My dear Mr. President:

As the recipient of many letters of this kind I should be, but am surely not, an expert on their proper composition.

Firstly, I thank you for your assistance and that of your New Jersey Chairman, Thomas Kean. Would that New Jersey had been able to retain its history for delivering electoral votes to Presidents-elect.

You have truly served the nation well in one of its most severe constitutional crises. I am confident that history will reserve for you a special place in view of your unselfish and farsighted leadership. Some of your actions undoubtedly were unpopular but right - the nation was well served by them.

If I can be of service in the future, you need only ask.

Respectfully yours,

David F. Norcross

My dear Mr. President:

As the recipient of many letters of this kind I should be, but am surely not, an expert on their proper composition.

Firstly, I thank you for your assistance and that of your New Jersey Chairman, Thomas Keen. Would that New Jersey had been able to retain its history for delivering electoral votes to President-elect.

You have truly served the nation well in one of its most severe constitutional crises. I am confident that history will reserve for you a special place in view of your unselfish and far-sighted leadership. Some of your actions undoubtedly were unpopular but right - the nation was well served by them.

If I can be of service in the future, you need only ask.

Respectfully yours,
