Subject: POTUS Quote for IMDI

The following revised IMDI quote was suggested by Lorrie McHugh and Anne Luzzatto in consultation with Mary Ann Peters.

The relationship between the United States and Germany is a vital and productive one that encompasses many areas of joint endeavor. Together we are working to secure peace and prosperity for our peoples in an era of challenges and opportunities. I commend IMDI and its German partners for their role in strengthening the close cooperative ties between our two nations.

"The Cold War may be over, but the struggle to sustain democracy and prosperity is never done. Dear Bill:

I left a message with you last week after Dan Hamilton and I had lunch. He and I were talking about IMDI's U.S.-German initiative and I mentioned to him that we were awaiting word from Dan Tarullo regarding a quote from President Clinton we would like to include in our informational brochure.

IMDI President Don Bonker provided Dr. Tarullo with the suggested quote (attached) in early May. I know with the Denver Summit the quote was the last thing on anyone's mind, but I hope that someone can give me guidance on we can follow-up on this request. All elements of the brochure are ready to go to the printer except the quote.

President Clinton has provided quotes to us in the past, as we are a non-profit educational institute dedicated to promoting business-government cooperation and understanding across the Atlantic. Dr. Tarullo and Mr. Bonker know each other and we were honored to feature Dr. Tarullo at our annual meeting last April.

Please let me know if I can provide additional information.

I would appreciate you counsel and advice.

Sincerely,

Sabine Schleidt
Executive Vice President

As we discussed, attached is Tanullo's request for a quote. It seems fine to us. My only question is that our quote is exactly what they have drafted -- cheapens it a little.
Do you run this by NSC?

Let me know. Thanks,

Phil
