the Texas Centennial next summer, Brady will felicitate you and your family with a Texas Centennial turkey which, we trust, will grace your White House table this Thanksgiving day.

Texas turkeys are the finest raised, and each year they constitute good will ambassadors from the Lone Star State to thousands of Thanksgiving tables. The city of Brady, located in the geographical heart of this great State, is now conducting a section-wide "Turkey Derby" to select the finest representative of its huge flocks for a Texas Centennial greeting to you and your family.

It was my honor to meet you last year when Texans aboard the Texas Press special train visited the White House, and so it is with particular pleasure that I privilege myself to "talk turkey" with you about the Texas Centennial on behalf of Brady and the State of Texas.

ELEPHANTS, CLOWNS, LIONS AND TIGERS ALL COMBINE WEDNESDAY TO ENLIVEN TRADES DAY

County Meet Executive Committee Named at Meeting Thursday, 14

Teachers representing all sections of the county met in the district court room Thursday evening of last week and elected an executive committee for the County Meet composed of A. R. Pointer, C. D. Boyer, James P. Carter, C. A. Barton, Miss Virginia Worth, Mrs. Carl Eubanks, Curtis Humphries and J. M. Witcher.

Directors of events were elected as follows: Mrs. J. E. Huddleston, Rythm Band; Miss Ozella Hargis, Story Telling; Miss Margaret Dixon, Music Memory; Miss Flossie Humes, Choral Singing; Sidney Pruitt, Girl's Athletics; Carl Eubanks, Tennis, and W. E. Lawrence, 3-R contest.

A. R. Pointer, Director General has called a meeting of the Executive Committee for Thursday, November 21, in the County Superintendent's office to start at 7 and close by 8:30 p. m. The policies of the County Meet will be considered at this meeting and assistant directors will be named so far as possible.

GREAT MUSICAL TO BE AT MAPLE SCHOOL NOV. 25

Billed as the greatest musical entertainment of the year, consisting of string band, whistling, singing and dancing numbers, Maple School is putting on a show that tops them all in their Auditorium Nov. 25.

Ten dollars cash prizes will be awarded to the best entertainers and entries are being booked from every part of the county.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend, and a small admission fee will be charged, proceeds going to the school.

COMPULSORY SCHOOL LAW TO BE EFFECTIVE AS SOON AS CONVENIENT

Trustees should not set dates for the Compulsory School Law to be effective as soon as convenient. This law requires children between 7 and 16 years of age to attend school for six months each year. The law is intended to help children too obtain sufficient education to make their way in life as independent individuals, and not for the convenience of those whose children are.

Visitors in the Rab Dickie home over the week end were Mrs. R. S. Griggs and daughters, Jenny and Frances of Ft. Worth, Mrs. J. B. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Payne of Moody. The occasion was the celebration of Uncle Rab Dickie's 83rd birthday.

INSPECTION OF CO. SCHOOLS COMPLETED BY E. W. BROOKS

Deputy State Superintendent, Erceel W. Brooks, finished his inspection of schools in Coryell county on Wednesday of last week. His reports on school transportation and state aid were approved as presented as far as possible. Nearly one-half of the schools asking for state aid must make a better average on daily attendance before they are eligible. This average may be attained by any school by having all who are in the grades taught in that district present regularly. Unless care is taken a few schools will not obtain the 65 per cent average daily attendance during the year.

STANDARD TESTS GIVEN TO NEARLY COUNTY SCHOOLS

Standard tests have been given in nearly all schools in the county according to reports from County Superintendent J. M. Witcher's office.

Reports from these tests are coming into the office. These were given so that teachers and pupils would know where to concentrate efforts in this year's work. Reports on all these tests are due within two weeks.

Compulsory school attendance ages vary in different states.

All-State Centennial At Waco, Nov. 22, 23, To Honor B. Director

Prominent Galveston cotton broker, Past Potentate of Temple, executive of the Centennial Thrift and dean of Texas Shrine band leaders was appointed to direct a massed group of 500 instrumentalists and singers at the All-State Shrine Ceremonial, to be held at Waco, Nov. 22-23, in honor of his quarter century service as director of the famous El Mina Shrine Band. Nobles, bands, and patrols from Alzafer Shrine, Temple, San Antonio; Maida, El Paso; Khiva, Amarillo; Maskat, Wichita Falls; Karem, Laco; Moslah, Fort Worth; Ben H. Austin; Arabia, Houston; El Ma, Galveston; and Hella Temple, Dallas, are participating in this grand annual Shrine event.

Kids of All Ages Will Gather to See First Circus Here in Years

Wednesday morning early, the clatter of circus paraphernalia will be heard in Gatesville again! Too, there will be the snorts of elephants, probably a proud Nubian lion will roar out his welcome to those who will want to see him this day of days, and there may even be the steam caliope that will disturb our sleep in the early hours before the "big top" is finally up, and awaiting for that moment of moments—when "The Show is On!" The big tents will be located on the Granville. Rogers lot out on east Saunders street, east of Dr. Bailey's home.

Wednesday is another grand day for yet another reason—Gatesville's Trades Day, which comes once a month, and some one always leaves happier and in better shape than they were before.

This might be the last time at 12 noon is the hour calculated to give the kiddies hereabouts a thrill, some of them have never experienced. A grand free parade will be staged at that hour, including Wednesday.

mischievous clowns, chartering monkeys, lumbering elephants, bands—and so on thru the gamut of circuses, as only a circus man can put it on.

Then, the afternoon and evening performances, which we must not miss—since Gatesville doesn't have a circus every year, and too, this one is a motorized one, (something unusual in itself).

Starting early in the morning, the boys will have a chance to feed and water the elephants, help put up the big top, the side shows and do many other feats in order to earn passes to the show. To really enjoy a circus, you must start early and stay late.

Don't forget that western star of stars Jack Hoxie will be there in person, along with his horse, the white partner, Miss Dixie Starr, and the motion picture company used in making their last picture in Old Mexico. We'll see you at the "saw-dust arena" Wednesday.

L. R. ADAMS OF LEVITA MAKES HONOR ROLL AT A. C. C.

Three hundred twenty-eight students in Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Texas, made grade of ninety or above in one or more subjects for the first six weeks of the present term according to the Honor Roll posted in the bulletin board of Hardin Memorial Building of A. C. C. Twenty-two students made the Honor Roll in four subjects, and twenty-five of the 605 college students made grades of ninety or above in five or more subjects.

Among those making the Honor Roll is T. H. Adams of Levita.

A TEXAS BIRD FOR THE PRESIDENT'S THANKSGIVING DINNER

Don't blame this big fellow for strutting! He will represent the Texas Centennial celebrations on President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving table—that is, if he wins over a few thousand like him that are competing for the honor in a section-wide "Turkey Derby" at Brady, West Texas capital of this flourishing industry. The President has just announced his intention of visiting Texas next summer, and here's his reward for "talking turkey" about the Centennial. Anyway, when Texas gives the President the bird—that's news!

Dear Mr. President:

I have the honor to send you, with our compliments, a copy of Regional Shifts in the Bituminous Coal Industry, the latest publication of this research organization. Part I of this volume is concerned with the measurement of the extent and direction of regional shifts in the soft coal industry and with the causes and effects of these shifts. In Part II we have discussed the general problem of instability in this basic industry and have outlined what we regard as the essentials of a public policy toward the industry. I believe that you will be interested in this analysis.

For the President's possible interest at this time in connection with a speech on the Constitution Mr. Miller sent a copy of his Address to the New York League of Business and Professional Women, at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York, Dec. 2, 1935, which contains a statement made by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes regarding the Constitution. He enclosed a copy of his book "Presidents Born in the South" which carries his radio address on James Madison in which is contained the paragraph from which the Chief Justice's remark was taken. When an interview is arranged for him by Mr. McIntyre Mr. Miller stated that he would present to the President an invitation to attend the public meeting which is being planned by the New York County Lawyers Association and which is to be held on May 13, 1936 in Town Hall, New York City to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the death of James Madison. He suggested that the interview be arranged for the 25th, 27th or 28th of December and said that he also wishes to call to the President's attention that about six hundred million dollars of Panama Canal funds are available to help balance the budget, and to speak about his candidacy for appointment to the U. S. Federal Judgeship vacancy for the Southern District of New York. --- Attached is letter to the President from Mr. Miller, Dec. 11 relative to the judgeship vacancy and enclosing memorandum of some of his endorsers, also telegram from him to Mr. McIntyre, Dec. 12, re applying unused Panama Canal bonds to the budget.

President T. D. Roosevelt

asked 12/24/35-
1935

Dear Sir:

No don't get scared and say, "What the —," "you don't know me and I don't know you only as Bill Rogers use to say" "What I read in the papers."

This is only a walking cane made from the stem of a desert cactus. It won't stand very rough usage as it is very brittle, so don't go to knocking things around with it. It's more for show than service.

Some years ago I made a resolve to do something to bring pleasure to someone whenever the opportunity presented its self.

I wandered over a good portion of the U. S. in my earlier days and finally decided to settle in Kentucky. There I got interested in religion and developed an ambition to become a minister. I did not want to be like most ministers; depend on the contributions of the people, so I decided to acquire a small fortune of my own to maintain myself.

The almighty, if he had any thing to do with it, must have had other plans. My health failed and I was banished to a dryer climate.

I finally found myself herding sheep in New Mexico which is dry enough, or has been the last year or two.

I started at $20. per month and have been advanced to $35. so I guess I must have pleased my boss.

I have had small chance to try to please anyone else, especially acts of kindness or charity.

I saw the wood in the stem of the cactus was rather unusual and few of them long enough or straight enough for anything. Once in a great many one finds one that will do for a walking cane, so I went to hunting for them. In my work I passed thousands of them daily. I found a few and worked them up until they didn't look so bad, so I decided to send them to some one, and in that way I might still keep my resolve, but to whom should I send them was the question.

Uncle Sam is looking after the needy, and this would not be of much value to a hungry man so I decided that perhaps a wealthy man, or one in a place of great responsibility might enjoy and appreciate a thing like that, that didn't cost anything but a little thought and effort that helped to whittle away the time when performing my regular duties.

If it will bring no pleasure to you and you know someone it will bring pleasure to, give it to him.

My health is fairly good here, but ambition, fortune and all of the rest of it have moved down the future indefinitely.

I am still alive, gaining in health, and paddling my own canal. I have steered clear of the government relief, although I was refused work by the CCC officials in Bly.

Hoping you will be pleased by this little contribution of esteem I am wishing you and yours a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

Dear Mr. President:

Under separate cover I am mailing a book containing before and after pictures of daylighting vista points done by state park CCC forces along the Columbia River Highway between Portland and Hood River. //

In a world of lowered curtains, sun rays losing themselves in man-made mists, the manipulations and cross currents of premeditated obstructionists, may you find peace and solace in the God-given pictures created through the hands of your CCC boys. It is within the domain of the Great Architect that we must look for our inspiration for the formulation of the great plan for the betterment of mankind. People are so like this Columbia River Highway, hidden behind the screens of hazel brush and trivialities. We tread the daily ruts, ever emersed in the dust of our own making.

Through your guidance the CCC boys lifted the scenic curtain of this wonderful Columbia Gorge within the revelations of a new scenic wonderland unknown even to those who have worshipped before the scenic shrine of this marvelous gorge. May you turn to the inspirational scenes created by the hands of your CCC boys in this wonderful Columbia River Gorge when doubt arises through the criticism of "brush hidden critics."

I wish to extend to you, on behalf of the people of the State of Oregon, my deepest thanks for the opportunities that have been given the State through CCC forces for the improvement of its parks and highways. May the happiness of a Christmas-tide abide with you in its many blessings.

Sincerely yours,

S. H. Boardman

My dear Mr. President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

This is to let you be informed that I am taking the liberty of sending a little symbolic remembrance in the form of two "levieri" to be used as book-ends or as paper-weights, and with these two dear things (I love very much pretty strong dogs), are also inclosed two little bunches of flowers and a wish card.

Hoping that the New Year will be very lucky for your excellency, Mrs.
Roosevelt and family, I am devo-tely yours, (Miss) Emma M. Buccini
