, bundling them, and then selling them as securities on Wall Street, is that more capital is created for home mortgages, increasing the volume of the market and keeping interest rates low. Kiddie Mac would participate in that secondary mortgage market in order to provide more capital for child care and keep interest rates for these facilities low.

2. Guaranty Insurance-- For many private lenders, they want to invest in child care but are uncomfortable with the risk. By providing guaranty insurance for mortgages, loans and some other debts, the private lenders will invest in the needs of our children.

4. What if someone just wanted to add to existing facilities or bring their buildings up to licensing standards?

A: In addition to the two components described above, Kiddie Mac will provide small facilities loans to those who wish to make improvements to their centers in order to meet licensing standards or to make improvements in their facilities which would increase the quality of the care and/or expand the number of children who could participate. In other words, a woman who is taking care of children in her house could get one of these loans to make the necessary changes to become a legitimate care facility.

5. Who will pay for Kiddie Mac?

A: After a small, initial appropriation to fund its incorporation, Kiddie Mac will offer shares for sale to various investors. This stock offering will fund Kiddie Mac through its initial inception. After that, Kiddie Mac's financial activities will make it self-financing, never costing the taxpayer anything.

6. Who can access Kiddie Mac?

A: Anyone who is currently licensed, or who can demonstrate an ability to be licensed, can access Kiddie Mac's services. This includes community organizations, not-for-profit organizations, community development financial institutions, for-profit businesses, family-home facilities, churches and employers.

7. Won't this be competing against private businesses?

A: Private businesses which want to develop child care facilities, nursery schools or after-school programs are allowed to access Kiddie Mac just like anyone else. As for private lenders, since the problem in child care has been that the needs are not being met by the open market, Kiddie Mac is needed to fill this role.

8. How about churches and synagogues... are they not allowed to access government money?

A: Kiddie Mac is a GSE and not actually government. So, if a church or synagogue or any other religious entity can qualify in terms of licensing, they can access Kiddie Mac's services.

9. But how will Kiddie Mac help address other problems with child care and child development?

A: Using some of the surplus generated by its financial activities, Kiddie Mac will fund a Foundation which will research problems in child care and child development, fund pilot programs and find ways to make the Kiddie Mac process accessible and efficient.

[INCOMPLETE DISCUSSION DRAFT]

MARCH 17, 1998

105TH CONGRESS
2D SESSIONH. R. 3637

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mrs. MALONEY of New York (for herself and) introduced
the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on

A BILL

To provide for the establishment of the Children's Development Insurance and Mortgage Corporation for the purpose of expanding the availability of child care services.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the "Kiddie Mac Act of 5 1998".

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 The Congress finds the following:

1 (1) The need for quality nursery schools, both
2 full-time and part-time child care centers, after
3 school programs, neighborhood-run mothers-day-out
4 programs, and family child care providers has grown
5 among working parents, and parents who stay at
6 home, who want their children to have access to
7 early childhood education.

8 (2) All parents in the labor force should have
9 access to safe, stimulating, and educational early
10 childhood education programs for their children,
11 whether such programs are carried out in a child
12 care center, a part-time nursery school (including a
13 nursery school operated by a religious organization),
14 or a family child care provider's home.

15 (3) The number of available enrollment oppor-
16 tunities for children to receive quality child care
17 services is not meeting the demand for such services
18 due to several factors. Child care facilities are tai-
19 lored to meet specific regulations, so banks are con-
20 cerned that if they acquire such facilities as a result
21 of foreclosure, such facilities will be unusable for
22 other purposes. Because the profit margin for child
23 care providers is so small, lenders are concerned
24 about the viability of such providers, even though de-
25 faults have historically been low for such providers.

1 (4) In 1995 there were about 21,000,000 chil-
2 dren less than 6 years of age, of whom 31 percent
3 were participating in center-based child care services
4 and 14 percent were receiving child care in homes.
5 Between 1992 and 2005 the participation of women
6 24 to 54 years of age in the labor force is projected
7 to increase from 75 percent to 83 percent.

8 (5) In States that have set up a mechanism to
9 provide capital improvements for child care facilities,
10 the demand for services of such facilities still has
11 not been met. [In New Hampshire, a program set
12 up with a $10,000,000 grant from Providence Bank
13 received requests every 30 minutes and ran out of
14 money solely through funding rehabilitation of such
15 facilities, failing to even begin funding the construc-
16 tion of new child care facilities.]

17 (6) The United States is behind other western,
18 industrialized countries when it comes to providing
19 child care services. In France, virtually 100 percent
20 of all children 3 to 5 years of age attend nursery
21 school. In Germany this number is 65 to 70 percent.
22 In Japan 90 percent of such children attend some
23 form of preschool care. In all of these countries early
24 childhood care has proven to increase children's de-
25 velopment and performance.

1 SEC. 3. CONGRESSIONAL DECLARATION OF PURPOSE; DEF-
2 INITION; INCORPORATION.

3 (a) PURPOSE.—The Congress hereby declares that it
4 is the purpose of this Act to authorize participation of the

9 poration") which will, directly or indirectly, alone or in 10 collaboration with others—

3 (d) ANNUAL ISSUANCE.—The Corporation is author-
4 ized to offer for subscription and purchase to the general
5 public during the 5 years following the incorporation of 6 the Corporation, voting common stock having an aggre-

8 SEC. 8. ISSUE OF NONVOTING STOCK AND DEBT TO THE 9 PUBLIC.

10 The Corporation may issue, without limitation as to 11 amount or restriction as to ownership, such nonvoting
12 common, preferred, and preference stock, debt, and such

18 FEDERAL PRIORITY.

19 No obligation which is insured, guaranteed, or other-
20 wise backed by the Corporation, shall be deemed to be an 21 obligation which is guaranteed by the full faith and credit
22 of the United States. No obligation which is insured, guar-
23 anteed, or otherwise backed by the Corporation shall be 24 deemed to be an obligation which is guaranteed by the 25 Federal National Mortgage Association. This section shall

1 not affect the determination of whether such obligation is
2 guaranteed for purposes of Federal income taxes.

4 STOCK; RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL.

5 (a) AUTHORITY TO SELL.—The Secretary may, at

10 stock for sale to any other person, the Secretary shall offer
11 such stock to the Federal National Mortgage Association
