Sept. 17, 1936.

Writes President in interest of Captain John I. Clark of Norfolk, who recently secured from a Finnish sailor a sailing ship model which he (Capt. Clark) would like to give the President. This ship is well done and is about 18 inches in length. Representative Darden will bring it to Washington on one of his trips, should the President like to have it.--President replied, Sept. 25th, saying he was much interested in the ship model and would appreciate it if the Representative would bring it to him. President asked the Representative to convey his deep appreciation to Captain Clark for his thoughtfulness.

has ever happened my way. What I want is steady employment, if you could help me in some way I will appreciate it immensely.

As an artist I have had very little instruction although in the past five years I have practiced earnestly in this particular trade and acted as my own instructor, I also do sign writing in my spare time.

In closing please pardon if I have taken up to much of your valuable time, as you can see I had to explain the true source of my plight. I pray to our "Divine Protector" to guide you in leading this great Country of ours from all ills, so that all good honest hardworking citizens may emerge to a normal state of living, I also pray to "God" that he bless you for the way you have helped in steadying our Country and carried on in giving every one of us confidence in you, and I pray that you will be reelected as President for the next term, for I am sure your mission will be successful to the satisfaction of all.

September 21, 1936

Hon. M. H. McIntyre
Secretary to the President
White House
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. McIntyre:

Please be informed and at your discretion let the President know that I did not expect him to take my advice or even consider the taking of it.

My boys and I are out here where we have to dig and work for sources of information. However, I have been thinking over the subject of the Editorial which I sent you, for many years, and most profoundly since the President's policy on the gold question was announced.

Outside of his wonderful personality and brilliant mind, I like his courage which prompts him to try, and that is all any human being can do in any situation. Nothing big was ever done by those who feared to try.

I am sending you two knives. One is for you, and one must be given to the President to perpetuate his luck. If you have read the late Tom Marshall's book about prominent men whom he had known, you will find that he practically calls me a "knife crank". But, my knife did not hurt Taft nor Wilson, and I know that it will not hurt President Roosevelt, nor will it hurt you. Some people like to fish, others like to play golf, others collect postage stamps and etc., but I like a good knife ready for use in any emergency, and I am happy to know that my friends have one. The descendants of Osceola in Florida, where I go every winter, have many of my knives in their possession. These knives, which I am sending you and the President, are a different work of art from the stickers and skinners which please the Seminoles.

I am also sending you today another Editorial of the Charleston Gazette.

With warm regards, I am

Truly yours,

P.S. Am sending the knives in separate package.

Peanut Politics vs. Common Sense

In a normal period when he was not pestered by hind-sight (Harding) nor warned by Foresight (Hoover) the late Calvin Coolidge gave out some New England philosophy that, like all true philosophy, is a good road guide post and a beacon in a "light-house by the sea."

We recall especially his statement that the common sense of the American people may be always relied upon. May we recall that in 1864 when Lincoln himself practically gave up the election, he confided to his close friends his belief that McClellan seemed to be sure of election, and in the greatness of his soul, he gave instructions for turning over the government to his successor with the minimum of friction. But that common sense of the people registered. It would have been foolish to elect McClellan, who was opposed by the army, the congress and the administration that was nearing the end of the Civil war.

In 1916, it looked bleak for Wilson. In New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Illinois, the big cities and the big aggregations of capital seemed to be for Hughes. The odds in the betting were against Wilson; but that common sense came to the places in the great West where party machinery could not stifle public sentiment, and Wilson was elected.

It would lengthen needlessly this apostrophe to the common sense of the country and to the dependability of American patriotism to give the other instances in our history wherein the people have refused to allow adjectives to supplant facts.

This brings us to the situation four years ago, 1932, when some who wanted Smith of New York, or some of the other candidates, went into the Chicago convention with the battle cry "anybody to beat Roosevelt". These were standing upon an ice-floe in the belief that they were standing upon solid ground. They forgot the common sense of the American people.

The convention had seen the result of several campaigns, notably the nomination in 1920 of a great Democratic leader, Governor Cox of Ohio. But he was defeated by a Republican, now recognized as a total failure when he became president, Mr. Harding. By a popular vote of sixteen million to nine million, Harding received 404 electoral votes to Cox's 127. Thus, the New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania leaders of the Democratic party were shown to be mistaken in their efforts to prevent the people themselves from making their own nomination. Mr. Cox made a splendid campaign, but he was nominated by people who sponsored the slogan "anything to beat McAdoo". Without that handicap he would not have met defeat for which he was not primarily responsible. In 1924, the New York convention nominated John W. Davis, after a debate about religion, Ku Klux Klan, and purely unimportant questions. But, everybody knew that behind all this debate were the determined leaders who seemed to desire anything rather than the nomination of McAdoo.

The result was that Coolidge was elected with 382 votes to 136 for Davis. Then came the memorable convention of 1928 when Governor Alfred E. Smith, now one of the leaders of the "Liberty League", got the nomination, and he scored a record low of 87 electoral votes to 444 for Hoover. Smith lost West Virginia by about 112,000. He lost Arizona, Florida, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas and even the old state of Virginia.

We can now see that the convention in New York which nominated Mr. Davis, lacked leadership in not seeing that the Democratic party had been passing up wonderful opportunities to give the masses of the people a home for making this government one "of the people, for the people and by the people".

Thus, it was largely the same people who had nominated Smith and Davis, who were seeking to lead the Democratic party away from a candidate who represented the progressive thought of the country.

The Chicago convention made quick work of these obstructive efforts and nominated Roosevelt, with the result that he defeated Hoover by over seven million of the popular vote, and received 472 electoral votes to 59 for Hoover. He carried New York by about 600,000; West Virginia by 75,000, old Virginia came back with 114,000 majority; he lost New Hampshire by about three thousand, whereas, Smith had lost it by about 35,000. Maryland, which Smith had lost by about 80,000, Roosevelt carried by 130,000; California, which Smith had lost by about one-half million, Roosevelt carried by approximately the same majority; Tennessee, which was lost by Smith by 28,000, was carried by Roosevelt by 133,000; Michigan, which was lost by Smith by over 500,000, was carried by Roosevelt by over 130,000; Kentucky, which was lost by Smith by 170,000, was carried by Roosevelt by 186,000. And so on down the list.

The popular approval given to Roosevelt by the people emphasizes the mistake which the leaders of the Democratic party had been making, and most of them were doing it out of a selfish desire to keep the capitol of the United States in New York, and in the clutches of big business instead of having it at Washington under the eyes of the people and their representatives, the congress of the United States.

Mr. Hoover carried only six states, while Mr. Roosevelt carried forty-two. We do not expect those who use the Democratic party or seek to use it for private business purposes, or to exhibit the "pomp of power", to support Roosevelt with the "thrill of the righteousness of a cause;" but rely upon the common sense of the American people who understand from the figures which we have given, that in Roosevelt, the great masses, the small business men, the farmers and the working men have a friend who believes that all agencies of government should be out in the open, subject to criticism and suggestion, and they know that when they are voting with Roosevelt they are voting with that section of the people who in 1932 broke away from government behind closed doors.

Mr. Roosevelt has very properly let the orators of the Republican party say their best and do their worst. He can see each day evidences of those who are voting in the primaries, to name Democratic candidates, and each time it shows that each result is like the case of the state of Washington—an increase in the vote in the Democratic primary. Those who try to figure West Virginia as a certainty for Landon, must think that the readers of the news have the minds of young children.

The registration in this state four years ago, 1932, showed over 50,000 more Republicans than the Democratic registration, yet, Roosevelt carried the state by about 75,000. This year the registration is over 100,000 Democratic. There is no apparent reason why Roosevelt's vote should not swell, from registration to election, proportionately as it did in 1932. From now on, there will be a parade of conscientious Republicans who do not want to commit hari kari with their government nor give up our gain in recovery. They are swinging to Roosevelt. He is more apt to carry West Virginia by 150,000 than he is to carry it by less than 75,000, his majority in 1932.

Thank

Honorable Franklin Delano Roosevelt,
President, United States of America.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:-

Under separate cover, I am sending you a box of cigars, made in my factory, as a simple token of my admiration for you, and my appreciation of the policies you have established in this country during the past four years.
It is my simple hope and trust that the next four years you will spend as President of these United States will be happy and fruitful ones for you.

Sincerely,

D. Caplan.

Dear Mr. President:

During your recent speech in Denver I took the liberty of taking a few snap shots of you on the speakers stand and out of these had the center portion of the one that I considered best enlarged.

I am inclosing two copies of this enlargement in the hope that you will see fit to add one to your own collection, the other, if it will not be asking too much, autograph and return to me. I assure you it will be a most highly prized possession in our State Self-Help Cooperative office here in Denver.

With every best wish and all my help in the coming election - and during the next four years,

I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt

I'm writing you a few lines and hope and pray to God that you will be re-elected as our President, as I believe you are one of the greatest Samaritan we ever had and the Country will still continue to go forward, as you certainly have brought millions of people to know what happiness you gave and why take chances putting Landon in the White House, as a vote for him would bring us back, to the Hoover Administration, which was the worse we ever had, in fact you can see how we ^{were} going back to the terrible days during Coolidge, Taft and Hoover time, which was the worst we ever had, I'm sure the voters of our Country can see how we were going back in those 12 years.
Even in Philadelphia. Republican Women do not want Hoover to appear with Landon as he would make his chances very poor to carry Philadelphia. A vote for Landon is a vote for Hoover, as he would be the President, not in name but his adviser. It certainly made me feel good when I seen in the New York News that Mr Boulliver President of the Watch Co, offered $200,000. to 100,000.
that you will be re-elected and no one will take the offer. I take in all the Democratic rallies.
The best one I attended was at Big Spring state Hemlock Park Perry County on Sat. Sept 26th

2

Carl was the main speaker and he certainly gave a fine talk and i hope he will become our President in the near future, also Mr. Van Dyke head of the Highways. Mr. Ross for re-election for State Assemblyman and Mr. Roberts for State Senator. I can safely say there was no less 20,000 people there. They had Chicken Noodle Soup and plenty of it, they had the Newport high school band and they played fine and other good numbers, the watch word was forward with Franklin D. Roosevelt. they started a Roosevelt Democratic Club at Purdix about 4 miles from here, next Thursday Eve. we are going to Marysville where they will have a big parade with several bands and the Legions drum and fife corps Mr Fisher is the chairman of the Democrats in that town. So we are going to have a real Roosevelt nite. I'm sending you by parcel post a family vase just have small pictures taken so you can have their heads in the center of the daisies. Wishing you continued success and still be in chair at the White House for the next 4 years

I remain fraternally yours

Edward Franklin Clark

P.S. please excuse all mistakes, what little i know is practical experience, as i had very little schooling which was my own fault. Not my parents, as i always played hookie

I admire your son James who is campaigning for his father and his great speech that he made for you at Louis-Sharkey fight in Boston and hope it will mean that the state of Massachusetts will go Democratic by an overwhelming majority. I also would like to see Pennsylvania go Democratic, as it only went once and that was in 1857. This is the only state they are sure of as it is a Republican and they always count on it.
I hope you will upset it and that it will go again Democratic and you will sweep the country, so we can give Landon a sail up salt creek.

Tramp tramp tramp the boys are marching onward for the course of ^{and} Wright with Roosevelt at our head
we to victory are led while Landon is beating out of sight

I think that Al Smith coming out for Landon shows the calibre of the man. and I hope Tammany hall will throw him out. I was born in New York 1870 and lived in Brooklyn until 1900 when I moved to Pennsylvania. I still love to make trips to New York and certainly made a mistake when I left it.
I'm sure I would be better off if I stayed there the greatest city in the world

a. The act or default of the shipper or owner.
b. The nature of the property, or defect or inherent vice therein.
c. Improper or insufficient packing, securing, or addressing.
d. The Act of God, public enemies, authority of law, quarantine, riots, strikes, perils of navigation, the hazards or dangers incident to a state of war, or occurrence in customs warehouse.
e. The examination by, or partial delivery to the consignee of C. O. D. shipments.
f. Delivery under instructions of consignor or consignee at stations where there is no agent of the company after such shipments have been left at such stations.

5. Packages containing fragile articles or articles consisting wholly or in part of glass must be so marked and be packed so as to insure safe transportation by express with ordinary care.

6. When consigned to a place at which the express company has no office, shipments must be marked with the name of the express station at which delivery will be accepted or be marked with forwarding directions if to go beyond the express company's line by a carrier other than an express company. If not so marked shipments will be refused.

7. As conditions precedent to recovery claims must be made in writing to the originating or delivering carrier within nine months after delivery of the property or, in case of failure to make delivery, then within nine months and fifteen days after date of shipment; and suits shall be instituted only within two years and one day after the date when notice in writing is given by the carrier to the claimant that the carrier has disallowed the claim or any part or parts thereof.

8. If any C. O. D. is not paid within thirty days after notice of non-delivery has been mailed to the shipper the company may at its option return the property to the consignor.

9. Free delivery will not be made at points where the company maintains no delivery service; at points where delivery service is maintained free delivery will not be made at addresses beyond the established and published delivery limits. Special Additional Provisions as to Shipments Forwarded by Vessel from the United States to Places in Foreign Countries.

10. If the destination specified in this receipt is in a foreign country, the property covered hereby shall, as to transit over ocean routes and by their foreign connections to such destination, be subject to all the terms and conditions of the receipts or bills of lading of ocean carriers as accepted by the company for the shipment, and of foreign carriers participating in the transportation, and as to such transit is accepted for transportation and delivery subject to the acts, ladings, laws, regulations, and customs of oversea and foreign carriers, custodians, and governments, their employees and agents.

11. The company shall not be liable for any loss, damage, or delay to said shipments over ocean routes and their foreign connections, the destination of which is in a foreign country, occurring outside the boundaries of the United States, which may be occasioned by any such acts, ladings, laws, regulations, or customs. Claims for loss, damage or delay must be made in writing to the carrier at the port of export or to the carrier issuing this receipt within nine months after delivery of the property at said port or in case of failure to make such delivery then within nine months and fifteen days after date of shipment; and claims so made against said delivering or issuing carrier shall be deemed to have been made against the carrier which may be liable hereunder. Suits shall be instituted only within two years and one day after the date when notice in writing is given by the carrier to the claimant that the carrier has disallowed the claim or any part or parts thereof. Where claims are not so made, and/or suits are not instituted thereon in accordance with the foregoing provisions, the carrier shall not be liable.

12. It is hereby agreed that the property destined to such foreign countries, and assessable with foreign governmental or customs duties, taxes or charges, may be stopped in transit at foreign ports, frontiers or depots, and there held pending examination, assessments and payments, and such duties and charges, when advanced by the company shall become a lien on the property.

Dear Mr. McIntyre;

May I introduce myself as a member of a family who were friends of the late Louis McHenry Howe ?

The first Major General John Champe fought with Washington at Valley Forge. As a descendant of an old and honored family I have taken great pride in my personal battle for the President and his principles. This by way of letting the Hearstites, Al Smithies and Coughlins know that the popular vote was a far cry from being 'red' or communistic. I personally know of innumerable families in the same social strata that the 'pollers' never reached.

I am enclosing a Scrapbook for the President . This does NOT deal with affairs of State, but, is more in the nature of a gift. I feel he might enjoy the contents after the strain of the day in the quiet of his study. It contains together with recent items some fifty year old clippings from my Grandmother's scrap book. It is for this reason that I did not choose to mail it so as to be thrown in with the general flood of congratulations that must have swamped you. (I sent my telegram at 5:30 election morn to Hyde Park.)

Would you be so kind as to present it to the President at some opportune moment ? I would be so grateful to you. Please forgive me if I overstep any rules of Government ettiquette, as I am only 22 years old and have had no social training along political lines.

Thank you, and may I wish you a most happy term together with many years of success, happiness and good health.

I beg to remain,

Cordially and most Sincerely,

Catherine Champe

Dear Mr. President, Roosevelt about three months ago I wrote Mr.
Frederick Hastings, director at Washington D.C.
for your ring size and made this ring.
All by hand from a piece of non-magnetic stainless steel, that I picked up out of a scrap box where I am employed as a machinist & after I had it completed I was undecided whether to send it or not.
It has no value out side of a few hours work, filing and polishing it up. Then after election I read in the press paper about the watch and chain, that you wore to the polls to cast your vote so now I am going to send the ring after all, as I believe it might interest you as a 1936 victory gift. Yours truly,

My dear Mr President:

I can hardly hope to add even a ripple to the flood of congratulations that have swept our Country with a swelling current of gratitude upon your re-election a week ago.

To one who in 1896, enlisted with youthful zeal all his Jefferson-Lincoln inspiration and training, to march with William J. Bryan and six millions of American men through three sacrificial but educational campaigns; then to the triumphant vision of the New Freedom and Democracy with Woodrow Wilson; and in 1932 to its opportunity for realization under your leadership - altogether the great success of last Tuesday makes the forty years of progressive struggle come to the "end of a perfect day" - yet I know it is only the beginning of a new and better day of democracy. Just as the victory brings reward and glory for all who have served, so there is larger duty and greater responsibility for all - and to you have led, and must lead us on, most of all. The lines of Longfellow best express the feelings of forty millions and more:

" Our hearts, our hopes, are all with thee,
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers, our tears,
Our faith triumphant o'er our fears
Are all with thee, - are all with thee! "

P.S. I am sending by accompanying mail an inscribed copy of my only "book venture" — entitled
"The Climax of A World Quest" — It aims to present the problem of the Pacific from the standpoint of four centuries of discovery — and particularly the long and vain search for the "Northwest Passage" —

Perhaps you may have opportunity and leisure on your announced trip to Buenos Ayres, for some "Pan-American" reading. If so, I think you will find this research of discovery history which I have ventured — at least a readable review lesson of the discovery beginnings of the two Americas and particularly the opening of the Pacific Ocean —

My dear Mrs. Corry:

Your letter of November eleventh was received by the President and he wants you and the members of your family to know that he appreciates your congratulations and your friendly good wishes.

He has asked me to thank you for letting him see the article you enclosed and for your courtesy in sending him those beautiful gifts. He is indeed most grateful for your prayers.

I am returning the clipping with the thought that you might want to keep it.

Very sincerely yours,

Mrs. LeHand

Hon. and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt
Washington, D. C.

Dear President and Mrs. Roosevelt:

I wish to take this opportunity to extend to you my sincerest congratulations, and I hope that the future will always bring you the happiness the recent campaign brought.

Monessen has a population of about 30,000 and in spite of our daily paper being Republican, our people were for you. I am the bus agent in Monessen and have been for the last twelve years. We all worked very hard and I even won a $50.00 bet by your victory.

I am mailing, under separate cover, two gifts which I wish our two foremost characters in this nation to have. The piece of lace for Mrs. Roosevelt was hand-made by my sister-in-law in Syria and the cocoon design on velvet is for our most worthy President. The cocoon in Syria is the highest symbol of good-luck and it is considered by my native people in Syria to bring one, who keeps it in his home, the best of luck always.

I appreciate the fact that my gifts will be just two of the many thousands that you have received. But, nevertheless, they are sent with just as sincere good wishes as the best, and I only hope they bring forth every good wish with which they are sent.

My husband and son are both working in Washington, D. C. My husband carries with him a Plaque which is treasured as a relic of his native land. It is a hand-carved plaque of the Infant Jesus and he brought it over from Jerusalem. He would not part with it as it has always brought happiness, health and good luck to the person who carried it. I inclose an article pertaining to it, which you may be interested in reading.

Trusting that you will be pleased with my gifts, and hoping that all our prayers will be answered as they were on November 3, 1936, I remain

Very respectfully yours,

Mrs. H. J. Corry

Franklin D. Roosevelt
President of The United States
White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

Under separate cover I am forwarding you a framed profile of your likeness, prepared from actual snap shots of various WPA Projects throughout District #6 of the Florida Works Progress Administration. This profile was prepared by the writer for reproduction as a cover for our "Works And Workers" magazine, published monthly and given State distribution, of which I am enclosing copy of the October issue.

It is hoped that somewhere in the archives of your memoirs you will find a place for these, as quite a number of my friends have suggested and insisted that they be forwarded to you.

Sincerely hoping that the second term of your Administration will prove as beneficial to the general public as your present term has thus far proven, I am

Yours respectfully,
