Wrote Miss Tully stating that he is sending to the President a parcel containing a volume of pictures taken at the Quebec Conference which Prime Minister Mackenzie King desired Mr. McCarthy to give to the President with his compliments and good wishes. Extends the Season's Greetings and good wishes. - - -The President wrote Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Jan. 6, 1944, stating that Mr. McCarthy had brought him the delightful album and extends thanks for sending the excellent photographs. The President further states that he wished someone had taken a photograph of all of them at the Laurier House. In conclusion the President said that he went to Oran and Tunis and Cairo and Teheran and Malta and Sicily in perfect health in order to come back to the White House to have a bout with the flu. - - -The President wrote Mr. Leighton McCarthy, Jan. 6, 1944, stating that the album from Hon. Mackenzie King is wonderful reminder of a wonderful week and that he thinks the pictures are excellent. Asks Mr. McCarthy to come to see him when he gets over the flu. - - -Typed notation - Album of photo of Quebec conference - Library B.

Subject of Memo. Model TBF Containing Signatures of Personnel Who Purchased December 7th War Bonds; Forwarding of Under Separate Cover.--L.S. Perry, Dept. of the Navy, by direction, on Feb. 16th, forwarded from the Secretary of the Navy to the Naval Aide to the President the above mentioned memorandum.--The President, Feb. 21st, sent a memorandum From The Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States to the Commanding Officer U.S. Naval Air Station, Pearl Harbor, T.H. The President said he was delighted to receive the model airplane, the scroll of signatures and the letter which explained the circumstances involved. The President said the splendid record made by The Commanding Officer's command in the purchase of war bonds was gratifying and it indicated a group of people who are thoroughly aware of the part that they must play and must be played by us all if the war is to be won in the shortest possible length of time and with a minimum of expenditure. The President said he was sending the model airplane and the scroll to the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library at Hyde Park and they would become a part of the permanent collection there and, as such, would be a source of historic interest in the years to come. The President asked that his appreciation and gratitude be extended to all of the personnel who participated in this worthwhile endeavor.---Chester C. Wood, The Ass't Naval Aide to the President, Feb. 21st, sent memo. to the President saying "It is felt that this official Naval form will be appreciated by the Commanding Officer of the Naval Air Station, Pearl Harbor, and his personnel."

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing you on behalf of the "world's largest Post of The American Legion" to tell you how extremely sorry we were that it was not possible for you to attend the American Legion National Convention which was recently held in Omaha. We can fully understand that your duties made it impossible for you to attend.

We had a convention badge prepared which was to have been presented to you in Omaha. Inasmuch as you were unable to accept presentation of the badge in Omaha, I am sending it to you in the hope that you may find a place for it in your collection.

I have the honor to remain,

My dear Commander Storz:

I have for acknowledgment your letter of January eighteenth to the President. In response, I am sorry to have to advise you that, because of the tremendous pressure of the President's urgent war duties, we have been obliged to refrain from bringing to his attention the many, many requests similar to the one you make. I am sure you will understand and will bear with us.

Very sincerely yours,

In October 1943, you sent me a letter in which you stated that the President had asked you to thank me for my letter of September 23rd and, especially, for the image from the American Legion 25th National.

Writes to the President stating that he is transmitting to him, at the request of Major Zygmunt Tebinka, a citizen of Poland and former Deputy to the Polish Parliament, a copy of "The English Atlas - Volume I" containing a description of Poland. States that this Atlas was first published in 1680 by Moses Pitts, of London, and contains maps of Poland as well as descriptive matter concerning Poland. Major Tebinka undertook the reprint of it, having a limited number of 20 copies made and personally dedicated.--On 3/6/44 the President wrote to Ambassador Ciechanowski, stating that he is perfectly delighted with that very charming reproduction of "The English Atlas - Volume I", and is greatly interested in studying the maps of Poland as it was three hundred years ago. The President asks that the Ambassador thank Major Tebinka for his thought of him. --Penned office memo indicates that the atlas together with correspondence is being held to go to Hyde Park Library "A".

Dear President Roosevelt:

I am sponsoring a 'Round The World Peace Tour in Art. I have painted the figure of Christ in oil on velvet, and have entitled the velvet hangings "The Way to Peace."

Lowell Thomas has had the honor of selecting the countries included in this tour, and they are: United States, Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Russia, China, France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Mexico, Brazil, and Peru. The Office of Economic Warfare and Postmaster General have given me excellent assistance. Due to regulations it will not be possible to mail the hangings to seven of the countries at the present time. They will have to be mailed later.

I am following an inward urge that will not let me rest until this task is completed. Since my husband, a young Methodist minister, is on a fifteen hundred a year salary, it is impossible for me to have regular help with my house work. Ill health has also cut in during the past year, but I just must finish the Peace Tour. Evidently some good will come from it, or it would not make me lose so much sleep.

I think you should have the honor of receiving the first Token of Peace, which is valued at one hundred dollars. It is a gift to you, and when all the seventeen are mailed out, the total valuation will be seventeen hundred dollars.

I am mailing it to you Special Delivery. In order to reduce the weight during war time, I have not attached any rods to any of them. They can be added if desired, or just attractive thumb tacks may be used.

I was thrilled when I christened the Betty Zane at Wilmington, N. C. in honor of my great, great, great grandmother, but the work on the Peace Tour has also given me much joy.

I hope the hanging arrives in good condition. It may be pressed with a warm iron if it became wrinkled. It

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Ever since I advocated The World Calendar, it has been my steadfast conviction that the interest of everyone would best be served were the new calendar to be adopted with a minimum of disturbance. Such a time is Saturday, December 30, 1944 when there is a natural blending of the two calendars.

It has been suggested on pages 121-123 that The World Calendar can be adopted on other days and dates: Sunday, July 1, 1945, Friday, March 1, or Wednesday, May 1, 1946. The adoption on the first date would cause the loss of one day, while its adoption on the other suggested dates would cause a loss of two days. Some believe that this adjustment of a lost day would not be too disturbing. However it is my firm opinion that greater harmony would ensue and more general acceptance be assured were The World Calendar to be put into operation without the loss of a day at the end of 1944—when Saturday, December 30, in both calendars, would be followed by December 31, a World Holiday, and the next day, Sunday, January 1, 1945 would become the first year of the new time-plan.

I strongly urge its adoption at that time. To delay would bring the next "blending" date to Sunday, January 1, 1950. This needless delay would postpone the many advantages and aids for everyday living, for war and postwar plans, and for the rehabilitation that confronts us.

My dear Mrs. Albright:

Thank you in the President's behalf for your very kind thought in wanting to present to him, as a birthday gift, the oil painting to which you refer in your telegram of February seventeenth and letter of February twenty-third. While he is most appreciative of your gracious gesture, he, unhappily, does not have any more room for items of this kind and he does not feel, therefore, that he should accept this painting upon which you have expended so much time and painstaking labor. He is nonetheless grateful to you for your friendliness and has asked me to extend to you and the members of your family his very best wishes.

The painting is being returned to you under separate cover.

Franklin Dealno Roosevelt
White House
Washington D. C.

Dear Mr. President,

I am taking the privilege in writing to you in regards to a telegram I wired you some weeks ago. As I have been acknowledged by famous people before, such as the King of England, Clark Gable, Mr. McCutcheon of the Tribune, Alice Roosevelt Longworth, and I could go on naming many others, I will not take the trouble to do so as I am the type of a woman I do not look to fame or power or riches. My fellow man may have as I do believe the common working man in overalls is deserving of my highest respect as above all means I look to principle. Now the point I am getting to is this. I took it upon myself out of the good will of my heart to present you with a painting of my own as a birthday gift to you. I have very high hopes of this painting and of you, Mr. President. I do believe as this painting was sent to you with spiritual love and the Christ Child being the leading character on the painting his word being sent out should not return unto me or any one of his children void and it will never be overthrown where there is a will spiritually there is a way you could of found a place for that painting but as the old saying goes a poor excuse is better than none. I read in between the lines. Please forgive the constructive criticism but I do believe it takes the courage of the greatest leader that ever trod this globe Christ Jesus to tell a person their bad points as well as their good ones. I myself have no ill feeling against any race but we all know the Master Jesus was a Jewish boy but a better leader we could not find and if we deny him he will deny us. We can do all things through Christ whom strengthens us where thou standest is on Holy ground and it is up to you to let your works so shine before men that they may glorifieth your Father which is in heaven the divine state of mind as the Scriptures say quote they shall all know me from the least to the greatest of their Kings and great men and dynasties will lay down their all to enter this divine state of thinking. Now, Mr. President, I at least demand respect and acknowledgment of the telegram I wired you. It was a valuable painting. I presented to you and it was sent with sincere thought when it left my home it was in perfect condition. I protected myself by insuring it for five hundred dollars the value I have put on the painting the painting was returned to me damaged with a hole punctured through the Christ Child. I do believe the damage was done in my own town because the crate was practically tampered with and turned inside out and a Wheaton, Ill. label that shouldn't of been on there. Now they want to know if it arrived at the White House in perfect condition or if it was damaged when it arrived. Now it is up to you if you want to live up to principle and come forth and speak of him as having all power from him in whom you have your being. It will be a great help to me in punishing the one who caused the wrecking of my work. I planned on for fifteen years something you had planned on that long and had great hopes of you wouldn't want disrespected this way. Don't you think I am at least intitled to the expense of the repair work. I have great confidence in you and will let you pass righteous judgment on it in plain english. I don't see why I should be left holding the bag when I know my intention where for everything fine and good. Mr. President I will be counting on you and I do demand to hear from you at you earliest convenience. I know you are a very busy man but you know when Martha was much cumbered about serving the royal guest which was Master Jesus because Mary sat at his foot and questioned his wisdom he told her Mary had chosen what was more needful seek ye the kingdom of God first I am hereby intitled to acknowledgment of telegram. Wishing you and your family my greatest blessings

Sincerely

My dear Mr. President:

I am shipping you by express prepaid from the Highlands Co-operative Association, Highlands, Florida, one box of Florida Valencia oranges.

This fruit may come in what is known as a Bruce box as we have been unable to get a sufficient quantity of standard boxes. However, I hope to get a standard box before it is shipped. I think, if you like oranges, these will help you to recover from your cold.

Florida, as usual, went Democratic and you are assured of the delegates from this state. My brother was elected as a Roosevelt delegate and I am happy to say that I am still strong for you, as I have been since 1920.

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt
President of United States of America
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I am glad to learn that the miniature of Mr. Churchill reached you in due time, and that you were pleased to get it.

It was my original intention to send you as an appropriate Christmas gift, the miniatures of the four leading allies, Churchill, Chiang Kai Shek, Stalin and President Vargas, of Brazil. Unfortunately, this could not be done due to the unusual rush we had this season at the Pictorial end of Censorship, where I have the honor to be employed, leaving me only Saturday afternoon and Sundays to accomplish this most pleasant "indoor" pastime.

Through the courtesy of Governor Tugwell, I have the honor of sending you No. 2 of the series, (Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek), worthy representative of ancient Cathay. Next in turn will be the picture of Premier Stalin, which has been started already.

The last of the series, President Vargas, will be made most likely, or finished, in Washington, D. C., where I expect to go next April having been charged with the mission of personally delivering a parchment to Dr. Rowe, President of the Pan-American Union, in connection with the De Hostos Association of Puerto Rico.

Hoping that these pictures are accepted in the same sentimental spirit in which they were made, and for an early return of peace and happiness all over the world, I have the honor to remain,

Respectfully yours,

George A. Amy

Please accept this portrait, Mr. President, as a token of my deepest gratitude for all you have done in the past, and doubtless you will continue doing for the good of the progress, happiness and the commonweal of my beloved Puerto Rico, and as a tribute of admiration for the desperate effort that you and the Allied Nations are making to rid the world from the grasping clutches of modern Vandals, bent on destroying the blessings of Democracy.

In the absence of Miss Tully, I am acknowledging your letter of July twenty-fourth. In response to your inquiry, our files show that under date of April twenty-second Miss Tully wrote you expressing the President's appreciation of the gift of the portrait of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek which you painted for him. I am very sorry that you have had difficulty in getting transportation for your proposed trip. I am afraid that Miss Tully could not be helpful in this matter even if she were in Washington. The regulations governing travel are laid down by the Office of Defense Transportation and I suppose the exigencies of the war impose limitations on travel from Puerto Rico, as elsewhere.

HOTEL CENTRAL,

My dear Miss Tully:-

In a letter addressed to Mr. Roosevelt which was sent along with the miniature painting of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, I explained to the President that it was my original intention to send him the paintings of the four worthy representatives of the allied nations, (Churchill, Chiang Kai-shek, Premier Stalin, and President Vargas, of Brazil), as an appropriate Christmas gift to our beloved president - a most pleasant "indoor" pastime, which had to be done during my hours of rest, (Saturday afternoon, and on Sundays,) due to the unusual rush we had in Censorship, where I have the honor to be one of the workers.

I wonder whether this letter, sent along with the miniature of the Chinese General, ever reached its destination. I regret to note that I never received the anxiously expected reply.

In the same letter I also stated that the portraits of Stalin and President Vargas, of Brazil, would be probably finished at Washington, D. C., where I was scheduled to deliver personally to Dr. Rowe, Director of the Pan-American Union, a parchment sent by the De Hostos Association of Puerto Rico. However, despite of all my efforts, my utter failure to secure transportation either by sea or by air has been rather disappointing to me, specially now that it is almost impossible to get here the art material I need to proceed with my work, that frames cannot be obtained at any price and, what is worst, that I am being deprived of an early visit to the famous Spanish eye specialist, Dr. Castroviejo, of the New York Medical Center, in order to find out what this famous doctor can do for me and rapidly failing eyesight.

Under the circumstances, and moved by some sort of spiritual mandate, the thought has come to my mind rather forcefully, that I should send you these few lines, knowing that you will be kind enough to explain in a few words to the President the predicament in which I find myself, and the urgent necessity of my returning to the States as soon as possible, in order to look after my eyesight before it is too late, as well as being able to secure the art material I need to finish the promised pictures, plus any other work that either Mrs. Roosevelt or the President may suggest or desire to be done. I know that a word or two whispered to the proper authority will no doubt facilitate and expedite matters considerably. Will you do this for me, Miss Grace? Although I do not have the pleasure of knowing you personally, I have a feeling that you must be a very kind-hearted woman, intelligent, comprehensive, and that you will try to please me in what I have requested. And if you do that, Miss Grace, if through your intelligent cooperation I can get to the States before it is too late, I, GEORGE A. AMY, solemnly promise you to make you the finest miniature portrait of yourself or of any one that may be very dear to you. What do you say?

Conveying to you and to the President my heart-felt gratitude in advance for anything you may do for me on this matter, I have the honor to remain,

Sincerely yours,

George A. Amy

Dear Mr. Schnapper:

The President has asked me to thank you for sending him a copy of Secretary Stimson's book, PRELUDE TO INVASION. He is most grateful for your thoughtfulness.

I regret to advise you, however, that so many publications and literary works are submitted to the President daily that he has found it necessary to adopt a policy not to comment on any of them. I want to assure you this does not indicate any lack of interest on his part. The President has adhered to this rule because of his desire to treat all of his friends on a basis of equality, without special favoritism. I feel sure you will understand his position.

Some Comments About Its Program and Publications

I wish your organization Godspeed in its work. —
PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

I am, of course, familiar with the publications of the Council, and I shall watch with interest the new program you are launching to stimulate discussion about current democratic problems. — VICE PRESIDENT WALLACE.

I am deeply interested in the program which your organization has undertaken. — ROBERT H. JACKSON,

At a time when the need for informed and constructive thought is great your organization is rendering an invaluable service in fostering such thought. I am glad to be able to offer congratulations on the occasion of your fifth anniversary. — FRANK MURPHY, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

As Director of the Office of War Information, I have good reason to feel strongly the responsibility incumbent upon us all to spread through the land full and exact information about the nature of the war. To do this job effectively and in line with our democratic past, the government must leave a large share of the work to private agencies. It has been refreshing to watch over the last five years the honest and impartial operations of the American Council on Public Affairs. I have every confidence that the next five years will see your work expand in scope and importance. — ELMER DAVIS.

My dear Mr. Hassett:

My sincere thanks for your kind letter of August 23rd in reply to mine. It is not my purpose to intrude on your valuable time or to ----- you with letters.

Over radio yesterday it was announced our President might have something to give out about the Harding Administration. While I do not think he would be reading the books, I am wondering if they contain any information that might help him. I have the two books in my son's library. The Strange Death of President Harding from the Diaries of Gaston B. Means -- the President's Daughter by Nan Britton (?). I will be glad to mail these books to you.

I was thrilled over our President's speech. I want him to sleep some, but not too much -- he must win.

Speech Declared
Greatest F. D. R.
Ever Delivered

Washington, Sept. 25.—Democratic stalwarts are jubilant over the reaction to Mr. Roosevelt's opening blast of the campaign. Democratic publicity director Paul Porter says it was "the most masterful political speech President Roosevelt ever delivered."

As the campaign headed into its last six weeks, Interior Secretary Harold Ickes told a Pittsburgh audience that if Dewey means what he says in his speeches, then he is one of the most ardent New Dealers of all.

TRANSLATION

HIS EXCELLENCY DOCTOR
FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT
PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

When one of the members of this BAR ASSOCIATION OF SÃO PAULO, Mr. WALFRIDO PRADO GUIMARÃES, our esteemed President, had the good fortune to visit your great Country, we conceived the idea of making him the bearer of a cordial message to Your Excellency that would express the sentiments of our group of lawyers and those of the Brazilian people, respectively, to the President of the United States of America and the sister nation over whose destinies Your Excellency so well presides.

We have followed with sympathy Your Excellency's political activities in the international sphere with relation to problems of a general nature, and especially as regards the Western Hemisphere and our Country.

As practitioners of Law we view with distress the eclipse of the juridical order in international society because of the constant, premeditated and criminal violation of its most elementary rules by the governments of the totalitarian nations, which we are combating together as allies in the present conflict.

The

The American or continental spirit repudiates wars of conquest and abominates any imperialistic formula of submission of one people to another, for it has always - and this constitutes an honored tradition - sought inspiration in arbitration or in the decisions of international tribunals, even if not a solution for its international disputes.

Brazil, in particular, has followed its course as an independent country by observing respect for other nations, jealous of its sovereignty, which it has been able to preserve with honor, adopting respect for Law as its motto of political action, from the Empire to the Republic.

In this epoch of apprehension, when we are witnessing the downfall of régimes and the changing of values of a civilization in a state of change, we are happy to see at the head of the great AMERICAN NATION an enlightened and just spirit such as that of Your Excellency, in whom Yankee idealism is reflected and incarnated.

The Good Neighbor Policy adopted and followed by Your Excellency has inspired in all of us inhabitants of this part of the hemisphere a confidence which we hope will never be misplaced in the course of time, for Your Excellency has given new and significant expression to the Monroe Doctrine.

Brazil

Brazil and the United States have always been friends across the Atlantic, just as was foretold one day by the Baron of Rio Branco. Never has any incident lessened the admiration which we profess for the most fortunate sister nation of the Continent, with which we shared the same dangers in the war of 1914 and which we now join in the common effort to conquer Fascist totalitarian reaction by sending our brothers to the field of battle.

We ardently hope that the union that has been forged and strengthened in hours of peril will continue beyond the peace; that the friendship between Americans and Brazilians will become more and more cemented by sincerity, by mutual respect, by harmonization of the interests of the two nations, a friendship that will be everlasting because of the reciprocal understanding of the two countries and which will be of great benefit to us in the lofty and neutral sphere of culture by broadening and stimulating the contacts between our élite groups.

Furthermore, we extend greetings to the United States and particularly to Your Excellency, soliciting and offering collaboration in order that Brazil and the United States, each in the sphere of its possibilities, may contribute to the herculean task of world reconstruction after the

Dear President Roosevelt:

The enclosed book announces American Airlines' new Airfreight service, officially inaugurated on October 15, 1944. This copy of "Here Comes Airfreight" - one of a limited special edition - was set aside for your use.

Airfreight, we believe, is a definite step forward, in the history not only of air transportation but also of commerce and America itself. It represents the first practical utilization of air speed for the bulk movement of the things men live by and with.

Since war needs limit the number of airplanes available, and since nothing may interfere with the transportation of war cargoes, the extent to which Airfreight can serve general business for the present is not large. Today's service will, however, form the basis for after-victory commerce, when Airfreight will be available to all.

Sincerely yours,

A. N. Kemp

October 9, 1944.

Wrote to Pres., saying that on Oct. 6, he had honor to accept on his behalf the enclosed album prepared by crew of SS MARINE WOLF, a WSA troop transport allocated to the Army. Album was designed and executed by merchant crew members belonging to National Maritime Union, presentation being made by three members of crew, John Gladstone, Harry Rubin and Earl Carter, who came to Washington for that purpose. Presentation delegation informed Adm. that idea of album was first conceived when news reached them at sea of the Dumbarton Oaks Conf. and that it is intended as joint token of loyalty, of appreciation for President's services, and as an expression of hope that his peace proposals as outlined at several world conferences will be realized. Pledge was signed by more than 1,050 persons.--members of Army, Navy, Army Nurse Corps, WAC, Medical Corps, and entire merchant crew,--fighting men and women who were returning to this country from the European war fronts, 85% of whom are wearers of Purple Heart.---11/5/44 FDR sent following reply to Adm.: "I am delighted to have that handsome album, a gift from the crew of the SS MARINE WOLF, and am deeply touched by the friendly thought which prompted this presentation. Will you please be good enough to extend my hearty thanks to the gallant members of this crew as well as my very best wishes."---Pencil notation on Adm.'s let.: "Mr. Wagner 'P' Album to L.
