My dear Mr. Bauerle:

Your letter of November fifth to the President has been received and will, of course, be made available to him.

In connection with your reference to the book that you forwarded to the President sometime ago, I feel that I should explain to you that under a policy of long standing it is not possible for this office to comment on the merits of the many literary undertakings and articles of various kinds which are constantly being received. I know that you will understand.

Thank you very much indeed in the President's behalf for your good wishes.

WORLD PEACE PLAN IN BAUERLE BOOK

Attorney Urges Calling of Convention to Form Permanent Project

By HARRISON W. FRY
(Of the Bulletin Staff)

Philadelphia looms as a possible peace capital of the world.

It is the city of the Society of Friends devoted from its inception to peace. This city also is the city of a thousand churches whose ministry is to inculcate brotherhood among men and spread the idea first enunciated by shepherd peasants on Bethlehem hills that peace on earth is tied up with good-will among men.

The churches, the educational institutions and the various social agencies all have their winter schedules devoted to forums on peace planning.

A number of Philadelphians have outlined original plans for a peaceful post-war world.

An immediate call by President Roosevelt to all nations to meet in a constitutional conveniton to constitute the United Peace Nations is urged by Albert T. Bauerle, an attorney of this city, in his book "Gauranty of Lasting Peace."

He insists, however, that a United Nations victory must take place or anarchy will prevail. It is suggested that the peoples of the world be represented directly in the U. P. N. by "outstanding men of greater international vision, interest in general humanity and love of justice, rather than prime ministers, foreign secretaries and fuehrers.

Saving of Millions of Lives

"An early armistice," writes Mr. Bauerle, "if asked for by the Axis nations, and providing that a world agency for peace is already operating, will mean the saving of millions of lives and casualties, from warfare, plagues, starvation, disease and misery; less refugees, absence of destruction of property, valued at billions; the wholesale reduction in taxes, as well as the avoidance of a depression of which the one of over a decade was only a sample.

"A total war or fight to the finish will prove nothing, will gain nothing and will not end all war; the nations will become bankrupt, starvation will become rampant, and the eventual victor will be depression and high taxation."

All nations, he urges, should write the peace because he fears that a peace treaty written by the representatives of the victor nations will be one-sided and likely to be full of hate and venegance. The whole world he insists, must be represented in the writing of the peace, and at the peace table there cannot be any specially privileged nations, races, religions and colors.

He further urged that each nation represented in the United Peace Nations should see to it that the men who represent them should be men whose thoughts do not dwell upon power politics, balance of power, his own country's selfish interests or his own interests.

International Police Force

An international police force in which all the soldier-policemen forgo their allegiance to any nations and swear allegiance alone to the U. P. N. is urged by Mr. Bauerle. This group would speak English as a condition to solidarity. They would be stationed in units at strategic points on strips of land that would be ceded to the U. P. N. and which would be international territory. There would be no commander-in-chief of the whole force except the U. P. N., only district commanders in order to avoid setting up a Frankenstein in which the military commander could become master of those who created him. A home defense force equipped, as is a National Guard in peace times, without heavy bombers and artillery would be permitted, in the case of Germany, to consist of not more than 50,000 men.

Racial minorities who sought national independence would refer their case to the World Court of Arbitration, which would decide whether they were educationally and morally equipped for the job of self-government. The author believes that "the hodgepodge of countries such as Czechoslovakia and Jugoslavia" should never have been set up.

With many of Mr. Bauerle's conclusions about the cause of the present war there is bound to be violent disagreement, but his main thesis is attuned to the desire of a great constituency. It is another contribution to the plans for a lasting peace which will be tried in the crucible of public debate in the days ahead.

My dear Mr. President:-

Just a line to express my great personal satisfaction upon reading of the estimable work performed by you and Mr. Hull leading to post-war security, as it involves a subject so dear to the hearts of millions of the peoples of the entire world. It is difficult to even estimate what it really means to the average family in this and the eastern continent, and I feel satisfied, apart from all politics, no one will ever deny you a fair share of immortality so well earned by you in the great and international work for humanity.

My heart is and has always been interested in the peace of the world, and as you may possibly remember, some months ago I became the author of "Guaranty of Lasting Peace," a copy of which I forwarded to you last spring. You may have had an opporunity to glance at its contents, and if so, I would greatly appreciate an honest and frank expression of your valued opinion thereon.

I sincerely hope that your life may be long and further useful to your country, and full of further honors, particularly as I feel that the subject matter of abolition or control of war is the greatest issue before the world to-day, and if not controlled, civilization may pass out entirely.

I beg to subscribe myself,

Dear Mr. President:

While on active duty in North Africa on my ship I had occassion to draw this picture of you which I thought you might like to have. I hope you like it, as I got quite a kick out of drawing it.

The signatures inscribed thereon are of officers who were attached to Task Force 89 and the U.S.S. BISCAYNE during the initial landings at Salerno, Italy, on September 9th.

We are very proud of the reputation this vessel has gained in the European Theater but like all good Americans we are looking forward to the day when we can return home again. Hoping that this memento is received in the manner in which it was conceived, I remain,

Dear Mr. President:

I am sending you, through Miss Tully, a copy of my new book, Road to Peace and Freedom, which goes on sale on Tuesday, November 16. There is enough criticism of your foreign policies in this book so that I do not think anybody can say it was written for political purposes personal to you. For that reason it may be the more effective in promoting your basic policies. I can't help thinking that it will have a good deal of influence, both in foreign policy and in checking the reactionary drift in domestic affairs, if it gets a wide enough reading.

You spoke of having it on your desk during some press conference. I hope a reading of it won't dash that idea.

For perfection in timing, the impact of the Moscow declaration upon senatorial deliberations should stand as a model for some time.

I left The Sun at the end of October, and am living with my wife and daughter in a cottage on a wooded hillside a mile from the entrance to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. You should get into that park some time to see the big hemlocks.

Sincerely yours,

Irving Brant

The President,
The White House.

Steve Early also has a copy of my book; likewise Judge Rosenman and Ben Cohen.

GALLAGER, Mr. A. J.
Director of Publicity,
The Curtis Publishing Company,
Philadelphia, Pa.
Nov. 5, 1943.

Wrote to Mr. Early re the paintings of the Four Freedoms by Norman Rockwell. States that a special book is being prepared for the President and one for Mr. Early. Would like to know if the President would like to have a copy in Arabic for his transmittal to the Sultan of Morocco and how would he like to have these three books inscribed with names and titles. - - -Office Memorandum of Nov. 10, 1943, states that a telephone call from Hooker A. Doolittle, Near East Division of the State Department saying that the book should be inscribed as follows: To His Shereefian Majesty, Sidi Mohammed, Sultan of Morocco. Also Mr. Doolittle suggested that the book be sent to the State Dept. to be transmitted to the Consul General in Rabat, Morocco, who would pass it through to the Sultan. - - -Mr. Early wrote Mr. Gallager, Nov. 19, 1943, stating that he had received his letter re the presentation of the three copies of the books embodying the texts of the paintings interpretative of the Four Freedoms. Further states that if the inscriptions for the three books are to be personally written by the author upon the flyleaves, it is felt that the author should be the judge, but that if the inscription is to be engraved in gilt letters upon the covers of the books, the names and titles should read as follows: Franklin D. Roosevelt, The President of the United States; Stephen T. Early, Secretary to the President. The proper title of the Sultan of Morocco is as mentioned above by Mr. Doolittle of the State Department, and the copy intended for him should be sent to the Dept. of State which would transmit it to the Consul General in Rabat, Morocco, who would see to its delivery to the Sultan.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt,
White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

In compliance with a "hunch" of mine, I am enclosing a copy of a new book, which I have recently received from the Franciscian Monastery, several medals, etc., for your attention, and use.

The Book, "The Prophets and Our Times," by Rev. Gerald Culleton, gives super-natural knowledge of our times and of the times to come, as revealed by God to various Saints throughout the centuries. Such knowledge, I believe, is very necessary for you to have in administering the affairs of our nation, in these super-critical times. For fore-knowledge is to be fore-warned. I am quite certain that you will find the contents of this book very surprising.-

God often reveals to those who live close to him. I am quite certain that our Saintly Holy Father, Pope Pius, knows from his close contact with Almighty God, that he will be forced to flee "Rome", and die a cruel death in exile a year later. The reason I believe he knows, is that in reading of Arch-bishop Spellman's story of his travels in the current issues of Colliers, he spoke of the Holy Father having given to him his gold chain and cross, which he received when he was consecrated Bishop twenty-five years ago, and has worn constantly. It read to me as a last parting gift of friend to friend. I hope our government will go " above and beyond the line of duty", in helping God's Holy Servant.

Again, the food famine, control of which rests entirely in God's hands, as does everything else. You will also be surprised to learn that the pagan nations; Russia, Japan and Turkey will form an alliance to fight the Christian World. But read for yourself, all this and more.

Two St. Christopher metals are enclosed - the patron saint of all travelers. After reading an article in a recent Liberty magazine, of the great force of Secret Service men needed to protect you in traveling, I thought both you and Mrs. Roosevelt need super-natural protection as well. So St. Christopher will do the job best of all, so long as his medals are worn on the person, or carried. Worn by both Non-Catholics and Catholics in these days - especially by Service Men.

FR-2

To acquaint you with the largest circulating newspaper of its kind in the United States, I am enclosing a few copies of "Our Sunday Visitor" read by millions of Catholics and Non-Catholics alike. My reason in doing this is because it has been cut by the 10% paper reduction, and faces another cut in the forthcoming additional reduction- it simply can't be.

After looking at the prolific output of trashy magazines on the news stands, such as Love Story, Dectective, Horror, etc., and the valuable paper wasted on such trash, it seems to me that some discrimination should be made in this paper reduction business between the essential and non-essential. Inspirational religious magazines vs. trash.

The Word of God, and all things pertaining to God, are more than ever essential this day. For its the Army on its knees, that is keeping our Army on its feet. (Prayer). God, is our First Line of Defense. We Need HIM, but He doesn't need us. So please let us have plenty of paper for inspirational religious reading, especially such as only catholics can write. The soul needn't starve. I do hope the "Sunday Visitor" may be restored to its full size soon again of FOUR SHEETS EVERY WEEK. Thank you.

May the inspiration and blessings of God be with you and yours - always.

Your Catholic friend,

Miss Florence Mae Belford.

As Commander-in-Chief of the U. S. Army, I thought you might be interested in having a copy of our new 1944 calendar - showing all of the Honor Medals of the U. S. Armed Forces in full color, with the corresponding ribbon bars.

One of these calendars is being sent to you today under separate cover.

To my knowledge, this is the first accurate, up-to-date presentation of Honor Medals and the branches of the Services authorized to receive them. This presentation of medals represents more than half a year's research, checking and rechecking with the various branches of the Services in Washington, all of whom were very cooperative and made possible this up-to-date and accurate presentation.

Yours respectfully,

Dear Sir:

Recently a fellow worker permitted me to read a little book called "Miracle of the ages", which I found so interesting that I wanted to own a copy for further study.

For no reason at all, I feel that it may interest you and possibly at times help take your mind off weighty affairs of state, so as I had to order from the publishers, I received two copies, one of which I am taking the liberty of forwarding to your home under separate cover.

Should you have already read this or for any reason do not care to do so, kindly turn it in to Service men's book drive, as some one would get from it pleasure and possibly a wee bit of knowledge.

Trusting you will pardon the liberty I have taken, I am

Dear Mr. President:

In 1936 you were good enough to accept a copy of my picture "The Prince's Vigil" sent through your then Ambassador, Mr. Bingham.

Your personal letter of Oct. 10th which you were good enough to send me then is still one of my treasured possessions. It emboldens me to ask for present Ambassador Mr. Winant -- whose character and charm is so fine -- to send to you, begging your kind acceptance of the same with my compliments and best wishes, the inscribed prints of what I now call my "E.T.O" Series, U. S. Army.

These I have had made, because of so many, many requests, of some of the pictures I have painted to record the fact in paint for posterity of the U. S. Army being here and fighting with us and our other Allies for our common freedom.

When I started painting with the U.S.A.A.F. I had no idea of reproducing any of my pictures in these difficult days. The appreciation and pleasure they are now giving here and "back home" has amply repaid all the time and trouble such a venture entailed.

With the late Colonel Barnum, whose last official act was to make these prints available to E.T.O. personnel through all U. S. Army "P. X.'s", I hope they will be "lasting messages of good will".

I have watched and may I here say how gratefully I admire the wonderful job you have accomplished through and under such difficult circumstances. The world has to be very thankful that three such truly great men as yourself, Churchill and Smuts are helping to guide its destinies now.

With every good wish
Believe me

Major General Edwin M. Watson,

Washington, D. C.

Dear General: Personal

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

One of the referred-to "unusual things" that I purchased in Nome, and which I never had seen before, were some Stocks; which is a combination of sock--shoe that the Eskimoes make to wear inside of their mukluks; and which I find extremely comfortable and nice to wear as bed-room shoes as they do not have any stiff parts. These Stocks are made out of either reindeer skin or moose hide with the fur turned inside. I sent some of them to my good friends, Thomas J. Watson, Fred H. Eckert, and others around New York, and they seemed to get a big kick out of them; so, therefore, I ordered a few additional pair which arrived the first of this week.

I never had the pleasure of personally meeting our President, but I did have the great pleasure and honor of knowing and occasionally seeing his adorable, brainy, grand, and charming mother during the last years of her life. And in memory of the great pleasure that it gave me to see and be with her, I, in ordering the additional pairs of Stocks, asked that one pair of them be a little finer and more unusual than the others with the idea of my sending that pair to the President; and I hope that he will find as much pleasure out of wearing them as I enjoy sending them to him. The first of this week I had shipped from here via mail this referred-to pair of Stocks made from the moose hide with its being addressed to the President via you; and won't you please be good enough to, upon receipt of the same, give them to our wonderful President.

Writes the President sending copy of the booklet SO THEY MAY WALK AGAIN. States that some 20,000 of these booklets are being mailed to theatres and others participating in the Motion Picture Industry 1943 Drive for the March of Dimes. Says that their organization for the 1944 campaign is rounding into shape, and that they will do all they can to make good the slogan "MORE IN '44."--On 12/29/43 the President wrote to Mr. Schenck thanking him for the booklet, mentioned above. The President stated, in part: "I appreciate, too, the enthusiasm for the 1944 March of Dimes campaign which you express in the accompanying letter. Such evidence of commendable interest in this cause which is so close to my heart pleases me beyond measure." (Pencil notation indicates that the booklet was put with periodicals going to the study.)

Writes to General Watson enclosing two books, one from His Excellency Dr. Issa Sadiq, (filed PPF 8603) and one from His Excellency Hassan Esfandiary, President of the Iran-American Relations Society, and also drafts of two acknowledgments for the President's signature.--General Watson, 12/29/43, sent memo. to Miss Tully saying our Minister in Tehran, Mr. Dreyfus, sent the attached books by pouch from Tehran. General Watson said he had promised to see that they got to the President. (Attached is copy of a letter from His Excellency Hassan Esfandiary, President of the Iran-American Relations Society, dated Nov. 30th, 1943, to the President.--The President, Dec. 30th, wrote to His Excellency Hassan Esfandiary thanking him for the gift of a copy of the book Sa'adi's "Golistan". The President said he had been deeply touched by this further expression of the generosity which has ever been a vivid characteristic of the people of Iran and that the gift will be always treasured as an exquisite example of the work of this great poet's work and indeed of the fine art for which all of Iran has so long been renowned. The President said he was told that the book's title means "Garden of Roses", and thus this gift will occupy a warm and intimate place in his memories of the all too brief sojourn among the people of Iran. The President expressed thanks for the courtesy shown him and best wishes for the continued success of the Society which His Excellency so ably leads.

London, November 27, 1943.

SUBJECT: Presentation to the President of Certain Artistic Prints by Mr. Frank E. Beresford.

The Honorable
The Secretary of State,
Washington, D.C.

Sir,

I have the honor to enclose a letter presenting to the President certain prints of pictures painted by Mr. Frank E. Beresford, who is now working with the U. S. Army Forces in this country. These prints, which are of pictures of American officers and air force units in this country, are sent as a separate accompaniment to this despatch. Mr. Beresford, who is an artist of repute, is an admirer of the United States and it is understood that he is giving his services free to the U. S. Army. Mr. Beresford thought the President might be interested in these prints, particularly since he accepted a copy of an earlier picture forwarded by Ambassador Bingham in 1936, which the President acknowledged in a letter to Mr. Beresford. In the light of these circumstances, it is hoped that the Department will perceive no objection to having Mr. Beresford's letter and prints transmitted to the White House.

Respectfully yours,

For the Ambassador:

Dear Mr. President,

In 1936 you were good enough to accept a copy of my picture "The Princes' Vigil" sent through your then Ambassador, Mr Bingham.

Your personal letter of Dec. 10th which you were good enough to send me then is still one of my treasured possessions: It emboldens me to ask you, present Ambassador Mr Winant – whose character and charm is so fine – to send to you, begging your kind acceptance of, the same with my compliments and best wishes, the inscribed prints of what I now call my "E.T.O." Series, U.S. Army.

These I have had made, because of so many, many requests, of some of the pictures I have painted to record the fact, "in paint for posterity" of the U.S. army being here and fighting with us and our other allies for our common freedom.

When I started painting with the U.S.A.A.F. I had no idea of reproducing any of my pictures in these difficult days. The appreciation and pleasure they are now giving here, and back home has amply repaid all the time and trouble such a venture entailed.

With the late Colonel Barnum, whose last official act was to make these prints available to E.T.O. personnel through all U.S. Army "P.X.'s", I hope they will be "lasting messages of good will".

I have watched and may I here say how gratefully I admire the wonderful job you have accomplished through and under such difficult circumstances. The world has to be very thankful that three such truly great men as yourself; Churchill and Smuts are helping to guide its destinies now.

With every good wish
Believe me.
Most sincerely Yours.
Frank E. Beresford.

To Franklin D. Roosevelt.
President. United States of America.
