INDUSTRIAL COORDINATOR - BOARD OF EDUCATION - CITY OF CLEVELAND

Cleveland, Ohio

May 24, 1937.

My dear Mr. President:

Your work and studies in the field of labor and your interest in better worker-management relationships lead me to believe that you will be interested in my recent book on Collective Bargaining, just off the press. I am, therefore, mailing you a copy of it.

My work during the past twenty six years has brought me continually into intimate contact with the subjects of which I write; and the activities of the past decade, as Industrial Coordinator here in Cleveland, have given me a thorough knowledge of the worker-management problems that are part of the new industrial set-up.

Inasmuch as I have worked both as plant executive and in managerial positions and as conference leader in hundreds of plants of all types and sizes, I hope that I have maintained in this volume a purely objective point of view; and if my latest writing contributes something to the cause of more amicable industrial relations, I shall be grateful.

Cordially,

Thank
me

Dear Sir

No doubt you will be surprised, to get a letter from me well. to make a long story short I saw a picture of you in the Detroit times, sitting in a boat smoking a cigaret while you were waiting for a fish to bite and an idea struck me to send you a cigaret holder and case,
which I am making for pastime
I am 76 years old and have not worked in the factory for several years, so I do little odds and ends
at home so when I saw you smoking
I thought I would send you one this is made of Lignumvite hoping you will like it: I don't think anybody ever got anything like this before

Dear Miss Le Hand: -

In June 12-issue of Liberty magazine I was amused to note comments by Alexandra Kropotkin on idiosyncracies of our president.

Surely he is one of the few presidents who has the spark of genius untouched by vanity, and I fear there will be none to take his place.

I am a W.P.A. worker and recently unearthed
a small yet extraordinary root formation consisting of a small stem, at the base of which reclines a small animal over which stands another.

They are so very odd I would like to present them to the president if acceptable.

Respectfully,
W. H. Bickford.

Writes President presenting him with a copy of "The Democratic Book 1936" in a suitable binding. States the printing and binding of this volume was done in his print shop by American workmen. Says in his opinion historians will record this volume as a historical document; a record of a great administration of a great county.-- Attached is memo. to Mr. Hassett, dated June 17th, from Mr. Early regarding the reply.-- President wrote Mr. Cuneo, June 21st, congratulating him upon an artistic triumph in the ancient art of bookbinding. President said as a lifelong lover of fine books he was familiar with the best work that had been done from European incunabula down to the best products of our own day. Said the volume which Mr. Cuneo so generously sent, in beauty of binding and decoration, could hold its own in comparison with the best work of all time. President said he doubted if anything finer has been done in the United States. Said it takes its place among his most cherished possessions and he should not cease to be appreciative of the generous thought which prompted Mr. Cuneo to have it prepared for him and to forward it with such a gracious message.

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,

Dear Mr. President:

One line of your message regarding tax evaders particularly appeals to me. You say: "Taxation necessary to these ends is the foundation of sound governmental finance."

x137

Am sending under separate cover a little book which you probably will decide is 200 years ahead of its time, and yet the greatest teacher of all time I believe has pointed out what briefly I have had published--"Method of Procedure to hasten the Millennium."

True enough the Profit system and the Age of Competition both lie ahead of the program outlined, so that our first move would seem to be to simplify these enormities. To simplify taxation obviously is the one thing needful. The Chiseler and the seeker for Special Privilege, both can be reached, but how?

The answer plainly is this: Do not tax the man nor his property, but tax the thing which everyone worships--the Almighty Dollar. He will gladly pay the tax in order to get hold of it. Any man, in business or out, to get a dollar will pay the Government two or three cents. He will not complain. Here is the secret. Multiply the times the dollar changes hands, and all tax troubles will be over.

Read the Bill again, Mr. President,-- the number is H.R. 4199.

Sincerely and devotedly,

My dear Dick:

The President has asked me to drop you a line of thanks on his behalf for the nice letter which he received from Scouts Hugh Caldwell, Bill Hooper, Kieth Montgomery, Bill Robertson, Jack Fitterer and Scout Master Fred Zetzsche, of Ellensburg, Washington.

He wants all of you boys to know how sincerely he appreciates your kindness in wishing to present him with a piece of petrified Gerekgo, and asks if you will be good enough to convey his thanks to the other boys.

I am mighty sorry that I cannot arrange for the presentation of this petrified Gerekgo to the President in person. Frankly, however, we are being simply deluged with requests from individual scouts who want to meet the President or present him with something or perform some type of entertainment for his benefit. I wish we could grant the requests of every one of these boys, for I know exactly how they feel, but as it is physically impossible to find enough time for the President to see any individual groups, we are having to refuse in all instances.

Since the beginning of the Administration it has been the custom here at the White House for me to receive on the President's behalf all gifts. If this arrangement meets with the approval of your group, I shall be delighted to see all of you here at the Executive Offices any morning after July seventh and receive from you the petrified Gerekgo.

Dear Mr. McIntyre:

Mr. George Don Beymer, the artist who painted the picture of Mount McKinley which I had the honor to present to the President today, is a resident of Cordova, Alaska, and a member of Cordova Igloo No. 19, Pioneers of Alaska, a fraternal organization embracing practically all of the sourdoughs - the oldtimers - of the Territory. You will recall my telling you that Mr. Beymer wished me to make a presentation rather than to have the picture sent to the President direct from Cordova where it was painted. Attached hereto are copies of communications concerning the picture which I received from Cordova Igloo No. 19.

Will you please see that the President personally signs the acknowledgment of receipt of the picture to Mr. Beymer. If not too much trouble, it would be a very gracious act if the President would also send an acknowledgment to the Cordova Igloo. In each case note will be made, of course, that I presented the picture personally.

In one of the memoranda attached hereto received from the Cordova Igloo you will observe the advice given with respect to the conditions under which the picture will appear to best advantage.

Honorable Anthony J. Dimond

Dear Mr. Dimond:

At a recent meeting of Igloo Number 19, Pioneers of Alaska, Mr. George Don Beymer, a noted Sour Dough artist, requested this Igloo to express to you a picture of Mount McKinley, which we understand, you are to present to President Roosevelt.

Mr. Beymer stated that this request was in keeping with a promise he had made to you some time ago. Perhaps you know more about this than we do.

According to the artist, the view is down the Tokasitina River, into the Tokasitina Canyon, with Mount McKinley in the background. The Tokasitina River is South East of the mountain.

We are very glad to be of assistance to Mr. Beymer, in this matter, and hope that the picture arrives in good condition.

With very best wishes to you and yours, and assuring you our loyal support, we beg to remain,

June Eleventh

Colonel Marvin H. McIntyre
Assistant Secretary to the President
Washington, D. C.

6-15-37

Dear Colonel McIntyre:

Enclosed herewith is letter, dated June 3, addressed to the President by Mr. George Don Beymer, an artist, who resides in Juneau, Alaska.

You may or may not recall that in June 1935, at Mr. Beymer's request, I presented to the President a painting of Mount McKinley painted by Mr. Beymer. The President very graciously acknowledged the gift by letter dated June 20, 1935, reading as follows:

"My dear Mr. Beymer:

Delegate Dimond has very courteously presented to me your fine painting of Mount McKinley, and I wish to take this opportunity to thank you and to tell you how glad I am to have this picture.

Very sincerely yours,

Franklin D. Roosevelt"

The above quoted letter is the letter burned in the fire which destroyed a large portion of the town of Douglas, Alaska, last winter. Mr. Beymer treasured the letter beyond measure and therefore, if the President would sign a duplicate of it or write him another letter in some way referring to the gift of the painting Mr. Beymer would be very happy.

Mr. Beymer is really a competent artist and a man of the highest character. I shall appreciate anything which may be done to gratify him along the lines indicated in his letter.

Sincerely yours,

A. J. Dimond

The President

My dear Mr. President:

Your kind and complimentary letter in regard to my painting of Mt. McKinley, presented to you by the Hon. A. J. Dimond, was received by me two years ago. I considered your letter the highest reward any artist could receive and always kept it with me. It was considered sacred to me.

Last winter Douglas, a little town near here, burned down, including my studio. I, being away at the time, lost everything, including your beautiful letter. I can not get over worrying about it so I just had to ask our President to please send me a duplicate. There is no favor that would be as highly appreciated by me as to once more have a letter from you in regard to my painting.

I have the honor to remain,

Yours faithfully,

George Don Beymer

June 22, 1937

The President
White House
Washington, D. C.

Honorable Sir:

By the suggestion of my husband, C. E. Brown,
Director of the State Historical Museum, I am sending to you a booklet on "Wisconsin Circus Lore."

The Folklore Section of Federal Writers' Project which has been under the direction of Mr. Brown as State Director and myself as Supervisor, has carried on a scientific research of folklore and folk ways the past two years. A dozen workers have collected, preserved, and classified some two thousand stories and legends, five thousand customs and superstitions, together with many songs, sayings, and rhymes. These include not only those of early pioneer days, but also contributions from every foreign racial group in our State.

Small booklets have been mimeographed from time to time similar to the one on Circus Lore, namely,
Indian Place Name Legends, Wisconsin Mushrooms,
The Fighting Finches.

2 - The President

This work has never been undertaken before and has resulted in a highly valuable contribution to the folklore of our State and to the Federal Government.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we send this autographed copy in deep appreciation for the opportunities your Works Progress Administration program has afforded.

Gratefully yours,

Dorothy Moulding Brown
