My dear Mr. Anderson:

Dear Mr. President,

The enclosed suggestions may interest you. They are merely statements of facts, present and future.

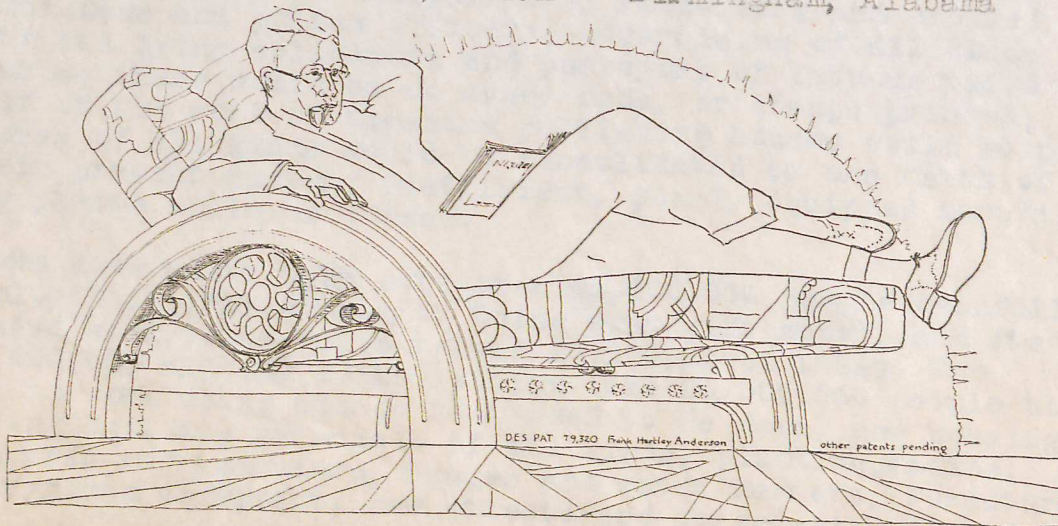

Former communications have not been adequately answered. I have received no recognition for them, nor, except two months of the "Projects of Art," any financial return from them. Probably they never reached your hands.

While so many others, with far less vision, less ability and no more practical training, can have a hand in helping shape a new country, it seems to me that I - too - should have at least the opportunity afforded these others of making a living.

The woodblock prints attached may interest you somewhat. Do with them what you will.

Sincerely,
Frank Hartley Anderson

To President Roosevelt,

Clarence Darrow's report on the N.R.A. told you nothing more than I had already told you in the manuscript you received from me on September 22nd, 1933.

In this, too, was, - as I took for granted, the basis of what Senator Black introduced as the 30 hour bill, forrunner of N.R.A. code hours.

My letter of Nov. 28th, relating principally to Subsistence farms, suggested the wholesale buying of household electrical utilities, - an organization for which was set up something more than two months later.

Has any member of the " brain-trust " a better batting average ?

Every defect in the present system, every argumentative article in every code, every occasion for every strike, past, present and future, - every crime (which is growing constantly,) all unemployment (and there are at least ten million unemployed) can be stopped, absolutely cured, for all time, - when the remaining suggestions in this same mentioned manuscript are carried out, - and the troubles are going to increase by leaps and bounds until these suggestions are carried out.

The period of business for profit has had its day. The N.R.A. has lengthened this period a year or so, but even a thirty hour week is too long.

DO AWAY WITH MONEY - ABSOLUTELY - and do business for service, service only, and service to all who come.
What happens ?

You do away with bank clerks and crooked officers; stock markets and crooked manipulators; racketeers and crooked politicians and police officers; advertising of all kinds with its lying solicitors and purveyors of fatuous radio blurbs; there would be no money made, or stamps printed; half of the work of magazine publishing houses would stop; stores of all kinds would be consolidated to one tenth of their present number; inefficient, poorly equipped manufacturing plants would be closed.

There have never been more than 45,000,000 people gainfully employed in this country. Doing away with money, and its allied activities would release 10,000,000 of these. The 10,000,000 already doing nothing make 20,000,000 people to put to work doing things that need to be done, new housing, making building materials of all kinds, plumbing, radios, electric refrigerators, ranges and water heaters, furniture, playground equipment, new streets and street-lighting systems, building modern food processing plants at points of production, operating the food delivery system, - thousands of trained men and women would be put to work teaching in schools, colleges and trade-schools, and in newly opened " opportunity schools " for those adults who had no educational chances when young; - thousands more would work in hospitals, many more of which are needed, giving new health to the hundreds of thousands who need treatments of various kinds but " can't afford it " now ; - thousands of artists, sculptors and architects would be creatively busy " and no one will work for money, and no one will work for fame, - but each for the joy of the working etc " beautifying the millions of places that need it in this country. " As there is no such thing as cost there is no reason to compromise with either flimsiness or ugliness, and neither will be tolerated "

Hundreds of other things to be done, and after a year or so at thirty hours a week it would need only fifteen hours, or perhaps only ten; and the balance of the time would be spent joyfully, for recreation, study and rest which would fully prepare the worker for a one hundred per cent day's work tomorrow.

THERE ISN'T A GOOD THING IN THIS WORLD, NOW DONE WITH OR BECAUSE OF MONEY, THAT CANNOT BE DONE BETTER, AND FAR EASIER, WITHOUT IT ! Without money fully fifty per cent of the world's present commercial activities would be done away with. Most of them are perfectly useless anyway. Go away with money and everybody is to be productively engaged (excepting of course the aged and infirm) and everybody is going to have, at the end of a day's work, the satisfaction of a job well done.

A man's value to society, not measurable in, - and never yet compensated for by, - money, will thus have a chance of being recognized and acknowledged.

My dear Mr. Hunt:

Your letter of June sixth has been received and the President thanks you for writing. He is much pleased to have the tokens presented to him by Reverend Gregorio Aglipay, through your courtesy, and asks if you will not be good enough to convey to Reverend Aglipay his hearty appreciation of his thoughtfulness. My dear Sir -

I have had it a few weeks ago that you had purchased in New York a copy of the first edition of Treasure Island.

If you are interested enough in Treasure Island to pay $90.00 for an old dog-eared first you must have either a high regard for Stevenson, or - like myself - a love for the book itself.

If either of these surmises is correct, or strikes near the truth, you may like the volume I am enclosing here - with.

I hope your interest is not merely that of a collector of "firsts," for in that case you will have little time for it, as its value will have to be determined wholly by its beauty and its craftsmen-ship.

As to its origin, it's the first and last fruit - bearing a trail of obligations which are still with me - of a plan I had for publishing the more popular of the major and lesser classics in adequate, interpretative manner to honor author and his work alike, but, instead of putting them out in the usual limited high priced editions, to issue them in large enough quantity - at a low enough price so that the average man and woman who loved them could afford them.

The plan was stillborn as the w. k. depression and it collided.

Please accept this copy with my congratulations.

Sincerely
Cal J. Henderson

Dear Mr. McIntyre:

We have just received a copy of your letter of June 19th to Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, and take great pleasure in telling you that we are sending a carton of Chevron D'or Orange Sauterne to the White House. I feel sure that if you have occasion to sample our wine that you will find it intriguingly different and most pleasant. It is a naturally fermented wine which contains citric acid instead of tartaric acid and is therefore "on the alkaline side".

Sincerely yours,

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Early:

Because of your deep interest and close contact with the Civilian Conservation Corps, I am sending you today, by special messenger, a copy of our book "Youth Rebuilds, Stories from the C. C. C." Please accept it with my compliments.

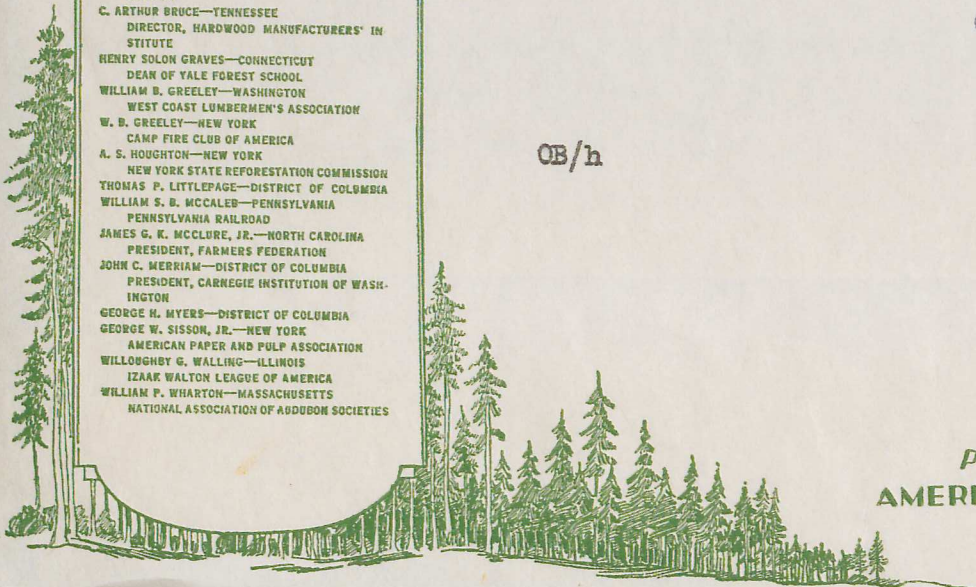

The book is a collection of letters written us by the boys in the C. C. C., each telling in his own way what the Corps has meant to him. These letters are typical of several thousand others we have received the past year, and I believe you will derive real pleasure and gratification in reading them.

Very sincerely yours,

To His Excellency,
President Franklin D. Roosevelt,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

Sir:-

Although I know it is practically a forlorn hope to get a letter, and still more a book, under your own eye, I am making the attempt by sending under separate cover by this mail, a copy of my newly published book "NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATION", a little brochure of less than 200 pages.

In it you will find a full exposition of the "New Economics" that is slowly coming to the surface. The turn in the tide occurred about the time President Green published an article by me based on this book in the October 1930 issue of the American Federationist. At that time economists and industrialists were preaching the gospel of thrift. Since that time there has been a ground swell toward the gospel of spending. But it requires a knowledge of the principles expounded in this little book to understand what the gospel of spending really means; and to appreciate that there is only one way of realizing it.

Mussolini with his "Corporate State" and Gerard Swope with his Industrial Organization, both borrowed from my Address to the League for Industrial Democracy. But both rejected the one feature for which the organization stands-- the FINANCIAL SYSTEM. They are both perversions.

Should you see fit to look the book over, I would suggest that you begin by reading Appendix No.1. If that does not inspire a desire to read the book, nothing else will. The Article was written as a special appeal to you. But President Green refused to publish it.

Very respectfully,

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,

Dear Mr. President,

About two months ago I delivered a copy of my new book, CAPITAL AND INTEREST, to the Hon. Martin Dies, with the request that he take it to you and present it to you personally with my respectful compliments. Mr. Dies promised me faithfully that he would do this, but I have received no acknowledgment from your office to date.

Mr. President, I would not bother you with this matter if I did not feel sure you would thank me for it when you have read the book. Your home-town newspaper, the Knickerbocker Press, of Albany, N. Y., says, in part, about my book:

"It is one of the best books to come off the press. It ranks, as a departure from the stultifying normal of volumes on what is wrong with our economic system, with Guy Mallon's "Bankers vs. Consumers", with C. H. Douglas's work, and with John Strachey's "The Coming Struggle for Power"... In a final chapter the author suggests, among other things, that banking be a function of government and not of private individuals...."

"If Dr. Anderson's arguments are not very much to the point and a challenge to every one of us, then I know not the meaning of a challenge".

Would it be imposing on your time too much, Mr. President, to ask that you extend me the great favor of requesting Mr. Dies to deliver this book to you if he has not done so already? And in any event, would it be asking too much to request that I be notified whether he has delivered it?

Thanking you very kindly for any courtesy you may extend to me, I am,

Your obedient servant,

Montgomery D. Anderson

LEGACIÓN DE PANAMÁ

WASHINGTON

June 28, 1934.

My dear Mr. Welles:

During the visit of President Arias to Washington, I had the honor of being asked to the tea with which President and Mrs. Roosevelt greeted President Arias the afternoon of his arrival.

During the pleasant conversation over the tea cups, President Roosevelt mentioned the fact that William H. Aspinwall, who is so closely connected with the history of Panama, on account of his prominent part in the construction of the Panama Rail Road and the foundation of the city of Colon, was related to his ancestors, and he narrated some interesting anecdotes of that great pioneer in the field of continental transportation and trade.

I have recently been able to acquire a copy of the book published by Dr. F. N. Otis in 1867 and entitled "History of the Panama Rail Road", where of course, reference is made to Aspinwall and where many curious data may be found as to events and conditions on the Isthmus nearly a century ago. Remembering the delightful conversation at the White House and in view of the coming trip of the President to the Isthmus I have thought that he might be interested in reading this book on his way South. I take the liberty, therefore, of asking you to present this book to the President with my best wishes for a bon voyage, and I hope he will do me the honor of accepting this modest token of my respect and admiration.

With an expression of my appreciation for your courteous attention to this request, believe me, my dear Mr. Welles,

Very sincerely yours,

R. J. ALFARO.

GEORGE GERCKE
ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT

June 15, 1934

Miss Marguerite Le Hand
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Miss Le Hand :

A few days ago I became acquainted with the details of what seemed to me an interesting story and I thought after due deliberation that I might pass it along to you.

A woman painter who was a very dear friend of my wife's mother several months ago came across a photograph in the New York Times rotogravure section of Sistie Dall sitting at a piano practicing a music lesson. The thing struck her as irresistibly paintable. She spent three months doing three oils from this photograph, two of which she discarded and the third she felt did justice to the subject so far as her talents permitted. Her task was perhaps more arduous as she is struggling against failing sight.

It was the intention of Mrs. Abbott (Elenore Abbott of Philadelphia) to send the portrait as a gift to the President, of whom she is a tremendous admirer, but one of the art editors of the Times, who saw and liked it very much, asked to show it in the Times window on the occasion of the President's birthday. This was done. Later this art editor wanted Mrs. Abbott to let Parents' Magazine have it for a cover. After obtaining consent from Mrs. Dall, she gave permission, with the understanding that the original be sent subsequently to the President. The portrait was to have appeared as the cover for June.

Mrs. Abbott told me this story and asked if I thought I could inquire in some way if the portrait was received at the White House. She was so eager to know whether the President had seen it that I found it impossible to deny her request, feeling certain you would understand. I know she was very much bothered about the commercial tinge that might have been given to the transaction with Parents' Magazine.

Of course I am not familiar with the procedure by which such things are handled at the White House. If the picture did not happen to come to your attention, please do not go to any trouble about it.

I trust the President will soon be granted relief from the burden he is working under and find some rest and pleasure on his proposed cruise. Bill Conklin and Jack OBrien and I just the other day reviewed all the adventures of the past expeditions on the Barge Canal and the St. Lawrence and regretted that such things could be no more, at least no more under the old informal circumstances. Perhaps some day the President will feel an urge to see the St. Lawrence and the rapids again, before they are all cluttered up with power dams and locks and such things.

With best wishes to you and Miss Tully and Gus and the others, I am

Sincerely yours,

George Gercke

BALTIMORE, MD.

June 29th, 1934

Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States of America

My dear Mr. President;

Allow me to take this occasion to mail you under separate cover, a copy of the magazine "Prodos" or in English, "Progress" a monthly Greek publication of the Greek Orthodox parishes located in Maryland.

We want to assure you that it was difficult to find sufficient words to describe your wonderful achievements and plans for the future, so you will pardon our well meant efforts, and feel sure that are for you 100% more than our words indicate.

The local Greek Communities are well aware of your fine qualities and already they are N.R.A. in another sense of the word, it's other meaning is "Nominate Roosevelt Again" unanimously.

They join me in prayer and well wishes for your vacation holiday and your ultimate return to office assuring you their fullest cooperation in subsequent adjustments.

Yours respectfully,

RECEIVED

A piece of Bajo cubierta por separado tengo el gusto de enviar a su excelencia un ejemplar de un libro sobre Prosodia y Ortografia de la Lengua Castellana que mi padre, el senor Manuel M. Arroyo G., escribio antes de su muerte, y cuyo ejemplar me permito obsequiar a su excelencia.

Fue el deseo de mi senor padre ver este libro de texto en las escuelas de Puerto Rico, pero debido a que el murio antes de que el libro saliera de la imprenta y a que sus hijos eramos en aquel entonces demasiado jovenes para comprender y llevar a cabo su deseo, solo ahora es que estamos tratando de verlo cumplido.

Como me consta el gran interes que demuestra su excelencia por Puerto Rico, asi como el deseo que tiene de que en los Estados Unidos se aprenda el espanol para conseguir por este medio una union mas estrecha con los paises latino-americanos y un mejor comprendimiento espiritual que ayude a la intensificacion del comercio de estas naciones entre si, me he tomado esta libertad en la esperanza de que una vez su excelencia haya estudiado y visto la importancia de este libro, tendra la bondad de recomendarlo no solo para las escuelas de Puerto Rico, que dicho sea de paso, mucha falta les hace un libro asi, sino tambien para la alta escuela de este pais donde hoy se estudia con ahinco el idioma castellano, gracias a la campana que en pro de esta lengua, tanto su excelencia como el honorable Secretario de Estado, senor Hull, estan haciendo.

Agradeciendo de antemano cualquier recomendacion o esfuerzo que su excelencia tenga la bondad de hacer para que este libro sea declarado de texto en las escuelas de Puerto Rico o en la alta escuela de este pais, quedo muy

Respetuosamente,

Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt
President of the United States
Hyde Park, New York

My dear Mr. Roosevelt:

Last Sunday, September 2, I drove to Hyde Park and was permitted to drive to Valkill and have a chat with Gus, because of our association at Warm Springs. I was indeed honored by your friendly wave as we drove away from Valkill. Let me assure you that I shall always remember that eventful afternoon.

In explanation I should say that I spent six months in 1930 and six months in 1931 at Warm Springs, where I had the great honor of meeting you and associating with you. Since my return to Pennsylvania, I have become very active in politics and at present am the Democratic nominee for the General Assembly from the first district of Blair County. My chances for election this fall appear to be excellent and from all indications I believe that the next session of the State Legislature will support the New Deal in every way.

Recently I have become acquainted with a man who is a past-master in the art of puzzle-making. He has given me many puzzles which have afforded me many hours of pleasant relaxation and because of this, I have taken the liberty of mailing you a number of these puzzles under separate cover. The thought came to me that these puzzles might be made and sold at Warm Springs and that such an enterprise could easily be made to provide a large sum of money for the Patients' Aid Fund. As the man to whom I refer has an almost unlimited variety of puzzles, I believe that quite a business might be carried on by the National Patients' Committee. Most of the puzzles could be easily made by the patients and the work could be carried on similarly to the Craft work. I am certain that this plan could be developed into a means of raising funds for the Foundation and that such a plan would be totally lacking in many of the objectional features that sometimes present themselves in similar endeavors. I have already written to Mr. Carpenter concerning this matter and am awaiting his reply.

In conclusion I wish to assure you of my most sincere belief in the policies of your administration and to promise my earnest support whether or not I am elected this Fall. I am running on a straight Roosevelt, New Deal platform.

Wishing you the best of health and the greatest amount of happiness, I have the honor to remain,

Your faithful servant

Dear President

Mr. Roosevelt, I am sending you this fine stick, a present to you. I am 69 years old. You have done so much good for the people since you have been in your office. I did all I could to get you in this office and you did not fool me. You are the man I said you were, it looks like. Might send you one of my sticks and sometime you may have a second-hand car you might give me. My wife and I are very old and can do but little. A white man got me to send you this stick that I made in my old age. He said "you don't know what he might give you" but I am not looking for anything for my stick, but I do want to get a letter from you so I can show it to my friends and it will cause you to get a thousand more votes in your next election and that will make me help you more next time because I want you to hold this office.

Please let me hear from you.

Dear Miss LeHand:

Thank you very much for your letter of October 3rd.
I am glad that the President liked the little books.

On September 28th I wrote Mr. McIntyre from whom I had had a letter on June 8th, asking him to let me know when I could see the President in reference to a book which I am writing for Dodd, Mead & Company, on our Navy and Merchant Marine. As I have not heard from Mr. McIntyre I take the liberty of asking you to bring this to the President's attention.

A very brief chat would accomplish my purpose and would be very greatly appreciated by my publishers and myself. The entire shipping interests of the United States will be greatly benefited by this forthcoming book.

My dear Mr. President:-

I am sending you the "Birthday Album" containing the autograph of guests at the "Birthday Party" given in your honor by the All States Officers Society for the benefit of the "Warm Springs Foundation."

This album also has a list of the state societies in Washington, with their president and secretary.

Forty-four states were represented at the ball, when we were honored by the presence of your gracious and charming wife.

Since the completion of the binding of the volume, which was mid-summer, there has seemed no fitting time for a formal presentation.

It seems fitting that this memento should be handed you now when you are in Warm Springs, which was the object of the undertaking, and I am therefore, in the name of the All States Officers Society of Washington, D. C., transmitting this "Birthday Album" to you.

Most sincerely,

Also a silver ash tray from the Matchless Mine at Leadville (famous Silver Dollar Mine) as a small memento of miners' appreciation was presented to President. Mr. McIntyre asked Mr. Palmer to thank miners for President for this gift.
