My dear Mr. Beck:

The President thanks you ever so much for the cane which you were good enough to make for him. He is deeply grateful for your friendly thought and has asked me to convey his very best wishes to you and to Mrs. Beck for your health and happiness.

Very sincerely yours,

GRACE G. TULLY

BYE, George T.
New York City
8-28-41

P.P.F.
9-B

Wrote to Mr. Early, forwarding a letter from Cass Sanfield and Eugene F. Saxton of Harper & Brothers, dated 7-9-41, requesting that the President participate in the celebration sometime in October, 1942, of the 125th anniversary of Harper & Brothers to be held either in New York City or in Washington, if it would be more convenient for the President. Enclose booklets for the President's attention. -- Mr. Early replied 10-16 to Mr. Bye's letter and assured him that the President appreciates the importance of the observance of the 125th anniversary of so outstanding a publishing house but said that the President stated very frankly that he could not go to New York to participate in the celebration even if they gave him a whole year in which to select a date. Mr. Early said that the President, however, would be very glad to embody his ideas in a letter which he would be very glad to write when the date of the celebration is determined. -- Attached are the following papers: Mr. Early's wire of Oct. 27 to George Bye re luncheon, Eugene F. Saxton's letter of 11-3 to Mr. Early confirming telephone call to Mr. Early's office in which he also refers to conversation with Gerald Johnson re his being invited to the White House. Mr. Saxton also mentions book which was sent to the President and the data Mr. Bye sent in connection with Harper's anniversary. He said this data would be of considerable importance in preparing publicity releases for the anniversary and asks that if they have not already been started back, that Mr. Early please assist in retrieving them. Copy of Miss Kunkelt's letter of 11-7 to Mr. Saxton advising that she is returning material referred to above.

Nov. 18, 1941.

Writes to the President that sometime ago, a Columbian student of art in the University of Chile brought to him a most remarkable portrait of the President made from the spacing of the Spanish version of his speech opening Congress. He is now sending this picture to the President through Mr. Woolf, and hopes that he receives it in good condition.

have thought what a great saving it would be if a physician versed in our method could be placed at all the military bases and camps where soldiers and sailors are located. Those suffering from any of hemorrhoids, fistula, etc., could be treated successfully without losing any time from their regular program.

There are more than 2000 doctors in America now doing this work. I have personally taught more than 650 of them. I have been asked to go to London to teach British doctors and once was called to India to teach the ruling Maharaja of Nepal and while in India I taught a large class of Indian doctors at the Government Medical Hospital. While I am still active at past 73, I could be willing to serve in this service if I were needed.

My services have been in all the American wars and my great-grand-grandfather was with Simon Alled at the capture of Ticonderoga that day.

If I can, I would like to help in this struggle that confronts America.

I am, Sir,

Very respectfully,

My dear President Roosevelt:

"Romance of Proctology"*
*P.P. 7

Under separate cover I am sending you a book which gives the history of the development of that part of surgery called Proctology, and particularly it tells the story of the development of what we call Ambulant Proctology, which means that patients are treated by methods that do not confine them to bed.

I have thought what a great saving it would be if a physician versed in our methods could be placed at all the various bases and camps where soldiers and sailors are located. Those suffering from any type of hemorrhoids, fistula, etc., could be treated successfully without losing any time from their regular program.

There are more than 2000 doctors in America now doing this work. I have personally taught more than 650 of them. I have been three times to London to teach British doctors and once was called to India to serve the ruling Maharaja of Nepal, and while in India I taught a large class of Indian doctors at the Goculdas Tejpal Hospital. While I am still active at past 73, I would be willing to serve in this service if I were needed.

My forebears have been in all the American wars and my great-great-grandfather was with Ethan Allen at the capture of Ticonderoga that time.

If I can, I would like to help in this struggle that confronts America.

I am, Sir,

Yours respectfully,

My dear Mr. Bradley:

Your letter of November twenty-fourth to the President has been received and noted with sympathetic interest. He asks me to thank you ever so much for the hickory cane you so kindly sent him.

By the President's direction, what you say regarding your desire to purchase the land to which you refer is being forwarded for the consideration of the Secretary of Agriculture, who has jurisdiction over the Farm Security Administration.

Very sincerely yours,

Writes to the President presenting him with a baton. Says that on Oct. 31st, at Erie, Pennsylvania, and continuing daily - except Sundays - through several hundred cities and towns in the State of Pennsylvania - finishing on Armistice Day at Independence Hall, Philadelphia, 2600 school boys carried this baton which contains a pledge of allegiance to the United States with a promise to keep themselves physically fit. Says further that this event was conceived by Mr. C. L. Walsh of the Pittsburgh Public Schools, conducted by Mr. Edmund Wicht of the Pennsylvania Inter-Scholastic Athletic Association, and sponsored by the Division of Physical Fitness of the Office of Civilian Defense. The purpose of the above was to attract attention of the people of the Nation and particularly so, those in the State of Pennsylvania, to the vital importance of sports and athletics in the development of Physical Fitness. Attached memo of telephone calls for Gen. Watson, 11/26/41, indicates that a Mr. Rosenberg, in Mayor Samuel's office called from Philadelphia re this baton; and an office memo for Gen. Watson, 11/28/41, signed "W.D.S." indicates that the Mayor of Philadelphia, sent in by a Philadelphia police officer the attached baton, and that Mr. Simmons accepted the above letter from Mayor Samuel and the baton, "as the General was busy with the President."

Dear Mr. President,

Herewith enclosed I send you the first two replicas of my carving of a United States Navy sailor entitled "Gangway".

This figure expresses my thought that the United States Navy is ready, able, and willing to say "Gangway" and mean it to any foe in any sea, and I believe that you, as a Navy President, should be congratulated upon the Service and its preparedness.

The cold letter of the "fifty year old" regulation has stopped my every effort to return to the USNRF, but maybe my little figure will take over the duty of helping to strengthen civilian morale.

If "Gangway" brings a smile to your face, I shall be happy.

Respectfully and sincerely yours,

Eric Burtis

The booklet is inscribed "To the President of the United States of America with the most cordial compliments of the British Forces in Iceland. H.O. Curtis Major General". A copy of the booklet has been sent to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (as per memo). Captain Beardall wrote to Brigadier General John Marston, U.S.M.C. on December 3 enclosing a note from the President to Major General H.O. Curtis which read "Many thanks for the souvenir booklet which you so kindly presented to me through General Marston. This pictorial record of Prime Minister Churchill's recent visit to Iceland is a most welcome addition to my library, and I deeply appreciate your thoughtfulness in sending it to me." Capt. November 14, 1941

Writes to Gen. Watson referring to the fact that a few days ago he wrote Gen. Watson concerning the desire of a group of Gideons who expressed the wish to come to the White House to present the President with an especially bound copy of the Bible, which they place in hotels throughout the land, and which more recently they have made available in large quantities for our ships and men in the Naval Service, etc. Capt. Workman says that it is in connection with their great interest and zeal as thus expressed in behalf of their personnel that the Gideons would like to come to the Commander-in-Chief to personally present him with a copy of their Bible suitable inscribed with his name. Capt. Workman further states that the Gideons have asked him to lay the matter before Gen. Watson and ask if it could be arranged for one of their number - Charles J. Pietsch, Chairman, Hawaii Housing Authority, Honolulu, Hawaii - go in with Gen. Watson to give this Bible to the President.--Attached to the above is correspondence as follows - all re the above:--Letter to Gen. Watson, 12/3/41 from Capt. Workman; letter to Gen. Watson, dated Dec. 4, 1941, also from ~~Mr. Pietsch~~ Mr. Pietsch, and letter to the President, 12/4/41 from Mr. Pietsch. NOTE:- Memos attached indicate that Gen. Happy Christmas and Happy New Year.

Veh.

RANSCHOFF, James B.,
"RANSCHOFFS",
San Francisco, Calif.
December 2, 1941

Writes to the President stating that last year they had the Grabhorn Press privately print a limited edition of the addresses of Mr. Winston Churchill. Says this year they have had printed a second edition of the speeches which Mr. Churchill subsequently broadcast, and they are sending the President the companionate book.

Dear Mr. Editor:

On January 1, 1942, this institution will be fifteen years old. We and we want to signalize the date by giving you a handsome calendar. At first I thought of having a prize contest for the editors in which we would award something costly for the best essay of 1000 words on "The Unquestioned Integrity of the Literary Agent". But if there were fifty ten prize there would be only one souvenir of the occasion. So, the calendar.

I for one do not mind the passing of the years. I have always said that when the fires of youth die down, then the mind can do its best work. We hope the editors agree that each year we become more useful, more dependable, more deliberate, more sober (in the sense of planning, policy-making) and less frivolous.

Age means wisdom and tolerance.
Do I discharge an employee because I discover his or her referring to me as "the old man" or "governor"?
Of course, not. True, the mind has a tendency to wander with age, but that is an occupational gain for the editors' agent since he gets many new ideas to suggest to editors.

Please be assured we expect to be with you for many years more. You are deeply invited to a picnic to celebrate our 15th anniversary on January 1, 1942. If the day be inclement the party will be held indoors.

Happy Christmas and Happy New Year.

Dear Mr. Editor:

On January 1, 1942, this institution will be fifteen years old. We want to celebrate the date by giving you a handsome volume. At first I thought of having a prize contest for the editors in which we would award something special for the best essay of 1941 upon "The Fundamental Integrity of the Literary Form". But if there were only one prize there would be only one winner of the contest. Hence, we ordered this volume.

I for one do not mind the passing of the years. I have always said that when the fires of youth die down then the mind can do its best work. We hope the editors agree that each year we become more useful, more dependable, more deliberate, more aware of the scope of planning, policy-making and less frivolous.

Age means wisdom and tolerance. Do I discharge an employee because I overhear him or her referring to me as "the old man" or "Governor"? No, no. True, the mind has a tendency to wander with age, but that is an occupational gain for the employee, agent since he gets many new ideas to suggest to editors.

Please be assured we expect to be with you for many years more. You are kindly invited to a picnic to celebrate our 15th anniversary on January 1, 1942. If the day be inclement the party will be held indoors.

Dear Mr. Editor:

On January 1, 1942, this institution will be fifteen years old exactly and we want to signalize the date by giving you a handsome calendar. At first I thought of having a prize contest for the editors in which we would award something costly for the best essay of 1500 words on "The Fundamental Integrity of the Literary Agent". But if there were only one prize there would be only one souvenir of the occasion. Hence, the enclosed calendar.

I for one do not mind the passing of the years. I have always said that when the fires of youth die down then the mind can do its best work. We hope the editors agree that each year we become more useful, more dependable, more deliberate, more sober (in the sense of planning, policy-making) and less frivolous.

Age means wisdom and tolerance. Do I discharge an employee because I overhear him or her referring to me as "the old man" or "governor"? Heavens, no! True, the mind has a tendency to wander with age, but that is an occupational gain for the authors' agent since he gets many new ideas to suggest to editors.

Please be assured we expect to be with you for many years more. You are hereby invited to a picnic to celebrate our 25th anniversary on January 1, 1952. If the day be inclement the party will be held indoors.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

BIDDLE, Mrs. A. J. Drexel
London, W.I.
England
December 10, 1941

Wrote to the President stating that she heard that the President might like to have first editions of Mr. Winston Churchill's books. Says she has secured them in England and the Prime Minister has autographed them to the President. Books are now in the process of being bound in leather. Says she will send them over in small packages as they are completed. Expresses hope that the President will like to have them for the Library at Hyde Park. -- The President replied on Dec. 24, 1941, telling Mrs. Biddle how thrilled he is to know that he is going to have the books. Says he is delighted to have Mr. Churchill here for Christmas.
