My dear Mr. Allen:

Your letter of December fifth, addressed to Hyde Park, has been referred to this office. The President thanks you ever so much for your courtesy in sending that fine ham and those pecans to him, and he wants you to know that he deeply appreciates your kind thoughtfulness.

The President has asked me to convey his very best wishes to you and to Mrs. Allen for the coming year.

Very sincerely yours,

My dear President:-

I was hoping you would get to Georgia for Thanksgiving but realize your South American trip prevented you from coming.

I am sending you by prepaid express one of my best hams, hickory cured, also two bags of pecans. The large pecans are "Mahan's" and the others "Schleys". The Mahan is a new variety, and I would certainly appreciate it if you would write me which one you like best.

Mrs. Allen and I hope you and your family have a very happy Christmas and send you our most sincere regards.

With all good wishes, I am,

Sincerely yours,

My dear President:

I had the pleasure of being one of the many thousands to welcome you on your visit to Wyoming Valley when you surveyed the area affected by the spring floods of 1936. It was also my privilege to serve as a member of the "Committee of One" to further your re-election.

Having recently published "THE WYOMING VALLEY FLOODS OF 1936" I hasten to send you a copy in the hope that it will be an interesting souvenir of your service on behalf of the people of this community. Pages 59 and 60 deal with your visit and federal activity.

I want very much to have you see a little book of mine, "We or They," which Macmillan has just published.

I imagine it's seldom at this time of year that you can look at anything except the flood of official papers and reports. But if by any chance you glance at what I've written, you'll see an appeal on behalf of the spirit which you yourself show in foreign affairs, and incidentally in favor of many of the specific things which you have spoken about in your recent Messages to Congress.

My dear President Roosevelt:

On several occasions when speaking of you and your administration I have remarked that I believed you had chosen as your Bible verse motto the words of the old prophet "what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" You can imagine, therefore, the thrill and gratification that were mine when you ended your Madison Square Garden address with that quotation.

I am presenting to you a tray on which I have had engraved the verse referred to in the hope that it may ever be a happy reminder to you that in the hearts and minds of the American people you are a man who does justly, who loves mercy, and who walks humbly with God.

A sincere and ardent admirer, supporter and "friend".

Dear Mr. President :

As a token of respect for the Chief Executive of the United States, and to show you what the turkey growers of this country can do when they get down to business, we are pleased to forward to you the Grand Champion Dressed Turkey of the All-American Turkey Show, which was held at Grand Forks, North Dakota, January 18 to 23, 1937.

More than 400 of the country's finest breeding turkeys competed for honors in the live bird division of this show. The All-American was the first exclusive turkey show ever held in the world and is now in its 14th highly successful year. It is regarded throughout the industry as the "First and Foremost Turkey Classic of the Industry".

The bird we are presenting to you represents the Grand Champion selection in the Dressed Turkey Division of the show in which more than 500 dressed turkeys competed. This bird was grown by Mr. Robert Mitchell, of Sunnyside, Washington.

The entire Dressed Turkey division was purchased, following the close of the show, by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company, of New York, through whose courtesy we were enabled to hold out this champion bird for presentation to you.

We hope you like it.

Respectfully yours

I have not the space to go into detail, as to how I cut and shape the horn to achieve my finished article, but the President's acceptance of this cane, will have repayed my time and labor a thousandfold.

wrought to a desired size. The cane is an ordinary walking-cane, held together by a steel rod, around which the horn is placed. This cane which I have just finished for the President, is composed of about 200 pieces of the horn.

I can see no better time for the President to receive this token, than on the occasion of his birthday. I would like to give it to him personally, but I cannot find an opportunity to come to Washington. The cane is much nicer when seen, than

I have been reading in the papers where they are going to give birthday parties for you all over the Country. I am writing to tell you that I sure am glad for you.

My birthday is on the same day as yours, but I don't guess I will get to have a party for me live on a farm and papa is not able. I will be twelve years old that day.

I am sending you a handkerchief with your initial on it. I put the initial on it myself. It is not very big but it will be alright unless you have a bad cold. I hope you like it

His Excellency, Franklin Delano Roosevelt,
President of the United States.

Dear Mr. President:

We have had much interesting discussion as to whether or not to send you a copy of A FLOWER FOR SIGN by Louis J. Stancourt, one of my clients, because of course we realize how terribly you must be bothered by people soliciting your interest in various things always. But after seeing Grace and Fulton Oursler last night, my husband, Achmed Abdullah, and I decided that you might really like it.

Mr. Stancourt is a reporter for whom you found a place on the Writers' Project. He is tremendously grateful to you; and for that very reason shy of approaching you. He left the decision about sending a copy of the book to me; but he asked if the book were sent, that the enclosed message go with it: "To the President and commander in the storm, from one of the storm-bound whome he made a place for on the Writers' Project, whom he hailed as the forgotten reporter, and who in rehabilitation sends to his Commander-in-Chief, in this, once more, his humble salute."

A copy of the book is being sent you today. I sincerely hope that you will find it of interest.

Most sincerely yours,

MEMORANDUM

On July 1, 1937, there was assigned to the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils a Bankhead-Jones Special Research Fund Project dealing with the preservation of plant specimens in as natural a condition as possible. This work is now being conducted by Mr. G. R. Fessenden who was appointed July 16, 1937. During the discussions of this work both before and since the project was officially approved preliminary experiments were undertaken on a closely related process, namely, the imbedding of specimens in methacrylates, which have yielded very promising results and which may be considered as supplementing the Fessenden process.

The plastic material used in making the two specimens is either ethyl or methyl methacrylate in polymerized form, the latter being known commercially as "Lucite" or "Plexiglas", and the flower in the fountain pen set is the commonly cultivated globe amaranth (Gomphrena globosa) while the iridescent butterfly is Morpho aega which is found more or less limited to the northwest corner of the Province of Rio de Janeiro, South America. //

President of these United States -

Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Most Honourable Sir:

I beg you to accept this,
one of my long cherished treasures,
as a token of my high esteem of
your valient efforts and accomplishments.

Lincoln was a glorious example,
as leader for our Country and this paper from Albany New York, your former legal headquarters as our well
loved Governor, should find a niche
I trust in your collection of mementoes,
in as much as you, like our Beloved Lincoln, was chosen and re-chosen by a peace loving Country of grateful Citizens.

May the Guiding hand of God
Continue ever, to direct you -

Sincerely, a humble servant,

Harry Le Roi Ames -

Replies to Miss LeHand's letter of Feb. 26th thanking this company for a box of apples, Starking Delicious, that were sent to the President. States the apples were the finest of that section and were the gift of Governor Lloyd C. Stark. Says in case the President does not have any of these trees in his orchard at Hyde Park that Governor Stark will be glad to send the President some of these trees for planting there.--Attached is Presidential memorandum indicating that President would like about six of these trees.--Mrs. Larrabee, on March 13th, wrote Mr. Paul Stark saying the President will deeply appreciate it if he will have the trees sent at the proper time to Mr. William Fleg, c/o Mrs. James Roosevelt, Hyde Park, Dutchess County, New York.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

I have just finished your profile in an unusual sketch. It impressed me greatly, and compelled me to express myself by means of my natural ability in an artistic sense of the word.

Assuming that your curiosity will attract your interest to my efforts, I would like to explain slightly in detail just how I have executed the workings of the drawing. It consists of cardboard tracings, cut out and glued on a white background, with the result that you really do not see the actual picture but the negative in black and the object itself produced by means of the white backing.

I sincerely hope that you will appreciate my drawing, as I consider this a gesture of enjoyment on my part. It would be impossible for me to express my thoughts about the election, and the exceptional skill you exhibited in winning it. All I can say is "I hope that you will continue to do what you feel is right for the people, and I know you will always have their whole-hearted support and admiration even after your term is ended." Few Presidents can introduce as much of their true personality or remarkable wit as effectively as you can without detracting from the character part itself.

I remain

Sincerely,

Jack Ascolese

My dear Mr. President:

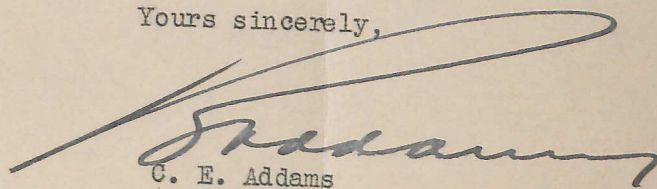

I am sending you by today's mail a photograph of your birthday cake. It was my intention to attend Mr. Farley's dinner and endeavor to present it to you at that time, but due to an attack of flu I was unable to do so.

The photograph is not a very good one because the cake was beautiful and your photograph on it was an especially fine likeness. The cake is being cut by Miss Anna Blanche Lester, Title & Trust Building, Phoenix. In 1921 Miss Lester was afflicted with infantile paralysis.

Miss Lester took quite an active part in the last campaign as state director of the Roosevelt First Voters League.

Wishing you the very best of health, I have the honor to remain

Yours sincerely,

C. E. Addams

WELLES, Hon. Sumner
Assistant Secretary of State
March 31, 1937

Transmits to the President album containing photographs taken during the President's visit to Montevideo last fall, which album the Minister of the Interior of Uruguay, Dr. Augusto Cesar Bado, has asked that the President accept. Mr. Welles encloses draft of letter of thanks, for the President's signature, indicating that if same is returned to him, he will request the Minister of Uruguay to transmit it to Dr. Bado. -- Accordingly, the President wrote Dr. Bado on March 31 that he will always remember with great pleasure his visit to Montevideo and the friendly welcome extended to him by the Government and the people of Uruguay. Says it is therefore particularly gratifying to him to have this souvenir of his visit, and he is appreciative of his courtesy in sending the album to him. -- The original of the President's letter was returned to Mr. Welles on April 2.
