To the President of the United States,

Honorable Sir:

I hope you will excuse the liberty I hereby take in addressing this to you. I am presuming that it may interest you to know what your people of Southern California think of you, and I come to tell your honor that seventy-five per cent of the people have you in their hearts as a savior.

How I come to know this is that a couple of days before Lincoln's Birthday I made a little flower garden in my show window and set the inclosed picture in the center of the display with a flag on either side.

As I watched the people look at your picture as they passed by, I wanted to tell you that your picture made them happy. Below are a few reactions and remarks:

Hundreds stopped and looked for a few seconds when all of a sudden they smiled and one could see happiness in their eyes and faces. An older lady looked at your picture for a while then came inside the shop and said, "I am worried that human man-eating wolves are barking at our loving President, and I can see that he looks ten years older since he has become our President; but their is nothing to do but pray for him."

One day a Mexican woman with three children looked at your picture and just before she left the window she knelt on the sidewalk and said a prayer looking upward.

These are only a few examples of the way the reactions came for three days.

The people seem to be taking more interest in your honor than has ever been taken before for any other President, that is why I take the liberty to send you this picture and my statement and prayer to Almighty God to give you strength to deliver you out of the hands of your enemies and to

Dear Mr. President:

The enclosed clipping is characteristic of the average minister, (and of the Church) of which you may know through the poll made by The Literary Digest, and it is due primarily to the repeal of the 18th Amendment.

Now, while I believe Repeal was a grievous Moral error, I earnestly remember you, our President, in daily prayer, (See I Timothy 2:2) and I thrilled with spiritual joy over that part of your address on "Brotherhood Day", from Hyde Park, on February 28th, which related to "a revival of the spirit of religion, a revival that would sweep through the homes of the Nation and stir the hearts of men and women," and I have used it on the Jacket of my Book, "Family Altar and Faith Primer," which will be ready for distribution on the 10th inst.

My Book, of course, is a wonderful book of prayer literature which has required four years in the making, and contains morning and evening family prayers and prayers suitable for calendared occasions both Sacred and Secular during the year. It is illustrated, nicely bound and has 256 pages. I know you will like it.

May I have the honor to present you a copy in person before you go South for vacation?

It would have a tonic effect on the heart and Home of the Nation, and it would react favorably for you with minister and with congregation.

Awaiting your pleasure, I am,

Sincerely,

PASTOR HITS F. R. FOR SUNDAY WORK

U. S. to Prosperity

Special to the Evening Ledger

Allentown, March 6.—Sharp criticism of President Roosevelt for attending Sunday baseball games and calling Cabinet meetings on Sundays was made today by the Rev. Dr. Benjamin S. Stull, chairman of the Committee on the Sabbath, who addressed 1000 delegates attending the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Layman's Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"The leader of this country," Dr. Stull said, "a man who attends baseball games on Sunday, who calls meetings of his Cabinet on the Sabbath, when they could be held on any other day, will never lead this country out of its difficulties."

Assails Repeal

Dr. Stull also blamed President Roosevelt by implication for "bringing back hell on earth" through his advocacy of prohibition repeal.

"When the head of our Nation leads the movement to bring back liquor, to revive hell on earth, the Kingdom of God cannot come to the United States," declared Dr. Stull, who is pastor of the Falls of Schuylkill Methodist Episcopal Church, Philadelphia.

He also by implication condemned Governor Earle and Sunday baseball legislation in his discussion of a report of the Social Service Commission, read earlier at the 149th annual Philadelphia conference.

Dear Mr. President:

When you fished off the Kona Coast last year,
you may remember using a home-made reel.

There was an old fisherman in a committee which called to obtain your signature to our Scottish Rite Roster who designed the reel. He promised you one if and when it got past the experiment stage. It has taken over a year to get this salt-water idea from this little island of Kauai transmitted into a fresh-water head in Elgin, Illinois.

It has finally percolated and here is the result. Am asking Sam King to deliver the reel so the Keeper of the Gate won't take it for an infernal machine.

Wishing you tight lines, happy days and aloha

I am enclosing a painting, or more properly, a water color sketch.

I read a piece in the paper the other day that you were having trouble getting a picture of you that looks hard boiled. Why you should want to look hard boiled I don't know but I'm an Artist(?) and not much on politics. But if a hard boiled picture will help you win over Landon (hill very likely on the republican choice) I'll try and do my bit.

I have a tendency to get my painted people very hard boiled and if you can find a smile on this picture your eyes are very good indeed.

If (and we hope it will) the flood emergency has passed on to the stage of reconstruction before the weekend is out, you will be off on a well-earned holiday when this letter comes to the White House. However, the law school is keeping me on my toes these days, and I want to write you at this time which I have set aside for riding my hobby.

For a long time prior to my visit with you a year ago in February I had been reading and collecting material written by you and about you. Much of this I used in my thesis for the goernment department. But - There is more to this collecting than the coldly practical side. I have found in studying your life that the government of a people is a very human business. It is many-sided and complex, yet is concerned itself with the understanding a host of everyday hopes and fears, joys and sorrows. Throughout your speeches and writings I have found a profound recognition of government as a human being rather than as a machine.

Therefore in studying your life - I have come to look into many, many phases of our complex national make-up. I better understand the value and importance of a human public service - which

"Dutch Houses" which I have had trouble obtaining; your public papers to date - including all available Crimson material; and, of course my own notes, photographs and holograph letter as ~~a~~ precious reminders of my visit with you.

Of course, the "Records of Hyde Park" is inscribed, and I am wondering if you could possibly inscribe with a dated inscription your other works for me. You see - Mr. Madigan of New York has just quoted me a presentation copy of "Whither Bound?"

at $60.00 - and I just can't do that.

I am sending these books to you

President Franklin D. Roosevelt,
The White House,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

Gus sent me one of your old hats which you were nice enough to autograph for my collection at Shady Oak Farm. This will be my prize possession and I hope, when you come to Fort Worth in June, to have the pleasure of showing you the collection.

I shall send you some blue ribbon, prize winning steaks within the next few days by airplane. I hope you and Mrs. Roosevelt enjoy them.

We are looking forward to your visit in Texas, although I am sure it is not necessary from a political standpoint as I think it would be difficult for anyone to insult enough people down here to effect you materially in carrying this State with as large a majority as you had before.

I appreciate, as well as do Amon, Jr., and Ruth, your nice letters in acknowledgment of the Centennial covers from Gonzales on March 2nd. The youngsters started collecting stamps and I have become addicted to the idea. It is a lot of pleasure. I just wrote Jim Farley that I had spent a few thousand dollars with him in buying stamps from our good Government which would never be cancelled. I am anxious sometime for an opportunity of seeing your collection.

With very best wishes, I am,

Sincerely,

A. G. Carter

Dear Amon:

The President has asked me to drop you a line and tell you how much he appreciated those fine steaks. They arrived in great shape and he was delighted to have them.

Needless to say, Mrs. McIntyre and I were highly pleased with the fine specimen you sent to us. It was simply delicious and I do think it was mighty good of you to remember me.

With kindest regards and best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Marvin:

The Grand Champion steer of the Fortieth Annual Southwestern Exposition & Fat Stock Show weighed 1,150 pounds and was bought by the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial for $1.40 per pound. It was a beautiful animal and it seemed almost sacrilegious for it to be slaughtered. However, there was no way for the Champ to avoid its fate and the old boy is now reposing in the cooler ready for the customers.

My dear Mr. President:

Having the pleasure of your acquaintance and that of Mrs. Roosevelt, and as my father, the late Gov. Thos. T. Crittenden of Missouri, has been closely identified with the early history of this state, I am instructing the publishers, G.P. Putnam's Sons of New York City, to send you a complimentary copy of the deluxe edition of THE CRITTENDEN MEMOIRS which will be out in February.

The book will have about 600 pages and 80 or more illustrations, many the most prominent people of the United States whom I met while in Washington during the Coolidge administration, or related to our family, or in the older generation in some way connected with the Crittendens of Kentucky and Missouri. John J. Crittenden, Senator from Kentucky, contemporary of Henry Clay, was identified with the early history of the United States both as Senator and Attorney General in Presidents Wm. Henry Harrison's and Millard Fillmore's cabinets.

I sincerely trust that your Secretary will call your attention to this letter, and wishing both you and Mrs. Roosevelt happiness and good health throughout the new year, I am, as ever,

Sincerely, your friend,

The writer in his personal memoirs mentions the bloody "Border Warfare" between Missouri and Kansas; Quantrill's Raid On Lawrence, Kansas; Gen'l. Ewing's "Order Number 11"; The "Centralia Massacre"; The "Palmyra Tragedy", finally culminating in the "Battle of Westport," Oct. 21-22-23, 1864, ending Civil War in middle west.

Attack of Congressman Brooks on Sen. Charles Sumner of Massachusetts.

"The Crittenden Compromise," by Sen. Crittenden of Kentucky, had it been adopted in the opinion of many, would have averted the CIVIL WAR.

Short Synopsis of THE CRITTENDEN MEMOIRS
by

H. H. Crittenden

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS, PUBLISHERS

An interesting book of 600 pages with 80 illustrations, (some, the most distinguished people of the United States), dealing with outstanding historical events, in many cases National in scope. Will be ready for distribution in October.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS, the well known New York publishers, say of this book:

"WE SINCERELY TRUST THAT WE MAY ADD THIS BOOK TO OUR LIST OF NEW BOOKS AS IT SEEMS TO US TO BE A RATHER IMPORTANT WORK AND OUGHT TO BE PUBLISHED." It contains, first:

(1) AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF THOS. T. CRITTENDEN, GOVERNOR OF MISSOURI, 1881 to 1885.

The Governor stressed three acts of his administration:

(A) Collection of $3,090,000 back taxes from Hannibal & St. Joe R. R. by legal procedure.

(B) Improving Educational Systems In Missouri.

(C) Breaking up OUTLAWRY in the State.

Results show his success and with very little cost to Missouri.

In the hazardous undertaking, "BREAKING UP OUTLAWRY IN MISSOURI," Governor Crittenden's life was threatened many times by the outlaws;

That if he did not cease his fight, they would kill him even if they had to wreck the train he was on to do so.

They threatened to kidnap the governor's little daughter, Carrie, 9 years old.

The "GANG" also planned to kidnap young Thos. T. Crittenden, Jr., a student at the State University at Columbia, Mo., and hold him until the governor granted immunity to Frank James from arrest and trial. He later surrendered to Governor Crittenden through negotiations arranged by Maj. John N. Edwards. Was indicted, stood trial and turned loose by a jury.

Many terrorizing stories of the "JAMES BOYS" in Missouri and elsewhere are told in this book.

An interesting account is related of Jesse James, Jr.'s employment as office boy, his identity at first unknown to T. T. Crittenden, Jr., and how later his employer saved him from the penitentiary.

The writer in his personal memoirs mentions the bloody "Border Warfare" between Missouri and Kansas; Quantrill's Raid On Lawrence, Kansas; Gen'l. Ewing's "Order Number 11"; The "Centralia Massacre"; The "Palmyra Tragedy", finally culminating in the "Battle of Westport," Oct. 21-22-23, 1864, ending Civil War in middle west.

Attack of Congressman Brooks on Sen. Charles Sumner of Massachusetts.

"The Crittenden Compromise," by Sen. Crittenden of Kentucky, had it been adopted in the opinion of many, would have averted the CIVIL WAR.

Tragic execution of Col. William L. Crittenden of Frankfort, Ky., who under Lopez in 1851 attempted to free Cuba from Spanish rule.

Henry Clay's and Col. Allen's defense of Aaron Burr, Frankfort, Ky., against the government's charge of TREASON. Clay's refusal to speak to Burr at the Richmond trial, believing he and Col. Allen had been deceived by Burr.

You will not remember me as I met you many years ago when you were secretary of the Navy.

I was selling books in Washington the time Mr. Wilson was President. Sold many of the Senators and Congressmen in fact. I put in several hundred sets, at that time I was sales manager for P. F. Collier & Son working out of the Washington Office. The Harvard Classics was the set I was selling at that time.

Have my own business now and am publishing one of the best new encyclopedias I think on the market. The set is in ten volumes, and it is kept up to date each year for ten years, and you get one year book each year up to 1946. We also have a Research Bureau, giving you a membership for ten years. Franklin Delano Roosevelt
President of the United States
White House
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. President:

April seventeenth, to us in the Civilian Conservation Corps, is our day of Thanksgiving to you, our dear President, in appreciation and gratitude for the privilege of being here. My boys and I, of CCC Company 2556, Cheyenne, Wyoming, are sending, as a token of our esteem and reverence, this CCC made Wyoming Cedar lamp. We do not deem this lamp of great intrinsic value, but have designed it in a form of profound symbolism to us.

The Cedar was secured from the hills near Battle Lake, Wyoming, where the famous inventor, Thomas A. Edison, while on a fishing trip one day, conceived the idea of the incandescent light, and even cut a splinter from his fishing pole and attempted to construct a carbon filament for his light then and there.

Here in Cheyenne, where stands the first building in the world to have electric lights for commercial use, we have one of the original old light bulbs. This bulb even has the hewn wooden plug at its base where the filament could be taken out and renewed. My boys and I, in our CCC educational classroom work, have duplicated this old light bulb in all its proportions for the lamp stand as you see it. To finish the design, we secured the kerosene lamp chimney light bulb and, over all, our real pride and joy, the map of Wyoming lamp shade.

We humbly present to you, our dear President, this lamp, symbolic of the light of hope and opportunity the Civilian Conservation Corps has given us out here in the "Golden West".

Very respectfully yours,

Harold F. Thatcher

Dear Mr. President:

I have much pleasure in sending you the volume of Proceedings of the Conference on Canadian-American Relations held at The St. Lawrence University, Canton, New York, last June. This will at least serve as a reminder to you of the effort which we made last year and in which you expressed your cordial interest. We are planning to continue the work in the future, but will not have another conference until the summer of 1937.

With high regard,

Faithfully yours,

Dear Howard:

I have received your letter of April twenty-third relative to the desire of the cigar industry to present the President with a humidor containing cigars some time between June fifth and tenth.

While I know the President will appreciate this token, I am afraid it will not be possible to arrange for the presentation to be made to him personally. At the beginning of the Administration we adopted a policy, and have adhered to it rigidly, of having all gifts presented to the President through me. I do not see, therefore, just how an exception can be made in this case. I shall, of course, be delighted to meet the committee and receive the humidor, passing it along to the President with an appropriate word of explanation.

I would suggest, however, that they arrange to come a little later on, say about June twentieth, as it is quite probable that the President will be away from Washington at the time mentioned by you.

I am sure you will be able to explain the situation satisfactorily to the members of the committee and, of course, you know how greatly I appreciate your own good offices in this matter.

Kindest personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

HOWARD S CULLMAN

Mr. Marvin H. McIntyre,
Secretary to the President,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mac:

The cigar industry is doing its utmost to cooperate with the administration and has, as you know, at all times taken leadership in progressive programs. In order to stimulate consumption of cigars, which incidentally means more tobacco grown and better prices for the American farmers, they are planning, similar to what the florists do on Mother's day, making Father cigar conscious on Father's Day.

(With this in mind, they are having a very elaborate humidor containing 500 or 1000 cigars specially prepared for the President, which they would like to have presented to him any time between the 5th and 10th of June. I think an appropriate committee is being named which is going to Washington for this presentation.)

Do you think it would be possible for them to have a few minutes with the President - because it will take only a very short while - and will you please advise me your and his pleasure in this matter.

I can assure you it will be most helpful, will in no way embarrass him, and I would tremendously personally appreciate it.

With best wishes,

Cordially yours,

Dear Mac,

Thanks a lot for your letter of April 24.

I will get in touch with the boy-scouts and let them know that around the twentieth of June is agreeable. You will hear from me further on this all important subject.

Dear Howard:

I shall be glad to receive the delegation from the Cigar Progress Board at 2:30 on June twelfth, provided I am in Washington. However, as I stated in my letter to you, I believe it would be better to arrange this appointment later on in June. Suppose we just let it stand tentatively for June twelfth, and you give me another reminder around the end of May, at which time I shall know definitely whether I shall be in the city.

Dear Mr. Kannee:

In conformity with our telephone conversation, I have promptly communicated with the several individuals designated to represent the entire Cigar Industry at the presentation of the Father's Day gift to the President.

We shall - accordingly - be present at the White House, on Tuesday, June 16th, at 11:45 A.M.

I am grateful to you, Mr. Kannee, for your many kindnesses in this matter which is of such vital concern to everyone in our Industry. This may be a proper occasion to relate to you - briefly - the character and the significance of this Board.

It represents every element in cigar distribution, among which are the following:

A - The National Association of Tobacco Distributors (wholesalers). This Association was the sponsor of the Code of Fair Competition for the Wholesale Tobacco Trade and subsequently the Administrative Body of the Code of Fair Competition. It represents 7400 wholesale tobacconists in this Country who employ 75,000 persons.

B - The Retail Tobacco Dealers of America, Inc. - this Association was the sponsor of the Code of Fair Competition for the Retail Tobacco Trade and subsequently its Administrator. It is the authorized spokesman for close to one million tobacco outlets in the United States.

C - Cigar manufacturers - The Cigar Progress Board represents the majority number of the cigar manufacturers in the United States. There are over 5,000

Take out the screws from the side of the packing case marked, and roll the cabinet out of the case.

The key to the cabinet is tied to the cross bar of the legs. Open the cabinet with the key and remove the papers on top of the inside, which are there for the purpose of keeping the cigars from shaking.

Inside of the copper lined cabinet there are blotter humidifiers which are occasionally to be wet by letting water run over them and put back in place, to keep the cigars from drying.
