My Dear Mr. McIntyre:

In accord with yours of October 11th last year. I'm sending by this same mail the set of books to the President and also another little book "Thinking Right is Living Right," for Mrs. Roosevelt. Kindly ask Mr. Roosevelt to accept them as a birthday present from the translator in appreciation of his heroic efforts to right the wrongs of labor and stabilize the industries of the country.

Kindly remind him that, when stumping the country for the Presidency, in answer to a letter of mine, he said he agreed with me that to find employment for the unemployed was the first and most pressing duty of the government.

The economic condition of the country is so serious today even the most prominent clergymen of the Council of Churches in America have joined in sending out a questionnaire concerning it. And so I want to get to the President the gist of my answers to it. The ideal economic condition, I'm convinced, is for each individual to hold what he holds for the common good.

But men of today are not up to practicing such an ideal.

So the best way to lead to it, I believe, is to see to it that the government not only conducts the Post Offices of the country and controls the post roads, but all the roads and all the means of transportation-land, air, and sea.

This, to begin with. Then later all mines and minerals. Then later still, the steel industry, etc.

I'm inclosing a clipping from the Philadelphia Record of yesterday, which I was very glad to read. I was a great admirer of Theodore Roosevelt until he went back on the Progressives. I've always felt sure he could have done what Mr. F.D. is now doing had he gathered round him the progressives of both parties instead of going back to the gang as he did. To my mind that was the breaking of his career and the failure of his life.

THE WORD 'DEMOCRAT' BEGINS TO HAVE MEANING

The Democratic National Administration is to support Republican Senator Hiram Johnson for re-election in California.

Sounds alarming, put that way.

The Progressive National Administration is to support Progressive Senator Hiram Johnson for re-election.

Phrased thus, the announcement of Roosevelt support for Johnson becomes the most natural alliance in the world.

The unimportance of present party labels is utterly exposed by the declaration of support for Johnson. The announcement hails the beginning of a long overdue breakdown of the old party lines.

This nation needs, not a Democratic and a Republican party, but a liberal and a conservative party. The G. O. P. has accepted the conservative banner. It is welcome to it.

The Roosevelt Administration is leading the Democratic party to acceptance of the liberal banner. It is proceeding logically, by supporting liberals for election, whether they are labeled Republicans or Democrats.

Senator Johnson merits the full support of any liberal party. His Republican tag didn't stop him from endorsing Roosevelt in the Presidential campaign. That the wishes of Senator McAdoo, a life-long Democrat, are being disregarded, proves merely that something is wrong with McAdoo, not with the Administration.

The breakdown of old party lines, the building of a new party, based on economic and social philosophy, not on empty names, is one of Roosevelt's major accomplishments.

He appointed two former Republicans, Ickes and Wallace, to his Cabinet, simply because he believed them to be liberals of his own type. He has frequently defied the demands of job-seeking, "deserving Democrats" to place capable and liberal Republicans in important posts. He has looked beyond the label, into the man.

He must complete the picture. His support should also go to such Republicans as Senators La Follette, of Wisconsin, and Bronson Cutting, of New Mexico. It belongs with Senator Norris, of Nebraska. All these, nominally Republicans, stand for the liberal social legislation which Roosevelt stands for. They belong with him; he with them.

On the other side of the picture, such Democrats as Carter Glass, Alfred E. Smith, Bernard Baruch, convinced conservatives, belong with Herbert Hoover, David Reed, Ogden Mills and the long list of Tories who oppose necessary liberal changes.

To support Hiram Johnson, Bob La Follette and Bronson Cutting makes the name Democrat significant. It ends the absurd scatter of liberals and Tories through both parties—and concentrates the two forces where they can join in clear-cut fights on clear-cut issues.

If the Democratic party is to become an instrument for reforming our national life, and not merely a machine for giving jobs, it must proceed on the lines Roosevelt lays out.

My dear Mr. Beede:-

I cannot tell you how sorry I was that I was under the weather and could not see you when you were here. I hope Mr. McIntyre found it possible for you to see the President, although this is a very difficult task these days, because of so many, many matters requiring his attention.

I do appreciate the pipe very much indeed, as I am immensely interested in such things. Would it be possible to get a photograph of Henry Taylor as it would add very much to the attractiveness of the gift. I hope you will thank him personally for me, and let him know just how much I enjoy having the pipe.

The next time you are here, I sincerely trust I will be able to see you.

My Dear Mr. McH. Howe,

Your letter of Dec. 29 in answer to my telegram to the president and thank you for your early reply. I am coming into Washington to be there Jan. 28, 29, 30 at the Mayflower Hotel and I will have with me a desk set made from Pipestone by an Indian named Harry DuPree. I have had him make this set for the President and I also will have a Calumet Peace Pipe made by an Indian by the name of Henry Taylor. The pipe is for you.

Of course, coming from out here on the prairies, I don't know how to get these present to the President and you but I will be at the Mayflower Hotel and if you will send me instructions how to deliver them to you, and if it would be possible that the President could spare just one minute, of his time for me to give him this desk set, I will greatly appreciate it.

Out here in this part of the country, I have been very closely associated with the relief conditions, (being the treasure of the local relief board for four years, and serving as President of the local Kiwanis Club for the past year) I feel that I am very well posted on conditions and if there is any information that the President would want first hand, I would be only too glad to serve him with whatever information that I might have to help him.

Trusting that you will be able to find time during those three days for me to have one minute with the President or more if he wants it and that you will at least try to give me two or three minutes of your time, I beg to remain,

Mr. Louis McH. Howe
Secretary to the President
The White House
Washington D. C.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of Feb. received sometimes ago and am sorry that I didn't get around to answer sooner but inclosed you will find the picture post card of Henry Taylor and his wife. I might explain in the making of your pipe that Mr. Taylor done the heavy work such as filing it into shape and boring the holes etc., and his wife doing the finishing work.

Now you speak in your letter that you would appreciate a photograph. If this post card doesn't fit your requirements, if you will let me know, I feel satisfied that in due course of time I could get a photograph for you which I would be glad to do.

I am also inclosing a little booklet here that gives the history of the Pipestone quarries and if you are interested in same, you will probably get something out of it.

If you do enjoy these kinds of things, Mr. McH. Howe or if you are one who likes to have a collection of such things, I will make it a point to send you some more of their work as they make all kinds of trinkets such as ash trays, pin trays, horseshoes, charms, paper knives, paper weights and if you would care for anything more for your collection, you let me know and I would be glad to send it to you. I will make it a point to see that an Indian makes it and who the Indian is so that you will know that you have the genuine Indian workmanship.

I was disappointed of course in not being able to see the President especially after travelling 15,000 miles but of course I realize that the poor man has practically no time to himself. There was one little request that I was going to ask him if I had the chance and that was I would of liked to ask him if he hadn't already been ask, to give me the pen that he signs the Bakers Code with and if it wouldn't be asking too much of you, and you should find a chance to ask him for it, I would greatly appreciate it. It would be something to me that I would value, I believe more than any other material thing that I might own.

I was wondering if the President received the desk set and if it was to his liking as the remarks that I had carved on same explains my feeling and thoughts of him.

Trusting that this finds you and the President in the best of health and with an abundance of happiness, I beg to remain,

My dear Miss Bernard:

The President has received your letter of February first and thanks you heartily for your birthday greetings and for the gift which you were good enough to send him. He greatly appreciates your thought of him. I thought that I would show my admiration in some way or other.

Very sincerely yours,

I am seventeen years old, and a senior at Lowell High School, Lowell, Massachusetts. I have never taken a picture. I have a natural instinct for drawing.

Miss Lena F. Bernard,

I have your picture and sent it for your birthday, but I did not finish it in time. It is not a very good likeness, but I hope you like it.

President of the United States
Washington, D.C.,

Dear Mr. President -

Following the usual custom of expressing one's appreciation and regard; I am sending you an old relic of Andrew Jackson - you are the only president, since his time or before, that is truly democratic; having the will and the nerve to fight the money power, and help me, the poor, in life's bitter struggle -

This old relic is absolutely authentic,
I am the third owner - and it has been in my possession over fifty years

May our Heavenly Father protect and guide you, and bring you many more happy birth days -

Very Respectfully yours

My dear Mr. Stacy:

This is by way of acknowledging and thanking you for your telegram of January thirtieth and your letter of the thirty first. They would have been acknowledged before now but for the continuous pressure of work here.

It will be some time before the District of Columbia escapes from the prohibition laws still in effect here. Under the existing law nothing stronger than 3.2 in alcoholic content is legal. Repeal for the District should be celebrated the latter part of this month, certainly by the First of March.

I have advised the President of your very kind offer.

homes surrounded by terraced vineyards high above the swift-flowing Hudson. It is a veritable transplanting of the romance of other lands for merging and growth with the forthright sturdiness of American viticulture. Some of the younger workers were born on the Bolognesi estate and their happiness in their environment and labors keeps them there from preference---working and playing in the vineyards with not a little thrill of pride that their President lives "just across the river."

Our wire stated that this section of Ulster County is noted for the superiority of its wine-grapes, a fact that can be confirmed at the Department of Agriculture. We can assure you of the highest recommendations for the excellence of Bolognesi wines. The best test is their taste. It really is a name to remember a wine you won't forget.

We shall make no move, of course, until advised by you. If Mr. Bolognesi may have the pleasure that he seeks, we shall appreciate your advice as to the proper time for shipment and any other details you may wish to convey to us.

HIGHLAND, ULSTER CO., N. Y. Jan. 31, 1934 mm

Mr. Stephen T. Early
The White House
Washington, D.C.
Dear Sir:

As indicated in our wire of Jan. 30, Mr. Aldo Bolognesi and his associates, for 27 years vineyard culturists in this district, are hopeful of the honor of being permitted to ship complimentary cases of each type of Bolognesi wines to Mrs. Roosevelt for family enjoyment of products grown and matured with the skill of continental tradition within sight of Hyde Park.

Mr. Bolognesi is reluctant to intrude if his offer of wines that have matured from grapes that grew in the sun-blessed soil where Ulster slopes to the Hudson is not welcome.

Mr. Bolognesi Sr. was a pioneer viticulturist in this favored section of the Hudson Valley. Since he set out his first vines, the name Bolognesi has become increasingly prominent, not only because of the widening of his acres planted to wine-grapes nor for the superiority of his wines but also for his many public services and neighborly interest in the welfare of the people of the countryside.

His widow, son and daughter are maintaining the Chateau Bolognesi in warm adherence to the traditions which the elder pioneer brought with him. Here is a grouping of happy families in cultured homes surrounded by terraced vineyards high above the swift-flowing Hudson. It is a veritable transplanting of the romance of other lands for merging and growth with the forthright sturdiness of American viticulture. Some of the younger workers were born on the Bolognesi estate and their happiness in their environment and labors keeps them there from preference---working and playing in the vineyards with not a little thrill of pride that their President lives "just across the river."

Our wire stated that this section of Ulster County is noted for the superiority of its wine-grapes, a fact that can be confirmed at the Department of Agriculture. We can assure you of the highest recommendations for the excellence of Bolognesi wines. The best test is their taste. It really is a name to remember a wine you won't forget.

We shall make no move, of course, until advised by you. If Mr. Bolognesi may have the pleasure that he seeks, we shall appreciate your advice as to the proper time for shipment and any other details you may wish to convey to us.

Dear Mr. Early:

We are acknowledging your letter with its friendly advice as to conditions in relation to the admissability of wines in the District.

And we wish you to know our appreciation of having brought our offer of cases of each type of Bolognesi wine to the attention of the President.

May we assure you again that we stand in readiness to make shipment in the manner and at the time that you designate when the repeal tide spreads over the District. A communication or collect wire to the writer, Room 1233, RCA Building, Rockefeller Center, NYC, will get the promptest of attention as he is in close touch with Mr. Bolognesi at Highland.

The President Of The United States:

It is with heartfelt sincerity that I wish you a happy birthday.

Some time ago, March 5, 1933 to be exact,
a full page picture of Mrs. Roosevelt and yourself appeared in the rotogravure section of the Baltimore American. This picture and your subsequent most worthy performances created in me a strong desire to make a copy of this picture in oils, and offer it to you at some future time.

I can think of no more appropriate occasion than this.

It will be forwarded to you within the next few days.

I trust that my humble efforts, as I am not an artist but merely an art student indulging in it for a hobby, will give you both at least a little pleasure.

Many happy returns of the day.

Respectfully yours,

A. J. Bormida.

My dear Mr. President:-

I am sending you, under separate cover, a few of my humble offerings. They are indeed humble, but I am contributing them as my part in this great work of reconstruction, and with the hope that they will bring happiness, - the same happiness as I had in creating them.

I realize that your time is well taken up with matters of more importance, but music, as I vision it, is a very mighty thing in this life, - so I am sending them to you in the great hope that I have done my duty.

Last year when Mrs. Roosevelt visited here in Los Angeles, I sent you one of my songs which I was singing over the radio at that time, and which she so graciously and kindly delivered to you. It was "Columbia, - All Hail" Your cordial acknowledgement of same, thru your Sec. has been greatly appreciated and prized by "Yours truly".

I take great pleasure in personally letting you know the great feeling I have for the wonderful work you are doing for humanity, and may God spare you to 'carry on' to the glorious finish. So with the last line of "Columbia - All Hail," - I say;—

Land of the leal and true
Under the Arch of blue
Columbia, - All Hail
I pledge my faith to you.

With sincerest wishes to Mrs. Roosevelt & Yourself -

Mr. Louis McH. Howe
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Howe:

I am enclosing herewith Professor Dulles' "The Dollar, the Franc and Inflation". If you have not read this book, I do hope you will do so. It will not take you much more than an hour, and I am sure you will feel the hour well spent. I call your attention especially to Chapter Nine, and I have taken the liberty of underscoring certain passages in same. If you do have time to read the book, and it appeals to you, I do wish you would take five minutes and read Chapter Nine to President Roosevelt.

I am so thoroughly convinced of President Roosevelt's great sincerity and strenuous efforts to bring us out of our troubles that maybe I am inspired too ardently to try and help, and that is my only excuse for burdening you with this book, and taking up five minutes of President Roosevelt's valuable time. If it is possible for him to devote himself for that long to Chapter Nine, I cannot help but feel that it will be of benefit.

With kind regards and best wishes, I am

Yours respectfully,

E. S. Burke, Jr.

P. S.

I am very sorry that the pages were printed regarding Mr. Woodin, before I knew of his severe illness resulting in his resignation. Of course, the next printing of the book will have instead a chapter about the new Secretary of the Treasury, but I nevertheless regret using any "nickname" in his case.

Dear President Roosevelt:

Under separate cover I am sending you a complimentary copy of the new book entitled, WASHINGTON AND THE REVOLUTIONISTS, which is being published this week by Harper & Brothers. In it you will find references to yourself, based upon either personal interviews which I have had, or material which your office or others have kindly given to me.

I have tried to be fair and independent, but at the same time make the book readable and interesting. Therefore, if in places you feel I have been too facetious, you will please realize that I did not intend to be disrespectful. With kindest regards, and with deepest gratitude for the splendid work that you are doing, I am,

He Kept Phoning White House Until He Got the President in Fight on Farm Foreclosure.

COLUMBUS, Miss., Feb. 28 (P).—Sylvester Harris, who believes in dealing with the man at the top (no understrappers for him) knew what to do to save his farm.

Sylvester put in a phone call for President Roosevelt and got results. Here's what happened, as Sylvester tells it:

"De White House gentleman what answered de phone up there got mad and said, 'Quit calling de President,' but I keeps on and finally gets him.

"He say, 'Who dis,' and I say, 'It's Sylvester.'

"He say, 'Sylvester who?'

"I says 'Sylvester Harris, a nigger down here in Mississippi. A man gettin' ready to take my land and I want to know what to do. De papers say call you and I does and here I is.'

"De President says quiet-like, 'Sylvester, I'll investigate and you'll hear from me.'"

The telephone conversation occurred Feb. 19. Since then George Hamilton, local representative of the New Orleans Federal Land Bank, has received a telegram from Washington requesting investigation of the mortgage on Sylvester's farm and an adjustment through extension.
