Dear Mr. Prime Minister:

It is my privilege and my great pleasure to introduce my good friend Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller who, as my personal representative, is visiting all of the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean except Cuba. The purpose of his mission is to listen to and consult with national leaders concerning the development of common goals and joint programs of action, looking toward the strengthening of Hemisphere unity and the acceleration of the pace of economic and social progress. Governor Rockefeller brings to his important task long years of substantive experience and deep personal interest in Latin America and high stature in government, politics and business in his own country.

It was because of my deep belief in the importance of the special relationship that exists between the United States and the other American countries that I invited Governor Rockefeller to undertake this mission. I consider the problems of the Hemisphere to be of the highest priority and I am desirous of increasing the effectiveness of our cooperation with our sister nations in the Western Hemisphere and of our support for common objectives. It is in this spirit that Governor Rockefeller has generously acceded to my request that he consult with you and your fellow chiefs of state on problems and matters of mutual concern.

I am confident, Your Excellency, that as a result of Governor Rockefeller's consultations with you there will flow even greater understanding between our two countries. I also expect that this understanding will serve as the basis for the formulation of mutually beneficial policies looking toward the strengthening of our traditional ties of friendship and of our cooperation in the development of a better life for all of the people of the Hemisphere.

Sincerely,

The Right Honorable
Hugh Lawson Shearer, P. C.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. HENRY A. KISSINGER

Subject: Negotiations with Jamaica for an

By memoranda dated February 20 and March 20, we informed you of the commencement and suspension of negotiations with the Government of Jamaica for a bilateral civil air transport services agreement. As previously agreed, the negotiations will be resumed July 28 in Kingston, Jamaica.

MEMORANDUM

United States - Jamaica Air Transport Negotiations

Background

Prior to Jamaican independence in 1962, air service to and through Jamaica by US airlines was operated pursuant to the provisions of the agreements on air transport services in effect between the US and the United Kingdom. Upon independence, the Government of Jamaica assumed the pertinent international civil aviation rights and obligations of the UK. Immediately thereafter, the US and Jamaican governments, by an exchange of notes, agreed that the US-UK air transport agreements would continue to be applicable to the operation of scheduled air services between the United States and Jamaica, pending the conclusion of a new agreement between the two governments. Bilateral aviation discussions were held in the Fall of 1963, but the USG was not prepared to conclude a new agreement at that time.

Until the beginning of this year, air services were maintained without serious problem within the provisions of the 1962 interim agreement. Two recent developments, however, have made imperative the conclusion of a new agreement reflecting current conditions. In late 1968 the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) awarded additional Jamaica operating authority to Pan American Airways and Delta Air Lines, the US carriers now serving Jamaica, and awarded entirely new rights to Eastern Air Lines and Caribair. While the US Government has taken the position that some of the new services could be introduced under the terms of the existing interim agreement, the Government of Jamaica is of a contrary opinion and, as a result, none of the newly authorized service has been inaugurated.

Secondly, Air Jamaica, with the assistance of Air Canada, has recently been totally reorganized and re-equipped and has plans for additional services to the US for which inter-governmental agreement is lacking.

Bilateral talks were conducted in the Spring of this year with a view to concluding a new agreement, but the Government of Jamaica was not fully prepared to conclude an agreement at that time. The talks were suspended with some preliminary agreement reached on the understanding that they would be resumed at an early date.

Probable Issues and US Position

We will seek route rights to permit the US airlines fully to implement their CAB authority, and we will press for continued freedom of the airlines from unilateral governmental control of services. We have little information about the extent of route rights the Jamaicans will request, but we know from the Spring round of talks that, while anxious to maximize tourist travel, they are likely to demand an agreement whose terms will protect the new Air Jamaica from US competition on some routes.

BACKGROUND

Prime Minister Shearer will be on an informal visit to Washington following a visit to several European countries and Zambia. He is one of the principal leaders in the English-speaking Caribbean. Under Shearer's leadership, Jamaica enjoys economic growth and wants to become an associated overseas territory of the European Common Market while, at the same time, expanding its relationship with the inter-American system. Jamaica is one of the most important countries in the Caribbean and we would like to see Shearer play a constructive leadership role in the area, particularly in economic integration terms. We have one potential problem that may prove troublesome, viz., Jamaica's interest in obtaining a larger share of the taxes paid by the U.S. bauxite companies in Jamaica, which supply more than half of U.S. bauxite imports.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Henry A. Kissinger K

SUBJECT: Request for Appointment by Jamaican Prime Minister

In the memo at Tab A the Acting Secretary of State recommends that you receive the Jamaican Prime Minister, Hugh L. Shearer, for a brief courtesy call during the period October 13-14, 1969. The Prime Minister asked to meet you at your convenience during this period when he will be on an informal visit to Washington following a trip to several European countries and Zambia. He was last in Washington in October 1967 under similar circumstances following a visit to the European Common Market countries. At that time he was given a visit with President Johnson.

Jamaica is one of the important countries in the Caribbean, and Shearer is one of the principal leaders in the English-speaking Caribbean. We would like to see him play a constructive leadership role in the area, particularly in economic integration terms, and we would like to keep close and cooperative relationships with Jamaica. We have one potential problem that may prove troublesome, viz., Jamaica's interest in obtaining a larger share of the taxes paid by the U.S. bauxite companies in Jamaica, which supply more than half of U.S. bauxite imports.

I believe that a short meeting with you would be most helpful in furthering good relationships.

Recommendation:

I recommend that you grant a courtesy call to Jamaican Prime Minister Hugh L. Shearer during the period October 13-24, 1969.

Discussion:

Prime Minister Hugh L. Shearer of Jamaica has expressed a desire to meet you at your convenience sometime during the third or fourth week in October while on an informal visit to Washington following a visit to several European countries and Zambia. Shearer is one of the principal leaders in the English-speaking Caribbean.

Under Shearer's leadership, Jamaica continues to enjoy economic growth and development progress. Jamaica is active in the UN and in August became the 24th member of the OAS. A current dilemma, and the main reason for Prime Minister Shearer's European trip, is Jamaica's desire to become an associated overseas territory of the European Common Market

(should the UK join) while at the same time expanding its new relationship with the inter-American system. An emerging U.S./Jamaican problem which is likely to be with us for some time, and to have broad implications, is Jamaica's interest in obtaining a larger share of the taxes paid by the U.S. bauxite companies in Jamaica, which supply more than half of U.S. bauxite imports.

Shearer last visited Washington in October 1967 under similar circumstances following a visit to several European Common Market countries. At that time he was accorded a visit with President Johnson. A short meeting with you would further our good relationship with Jamaica.

Dear Rita:

Thank you for your recent letter concerning the possibility of an appointment with the President for Prime Minister Hugh Shearer of Jamaica. As you know, the President was scheduled to see him some weeks ago. Since that time, the President's schedule has become increasingly heavy and I am not certain if it could be worked out before the end of the year. In any event, if the Prime Minister still desires to see the President, the request should be made through official channels.

Dear Dwight:

Thanks very much for arranging a date for Prime Minister Hugh Shearer from Jamaica. I am sorry the 20th was not good for him, as it is a national Jamaican holiday.

I saw Hugh yesterday in New York, and he expressed his very keen hope that another date with the President can be worked out. He will fly up from Jamaica to make it. I trust you are in touch with the Jamaican Embassy on this, and I would appreciate your letting me know when another date is made so that I can call Hugh directly in Kingston.

I am very appreciative of your assistance on this.

Subject: Scheduled Courtesy Call on the President
by Jamaican Prime Minister Shearer

On September 24, 1969, William Watts informed me that the President had agreed to receive Prime Minister Shearer of Jamaica on October 20, 1969.

On September 30, 1969, Jamaican Ambassador Richardson telephoned, most apologetically, to say that unbeknownst to his Embassy, which had given the Department a range of acceptable dates (October 13 to October 24), October 20 was a day on which Prime Minister Shearer had uncancellable commitments in Jamaica (a new National Heritage/National Heroes Day). Therefore, reluctantly, the Prime Minister had asked that his appointment with the President be postponed. Ambassador Richardson had no range of new dates convenient for the Prime Minister but hoped to have it "within a day or two."

MEMORANDUM FOR: The President

Prime Minister Hugh Shearer of Jamaica was exceptionally pleased about his meeting with you this morning. I had occasion to be seated alongside him at luncheon. He told me that his meeting with you was so successful that he would leave for Jamaica with a feeling of "mission accomplished." He referred to you as "relaxed, relevant and positive."

He mentioned specifically your responsiveness on the matter of a Caribbean policy for the United States. I got the impression that he feels he may have been present at a small historical watershed. He is naturally delighted at the prospect of your visit next year.

All in all, Prime Minister Shearer's reaction was so strongly favorable that I thought you should know about it.

Dear Mr. Prime Minister:

It was especially gratifying to me that we could arrange to meet during your recent visit to Washington. I enjoyed seeing you and I was particularly pleased to have the opportunity to discuss our mutual interests.

The exceptionally handsome gifts you so thoughtfully brought to Mrs. Nixon and me are gracious symbols of the cordial relations which exist between the peoples of our two countries. This magnificent humidor of cigars, and the splendid vase and salad bowls, will long remind us of your kindness as well.

With warm personal regards,

Sincerely,

Richard Nixon

Dear Bud:

It is easy to understand your pride in the success of the Independence City housing project in Jamaica -- and I share your admiration for your fine constituent, Mr. P. L. Greenawalt, President of the Kissell Company, for his persistent efforts to see it realized.

Mr. Greenawalt can indeed derive great satisfaction in a project that represents the creative blending of private and public energies under the Agency for International Development's Housing Guarantee Program. It is a fine example of how much this program can accomplish, and an inspiration for other fellow citizens to follow.

I hope that you will convey my personal appreciation to Mr. Greenawalt and to all who worked with him. Their efforts are in the finest tradition of our free enterprise system.

C. C. CAMPBELL,
Governor-General.

WHEREAS it is manifestly the desire of the people of Jamaica, continuing in the tradition of their forbears, to give thanks for blessings received and to pray for the continuation of these blessings:

AND WHEREAS it is deemed fit that a day be set aside for the offering of special prayers of thanks for favours already received and supplication for continued blessing on this country and its people:

AND WHEREAS on the 5th day of February, 1970 the Prime Minister of Jamaica, the Right Honourable Hugh Lawson Shearer, Privy Councillor, announced in Parliament that it had been decided, after consultations with the spiritual leaders of the Churches of Jamaica, that the Sunday immediately preceding National Heroes' Day would be appropriate for such a purpose but should not be a Public General Holiday:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, CLIFFORD CLARENCE CAMPBELL, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Knight Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order, Governor-General of Jamaica, DO HEREBY PROCLAIM that Sunday the 18th day of October, 1970 shall be a day of National Thanksgiving and shall be designated NATIONAL THANKSGIVING DAY and that thereafter the Sunday immediately preceding NATIONAL HEROES' DAY shall be so designated and observed.

INTRODUCTORY PRAYER

On this National Day of Prayer and Thanksgiving, we thank Thee Heavenly Father, for Thy guiding light, for the loving protection of Thy Mighty Hand, for Thy countless mercies and favours.

As we pause with grateful hearts to ponder anew our duties and responsibilities we humbly ask for pardon for our many sins and offences against justice and truth, and our many sins against our neighbour.

Eternal Father we ask Thee for wisdom, strength and courage, and above all for that brotherly love which alone can bind us together into one people: through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

LITANY (1)

We pray for the continual preservation in this land we love of our right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness: LORD, HEAR OUR PRAYER,

Response: "And let our cry come unto Thee"

We pray that our Governor-General, our Prime Minister, Members of Cabinet, the Leader of the Opposition and all representatives of the people may have wisdom in knowing, courage in accomplishing, and dedication in fulfilling the responsibilities of their office: LORD, HEAR OUR PRAYER,

Response: "And let our cry come unto Thee"

We pray that our fields and our flocks may abound with fruitful blessing for the well-being of all our people: LORD HEAR OUR PRAYER,

Response: "And let our cry come unto Thee"

We pray that just economic policies may bring a greater share of material blessing and joy to everyone in our land: LORD HEAR OUR PRAYER,

Response: "And let our cry come unto Thee"

LITANY (2)

That all of us may find unity and peace in the awareness of our common dignity as children of the same heavenly Father: LET US PRAY TO THE LORD,

Response: "Hear us O Lord"

That all of us may learn to respect each other's rights and co-operate with one another to relieve the lot of the oppressed and the poor among us: LET US PRAY TO THE LORD,

That as a Nation we may preserve our calling to be witnesses of God's love and redeeming grace for all mankind: LET US PRAY TO THE LORD,

Response: "Hear us O Lord"

That we may ever remember that we have not here a lasting city but look for one that is to come: LET US PRAY TO THE LORD,

Response: "Hear us O Lord"

HYMN NO. 1

PRAISE MY SOUL THE KING OF HEAVEN

Praise my soul, the King of heaven,
To his feet thy tribute bring;
Ransomed, healed, restored, forgiven,
Who like thee His praise should sing?
Praise Him! Praise Him!
Praise the everlasting King!

Praise Him for His grace and favour
To our fathers in distress;
Praise Him still the same forever,
Slow to chide, and swift to bless:
Praise Him! praise Him!
Glorious in His faithfulness!

Angels, help us to adore Him,
Ye behold Him face to face;
Sun and moon, bow down before Him,
Dwellers all in time and space:
Praise Him! praise Him!
Praise with us the God of grace! Amen.

HYMN NO. 2

WORSHIP, HONOUR, GLORY, BLESSING.

WORSHIP, honour, glory, blessing,
Lord, we offer to Thy Name;
Young and old, their praise expressing,
Join Thy goodness to proclaim.

As the saints in heaven adore Thee,
We would bow before Thy throne;
As Thine angels serve before Thee,
So on earth Thy will be done. Amen.

HYMN NO. 3

DEAR LORD AND FATHER OF MANKIND

Dear Lord and Father of mankind,
Forgive our foolish ways;
Reclothe us in our rightful mind;
In purer lives Thy service find,
In deeper reverence praise.

In simple trust like theirs who heard,
Beside the Syrian Sea,
The gracious calling of the Lord,
Let us, like them, without a word,
Rise up and follow Thee.

Drop Thy still dews of quietness,
Till all our strivings cease;
Take from our souls the strain and stress,
And let our ordered lives confess
The beauty of Thy peace.

Breathe through the pulses of desire
Thy coolness and Thy balm;
Let sense be dumb, its heats expire:
Speak through the earthquake, wind and fire,
O still small voice of calm! Amen.

HYMN NO. 4

POUR DOWN THY SPIRIT

POUR down thy Spirit from above,
And bid all strife and discord cease,
Join heart to heart in mutual love,
O reign among us, Prince of Peace.

If in the souls where love should be
Arise the storm of fierce self-will,
Calm Thou that troubled, angry sea,
Speak to the tempest, "Peace be still".

If rude reproach be o'er us flung,
And slander wound as with a sword,
Rule Thou the unruly answering tongue,
And silence every vengeful word.

Whene'er in this wild world we meet
Unkindly deeds that anger move,
Teach us forgiveness,—triumph sweet,
To conquer evil will with love.

In every land, in every home,
In every heart let love increase;
Let love proclaim Thy kingdom come,
O reign among us, Prince of Peace. Amen.

HYMN NO. 5

NOW THANK WE ALL OUR GOD

Now thank we all our God,
With hearts and hands and voices,
Who wondrous things hath done,
In whom His world rejoices;
Who from our mother's arms,
Hath blessed us on our way
With countless gifts of love,
And still is ours today.

O may this bounteous God
Through all our life be near us,
With ever joyful hearts
And blessed peace to cheer us;
And keep us in His grace,
And guide us when perplexed,
And free us from all ills
In this world and the next. Amen.

Dear Mr. Ambassador:

Your request that the President sign a photograph of their August 11 meeting to Prime Minister Shearer, Hugh has been set in motion. While election year activities are likely to delay getting the picture off to you until after November 5, when the President will be back from California, I promise that we will put it through as soon as possible.

As soon as I have the photographs, we will compare them with any that may have been taken during the Prime Minister's visit to the White House over the weekend in order to make certain that we have selected the best one for you.

Washington would appear to be startlingly similar to Kingston in regard to the bureaucrats, but sometimes here we mistake our adversaries for windmills, or windmills for our colleagues, and the tilting leaves all of us at least slightly askew. It was a great pleasure to meet you and to see Ken again last summer. I hope you will let me know if there is anything beside the picture that I can do to help out.

SUBJECT: Ambassador de Roulet and the Jamaican Development Commission X

Amie

After our meeting with Ambassador de Roulet on November 25 he had a meeting with Ambassador Bernbaum and members of the Commission. It is my understanding that this meeting went well and that de Roulet and Bernbaum hit it off together. Bernbaum apparently played it very low key, which appealed to de Roulet. They agreed that the name of the game is to find something that will (a) satisfy the most pressing aspirations of the Jamaicans without getting us involved in any long term commitments.

I do not think any further action is necessary at this time.

Dear General Haig:

Following our telephone conversation yesterday, I will be in your office on Wednesday, the 25th, at 2:00 p.m. I would appreciate enough time with the proper people so that we can come to some definitive answers for my area lest we blow the last friend we have in the English-speaking Caribbean with bungling bureaucracy.

Further, I enclose an airgram that is being pouched through regular channels today, but I suggest that you or your staff study it as it clearly indicates the real possibility of a change of government here in Jamaica. One of the problems that I would like to discuss with you is the long term results of such a change.

As you can imagine, I look forward to seeing you.

Yours very truly,

General Election in Jamaica - Prediction: A Close
Race, but likelihood of PNP Government
Kingston 2682

As reported in the referenced telegram, a general election must be held in Jamaica under the Jamaican constitution by May 24, 1972, and, as a practical matter, before the end of February 1972. However, there are indications that it might be held earlier, perhaps in late February 1971. A brief outline is presented by parish of the Embassy Political Officer's current prediction of the outcome of the next general election for the 53-member Jamaican House of Representatives, should the poll be held in late February 1971. The popular vote, almost evenly divided in Jamaica, is not really too significant, as control of the Government goes to the party with a majority in the House, the minimum for control being 27 seats. (The Senate is appointed, 13 members by the party which holds a majority in the House, and 9 by the Opposition.)

The predictions are predicated on an analysis of the voting pattern in the February 1967 general election and the March 1969 local government election. The latter provided a fair measurement of trends, even though somewhat fewer persons participated.

Had seats in the House of Representatives been based on the results of the local government elections of March 1969, on a constituency basis, the People's National Party would have won with 28 seats, and control of the Government. The JLP would have had 25 seats. Tables for these elections are enclosed, as well as lists of likely candidates for the next general election.

The average Jamaican is active, vocal, and interested in politics, but often more in personalities than in issues. The issue through which the JLP gained power in 1962, non-participation in the West Indies Federation, is no longer of much consequence. However, the high cost of living, a general feeling of a "need for a change," unemployment and rumors of graft and "victimization" are of some importance, as is some sympathy vote for the PNP because of the death of its founder last year, Norman W. Manley, father of Michael Manley, the current Leader of the Opposition.

While no one can be certain of results, it is a useful exercise to make a prediction at this time. Stirring these elements together, adding current attitudes and problems, mixing in a dash of eye of newt and wing of bat, the following concoction emerges:

Kingston and St. Andrew: JLP (3), PNP (8). Comment? Well-entrenched JLP Minister Wilton Hill (Housing and Public Utilities) and Edward Seaga (Finance and Planning) will win handily, but their neighbor, Speaker of the House E. C. L. Parkinson, will lose. Parkinson will be hurt by the migration of many of his supporters from his constituency due to the availability of inexpensive government housing in the adjoining constituency. Florizel Glasspole, representing Eastern Kingston and Port Royal for the PNP, will win by a three-to-one majority.

The JLP's Parliamentary Secretary in the Ministry of Trade and Industry, David Lindo, will lose to Senator Eric Bell by a narrow margin. The growing middle-class vote in East Rural St. Andrew is solidly behind Bell, a popular Mayor of Kingston a year ago. The Elleston Flats Housing Project is swinging away from Lindo, whose main strength is the rural hillside area of the constituency.

In Central Kingston, where Michael Manley won by only 43 votes in 1967, but where the PNP won by 548 votes in the local government elections in March 1969, Manley will prevail by a slightly greater margin. The JLP will retain West Rural St. Andrew by a small margin, now represented by Emile Joseph, even though the PNP prevailed in the 1969 local election. The PNP's Allan Isaacs, Keble Munn, and Dr. Kenneth McNeil will win by safe majorities, and the PNP shadow finance minister, Party Chairman David Coore, will win with a reduced majority.

In the parish of St. Thomas, Minister of Labour Newland, Minister of Trade and Industry Lightbourne, and MP Adrian Bonner will win handily, giving three seats to the JLP.

In the adjoining parish of Portland, Eastern Portland will be retained by the PNP by a very narrow margin, and Western Portland by the JLP by a strong majority.

In St. Mary, which presently provides three seats for the JLP and one for the PNP, there will be a shift to two each. JLP MP's Alva Ross and Wycliffe Martin will retain their seats, as will the PNP's Noel Silvera. However, the JLP's T. M. Forrest will lose his seat in Western St. Mary.

St. Ann will retain three seats for the PNP and one for the JLP, that of the Parliamentary Secretary in the Ministry of External Affairs, Dr. Neville Gallimore.

In Trelawny, the present incumbents, JLP Minister of Youth and Community Development A. M. Douglas and the PNP's Albert Belinfanti, will retain Northern and Southern Trelawny respectively, although Douglas will barely make it.

In St. James, the PNP's Howard Cook will retain his seat. The JLP candidate, Tony Hart, who is replacing the retiring Minister of Health, Dr. Herbert Eldemire, will barely retain that seat for the JLP, but the JLP's Robert McFarlane will lose his seat in Southeastern St. James to a young and popular rural physician from the area.

In Hanover, Arnold "Dirty Shirt" Jackson will retain his seat for the JLP in Eastern Hanover, but the JLP's Cleveland Stanhope will lose in Western Hanover. The JLP vote will be split by an independent candidate (Dixon) who ran for the JLP some years ago. A popular local preacher in the area will win Western Hanover for the PNP.

In Westmoreland, the PNP will retain the three seats they now hold and win in Northeastern Westmoreland as well, ousting the JLP's Esme Grant, Parliamentary Secretary in the Ministry of Labour and National Insurance. The energies of the dynamic PNP MP in the adjoining constituency, P. J.

Patterson, have generally improved the outlook for his party in Western Jamaica.

In St. Elizabeth, both parties will retain two seats each by healthy margins.

In Manchester, the same pattern will prevail -- two seats for each party. (The brother of the Leader of the Opposition, Douglas Manley, will lose in Southern Manchester in his first bid in politics.)

In Clarendon, the present five-seat heartland of JLP power, the JLP will lose one seat, South Central Clarendon, presently held by Dudley McKinley. The parish will provide four seats for the JLP (but with lower margins) and one for the PNP.

In St. Catherine, another five-seat JLP parish, the JLP will lose the seat held by the Attorney General, Victor Grant, in Southern St. Catherine as well as Western St. Catherine. Overall, there will be three seats for the JLP and two seats for the PNP.

These predictions add up to 29 seats for the PNP and 24 for the JLP. The PNP will thus have a majority of five seats in the House of Representatives and control of the Government of Jamaica.

Are there any "holes" in this presentation? Of course. Several borderline constituencies could go either way. Eastern Portland could go JLP, Central St. James could go PNP, East Rural St. Andrew could go JLP and West Rural PNP. Northern St. Catherine could fall to the PNP, as could Northern Trelawny, but North Eastern Westmoreland and South Central Clarendon might stay in the JLP column. Balanced out, this still provides 29 seats for the PNP and 24 for the JLP.

It goes without saying that many intervening factors could change the cast of the foregoing, including a delay in the election. One of real importance would be the addition of new constituency seats by the JLP Government, subdividing "safe" seats so as to increase their strength. (Seven more seats are available under the Constitution.) However, the Leader of the Opposition cautioned the Government on this subject in his party campaign speech of October 25 (Kingston 2699, paragraph 4) when he said: "I warn this country solemnly and with due consideration that if the Government of Jamaica is allowed to play such havoc with either voter registration or the gerrymandering of constituency boundaries, or both, as to make it impossible for a peaceful change of government, no matter how great the legitimate majority, I will take counsel with my colleagues as to whether the time has not come to put aside for the time being the politics that we have known and to substitute the politics of confrontation, for so long as it takes to restore sanity and democratic justice to the political system." A few days later the Party Chairman, barrister David Coore, publicly stated that in the foregoing statement no threat of physical upheaval was implied. Coore related that merely civil disobedience and passive resistance as espoused by M. K. Gandhi and M. L. King was possible. (Coore made a similar explanatory statement last year when Manley made nearly the same remarks).

The method of carving constituency boundaries in Jamaica is interesting. The total electorate (not total population) is divided by the number of constituencies to arrive at a figure of number of voters per member of Parliament. Any constituency can deviate from 50% more than this figure to 33 1/3% less. Thus it is possible for one member of Parliament (House of Representatives) to represent as much as 83 1/3% more voters than another. This disparity obviously provides an opportunity for the party in power to outline constituency boundaries to its advantage.

It is reasonable to assume that there has been some advantage for the JLP as the Chief Electoral Officer is the brother of the JLP Minister of Communications and Works. The Minister spent some time in the Jamaica penitentiary for fraud a few years ago, and he is also overly influenced by the JLP Minister of Home Affairs, according to the Chief Electoral Officer's most senior subordinates. However, whether or not such special advantages will be sufficient to give the election to the JLP, it is too early to tell.

In closing, a recent remark of the French Ambassador to Jamaica is cogent: that whether the JLP or PNP prevail, it is "merely a matter of Tweedledum or Tweedledee." We don't think so. There is a difference, but the Embassy has covered its bets by developing close and very cordial relations with the Opposition so that should the PNP come to power, the new Ministers of Government will not be strangers to us. In fact, the Embassy should have considerable rapport with a PNP cabinet, at least as much as it has with the JLP cabinet.
