Dear Mr Roosevelt,

In the hope that ^{a picture of a bear stand in Coney Island} mementoes of your public life are acceptable to you, I am forwarding this photograph. It seems symbolic of the fact that all are rooting for you, even the children, and they were not disappointed for their wishes, as expressed by the banners, came true.

This event took place the past summer, during the baby parade at the Coney Island Mardi Gras festival.

As one Scouter to another, I am pleased to send this token to you, and express my confidence, and that of the many other Boy Scouts of America, in you

Sincerely,

S. Harold Adler

My dear Mr. Axton:

Your letter of April twelfth and the cigarettes you mention have been received and the President asks me to thank you and through you Mr. E. Lewis Evans, President of the Tobacco Workers International Union for the courtesy extended to him. He heartily appreciates this evidence of interest and good will.

Sincerely yours,

My dear Mr. Howe:

By Parcel Post I am sending you some fresh eggs for Easter Sunday morning's breakfast, for The President, Mrs. Roosevelt and yourself.

I saw in the paper that Mr. Roosevelt likes scrambled eggs.

Wishing Mr & Mrs. Roosevelt and yourself including a " Happy Easter "

Please tell Mr. Roosevelt to take a little more rest, if He keep up this high speed, His strength might give out, the whole country needs Him badly.

I know you are busy, yourself, I dont want you to think that you must answer or thank me, I just feel I would like to help a little in a small way, but I mean well, the reason I write to you, I have brains enough that our Mr. President has more important things to do, then read my letter and you can tell Him in a few words, that some Hill-Billy in West Va. thinks of Him & appreciate all His efforts.

Sincerely yours

Dear Miss LeHand:-

I have a letter of December 29, ult. from Mr. G.T. Cross, then Secretary to Governor Roosevelt, in reply to mine of December 13th, suggesting that I write to you relative to an interview I had asked with Governor Roosevelt. The chief purpose of the interview was to present in person a book to Governor Roosevelt.

Inasmuch as the President's calendar is no doubt full of dates, for state affairs, I will not at this time seek an interview. Then, too, he may possess the book or have read it and would not wish to further burden his shelves.

Therefore I enclose to you a brief synopsis of Captain Newall's biography of his astonishing career. Having read widely circulated accounts of Governor Roosevelt's unusual hygienic experience, I believe this British parallel (in some respects) will prove of especial interest to the next President. I will request that, at your earliest opportunity, you call His Honor's attention to the enclosed synopsis and, if it proves of interest, notify me and I shall be pleased to mail the volume, which is not large and of engaging interest from cover to cover. It is now out of print and not so easily found.

Trusting I may have the pleasure to hear from Mr. Roosevelt through you in due course, I am Very sincerely,

SCOTTISH MOORS AND INDIAN JUNGLES

by Capt. Jas. T. Newall

Selected excerpts, quoted from the text, and arranged chronologically, by Brent Altsheler, according to the author's data, to epitomize the epic events of a remarkable life history, told by the heroic actor.

PART II.

Newall's contemporary careers as an army officer and big game hunter, in British India; before the dreadful accident which invalidated him, terminated his bright career and forever depriving him of natural locomotion.

" I was a mature soldier of some four months' length of service, and had just passed my drill. My services to my country had been of so arduous a description in accomplishing that necessary and important function that I considered myself as fully justified in applying for ten days' leave to join a monsoon meet of the celebrated 'Nuggur Hunt'  , some forty miles from the station of Ahmednuggur in the Deccan, the scene of my earliest military labours". p-198.

"I was small and light, but strong, wiry and active." p-223

" * * * I had fleshed my maiden spear and many and many a boar has since fallen to my spear, aided by others or alone, but the happy memory of my first thrust brightly survives as a distinct recollection."

"My battery consisted of a double fourteen smooth-bore and a single rifle - nothing more. * * * This was my first beat for big game, and I confess to a feeling of nervous anxiety as the loud-throated beaters drew nearer and nearer." p-228.

"I had now been entered to pig-sticking and big game shooting within the first year of my noviciate, but it was yet a few years before I was in at the death of a tiger." p-241.

"A trip to the Punjaub and Cashmere, and a visit to the Burnaur Valley and the Himalaya range of the Daoloo Dhar, where I got burrel, goorul and bear were included in my sporting trips, before I was stationed at Ahmedabad, the year preceding the outbreak of the great Indian Mutiny". p-242.

"But I was not destined long to enjoy the repose of civilian life, fairly earned by nearly two years of campaigning in Persia and the Mutiny War." p-264.

The Sepoy Mutiny in India began in 1857.

PART I.

Twenty years later the will of the soldier and the bravery of the sportsman triumph on the trails of the Highland stag, despite handicaps that at first seemed insurmountable.

"My wanderings in Rajpootana, which in the course of less than three years, I calculated to have covered considerably over 2,000 miles, were terminated by the accident." p-280.

"Many years ago, in India, a horse I was riding reared, fell back, with me underneath, and left me with a fractured spine. I eventually recovered my health to a great extent, but remained quite paralysed in the lower limbs; and from that day to this (20 years) have been quite unable to walk or even to stand." p-3

"* * * An early termination of a career * * * of future promise * * * I was an active man, and devoted to field sports * * *
 As time went on and I became habituated to the deprivation * * *
 I essayed what, at first, I had not ventured to think possible * * *
 I fished a little from a well-cushioned wheel chair * * * actually killed a salmon * * * waxing bolder * * * devised * * * little iron frame-work chair * * * attaching this chair to poles * * * placing men between the poles * * * ascended high hills * * * inaccessible to pony * * * I shoot over dogs and even stalk deer with success* * * " p-5

"Having thus, so far, triumphed over obstacles in the pursuit of sport, in the year 1880, in conjunction with my eldest brother, General Newall, R.A., I took the little shooting of Scaliscro, in Lewis; and it is the incidents of sport and out door life there during the seasons of the following four years that I propose to describe." p-6.

Lewis (or Lews), 30 x 60 miles, is "The most Northern island of the outer Hebrides", off the Northern coast of Scotland.

"We all agreed that the distance could not be less than 250 yards, and taking all the circumstances into consideration, and that the stag was moving at the time, I put it down as the best shot I ever made *(p-87) though I have killed a tiger and bear each dead with a single ball when young and active, now alas! more than two decades ago." p-77

"The manuscript of this book was written in 1887". p-16

The volume was published by Hurst and Blackett, Ltd., London, 1889, and illustrated by the author's own drawings.
 Captain Newall, late Indian Staff, was author of "Eastern Hunters",
 "Hog Hunting in the East", etc. -3-

To Our Beloved President:

Recd 5/23/33
man

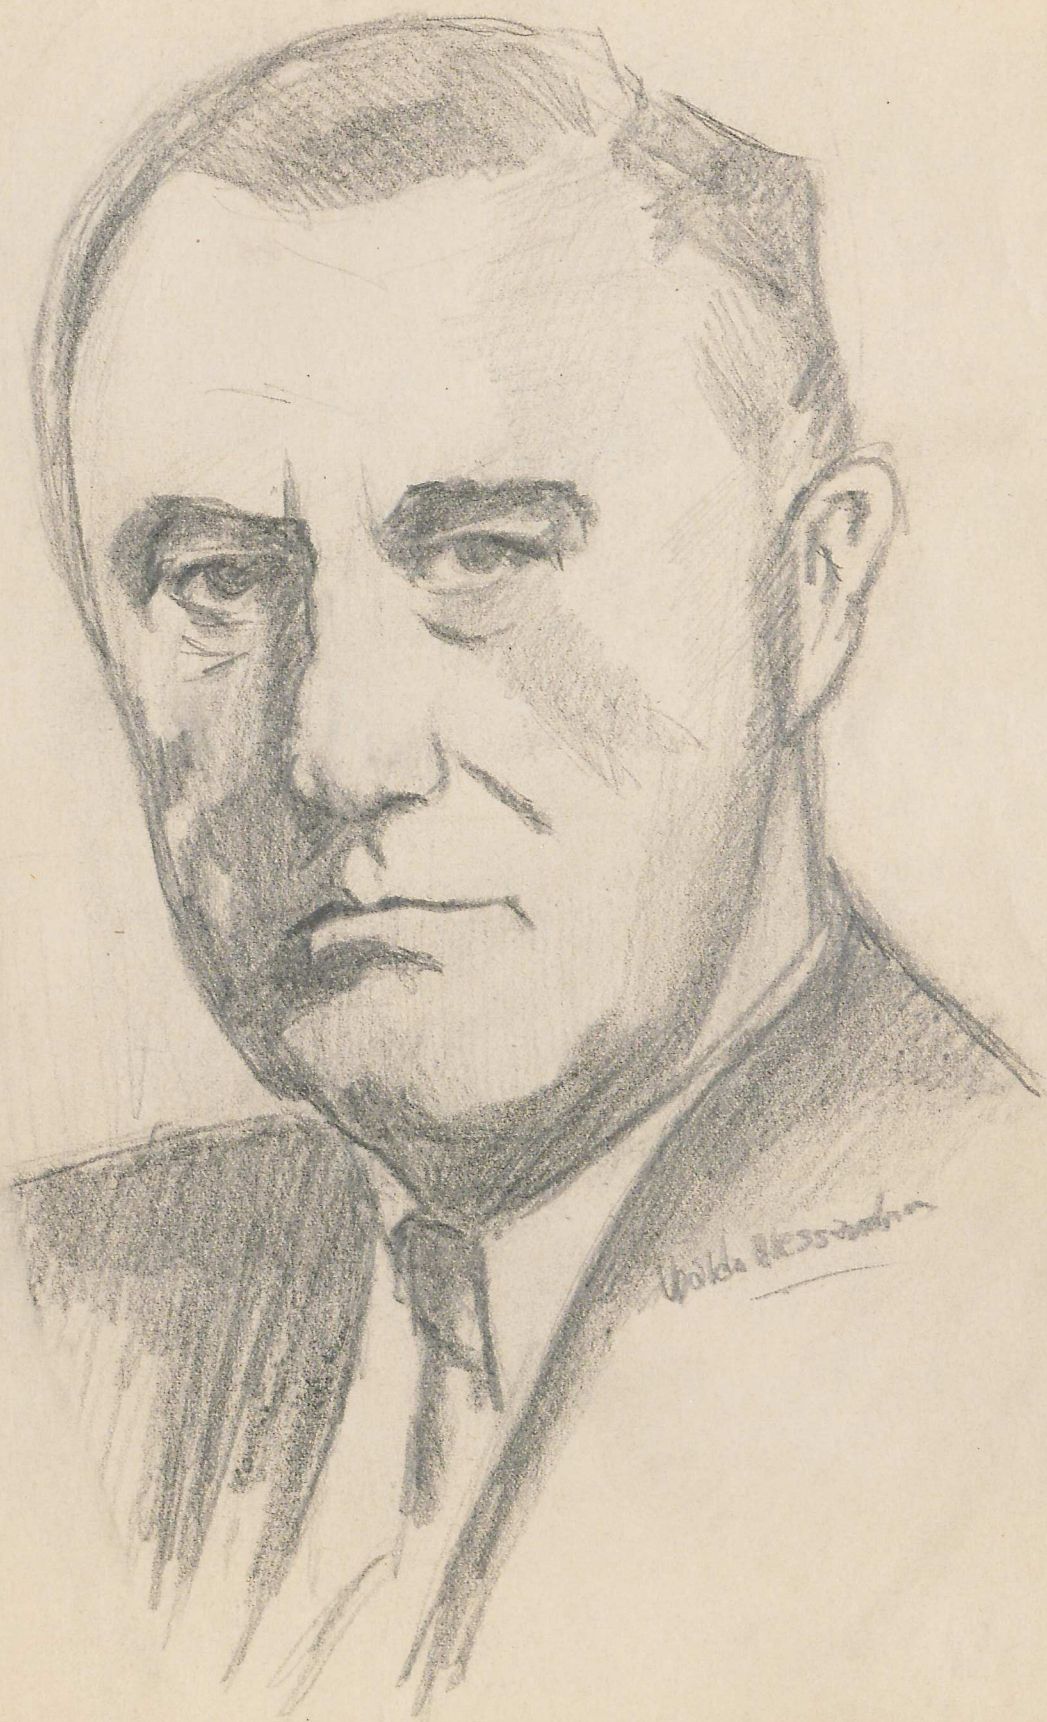

Kindly accept my humble token of appreciation and esteem for your great courage and leadership in facing squarely and honestly the facts pertaining to the crisis, which is threatening the structure of our great nation. I am hoping, as all Americans are, that you will be successful in undertaking the great task of renewing confidence in all institutions pertaining to this great Republic, and bring back prosperity to our people. I am hoping, in particular, so that my dad and brothers will resume their honest toil and that I will have the opportunity to continue the studies that I have undertaken.

With luck and best wishes, I remain -

Dear Sir;

I hope you will not consider me too pertinent because I write to you. The only reason for my doing so is that my friends wanted me to send to you this rough sketch of yourself. I worked on it only about thirty minutes. It is done on an old scrap of paper and I am ashamed to send it, but they insist, so here it goes.

You will probably never see me and only laugh at my drawing. I do not blame you if you do. Yours is your portrait and present to you.

I hope you like it, it is painted from a photograph, I am sorry to say I have never seen you face to face, but imagine your eyes are a gray-

I just know you will get over U.S.A. on its feet again, and the mythical prosperity.. just around the corner. Before depression came I was well started in my profession here. Landscape, figure & portrait painter, also have done some very fine murals. Like all professions it takes time for an artist to become sufficiently well known. It has not been easy. I came to Calif nine years ago from Chicago and was a recognized artist there, and have exhibited Chicago Art Institute Salon de Automne Paris France, and all the big shows all over U.S.A.
with honors. Suddenly things changed my paintings were stolen from me at the

Larrine Galleries Wash D.C. after losses from investments - A stupendous lethargy settled over business, Art suffered greatly - We don't buy Art, it is not necessary, it is a luxury - As far as I am concerned every prospect faded - What can an Artist

Dear Sir:-

I am one of your Greek admirers, living at Perry, Florida. I am engaged in the Sponge Industry, hence spend most of my time upon the water. As you were once Assistant Secretary of the Navy, I think you will be interested in a miniature boat which I have made with my own hands, and believing that you would be interested in this little boat, and as a token of my esteem for you, I am today sending this little boat to you, by prepaid express. This boat is made of cypress lumber manufactured at Perry, in Taylor County, Florida.

I am also sending you with this shipment a specimen of our Rock Island Sponge, taken from the waters of the Gulf of Mexico, in Taylor County, near Perry, Florida, the County Seat of Taylor County. The Rock Island Sponge is the finest in the world. This sponge when bleached is almost white and is then very beautiful, the specimen sent you is unbleached.

Hoping you will accept the little gift and that you shall live many, many more years to serve our Country, I am,

Yours very truly, suspicion, from what I have read in the papers, that Mayor Johnson desires to place all taxes on land. Is this correct?" Some one else in the audience then called out: "Tell us about the Single Tax." Replying to the elderly man, the Mayor said: "Most emphatically, No!" He paused for a moment, then continuing, said: "But if you mean that I have a desire to place all taxes on land values, I answer most decidedly, yes! If you want to hear about the Single Tax, I will stay with you and let my tent meeting in the city wait, while I say that if it were not for this idea, called Single Tax, I would not be here to-night. This is the reason that I am what I am, and making the fight which we are now in. A tax on land would be an unjust and iniquitous system, but a tax on land values would be the best and fairest system that the world has ever known. Laws which would bring about the taxation of land values would be of more service to humanity than any legislation ever yet enacted. Farmers are large owners of land, but not of land values. We have land in our city that sells at the rate of five million dollars per acre; have any of you farmers land as valuable as that? In New York City there is land that sells for fifteen million dollars per acre; is there any land in this neighborhood at that price? To answer my friend's question, I will relate a little talk I had one day with Congressman Pierson, of Tuscarawas County, when we were in Washington together. Pierson was a farmer, and he said to me one day: 'Tom, I cannot go your Single Tax, as it would be a hardship on the farmers, and they already have more than their share of the burden of taxation.' I said: 'Look here, Pierson, if I thought the Single Tax would increase the farmers' burden I would not stand for it for one minute. In fact, if I did not know it would be the greatest blessing to the farmers and to the workingmen in the city as well, I never would advocate it again. I can show you that the Single Tax will lighten the farmers' burden as compared with the present method. Let me ask you some questions, to see if we can get at the facts in the matter. How much, Mr. Pierson, of the present tax burden do you think the farmers bear?' 'Well,' he answered, 'the farmers constitute over half the population of the United States, and I should say that they pay at least 60 per cent of all taxes.' 'Very well, let's call it 50 per cent to be safe.' 'No, no,' said Pierson, 'that's too low. They pay more than 60 cent, rather than less.' 'All right, but to be safe, let's call it 50 per cent. Now, Mr. Pierson, I want you to tell me how much of the value of land the farmers have in the United States? Please take into consideration all the valuable coal lands, the iron, silver, gold, copper and other valuable mines—the water power privileges, the railroads and their rights of way and terminals, including street railroads, telephones and telegraphs, for these are built on the most valuable lands; all the gas and electric lighting rights of way, built on land of great value; all the city lots, some of which are worth more than a whole county of farming land. I want you to take all these into consideration, and then tell me how much of these values in the United States the farmers have.' Mr. Pierson replied: 'Well, I should say, less than 5 per cent.' I said, 'Call it 10 per cent to be safe.' 'Oh, no, no; that's entirely too high; that's double.' Well, we will call it 10 per cent, anyway. Now, don't you see that if the farmers are paying 50 per cent, that if all the taxes were raised by a Single Tax on land values the farmers, since they have but 10 per cent of these values—you say 5 per cent—would pay less; that their taxes would be reduced five times? That instead of paying one-half as now, they would, under that plan, pay but one-tenth?"

"I declare, Tom, I never looked at it in that light, and I guess you have got me."

"So, I say to you farmers here to-night, that this Single Tax, of which I am proud to be an advocate, would be to the overburdened farmers and workingmen the greatest boon, the greatest blessing, the greatest Godsend that any country ever knew. I wish you good-night."

Gustav Adolfs Geist im preussischen Heere.

Gustav Adolfs Gestalt ist aufs engste mit der deutschen Geschichte verknüpft, und die 300. Wiederkehr seines Heldentodes wurde daher in Deutschland nicht minder feierlich begangen als in seiner Heimat. Aber der „Löwe aus dem Norden“ ist nicht nur als Erretter des protestantischen Deutschlands aufgetreten, sondern hat auch sonst tiefe Spuren in der deutschen Kulturgeschichte zurückgelassen. So lebt z. B. sein Geist im preussischen und damit im deutschen Heere weiter.

Als der Große Kurfürst, sein Neffe, am 2. September 1656 in dem „Kurfürstlich Brandenburgischen Kriegsrecht und Artikkelsbrief“ die erste Urkunde schuf, die dem preussischen Soldaten strengere Maneszucht gebot, da lehnte er sich eng an die schwedischen Kriegsartikel an, die Gustav Adolf für sein Heer aufgestellt hatte. So ist Titulus 1 der schwedischen Kriegsartikel wörtlich in dem kurbrandenburgischen Kriegsrecht übernommen. Es heißt da: „Wir haben zur Erhaltung guter Kriegsdisziplin und Ordnung diesen Artikkelsbrief zu verfassen für notwendig erachtet. Wir suchen mit denselben die Beförderung göttlicher Ehre, heilsame Justiz und die Abschaffung aller Unordnungen, die in unserm Lande eingerissen sind. Darum wollen wir auch, daß unsere hohen und niederen Kriegs-Offiziere und jeder Soldat strikt diesen Artikeln nachleben. Und weil von dem grundgütigen und allmächtigen Gott, als dem Ursprung alles Guten, auch alles Glück, Segen und Gedeihen herrührt, er allein von einem jeden wahren Christen, so wie er sich in seinem heiligen Wort offenbart hat, geehrt und angebetet sein will, so soll dies auch vor allen Dingen und zu jeder Zeit geschehen. Darum verbieten wir jegliche Abgötterei; Zauberer und Teufelskünstler sollen nicht unter unserem Kriegsvolk geduldet werden. Kein Soldat soll Gottes Wort lästern oder mit dem Gottesdienst Spott treiben; ebenso wenig von den hochwürdigen Sakramenten verächtlich reden. Der hochheilige Name Gottes soll nicht mit Fluchen, Schwören, Lügen und Trüben mißbraucht werden.“

Aus dieser Weltanschauung des großen Schwedenkönigs leitete nun der Große Kurfürst, wie er sich ausdrückt, „die rechte Weise und das rechte Maß zum Gebieten und Verbieten“ ab und gründete darauf die Forderungen der Obrigkeit: „Und, als dem Haupt, sollen die hohen und anderen Offiziere, Streiter und Knechte, Alle, die zur Armee gehören, treu, hold und gehorsam sein. Uns sollen sie gebührend respektieren und ehren; auch unseren und der Armee Nutzen und Wohl befördern, Schaden und Nachteil abwenden. Es sollen ferner alle Offiziere und Soldaten, unsere Generale und deren Stellvertreter, wie uns selbst ehren und gehorsam sein.“

Auch die weiteren 91, in 19 Tituli zusammengefaßten brandenburgischen Kriegsartikel sind im wesentlichen auf der schwedischen Kriegsordnung aufgebaut und enthalten bereits sehr strenge Strafbedingungen gegen Marodieren und Plündern. In den späteren mannigfachen Veränderungen der preussischen Kriegsartikel kehren doch die Grundgedanken immer wieder, und so kann man sagen, daß der Geist des Schwedenkönigs im preussischen und damit auch im deutschen Heere immerdar fortgelebt hat.

June 14, 1933.

Roosevelt besuchte die Schule in Bad Nauheim

Bad Nauheim, 18. Febr. Der künftige Präsident der Vereinigten Staaten, Franklin D. Roosevelt, hat in seiner Jugend einen ganzen Sommer mit seinen Eltern in Bad Nauheim verbracht und während der Zeit die dortige Stadtschule besucht. Wie einer der noch lebenden Lehrer aus jener Zeit mitteilt, fiel bereits damals der junge Roosevelt durch seine geistige Frische und seine Lernbegierde auf. Noch mancher Nauheimer erinnert sich heute mit Stolz an jenen Schulkameraden, der jetzt an die Spitze eines der mächtigsten Staaten der Erde berufen ist, und in dessen Hände nun so viele wichtige Entscheidungen gelegt sind.

Generaldirektor Meier, der Vorstand des Hessischen Staatsbades Bad Nauheim, erklärte zu diesen Feststellungen: „Wir Deutsche hoffen, daß Präsident Roosevelt auf Grund seiner Jugenderinnerungen Verständnis für den deutschen Geist und auch für die vielen deutschen Sorgen haben wird, und daß er dazu beiträgt, daß die Beziehungen zwischen den Vereinigten Staaten und Deutschland die besten bleiben.“

Mr. Forster
IN YOUR REPLY REFER TO

Rudolph Forster, Esq.,
c/o White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Forster:

From our trade from all sections of the country, we have received numerous requests for articles bearing thereon a likeness of the President.

In commencing to satisfy that demand, we have made our famous Ronson Lighter showing on one side what we consider to be an excellent portrait of the President, considering it is made in metal, and on the other a reproduction of the emblem of the Century of Progress of Chicago, as it is for sale there that this particular lighter is intended.

Incidentally, you will be interested to know that in requesting this article, the particular person in the trade who asked for it stated that our President typified "A Century of Progress" more than anything else exhibited at the Exposition!

Possibly, you may think this worthy of being shown to the President, and if you wish any more, do not hesitate to ask us.

Believe me to be, with best wishes

Cordially yours,

Louis V. Aronson

Sir:

I have just had the great pleasure of listening to your radio address this evening, may I say in this connection, that I am whole-heartedly with you in all that you have done and are now doing, and I hope the people of these United States will continue to stand behind you and give you the support in your splendid program for progress and prosperity that I believe you so much deserve.

In your address tonight I heard you ask for a glass of water, I am taking the privilege of shipping you tomorrow by express from the Albevana Springs near Scottsville Va. a five gallon bottle of the finest mineral water that flows from the mountains of Old Virginia. I hope you will drink it and find it very beneficial.

The analysis of the water was made by Br. Otto Meyer Analytical Chemist, and is registered in the U.S. patent office at Washington D.C. you will find this analysis on the bottle. I will greatly appreciate an expression of your opinion after having used this water. I am
