Harriet:

Help!

Do you know the identity of the attendees at the private dinner on the 27th of Jan?

The Usher's Logis handwritten and difficult to decipher. It lists:

- Mr. and Mrs. George Shultz
- Sec and Mrs. Rogers
- Sec and Mrs. Kennedy
- Mr. and Mrs. P. Peterson ???
- Mr. and Mrs. C. Martinson ???

I'm not sure of the spelling of the last one.

(No problems with the first three names)

FOR DWIGHT CHAPIN

John Ehrlichman asked that I relay the following information to you from Secretary Romney:

"That a dinner date be fixed for the April meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Center for Voluntary Action and that the announcement of the new President's appointment occur at that time. Also, to make the dinner guest list include heads of foundations and corporations and individuals who are likely to be major contributors to the National Center. It would be helpful for them to know of the President's great interest in this program.

January 28, 1971

MEMORANDUM FOR H. R. HALDEMAN

FROM Rose Mary Woods

The President some time ago wrote a memorandum saying that he would like to invite Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Wallace to spend one night in the White House.

Hobe Lewis has talked with me concerning the fact that Reader's Digest will celebrate its 50th Anniversary on February 1st, 1972. He is hoping that the President might be willing to give a dinner at the White House in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace in late January or early February 1972.

Also, he wondered about the possibility of the President giving consideration to presenting DeWitt Wallace with the Freedom Medal for his services to the country.

I think both of the above ideas are excellent -- and if the President agrees that would be the time to have the Wallaces spend the night in the White House.

Please advise your feelings.

February 15, 1971

FOR: DR. HENRY A. KISSINGER

FROM: DWIGHT L. CHAPIN

As you are aware from Mr. Haldeman's memorandum of February 9th, the President wishes to host a dinner for the European Ambassadors and also one for Asian Ambassadors later this year. His thought is to have one dinner in October and one in November.

Could we please have a recommendation from you as to which group should be set for October and which for November, and whether or not the above is agreeable or whether some other dates should be considered.

Thank you.

MEMORANDUM FOR: ALEX BUTTERFIELD
FROM: H. R. HALDEMAN

While talking with someone at the Diplomatic Reception last night, the President agreed to give dinners this Fall for the European Ambassadors and for the Asian Ambassadors.

As you know, we have already done the Africans. We will be doing the Latins in April and he wants to do the other two groups this Fall -- one in October and the other in November. This should be included in our long-range planning.

FROM:

DWIGHT L. CHAPIN

Will you call right away to Secretary Stans' office and tell her something has come up on the President's calendar -- that we need to move the dinner from Thursday, March 18 to Thursday, March 25. Explain to them that this may work better in the long run for them since the GOP Fund Raising event is on the evening of March 24. Those men who are coming in can stay over and have their briefings the next day and then have dinner with the President the night of the 25th. We should make that call right away and you should let me know what the situation is on it.

Attached is a catalog on the exhibition currently at the Toledo Museum of Art. This is the exhibit for which the President and the President of Italy are serving as high patrons. In view of the upcoming dinner honoring the Prime Minister of Italy I thought you might be interested in the catalog.

The exhibit opened at the Chicago Art Institute last September 16, then went to the Minneapolis Art Institute and closes in Toledo on March 21.

John Canaday, Art Critic of the New York Times praised the show referring to "...the prize loans from Italy that have never been shown in this country."

The Italian Ambassador to the United States attended the opening of the exhibit, as did Mr. Taldi from Rome, who is in charge of museums there. I understand the Italians are very pleased.

I met with Cap Weinberger, and discussed a Presidential dinner in San Francisco hosted by Ronald Reagan. Cap thinks it would be a good idea.

It could be given a non-partisan flavor for Revenue Sharing, although it might be worked through a joint effort of the Commonwealth Club and the Chamber of Commerce. The man to work with is Ed Meese, the Governor's Executive Secretary.

He suggests that people like Sweig (who owns the Fairmont Hotel) and Knowland and others could be included, and it could be made a dinner for the San Francisco, Oakland and Bay Area.

Apparently the Commonwealth Club is non-partisan but gets primarily GOP contributors.

What kind of other information did you want from me on this matter?

MEMORANDUM FOR H.R. HALDEMAN

FROM: PETER M. FLANIGAN

1. You may be aware that the New York Post is for sale. Apparently, Mrs. ^XSchiff has decided the time has come for her to sell out. Jack Whitney has looked at the paper, but due to the fact that he's now 65, he has decided he doesn't want to take another flyer in the newspaper business.

The paper is apparently profitable and has a brand new and highly modern printing plant.

If there is to be another New York answer to the Times, it would certainly help to have this paper in friendly hands. As the only afternoon paper in the city of New York, it should have a profit potential. It may be that you know someone who would like to take this "thorn from our side" and turn it into a political asset.

2. I continue to urge through Dwight Chapin that the practice of stag dinners be reestablished. The scheduled dinner for financial supporters is a step in the right direction. However, this does not help us spread out beyond those who are already, or were, our supporters.

MEMORANDUM FOR: MR. ALEXANDER P. BUTTERFIELD
FROM: DWIGHT L. CHAPIN

Last night John Nidecker and Bill Gifford both were at the White House dinner representing the Congressional Liaison Office. Their responsibility, according to the information I received, was to look after various Congressional guests and make sure that they were rotated around to meet Members of the Cabinet and other senior-type people who were in attendance.

Last night the case was evidently special in that Nidecker was training Gifford. The point which I have been asked to relay is that only one representative from the Congressional Office should be in attendance. There will be obvious occasions when there should be two -- such as last night. But generally the rule should be only one person from the Congressional Office. I do know that Gifford had his wife along. I am not sure that this should be part of the procedure. Perhaps it should be?

Dwight
(Feb 19)

The rule is only one person.
As you, yourself say in this memo,
last night was an exceptional occasion in that Gifford was being broken in. Gifford should not have had his wife there & yes, it is a rule that wives of workers do not attend.

Dear Bob:

Pursuant to our telephone conversation last evening I have included the attached domestic background material. I hope it will be of some use to you. We talked today to Bill Faith's office in California. He advised that biographical information on all of the attending Governors had been sent to Mort Lachman. Final arrangements for picking you up at the airport will be made once you have advised Lucy Winchester's office of your arrival time. As I mentioned last night it would be most beneficial if you could stop in at the rehearsal in the East Room of the White House sometime after 1:30 p.m. on February 23. Mark Goode who works in the television area here at the White House and has substantial industry credits will be available to you during the day. He could most certainly be of help with regard to setting the final format for the evening's entertainment. As discussed the tentative format is as follows:

1. President's Opening Remarks
2. "Up with People" approximately twenty minutes
3. "Up with People intro Bob Hope (Thanks for the Memories)
4. Bob Hope monologue
5. "Up with People" finale (if you feel it is suitable you could participate in the finale)

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

William Carruthers

SUBJECT: White House dinner for Apollo 14 Astronauts

I have been informed by General Hughes that his office is now in possession of 12 Congressional Space Medals of Honor which the President might wish to award to the Apollo 14 astronauts when they are entertained at the White House on March 1. It also occurs to me that this dinner might be an appropriate occasion for presenting our new NASA Administrator, James Fletcher. I understand that Fletcher's final clearance should be completed by February 23. He could be announced immediately or the announcement could be delayed until the dinner as you deem appropriate.

WASHINGTON

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN...

DINNER IN HONOR OF
APOLLO XIV ASTRONAUTS
CAPTAIN ALAN B. SHEPARD, JR.
CAPTAIN EDGAR D. MITCHELL
LT. COLONEL STUART A. ROOSA

The White House
March 1, 1971
8:00 p.m.

Dress: Black tie ... long dresses for the ladies

Astronauts' Arrival:

- 8:00 p.m....the Astronauts, their wives, and parents arrive North Portico Entrance...no press coverage.
- Parents of the Astronauts and Mrs. Laura Shepard Snyder (23 year old married daughter of Captain Alan Shepard) escorted to the State Dining Room.
- Astronauts and their wives escorted to the Yellow Oval Room.

Yellow Oval Room Group:

- Captain and Mrs. Alan B. Shepard, Jr., Captain and Mrs. Edgar D. Mitchell, Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Stuart A. Roosa (Mitchell a new Navy Captain and Roosa a new Air Force Lt. Col.)

Grand Entrance:

- At approximately 8:10 p.m., you, Mrs. Nixon, the Astronauts and their wives descend the Grand Staircase ... no colors.
- Pause briefly at foot of Staircase for official photographs.
- Proceed to red carpet facing the State Dining Room ... you will be announced and then as "Hail to the Chief" is played, you proceed with your guests diagonally across the State Dining Room to a position in front of the fireplace.

Receiving Line:

- Take position in front of fireplace ... you, Mrs. Nixon, Captain and Mrs. Shepard, Captain and Mrs. Mitchell, Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Roosa.
- After Receiving Line, follow guests into the East Room.

Dinner:

- Round Tables -- East Room
 - Army Chorus will sing during main course.
 - Strolling Strings will play during dessert.
 - When Strolling Strings leave East Room, you proceed to the platform at North end and invite the three Astronauts to come stand with you. Then you may want to introduce (by asking them to rise in place) the parents of the Astronauts. If you want to introduce the children, or at least mention them, they will be at a table near the platform with Tricia and Julie.
 - Following introductions, you make golfing award to Captain Shepard. (A scroll or placque is being prepared.)
 - Next, the NASA Distinguished Service Medals will be presented to the Astronauts. Honorable William A. Anders, Executive Secretary of the National Aeronautics and Space Council will be on hand at this time to read the citations and you will present each Medal after each citation has been read. Col. Coffey will assist.
 - After the three Medals have been presented, invite each Astronaut to speak ... preferably in inverse order of rank (Roosa, Mitchell, and Shepard) because at the conclusion of Shepard's brief remarks he plans to present to you two small items from the Apollo 14 module.
- NOTE: There will be no press coverage of the dinner. However, coverage will begin after the dessert course ... TV cameras, photographers, writing press. Remarks will be piped into the theatre for those reporters not in the press pool.

After Dinner:

- You, Mrs. Nixon, the Astronauts and their wives are escorted to the Blue Room for coffee, etc.
- Guests proceed to parlors for coffee, liqueurs, and cigars ...

Departure:

- After 20 or 30 minutes you and Mrs. Nixon may wish to return to the Family Quarters.
- Champagne served to guests who remain. Dancing in the Grand Hall.

NOTE: Lists of the dinner guests are attached

- V. Presentation of NASA Distinguished Service Medals.
(Ask William Anders, who will be up on the platform at that time, to read the citations. After each citation you will present the Medal. Colonel Coffey will assist.)
- VI. Ask astronauts to speak -- Roosa, Mitchell and Shepard.

WHEREAS Captain Alan B. Shepard, USN, was the first man to transport a golf ball into outer space;

AND WHEREAS, using the moon as a tee, on his third (or fourth) swing, he propelled aforementioned golf ball further than such object had ever been propelled before;

AND WHEREAS the likelihood exists that it fell into a small crater -- and thus became the first celestial Hole-in-One;

I, RICHARD NIXON, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES -- and sometime golfer -- do here and now invest Captain Alan Shepard with the distinguished Order of the Lunar Duffer.

Witnessed and attested to by the Vice President of the United States ... who wishes to point out that Captain Shepard's first two swings were embarrassing failures, and that he knows how he feels.

THE VICE PRESIDENT

THE PRESIDENT

FACT SHEET: APOLLO 14 DINNER

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN...

1. This is RN's 8th dinner for Apollo astronauts. Each crew since Apollo 8 has had such a dinner -- Apollo 11 had two, the August 13, 1969 celebration in LA and a small one at the White House that November after their goodwill tour.

2. Apollo 14 astronauts:

Capt. Alan Shepard, USN: age 47, first American in space on May 5, 1961, Chief of Astronaut Office 1963-69, while grounded with an ear defect. Wife Louise, daughters, Laura and Julie.

Major Stu Roosa, USAF: age 37, this was his first space flight, an astronaut since 1966. Wife Joan, children Christopher, John, Stuart Jr., Rosemary.

Commander Edgar Mitchell, USN: age 40, this was his first space flight, an astronaut since 1966. Wife Louise, daughters Karlyn and Elizabeth. Mitchell is interested in psychic phenomena and was conducting some kind of ESP experiment (he has not elaborated on it) during this mission.

3. Apollo 14 mission highlights: liftoff delayed by thunderstorm passing over the Cape; six attempts required to complete docking of command module and LM early in flight; low reading on one of LM batteries threatened same only moments before Antares headed down for Fra Mauro. Unsuccessful hike to Cone Crater (stopped only a few yards short) and Shepard golf stunt were highpoints of the two moon walks.

4. Apollo 14 records: first use of Mobile Equipment Transporter cart, longest distance walked on lunar surface, largest payload brought back from moon (96 lbs. of samples), longest time on the moon (33:31) and walking on it (9:25), first color TV from moon.

5. Fra Mauro was the destination of Apollo 13 crew Lovell, Swigert, and Haise, who had to limp home from the moon without landing last April because of the oxygen tank explosion on their service module. The success of Apollo 14 completes the mission the 13 crew had to abandon.

6. Personal notes: RN and Shepard have in common the experience of being "bridesmaids" throughout most of the 60s after peaking in their respective careers at the beginning of the decade. And both have now come back in triumph.

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN...
SUGGESTED REMARKS FOR APOLLO DINNER

Always, men have been drawn irresistibly to the miracle of flight. At the same time they have always stood in awe of flight. The ancient Greeks told a story which expresses this mingling of emotions -- the story of Icarus, soaring out of his prison on wings of wax and feathers, who flew heedlessly too near the sun and fell to his death in the sea when the wings melted. Now for the third time the miracle of flight has taken men half a million miles to the surface of the moon and back. The world glories in the courage of the three men who made this voyage, in the skill of the huge team that supported them, and in the larger vision their achievement gives us all. We are here tonight to pay tribute to the heroism of the astronauts and the dedication of the NASA team, and it is entirely right that we do so.

But I think it is also important this evening that we take warning from Icarus and look beyond the sense of triumph in flight for flight's sake, to ask the question Why? What have we gained from Apollo, what have we learned? For an answer, we might look again to the ancient Greeks. Apollo, as you know, was one of the most important of their gods, who spoke his wisdom to men through the oracle at Delphi. A simple command was inscribed on the temple there, as a key to the words of the oracle and I think it can also help us understand what Apollo means today. The command was, "Know thyself." The most obvious goal of our Apollo missions is, of course, scientific knowledge of the moon. From such knowledge we are already gaining a better understanding of our own earth and new insights into the riddles of the solar system. Yet through all this our most important gain is self-knowledge.

First of all, we come to know ourselves better as individuals, Certainly the flight of Apollo 14 was rich in self-discovery for each of the astronauts. Alan Shepard, the first American to travel in space, found the resources to overcome disability and become the oldest man to travel to the moon. Ed Mitchell, besides performing magnificently as pilot of Antares, used the occasion to probe the phenomena of communication between the minds of men. Stu Roosa has been more alone, in the moon's vicinity, for a longer time during his 33 hours in orbit while his companions were on the lunar surface, than any other man before him; and in that kind of solitude is profound self-knowledge. And the flight brought deeper self-knowledge as well to each of us who stayed behind to watch and pray, for the inspiration of these men's achievement helps us break down the limits we've placed on ourselves.

To the human race collectively as well as to each individual, the Apollo flights have said, "Know thyself." There is no danger that fascination with the skies will make us, like Icarus, victims of our own arrogance -- because each voyage to the moon has sharpened our awareness of pressing human needs at home and shattered our complacency about tolerating them. We know better than ever what heights man can reach, and we are impelled to reach them. The best illustration of this is the familiar saying that begins "If man can go to the moon..." and that ends in countless ways, each ending pointing to an urgent challenge which we can meet if only we set ourselves to meet it.

With the help of brave men like Shepard, Mitchell and Roosa, we will surely continue to learn more and more about our moon, our solar system, and our universe. And with each venture into outer space, we will also make new discoveries in the realm of inner space -- the glorious reaches of the human spirit and the limitless potential for a better future for all mankind.

SEQUENCE OF ACTIONS PLANNED IN EAST ROOM IMMEDIATELY
FOLLOWING EXIT OF THE STROLLING STRINGS

- I. You leave your table and go to the north end of the room, to the platform; then invite the three astronauts to join you.
- II. (Optional) Introduce parents by asking them to rise at their tables.
- Colonel and Mrs. Alan Shepard . . . He's a retired Army colonel
 - Mrs. Ernest Wagoner . . . Mother of Ed Mitchell
 - Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Roosa
 - Mrs. John Snyder (Laura) . . . The 23-year-old married daughter of Alan Shepard. Her husband is an Army Second Lieutenant in Vietnam.
 - Children:
 - Shepard's (other than Laura Snyder)
 - Julie - 19
 - *Alice - 19 (not twins)
 - Mitchell's
 - Karlyn (girl) - 17
 - Elizabeth - 11 (12 on March 24)
 - Roosa's
 - Christopher - 11
 - John - 10
 - Stuart, Jr. - 8 (9 on March 12)
 - Rosemary - 7
- III. Present to Alan Shepard golfing award, Order of the Lunar Duffer. (This will be a scroll or certificate along the lines of the attached sample.) It will be signed.
- IV. Your general remarks (suggestions attached).

* Alice is Mrs. Shepard's niece. Has lived with them since very young. At 18 Alice legally changed her name to Shepard. She has never been legally adopted by them because her father is still living.

- V. Presentation of NASA Distinguished Service Medals.
(Ask William Anders, who will be up on the platform at that time, to read the citations. After each citation you will present the Medal. Colonel Coffey will assist.)
- VI. Ask astronauts to speak -- Roosa, Mitchell and Shepard.

Dave has talked to Anders and there is no problem at all with March 1, according to Anders.

MEMORANDUM FOR: MR. ALEXANDER P. BUTTERFIELD
FROM: DWIGHT L. CHAPIN
SUBJECT: Dinner Honoring Apollo 14 Astronauts
Monday, March 1, 1971

The President has approved holding a dinner honoring the Apollo 14 Astronauts and the date has been set for Monday, March 1. We should follow the 8:00 p.m. "State dinner" format. The guest list of approximately 200 should be comprised of the Astronauts and their families, Members of Congress, ground crew heads from NASA, and supplier companies. Bill Anders has been notified of the President's desire to hold this dinner on the evening of March 1. He is expecting to hear from either Connie Stuart or Lucy Winchester concerning further details.

Following the dinner, the Astronauts and their families have been invited to proceed to Camp David for a rest until March 4.

MEMORANDUM FOR: ALEX BUTTERFIELD
FROM: H. R. HALDEMAN

The President feels that for the Apollo 14 Astronauts, he would like to try something different instead of the usual small family dinner.

He would like to have a big dinner using the round tables and a full State dining room type guest list. He would include representatives of the ground crew, suppliers, and other interested parties in the Apollo program. Also, the list would include a large number of Congressmen and Senators who have a particular interest in Apollo and for whom we want to do something. This should be scheduled as soon as possible after the splash-down this week and it should work into the overall schedule.

FACT SHEET -- GOVERNORS' DINNER ENTERTAINMENT

1. Up With People

- a. A multi-troupe entertainment/educational youth organization -- six casts presently on tour -- 400 boys and girls, high school and college age, from the U.S. and 20 countries. Tonight's performers represent all six casts.
- b. Originally founded as the youth arm of the now-defunct Moral Re-Armament movement, but now set up as an independent non-profit corporation based in the U. S.
- c. Show themes stress self-discovery, brotherhood, patriotism, moral values, vision, principled living.

2. Bob Hope

- a. Last appeared at the White House before his 1969 Christmas tour of U. S. bases overseas.
- b. Has toured bases 28 of past 30 Christmases.
- c. Co-chairman and top entertainer for Honor America Day, last July 4 in Washington.

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN...

SUGGESTED INTRODUCTION -- GOVERNORS' DINNER ENTERTAINMENT

Here to entertain us this evening we have some of the finest young men and women in what I think is going to be a great generation of leaders now coming up through high school and college. The name of their troupe is "Up With People," and they travel the world with a stirring musical message about unlocking the greatness of the human spirit. It is, to use a familiar term, a kind of Weatherman activity -- mobile, adventurous, and revolutionary in its way. The difference is that these Weathermen's forecast is a very good one; they operate entirely aboveground; and they explode nothing but selfishness and apathy. They go at the pace of a political campaign and with the enthusiasm of a revival tour, and keep up with their studies along the way. Most of the fifty States as well as twenty foreign countries are represented in the six "Up With People" casts, and the group here tonight is an all-star sampling of the six. Their show is exciting entertainment that works like cross-pollination in an orchard or a garden -- all of the performers learn from blending the best in their differing backgrounds, and every audience or community they touch is more fruitful for the experience. I think you'll find that they make a powerful case for an alliance between the generations -- not with them on our side or us on theirs, but all of us joining to build a better world.

Following the "Up With People" group onto the stage alone would be too much for most solo performers, but the fellow who draws that assignment tonight is well able to take care of himself. He is a one-man majority by the name of Leslie Towns Hope. As you may know, Bob was born in England, and he's as fine a British import as this country has ever had. He ranks with Beatle music in entertainment value, with Tom Paine in patriotism, and just below Schweppes Tonic in effervescence. His years of Christmas tours among American servicemen around the world in three wars have made his name a household word, and he now sponsors a sporting event where other household words can perform trick golf shots. If he doesn't make you laugh we will refund the price of your tickets.

MEMORANDUM FOR: MR. MARK GOODE
FROM: DWIGHT L. CHAPIN
SUBJECT: Governors' Dinner
February 23, 1971

You and Bill should talk to Lucy Winchester (check in with Alex Butterfield first) about buttoning-up the plans for the entertainment at the Governors' Dinner next Tuesday night.

Once you have checked with Lucy and gotten the lay of the land, you should let her know that you will be able to work with the Stand Up With People group and Bob Hope's people and see that the show is well coordinated and put together properly. I would suggest that you and Bill move off on this immediately.

You should be aware that the contact with Hope has been his nephew whose name is Mr. Maletesta who works in the Vice President's office in the EOB. Prior to checking with Maletesta, however, you should first connect with Lucy to find out exactly what has been planned.

The plans for the entertainment should be submitted with any outstanding questions as soon as possible.

RE: Governors' Dinner

We need to have a rundown on the complete plan for the Governors' Dinner. This should include the entertainment portion which Bob Hope will handle.

Per my earlier memorandum to you, we are to have expanded reel coverage.

The main question is, who is producing the entertainment portion of the show. As I indicated to you this morning, we should move someone in on the staging of the show who could provide Hope with some background material which he may wish to incorporate in his entertainment for that evening. My suggestion would be that we use Bill Carruthers and Mark Goode on this assignment.

Perhaps you would want to have a little meeting with Connie, Lucy, Mark Goode and me to discuss this.

January 2, 1971

MEMORANDUM TO THE PRESIDENT

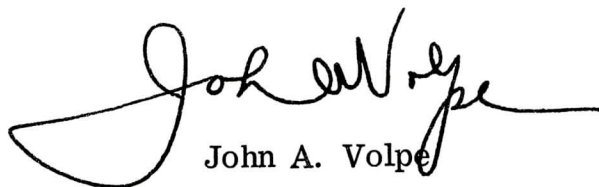

May I call to your attention the mid-winter meeting of the National Governors Conference which will take place here in Washington, February 23-26, 1971.

It was during my Chairmanship of the Conference early in 1968 that we instituted this semi-annual meeting so that the Governors would be able to get to Washington as a body, meet with the President and other officials of his family, and at the same time meet with Congressional leaders, both as a whole and with their own delegations.

On the occasion of the first such meeting in February of 1968, President Johnson hosted a dinner for the fifty Governors and their wives. It was extremely successful and I think helped to heal many of the wounds that had opened up as a result of lack of liaison with the Chief Executives of the States.

I cannot place too much emphasis on what I believe would be a most desirable -- and almost, yes, I would say "essential" -- thing to have happen and that is for you to host a dinner for the Governors and their wives. You were, unfortunately, unable to tender such a dinner in either 1969 or 1970.

I believe with all of the programs which we will be implementing during 1971 that not only would it be most profitable and desirable for you to tender a dinner to the Governors and their wives on one of the evenings they are here, but also provide for briefings on the part of key members of the Administration to the Governors so that they would be brought up to date on current affairs -- international as well as national.

This vein yielded the reporter no anecdotal ore. The reporter observes that (1) anecdotalists who are actual guests at an event like this -- last night Messrs. Mr. Ehrlichman has notified me that every single bit of his dinner was cold (I presume that his complaint doesn't extend to the ice cream which I assume he would accept in a cold state without objection).

Perhaps we have a problem here in the preparation or serving of the food and then again, perhaps we simply have a problem of Mr. Ehrlichman not eating fast enough, or being seated in a distant part of the room. In any event I'm sure you'll want to be aware of this situation.

Dear Mr. President & Mrs. Nixon:

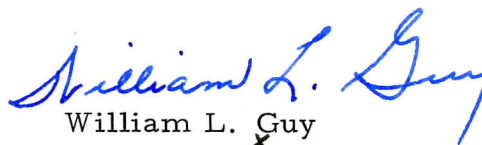

My wife and I enjoyed the dinner and evening in the White House as your guests this past week. The Strolling Strings were never better and the youth who provided the entertainment even surpassed the old pro Bob Hope.

I also commend you for the relationship you have established with the Governors and their wives.

Your willingness to include state and local financing problems among the many national and international problems that compete for your attention is most heartening. I have informed our Congressional Delegation that I support strongly your proposal on federal revenue sharing.

Thank you, Mr. President and Mrs. Nixon, for helping to make the Mid-Winter National Governors' Conference so successful.

RE: YOUR MEMO -- ATTACHED

When I mentioned Sara Booth ^XConroy to Helen Smith, it was at the request of the White House Police. They were about to throw her out as they had not been advised she would be there -- unescorted. As far as they knew, she was there without permission. Please clear with them for the future.

MEMORANDUM TO BRUCE WHELIHAN

FROM: CONSTANCE STUART

I understand there was some confusion during the Governor's dinner about Kandy Stroud appearing in the State Dining Room as a pooler and Sara Booth Conroy filing on a phone in the Theater.

Kandy Stroud sometimes appears around 8:00 on the night of a dinner at the foot of the Grand Staircase to watch the guests as they come in. She is not a pooler in that instance. At the Governor's dinner she should not have gone into the Dining Room with the photographer giving the impression she was a pooler. She should have been screened out.

For over a year we have had an arrangement with the wires and the Washington Post that they may make use of three phones we install in the back of the Theater on nights of a dinner. The wires and the Post will often file right after the toasts are piped in and after entertainment.

I understand you found Sara Booth filing in the Theater on the evening of the Governor's Dinner and told her she was not to be there. However, as far as we are concerned, she was supposed to be there.

SUBJECT:

Dinner in the Residence with the President's Republican Congressional "Traveling Salesmen"

7:00 p.m.

~~Tuesday, March 2, 1971~~

March 9

I. PURPOSE:

To express an informal "thank you" to the House Republicans who will captain three-man and four-man teams of their colleagues to blanket the Country from mid-March through June building support for your domestic legislative program.

II. PARTICIPANTS:

The President
Congressmen listed in Tab A
Senator Bob Dole
Bill Timmons
Dick Cook
Harry Dent

III. BACKGROUND:

1. A few weeks ago Jerry Ford asked Dan Kuykendall to head this effort to sell your 1971 program. Dan has recruited the 15 Congressmen (Tab A) to be team captains. Each captain will head three and four-man teams of Republican Congressmen.
2. These team captains (they refer to themselves as Nixon's Traveling Salesmen) met with Secretary Connally, Arnold Weber, Herb Klein, Harry Dent, and Clark MacGregor on February 23, 1971 in the Roosevelt Room to discuss their plans for the upcoming months. They plan to meet again next week when all teams have been selected.

RECEIVED
MAR 1 1971
CENTRAL FILES

3. Starting in mid-March and continuing through June these teams will visit 75 target areas, covering virtually every State and concentrating on 20 critical cities. In selecting locations for public meetings, press conferences, etc., they will be sensitive to marginal Congressional districts. Special attention will be given to areas where constituent presence may alter attitudes in the House on revenue sharing and reorganization.
4. All of the team captains are staunch supporters of your general and special revenue sharing proposals and also your reorganization plan. Most of the captains also strongly support your health program, your environmental initiatives, and Welfare Reform.

IV. RECOMMENDED TALKING POINTS:

In Tab B.

V. PRESS PLANS:

There will be no press announcements or coverage.

THE WHITE HOUSE

TAB BTALKING POINTS:

1. Revenue sharing and reorganization are inter-related programs which together form a most critical part of your vision for progress in America.
2. The health program, your environment initiatives, and Welfare Reform represent a positive translation of Republican principles into effective program.
3. In late 1970 you gave the most careful consideration to the federalization of welfare and to the tax credit concepts as substitutes for general revenue sharing. You discarded each alternative as less desirable. The alternatives spread benefits in a grossly uneven fashion and do not operate to return "power to the people."
4. As one who served four years in the House of Representatives, you know how effective teams of Republican Congressmen can be in the educational and informational process which is so vital to the building of public support for your domestic legislation.
5. You are pleased with this evidence of Republican response from influential House Members -- that it is a great thing for Republicans to be "for something."
6. You have directed Cabinet officers and White House personnel to give continuing support to this Ford-Kuykendall enterprise. You are confident of success, and you realize how much credit will be due their efforts when you sign into law your 1971 reform legislation.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

MR. DAVID N. PARKER

FROM:

DWIGHT L. CHAPIN of

The President wants to start having private dinners once per week. We should anticipate that these will always fall on Tuesday nights. Our schedules should show for Tuesday evenings "Private Dinners". Obviously, in many cases these will have to be changed as the President runs up against such things as the American Legion Banquet, Irish Evening at the White House, and other such commitments on Tuesday nights. On those weeks where there are other events scheduled, then we should consider the possibility of having the private dinner on Thursday night. If both Tuesday and Thursday nights are already taken, then just drop the idea of doing a private dinner that week.

Dear Governor Hearnes:

This is just a note to express my thanks once again for the warm reception given to me at the Governors' Conference on Tuesday. The opportunity to discuss our hopes for a new partnership among the Federal, state and local governments was a particularly welcome one, and I greatly appreciate the generous introduction as well as the many courtesies you provided.

Mrs. Nixon and I were very pleased that we could bring the Governors and their wives together at the White House Tuesday evening. While this historic building has witnessed many similar events over the years, I am sure that none of them included a more charming group of First Ladies.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

RICHARD NIXON
