This is in acknowledgment of your letter of June fourteenth, addressed to the President. While your courtesy in sending the President a copy of your new book, "The Regal Chums at Panther Lake," is appreciated, I must explain that in accordance with a long-established White House policy, the President never comments on the many literary works that are submitted to him. June 14, 1943

Dear Mr. President

I am sending under separate cover a copy of my new book, THE REGAL CHUMS AT PANTHER LAKE. This is a boys' book, full of punch, excitement and action. Written in every-day dialogue and a fine book for boys. Would certainly appreciate it very much if you would have one of your staff to read the book, and then give me a short letter or so, signed, to use as a foreword. In order words, an endorsement. Also would like to dedicate the second printing, if any, of the book to you. I know that you love boys, being Honourary President of the Boy Scouts of America and all.

No doubt this is an unusual request to say the least, especially in these times when you are so busy. However, I am to be in the Armed Services shortly and do want the book to thrive while I am gone. Therefore, what would be a few minutes of your times would be the fulfillment of a boyhood dream; the accomplishment of years of work and sacrifice, for me.

After you have been given the details of the story and all I am sure you will agree it is a good book for boys. And as you are the champion of the boys of this country, your assistance to me would be a godsend.

Incidently, many thanks for the autographed picture which arrived safely.

Yours in appreciation

ORIGINAL RETIRED FOR PRESERVATION

THE ARTISTS IN THIS ISSUE

By Eleanore F. Ross

There is a question which, like Banquo's ghost, will walk occasionally; it stalks through our local halls of art; it steals, at times, into our drawing rooms, and will not down, even amidst the usual bromidic gush regarding European art, ancient and contemporary; we believe that only a persistent and consistent campaign, furthering the interests of local wielders of the brush, will ever settle it; so the News Letter in its Christmas edition each year, offers its small mite towards the worthy cause.

Does California, in particular San Francisco, appreciate its artists?

Charles Henry Grant

To Charles Henry Grant, marine artist, catalogued in "Who's Who in America," and also in "The Encyclopedia of American Biography," belongs the distinction of the title, "The Official Artist for the American Navy," on the recent cruise of our fleet to the Antipodes.

On April 15th, 1925, he set sail in this capacity on the S. S. "Pennsylvania," with the American fleet on its six months' trip to Hawaii, Australia, Samoa and New Zealand. He had a number of interesting experiences to recount on his return, and expects to publish a descriptive article of his travels, accompanied by several pen sketches, in the near future.

Mr. Grant is a true lover of the sea, in all its moods and phases, and is considered one of America's foremost marine artists. His picture, "Homeward Bound," which appears elsewhere in this issue, is as fine an example of his work as we have yet seen; possibly we might except his paintng of heroic size, entitled "The American Fleet," which was exhibited recently at the Bohemian Club, and is a wonderful commingling of grim, gray warships, rolling cloud effects and rolling waves.

A notable storm picture of Mr. Grant's "At the Mercy of Neptune," is now hanging in the galleries of the Manhattan Club, New York, and is pronounced by critics as one of the finest representations of an ocean storm produced in America.

It was said that in the recent cruise of our navy, the only man who seemed to really enjoy the 90-mile-an-hour gale encountered off the coast of Australia was Charles Grant, "official artist of the fleet," who smiled and kept his eyes open for "effects" while the U. S. S. "Pennsylvania" reeled in the heavy seas.

Mr. Grant was born in Oswego, near Lake Ontario, but has spent many years around San Francisco Bay, and is one of our "adopted sons," whom we should be proud of.

M. De Neale Morgan

"The Sparkling Sea," that is the title of Miss Morgan's picture, which appears in our present Christmas issue, and looking at it, even denuded as it is, of all the warmth of color which characterizes the M. De Neale Morgan works, we can visualize again, the deep, deep blue of the sea off Carmel, the snow white of its sands, the hoary old pines and cypress that grow down onto the very edge of the cliffs, some of whose roots are washed continually by Neptune himself.

This artist is essentially a painter of the sea, of sand dunes, of storm-wrecked and twisted cedars and pines, the subjects amongst which she lives and loves.

Miss Morgan was born in San Francisco, is a member of the San Francisco and numerous other Art Associations; is a director of the Carmel Summer School of Art; and has exhibited in New York and other eastern cities, and locally, at the Del Monte Art Gallery, the San Francisco Art Association, the Palace of Fine Arts, and the Thomas Walton Stanford Art Gallery.

Louis E. Rea

To Louis E. Rea belongs the distinction of portraying sunshine better, perhaps, than any other local artist. His painted sunshine glows and dances on the canvas as though it were a ray of the fleeting gold itself.

"Loma Alta At the End of a Perfect Day" by Mr. Rea depicts this quality very precisely . . . . the warm glow of sunshine is visible throughout the picture, which has been considered his finest work.

In this number we have a splendid example of his work in "Mt. Tamalpais From the Ridge Above San Rafael Highway" . . . . here the artist has caught the autumnal color of California, which is essentially golden. And so through all his work Rea brings the glow of the sun to his canvas in depicting the world he loves, and knows so well . . . . the world of nature.

Many equally lovely paintings by this artist may be viewed at his studio which he maintains at 1442 Tenth Avenue, San Francisco.

F. H. Cutting

Born in Iowa, Frank Cutting has recently made a name for himself by depicting scenes of the Pacific coast—splendid scenes of sea and mountain, dune and tree, field and garden, were represented in a collection of forty paintings exhibited during the months of November at Stanford University.

Mr. Cutting's strongest hold, perhaps, is his ability to grasp and reproduce nature in her varying moods. This sense was developed in early childhood, when as a boy, he first followed the plow down the furrows of a prairie farm. Here, too, he began mixing his first pigment and dabbling in oils.

Some of the artist's most prominent pictures are, "The Passing Shower," the "Eagles Crag," and "Grey Day." In this issue of the News Letter, Mr. Cutting has given us an unusual view of a Monterey Cypress, which is one of the paintings recently exhibited at the Thomas Welton Stanford Art Gallery.

Star of Bethlehem

By Robert Holgate

"Worlds beyond count!" the wise men say;
But what are they to me?
One little earth is where I stay,
To face Infinity;
Trillions of stars pursue their course,
But what am I to them?
One little star has looked on me,
The Star of Bethlehem.

Oh, wise are we in our conceit,
We watch the planets move;
Transient as dust beneath our feet,
The whirling worlds above;
But, fixed through all the shifting time,
A pure and radiant gem,
Shines with a permanence sublime,
The Star of Bethlehem.

The shepherd lads were wiser far
Than student seers of fame;
Rough, common men, who saw the Star
Who left their toil and came
Unto a shed, where slept a Child,
And there to bow the knee
Before Him and His Mother mild,
In all humility.

Magi and princes, wandering men,
Seeking the way of peace,
Tracking it down through waste and glen,
Until their travels cease;
They saw the Star and turned aside,
Into His poor retreat;
They left their gold and stately pride
Before a Baby's feet.

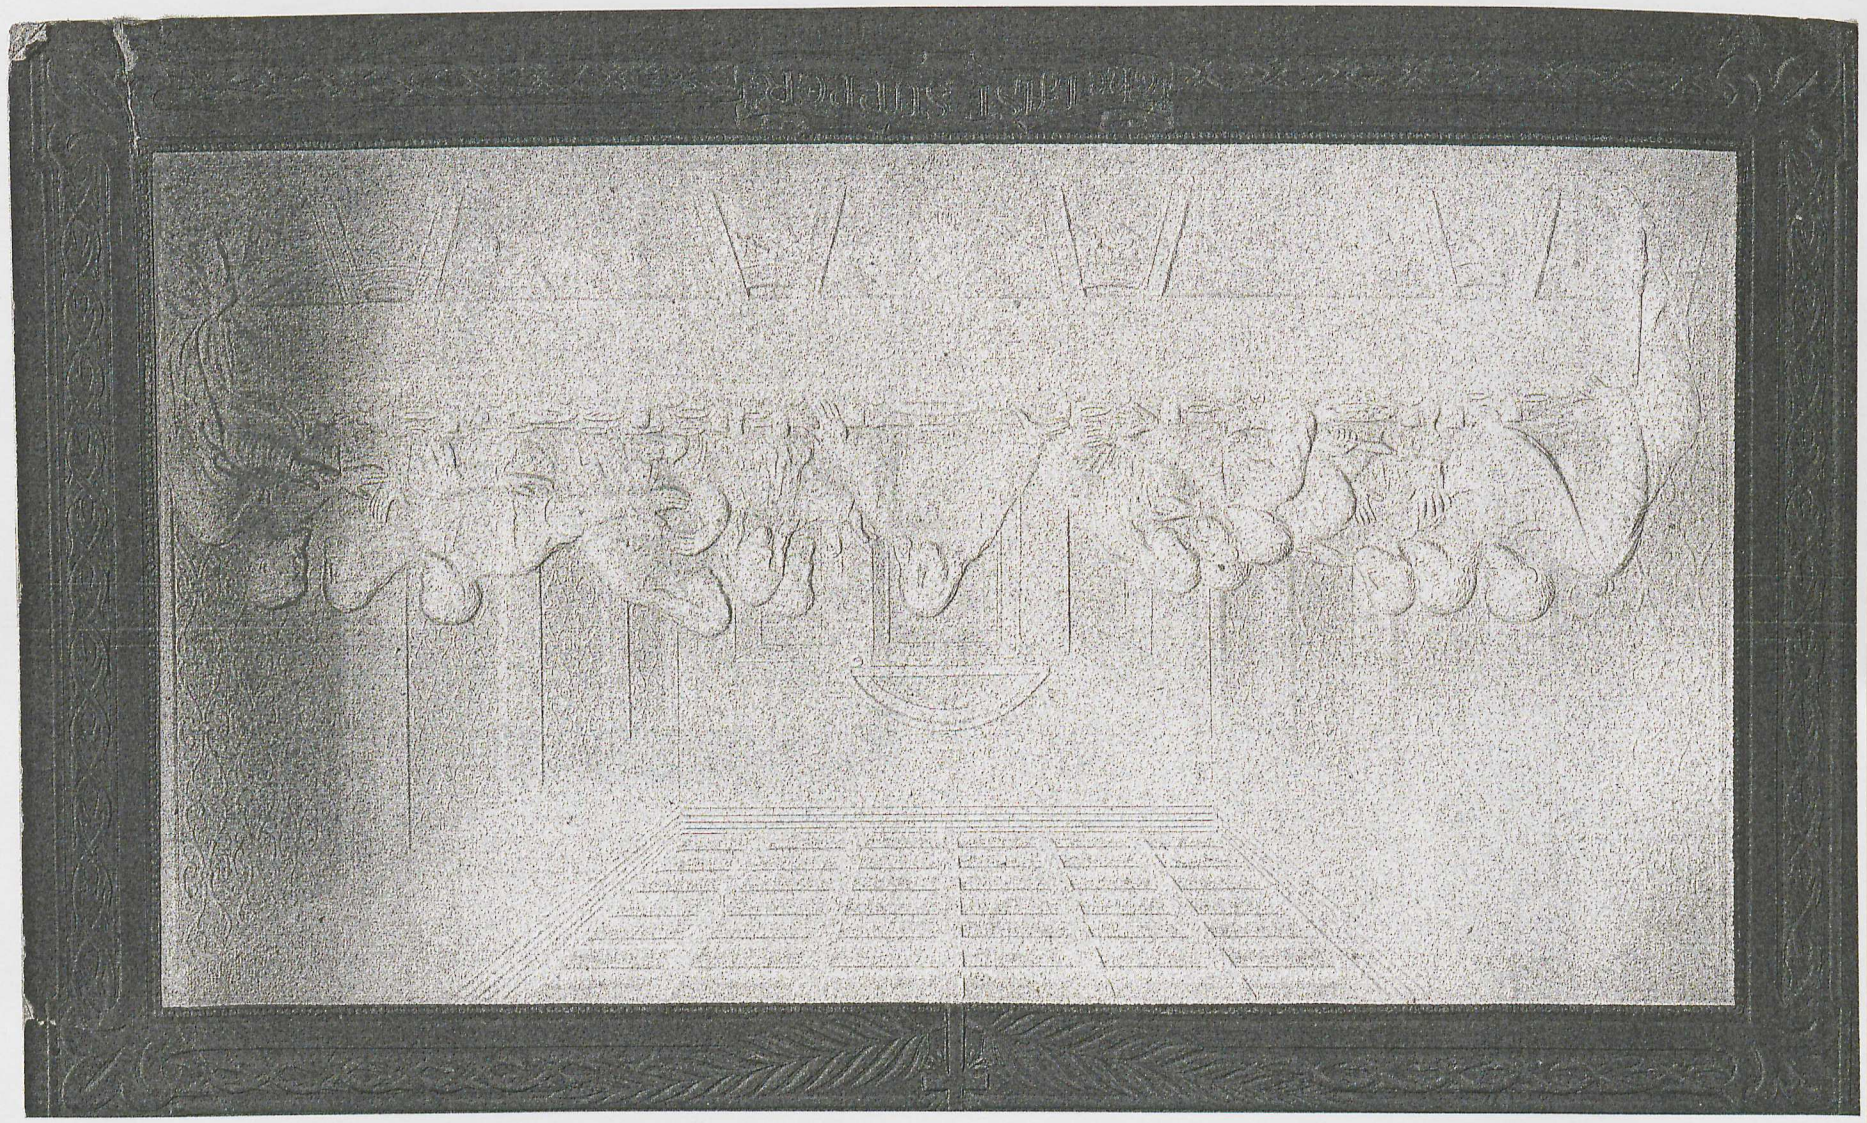

So do we all live homely-wise
Upon this little earth;
Watching, with ignorant surprise,
The Mystery of Birth.
Seeing a Mother and a Child,
Bowing our hearts to them,
Finding in cosmic-chaos wild,
A Star of Bethlehem.

The Lord's Prayer

The following beautiful composition was captured during the war at Charleston, S. C. It was printed on heavy satin, July 4, 1823. It was picked up by A. P. Green, of Auburn, Ind., at Corinth, Miss., the morning the rebels evacuated it, May 30, 1862.

Thou to the mercy-seat our souls doth gather
To do our duty unto Thee,.....Our Father
To whom all praise, all honor should be given;
For Thou art the great God.....Who art in Heaven,
Thou by Thy wisdom ruls't the world's whole frame;
Forever, therefore.....Hallowed be Thy name;
Let nevermore delay divide us from
Thy glorious grace, but let.....Thy Kingdom come,
Let Thy commands opposed be by none,
But Thy good pleasure and.....Thy will be done
And Let our promptness to obey be even
The very same.....In earth as 'tis in Heaven.
Then for our souls, O Lord, we also pray,
Thou wouldst be pleased to.....Give us this day
The food of life, wherewith our souls are fed,
Sufficient raiment and.....Our daily bread,
With every needful thing do You relieve us,
And of Thy mercy, pity.....And forgive us
All our misdeeds for Him whom Thou dids't please
To make an offering for.....Our trespasses,
And for as much, O Lord as we believe
That Thou wilt pardon us.....As we forgive
Let that love teach, wherewith Thou dost acquaint us;
To pardon all.....Those who Trespass against us;
And though, sometimes Thou find'st we have forgot
This love for Thee, yet help.....And lead us not
Through soul or body's want to desperation,
Nor let earth's gain drive us.....Into temptation,
Yet not the soul of any true believer
Fail in the time of trial,.....But deliver
Us, save them from the malice of the devil,
And both in life and death, keep.....Us from evil;
Thus pray we, Lord, for that of Thee, from whom
All is may be had.....For Thine is the Kingdom,
This world is of Thy work, its wondrous story,
Of Thee belongs.....The power and the glory,
And all Thy wondrous works have ended never,
But will remain forever and.....Forever:
Thus we poor creatures would confess again,
And thus would say eternally.....Amen.

My dear Cousin:-

The annoucement of the restoration of the old Dutch Manor House Philipse Castle and its "housewarming"on July 4th., next, stirred my memories of the achievements of the Knickerbockers who beat the drums of Liberty alon the Hudson Valley.And of course no event like the foregoing would be complete without a nod to Washington Irving which reminded me that in 1912 The St.Nicholas Society of The City of New York erected a tablet to him in honor of his founding of the Society.

As Egbert Benson(President of the Board of Aldermen and Acting-Mayor 1836-38)was one of the founders and third President we Bensons became possessed of two replicas of the tablet.

I gave one to The New York Historical Society,the other I am sending to you by insured 'Parcel Post'for it is a dandy paper weight and the modelled head of Washington Irving should always prove an inspiration.

Most respectfully

The President wrote to Mr. Sarruf thanking him for the copy of his latest work, the biography of the President written in Arabic, which Mr. Sarruf presented to him through Mr. Kirk, theAmerican Minister at Cairo. The President said that The Life of Roosevelt is a handsome book, and he is greatly pleased with it. The President further stated: "Although appreciative of the compliment you have paid me personally, as an American I am gratified especially that this book about an American has been published in Arabic. It is through an exchange of information about other lands that the peoples of the world become better acquainted with each other. I hope that this attractive book may afford a further opportuhity for the people of your country to learn more about my country and its people. We Americans want other peoples to know all about us and the things for which we stand. In knowing us and of our intense love of liberty, they will understand why we and the liberty-loving nations with which we are associated are determined to bring this great struggle for the preservation of the freedom of mankind to a successful conclusion." (Notation typed on bottom of the copy of above letter which is retained in file indicates that original correspondence and book were sent to Hyde Park Library, Series "B").--Attached is letter to the President, 7/13/43 from Secretary Hull transmitting the above-mentioned book to the President, and including a brief word of explanation thereof.--Also attached is copy of memo, dated 7/17/43, to Hon. MITCHELL, Ruth
Arlington, Virginia
July 19, 1943

Letter to the President, praising the President's leadership and hopes that he will run for a fourth term. She also protests the methods of the Office of War Information toward the Balkans, especially Serbia. She discusses thepost-war affairs as she is interested in the Balkans, and suggest that we prepare and organize a Farmers' business-government; Miss Mitchell is already gatherine her forces; Mr. Henry Salisbury has presented her with 24 finest shorthorn bulls with transportation, and she has assurances of support from schools and organizations all over the country. Says in April she gave Gen. Watson for presentation to the President resolution of the American-Serbs urging that the boys of Serbian birth in our Armed forces be drafted into a unit for service in the Balkans, as they would be of primary importance in the handling of the Balkan situation. Asks for interview with the President so that she can put the plan before him. Miss Mitchell is willing that anyone handle the situation if they think she is not capable, but only asks that Mr. Louis Adamic be left out entirely, as he is so hated in the Balkans.-------On 7/21/43, Gen. Watson referred this letter to Stanley Woodward, Department of State, asking for draft of reply--also encloses copy of Srbobran, newspaper and copy of booklet writen by Miss Mitchell "Fighting Serbs" which were sent in by Miss Mitchell.-------On 7/28/43, Mr. Hull sent draft of reply, which Gen. Watson used in acknowledging her letter on 7/31/43, thanking her for material on the Balkan countries and regretting he cannot arrange an appointment.

Miss Tully sent the Book to the Study and the newspaper is attached to file.

FRASER, Rt. Hon. Peter
Prime Minister of New Zealand,
Wellington, New Zealand,
July 20, 1943.

Writes the President saying he is forwarding a copy of the new edition of the New Zealand book "The Gael Fares Forth", which tells the story of the migration from Scotland to Nova Scotia, and then to Australia and New Zealand, of a band of Scottish Highlanders and of their achievements.--The President, Sept. 30th, wrote to the Hon. Peter Fraser saying he is delighted with the book and that he is especially interested in their connections with Nova Scotia and Cape Breton Island. The President said this is an historical chapter with which he was not familiar. The President said Mrs. Roosevelt was back and was "full of her wonderful days in New Zealand". The President said he wished he could have been with her. The President said he was very happy by the Prime Minister's recent election and especially by the fact that the Prime Minister will continue at the head of the Government.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

Realizing that you have very little leisure time, but having often heard that you enjoy reading a murder mystery during relaxation, may I send you a typewritten copy of my first murder mystery entitled: ROGER KENT: KIDNAPPED?

Please believe me when I say that this is no publicity gag; nor will it in any way benefit nor harm me, personally, whether you refuse or accept.

The book is fully protected by copyright, having already been bought by DETECTIVE STORY, Street & Smith publishers, 79 Seventh Avenue, New York City; last January.

However, due to pulp scarcity during the Duration, my story--- which several of our best known judges have read and enjoyed--- cannot be published by Street & Smith. Its date of publication has been put off indefinitely, if ever.

When I wrote the book it was a pet hope of mine to send you an autographed copy of the magazine it would appear in. Had Street & Smith brought it out as a book, I would have immediately sent you a copy.

If you will do me the honor of accepting the typewritten copy, shall mail it on to you in the hope that it may interest you in your so much needed--but I am sure, so few--moments of relaxation.

Trusting that you are in good health, and with best regards to Mrs. Roosevelt,

Sincerely yours,

Marguerite Brener.

Miss Grace G. Tully,
Private Secretary,
President Roosevelt,
The White House, Washington.

My dear Miss Tully:

In answer to your kind letter of July 21, concerning the manuscript of my murder mystery: ROGER KENT KIDNAPPED, which I want to send the President in hopes that he will enjoy reading it:

There is a slight possibility that J.J.Little & Ives may find a book publisher for it. Then I would be able to send the President an autographed copy. If not, shall have a legible copy made and mail it to him. Street & Smith, who bought the magazine rights, have been unable to publish it, due to the present pulp shortage.

By the way, it's Mrs. Brener; with two sons: One is in uniform at Sioux Falls, So. Dakota; the other is Army Reserve at Georgia Tech, Atlanta, Ga.

With thanks to you for your note, and earnest prayers for The President's good health and tranquility of mind and spirit during these trying days,

Most sincerely yours,

Marguerite Brener
