President Roosevelt
Washington, D. C.

Honorable President:

I am sending you under separate cover an emblem which I think fulfills the ideals and aims of all the people of the United States and its Allies.

We are proud the initials of you, our Commander and Chief, stand for everything our boys are fighting for. Your initials, as well as the principles they represent, will go down in history and be remembered not only here, but all over the world. This emblem is also especially fitting for the Democratic Party.

Mr. Gilbert Phillips of Kearney, Nebraska, and myself, have this emblem copyrighted and patent applied for, and feel it a great privilege to send you the first made.

We would consider it a great honor to hear from you upon receipt of this, and will greatly appreciate any comments you may have to offer.

Respectfully yours,

P. H. Behrens & Gilbert Phillips

Eagle to P.*
April 6th, 1942.

His Excellency,
The President of the United States,
White House,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President,

We are herewith sending you a George III Silver Eagle which we have recently received from our London Office. This Eagle was made in the city of London, in the year, 1823.

Although made over 100 years ago, this proud and powerful bird, even at that time, personified the spirit of the American people to fight for whatever they cherish and hold dear. The Eagle as the national emblem of the United States and which represents its citizens, brings assurance of safety wherever it appears.

It therefore occurred to me, Mr. President, that as you are so symbolic of the aroused spirit of the American people, that you might care to use this bird as a paper weight on your desk. It would give me great pleasure in your accepting this gift.

Best wishes for your health and a quick triumph of the forces of the United Nations to Victory, I have the honor to salute you,

Yours faithfully,

N. Bloom

3-ANGLE RING
 A RING BINDER IN WHICH THE PAGES ARE PROPPED UP TO EYE LEVEL—USED FLAT, AT 25° OR 65°.

Mr. Stephen Early,
 Secretary to the President of the United States,
 The White House,
 Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Early:

3-ANGLE DOUBLE SPREAD
 FOLDS TO ONE-HALF THE SIZE OF DISPLAY AREA. PAGES REGISTER PERFECTLY, AND TURN AS IN A BOOK. SHOWN FLAT, AT 25° OR 65°.

In a recent newsreel the writer observed the President reading his speech notes from a plain ring binder.

It is with the hope that we may be of service to the President that we are presenting him with one of our "eye level" ring binders.

The purpose of this article is to prop the reading material up to a 25 degree angle, therefore presenting it at eye level to the reader. Full operating instructions are contained in the binder.

EASY EASEL
 TOP COVER IS SWUNG UP TO FORM A SUPPORT. TOP AND BOTTOM PAGES BUTT AGAINST EACH OTHER TO MAKE A DOUBLE PAGE SPREAD TWICE AS LARGE AS THE BINDER.

We sincerely hope that Mr. Roosevelt will find our gift useful.

1. Whether the presentation is designed to sell prospects one at a time, or in a group, keep the size down to a minimum.
2. Keep the weight down if you expect your salesmen to carry them consistently.
3. Don't use too much copy—a few headlines, pictures and drawings and a small amount of copy will do the best job.
4. Use binders easy to manipulate—quick to set up and take down and easy to turn pages.
5. The prospect is interested only in how much money he can save or how much he can increase sales.
6. Guard against making presentations circusy, insincere or cataloguey.

My dear Mr. Blount:

The President has asked me to thank you for your thoughtfulness in sending him a copy of "Eyes Light." He is delighted to have it, and wants you to know of his real appreciation.

I am indeed sorry that we cannot arrange for you to call on the President during your stay in Washington. I know I do not have to explain to you, however, how difficult it is during these critical war days for the President to make personal appointments of this kind. As a matter of fact, he has, since the declaration of war, been confining his engagements to those bearing directly on the war effort.

The President sends you his best wishes, in which I join.

My purpose in addressing you is to obtain permission to send a set of chess men and a chess board to the President as a gift. I think he will like it because the pieces are in the Roman (ancient) motif, heads of men shown, together with authentic dress of that era. The boards are inlaid.

Dear Miss Jolly,

Thank you for your letter of May 14-1942. I had intended to send a chess set and board to the president to put on display at his Hyde Park museum to show how "has-been" veterans like myself can contribute, even in a small way, to the lighter side of a soldier's life.

To date I have made and donated a full chess game set to practically every military hospital in the United States. From the letters of appreciation and praise, they were well received and are being used a lot.

As I'm a great lover of pictures it was impossible for me to have them all framed, so after a long time, I gradually came upon the idea, to frame all pictures myself and after 1 year of practice & testing I have reached a stage in picture framing pleasing to me, as there is not much space required to store them for my collection and I become daily more enthusiastic about my hobby. So I'm sending you a few of my pictures, you will find some directions in my letter of explanation & directions enclosed with the pictures.

Dear President I wish to express to you my great admiration & respects to you, I know that our God & saviour is with you always, and I shall keep on praying for you, and as we look towards our future on earth, I know that all things will come for a better understanding of mankind and many shall find life more abundantly not vain for happiness in only material things. As we all wish you and for you, I know that all things will at the end of this war bring greater
