The wood-work is covered with bronze stars driven in by the pupils of the school and members of the American colony, our Ambassador, the Hon. Mr. Weddell, driving the first star.

We hope that Bobby, as our representative, will be able personally to deliver the gift from his class to the President, thus linking us more closely with the home-land. My work in foreign American schools has been recognized by Pres. and Mrs. Harding and Pres. and Mrs. Hoover.

Thanking you for arranging an interview,

My dear Miss Ribble:

Your letter of June tenth has been referred to me. While it will not be possible, because of official matters requiring his attention, to arrange for a personal presentation to the President, I shall be very glad to receive the N. R. A. Eagle on the President's behalf, later bringing it to his attention with an appropriate word of explanation.

Sincerely yours,

My dear Mr. Hunt:

Your friendly letter has been received and the President has noted it with interest. He is indeed grateful for the kind thought which prompted you to send him that handsome onyx bowl, and has asked me to convey to you and to your associates, his sincere appreciation of this evidence of your confidence and good will.

I need hardly say, however, that this gift can be accepted only with the understanding that there be no publicity in connection with its presentation.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr President.

Allow our company to congratulate you for the great work
That the C. C. C. Boy's has done in the Cave Creek district Arizona,
A big advantage to the stock men. in getting their cattle
To the market. in the past it took them from three to five Day's to get to Phoenix. at present around five hours and on The market. fiftyfive miles to P hoenix from here.

Just a few word's for our product. our company has the Onyx properties in the Cave creek district Arizona,
Which we are located on same road and what this same road
Has done for our Company. in 1929 we could haul out about
Two an onehalf ton's to three and if we did we were doing Well over the old road.
But as to day six ton's and two round trip's a day, some Step up.

By George P. Merrill.
Curator, Department of Geologg, U. S. National Museum.

This report was gotten out in 1893. he was in here between 1890 & 1892 as his report reads as follows,

FROM THE GOLD SPOT OF AMERICA

Arizona Onyx Manufacturing Co.
"Genuine Cave Creek Onyx"
Phoenix, Arizona

But to reach the market the Quarried stone must be Dragged on wagons over this 50 miles of road way to Phoenix and thence shipped by rail. with this great Draw back. coupled with high freight impose by a Railroad free from competition,
The Quarries labor under great disadvantage,

But to date we dont feel that way about it. if we only
Had the order's to get out,

We are sending you under seperate cover an Onyx bowl,
For fruit or Nut's which ever you perfer to use it for.
And we wish you Mr & Mrs Roosevelt to except it with Our complements,
From the Ariz. Onyx Manufacturing CO.

Wishing you the best of helth and Strength.

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States,
Washington, D. C.

Dear President Roosevelt:-

Under separate cover I am sending you a copy of my book "A Unique Institution".

This School has been endorsed by all Presidents since the administration of Theodore Roosevelt. The book includes a copy of your splendid letter, (pages 196-197) written to our Dr. Allen H. Moore, in relation to the handicapped men the School admits for a one-year course.

The outstanding results in meeting the serious problems of an outlet for youth, crowded into our great cities in this industrial age, today deserves careful consideration. As an inspiration to those working at the present issue for a balanced national life, this book is sent on what is hoped will be a new mission of life.

Hoping that you will find time to peruse the story, and appreciating your reactions to same, I am,

Very respectfully yours,

Herbert D. Allman

DR. JOSEPH KRAUSKOPF, Department of Co-operating Organizations of U. S. Food Administration.

My dear Dr. Krauskopf:

Your very kind invitation to address The National Farm School has been brought to my notice. Nothing would give me more pleasure than to attend. But you, yourself, through your connection with the United States Food Administration at Washington, are fully conversant with the pressure of the work here, and can readily appreciate how very unwilling I am to quit my desk, even for a day, at this critical stage in our plans of organization.

The great work The National Farm School is doing under your leadership is widely and most favorably known, and I will welcome the first convenient opportunity to pay it a visit.

The work of conserving food is contingent upon its production and its production depends, I feel, not so much on the number of producers as upon how well they are trained. In inculcating a love of the soil and an accurate knowledge of the "How" in agriculture, your Institution is performing an invaluable national service, and I wish for you the continuation of a most deserved success.

Yours faithfully,

(Signed) HERBERT HOOVER

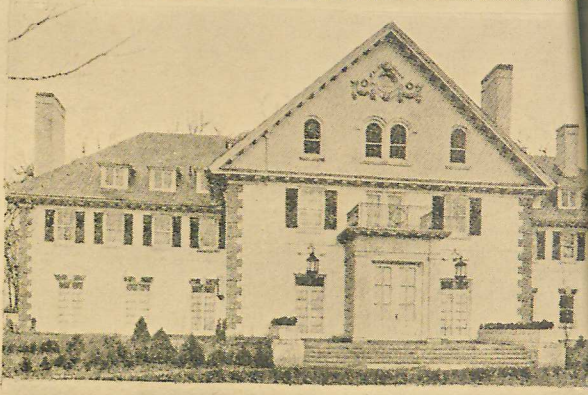

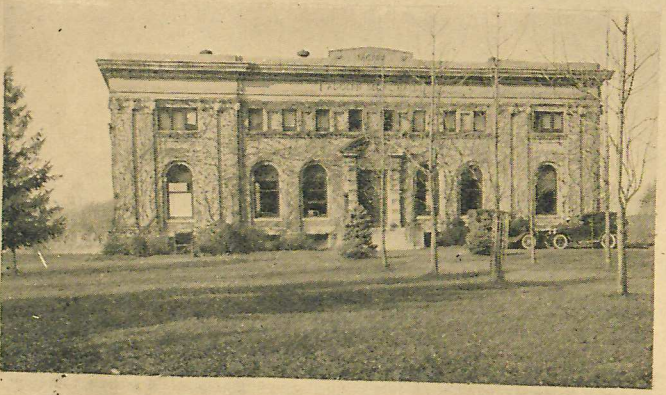

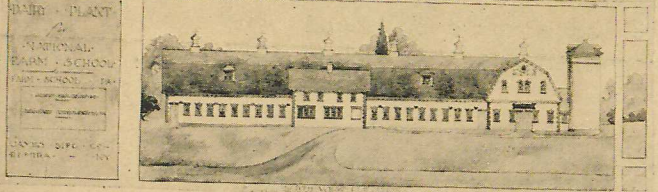

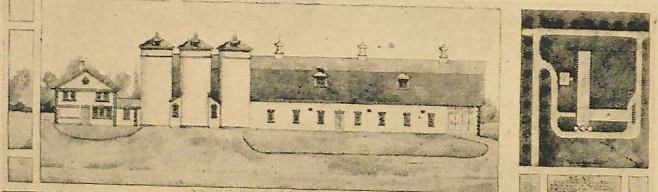

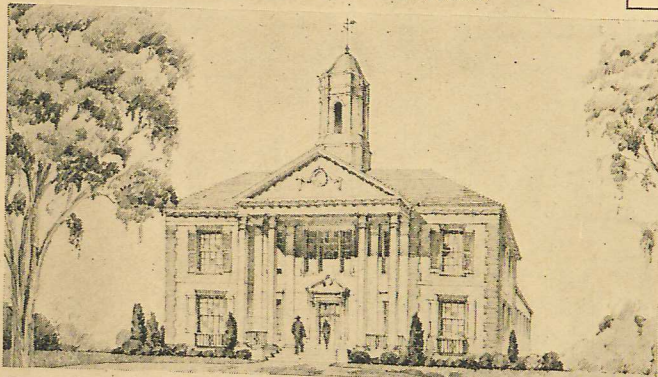

WASHINGTON, D. C.

March 19, 1906.

When I was informed that you had visited the National Farm School which you and your colleagues have just returned from, Pennsylvania, and he speaks in the most glowing manner of the value of the work you are doing there. I remember well when I had the good fortune to meet you during the Spanish-American War, when as Commissioner of the United States Food Administration you were the guest of the late Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. James Wilson. Permit me to wish to you and your colleagues all possible success in the admirable effort you are making to train the leaders in whom you are interested in the national and scientific agriculture for agricultural purposes. There is nothing more needed in this respect than the vigorous movement under way to render the work more scientific, more profitable, and more attractive; for no nation can afford to neglect the well-being and high character of the soil.

With all good wishes, believe me,

Sincerely yours,
Theodore Roosevelt

My dear Sir:

Secretary Wilson informs me that he has visited the National Farm School which you and your colleagues have started at Doylestown, Pennsylvania, and he speaks in the most emphatic manner of the value of the work you are doing. I remember well when I had the good fortune to meet you at Santiago during the Spanish-American War, when as National Relief Commissioner you were the guest of the late General Joseph Wheeler. Permit me to wish to you and your colleagues all possible success in the admirable effort you are making to train the lads in whom you are interested in practical and scientific agriculture for agricultural callings. There is nothing more needed in this country than the various movements under way to render farm work more scientific, ~~more profitable~~, more profitable, as well as ~~more attractive~~, more attractive; for no nation can afford to forget that in the last resort its well-being rests upon the well-being and high character of the

With all good wishes, believe me,
Sincerely yours,

In the accompanying little book (advance copy), WASHINGTON'S APPEAL - The Foundations of Constructive Democracy, the paper "Constructive Democracy," which I sent you in June 1934, is rounded out and incidentally amplified. It is only a "Mugwump" book; but I hope you may find time to read it through. Personally I feel that it largely reflects the motivating impulses of your own public career.

Incidentally, enclosed also is a circular of the limited edition of 500 copies of Washington's Farewell Address, in facsimile, etc., shortly to be published by the New York Public Library (edited by Victor Hugo Palsits, its custodian of manuscripts) - although I surmise that you already have subscribed. It occurs to me that this limited edition at $12.50 and $15.50 per copy (without profit to the Library) should be supplemented in the public interest by a large Library Edition, printed less expensively from the same

Dear Mr. President:

Your very kind personal letter of the 5th is most deeply appreciated.

As affecting Federal power, may I suggest consideration of the treatment of national economic conditions in Washington's Appeal (pp. 44-50) as permanent realities of dynamic evolution in our machine age. It presents an organic aspect amplifying the conventional treatments accentuating the incidents of our collectivity and our final territorial limits of livelihood affecting unemployment generally. My impression is that too much stress has been laid upon emergency as a basis for Federal power, incidentally ignoring inherent permanent realities affecting the government of our Union in our modern age. Public, legislative and judicial realization of the actual perspective and proportion appears indispensable in solving the profound problems of existing con-

Dear Mr. President:

Please accept the nut novelty we are mailing with this---a Missouri Mule kicking hell out of ol' man depression.

The St. Louis Nut Novelty Company, an association ( not a corporation ) came into being after the depression had become well rooted by several years of development, but thanks to the popularity of the various nut novelties
the depression has been vanquished for us and our employees.

This "nutty novelty" is offered just for the novelty of the thing. We trust it may bring smiles to you as our various nut novelties are bringing to our ever widening trade.

With best wishes, we are

Dear Mr. President:

We have brought together recently, in one volume, a number of messages which seem to us of particular importance to business men at this time.

The book has been printed at Washington Square for private distribution.

We take pleasure in sending you, under separate cover, a copy of "The Voice of a Business."

In humble appreciation to you for the genuine and lasting benefits which the "New Deal" has caused us to enjoy, I take the cherished privilege of sending you a sample of the "fruits" of this industry.

Conceived and born during the greatest depression the world has ever known, the Frog Industry has grown from an insignificant seed of ambition to a business of national scope and million dollar proportions.

I attribute our development and success mainly to the cooperative good business policies of the "New Deal" and the confidence of the people which the Administration has instilled within them.

Our industry is a shining example of the success and practicality of the "New Deal" in business. When America went to the polls in 1932, we were mere infants, helpless and unknown. As each suggestion, regulation, or code was issued from Washington, it was put into immediate practice in our office and factory. Now, three years after the change in national administration, our business doesn't know the meaning of depression.

We couldn't ask for better times.

The case of canned frog legs that I am sending you is but a mere gesture of the thanks and appreciation we owe you. We shall continue to be "New Deal" boosters and are confident that those who see what we have accomplished under your administration will most surely vote again, just as they did in 1932.

With best wishes for your health and prosperity,

Dear Mr. President:

I hope it will not be unacceptable to your Excellency to receive the gift which I am about to send you.

Knowing that one of your greatest hobbies is that of collecting ship models, I have this day taken the liberty in sending you as a gift to the White House. (Under separate covers) a sword which I have fashioned out from a swordfish sword to be added to your marine collection.

On the blade, I have portrayed the U. S. Navy Scouting Fleet which entered Provincetown harbor in nineteen hundred and thirty-four.

Provincetown, as you well know

x

has one of the best, if not the finest harbors on the New England coast: and it seems a pity that more of our ships do not come oftener.

One of my greatest wishes is that the Old Ironsides would visit here sometime in the near future.

I sincerely hope that the sword will add a great deal towards your collection.

Yours, very respectfully.
