February 21, 1935

President Franklin D. Roosevelt
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

It gives me great pleasure to inform you that I am causing to be sent you today by express, the five marine paintings done by Cedric Windas.

You may recall that I promised to send these to you on my recent visit to the White House. There are five in the set and they show the development of the American sailing ship during the last hundred years. I trust that you will find these worthy of a place in your den.

With my heartfelt wish that you continue in good health and spirits, I remain

The White House,
Washington, D.C.

My dear Mr. President:

I am sending herewith a copy of my book, in which I am offering to my racial group and to other doubtful persons of our Country what I have found to be the correct method to solve the racial, religious, and patriotic problem of our Country.

If I can succeed in my effort—as is outlined in The Preface of the book—I am sure I can, and will be doing, do my mite to make your burden a little easier.

Will you please read this small book from cover to cover and let me know what you think of it. I have had it printed and am publishing it myself. I found it somewhat difficult to present such a new type of book to a publisher.

For the reasons which I give in the Preface of the book, will you please forgive the humble writer for the simple, unpolished and radical manner in which the book is written. Also, since I have not been able to afford more than one printing, as yet, you will find many errors.

I have given twelve years to gathering the material for, and four years to writing this book, and have done the very best that I could.

I hope that you and your family are well. And I hope that you will be able to read and report on my work at an early date. I know that you are a just and righteous man, as well as courageous.

Respectfully,

Dear Col. Howe:

Of course, you know that since I went to Washington with Val O'Farrall he has departed this life. This was a great loss to me personally, as I was very fond of Val and we had been associated for some time and had many plans together.

I am sending you to-day under separate cover two copies of a book on the "Federal Credit Union", written by Mr. Samuel Checkver, a young attorney of this City and myself, dedicated to our President for his courage in launching the New Deal, one personally inscribed to His Excellency and the other to you. The book is just off the press.

I believe that you will sympathize with the philosophy which we have woven into the treatise and which you will find epitomized in the five pages of the Preface.

I would personally appreciate your courtesy if you would see that the copy inscribed to President Roosevelt should get to him personally.

After you have had an opportunity of looking over the book, I would appreciate any comment that you have on it.

With best wishes, I am

Dear Mr. McIntyre:

The twelve year old winner of our Grammar school division in the Mt. Rushmore competition, brought with him from New Orleans a copy of a book for the President. The book is unimportant. The boy is poor. I am forwarding the book to you under separate cover. It may not be amiss for the usual formal acknowledgement to go to the boy, and in this case it might be possible for you to have the President sign it. With that hope in mind, I am, sincerely,

The White House
Washington, D.C.

My dear Mr. President:

Herewith is the promised advance copy of Sir Charles Morgan-Webb's new book "TEN YEARS OF CURRENCY REVOLUTION, 1922-1932."

In preparing this book, Sir Charles worked with Hawtrey of the British Treasury, who probably more than anyone else in England is responsible for the change to a currency managed by an index number.

This book reveals the viewpoint of informed Englishmen on the significance of your 1933 monetary policy, and emphasizes the profound influence that monetary policy or failure of monetary policies has had over the destiny of nations.

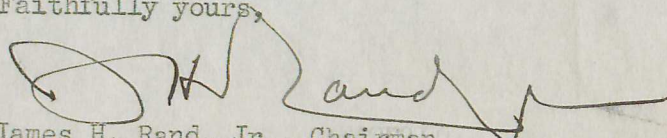

We have only ten advance copies from London, of which we are sending you three -- with the thought that you may wish to put them to work.

Our Committee has financed an American edition for which Frank A. Vanderlip is writing a special introduction. He says this book is one of the most valuable contributions to the solution of our monetary problem that has appeared, and he is having Economic Forum offer it to 200,000 leaders in business and banking.

Unbound advance copies are most effective in arousing the recipient's interest. We will be glad to place any number at your disposal from our first edition of 2000 copies, marked ADVANCE COPY, and with our imprint as publisher omitted. No one receiving this book from you would fail to read it.

You will be especially interested in Chapters 1, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Faithfully yours,

Dear President Roosevelt:

Knowing the pains you take to couch your public utterances in simple language, it occurs to me you may find useful the new children's dictionary* by E. L. Thorndike of Teachers College, Columbia University. I am taking the liberty of sending you a copy. //

The fact that each word in this dictionary is defined, so far as possible, in terms simpler than itself is commending it to editors and publishers who find it important always to use simple language. You will also find that the commonness of usage is indicated by the number at the very end of each definition. A figure "1" means that the word is in the most commonly used one thousand of the language. A figure "10" means that there are at least ten thousand easier or more commonly used words.

Dear Mr. Preasident,

My hobby and recreation is in wood carving and whittling - making souvenirs and trinkets from historic woods.

Since I came up from Texas (my home State) it has been my good fortune to meet Colonel Dodge at Mount Vernon who gave me a piece of a white-oak sill taken from the Washington Mansion there several years ago while the building was undergoing repairs. A piece of that block of oak, in the form of "George Washington's Hatchet", is tendered herewith with my compliments for your acceptance.

If I am not presuming too much I shall appreciate having your acknowledgment of it.

Dear Mr. President:-

As a token of my appreciation of what you have done for the poor and needy citizens of America, I am this day presenting you with a hand carved walking stick which I hope you will receive and keep as memorial from one that really appreciates your efforts to preserve our Country.

The work is rather crude, this however, is due to the fact that I am not as young as I once was and my eyes are growing dim; I am one among the many who are unemployed and at times I when I had nothing else to do I carved this stick, I am sorry that I was unable to make a complete job of it, it should be braced at the top on either edge with silver brackets to give it more strength, but not being financially able to secure the needed material I am sending it as it is and suggest that you have the work completed.

I am in position to send you a pair of Gray Squirrels and a pair of Red Squirrels also a pair of Gophers all of which will be harmless and the children can ride the Gophers if they desire, I am as above stated poor and in need of assistance, and in the event you desire the last mentioned sent it will be necessary that bear the expense.

Dear President:-

After reading in the National Geographic Magazine that during the World War you inspected some U. S. Ships in the artificial harbor of Ponta Delgada, San Miguel Azores it occurred to me that you might like a souvenir of the island & so I am sending you under separate cover a whole tooth that came from the whaling station at Cafelax. I was stationed on the island of San Miguel nearly 18 months during the world war.

The other article is a piece of the U. S. 3 plane which was wrecked off the coast of the island of San Miguel. It was towed into harbor & U. S. Marine guarded it a while

Mr. W. A. Le Hand, June 3, 1935.
The White House
Washington.

My dear Sir: -

A few days ago I received the letter you wrote me for President Roosevelt on May 18.

I am very proud of the letter & will treasure it. I am very glad to find that the President was glad to receive the two modest souvenirs.

What I am writing you about now is this. I would like very much to receive a letter from President Roosevelt with his signature at the bottom.

I received a very nice letter from Vice President Garner a short time ago which I am very proud of & which I hope had framed so it can hang on the wall of our living room.

Now I would like to receive a letter from the President with his signature attached simply because he happens to be our and section of which are given to me

President & also been him greatly.

Of course I do not expect him to make an exception in my case & do what he does not care to do but I would very much like what I have stated so I can have it framed also.

I had a gavel made & sent it to Vice President Garner through Senator Mc Keller with the request that he see it in presiding over the Senate.

On the 24th of last April
Mr. Garner did ^{with it} come side over the Senate & wrote me to that effect. He stated that it was a pleasure to thus comply with my request. I feel that our three sons will treasure the gavel & Mr. Garner's letter long after I am gone.

Well I will close but I bare you.

If you can & are willing to help me in what I desire I will appreciate your kindness.

I hope to feel I have made my self plain to you. I simply want the letter to have framed & to keep as a trophy & to leave to our 3 sons.
I am aware of the fact that the President is a very busy man.
Sincerely, Douglas M. Calvert.

I had a good mood & sent like what I have stated it can
 to do but I would very much to make an effort to do not care
 it to use President's name
 it to use President's name
 with the request that he use it

TRANSLATION

Mr. President:

I asked the French Ambassador, M. de Laboulaye, to offer you a copy of the mémoire which I published in 1924, in the Carnegie Endowment Collections, on the organization of the Republic for peace.

Since that time, many things have changed, and now, several of my ideas call for modifications; in the aggregate, I believe they are still correct as far as concerns my country.

I was not bold enough to ask the honor of handing this mémoire to you myself. I should, however, have been very happy to express to you the admiration of an elderly French citizen. The crisis which has thrown the world into chaos, after the war imposed upon us by German aggression, appears to us, as far as concerns the United States, as a mere crisis of adolescence in the magnificent drive of your nation toward the future. We believe you will overcome this crisis, and I ask your permission, Mr. President, to tell you that I am sincerely wishing, with all French citizens, that your very noble efforts will be rewarded by definitive success.

Henri Chardon.

Monsieur le Président,

J'ai prie l'Ambassadeur de France, M.
de Laboulaye de vous offrir un exemplaire du mémoire que j'ai publié en 1924, dans les collections de la Donation Carnegie sur l'organisation de la République pour la faire.
Depuis ce temps, bien des choses ont changé et plusieurs de mes réflexions appeleraient quelques collections ; dans l'ensemble, je les vois encore exactes, pour mes pages.

Je n'ai été sollicité l'honneur de vous remettre mon œuvre en mémoire ; j'aurais dû cependant lui rendre de votre expression la profonde amitié d'un vieux français. La critique qui bouscule la terre, après la guerre qui nous a imposé l'apothéose de l'Allemagne
