Pres. Franklin D. Roosevelt
Washington, D. C.

Honored President:

I am sending to you a copy of a very fine little book upon the most worth-while of themes -
"The Way To God".

This little volume is simply written, but it embraces the whole of the fact in a concrete way, "Our Salvation through faith in the Lord
Jesus Christ, our Atoning Saviour."

My only request is that you read it, please.

And may the Christ so clearly set forth therein be your personal Saviour and Guide as you seek to direct the affairs of our Nation at this present time.

Sincerely

Mrs. Wallace Carpenter

May 11, 1938.

Letter to James Roosevelt, saying their town is the greatest dairying section in the country, and the Chamber of Commerce is now preparing a great celebration in the form of a Dairy Festival to be held one of the weeks in August of this year. The climaxing feature of this celebration will be the selection of a queen of "The Land of Milk and Honey". The queen selected will be given a trip to Washington together with the queen selected for that section of the country. They are anxious that these two young ladies have the pleasure of being introduced to the President, and to present him with a token of the "Land of Milk and Honey". Asks if this could be arranged.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:-

I should like to have the pleasure of meeting you today. The subject which I'd like to talk to you about is to - give the schools and colleges of America the right to use their own local radio stations in their respective states and cities throughout the country.

The way this might be brought about, is in a suggestion I'd like to offer of discontinuing the chain system of radio stations. It will give the educational institutions an opportunity to display their talents and localize their own merchandise. Communities are more interested in their local people and what they can do.

Last summer I gave Mrs. Roosevelt a copy of Radio Dramatics in Hyde Park. Today I am autographing a copy for you. I hope you'll enjoy it. I have had many years experience in this work both radio and television, therefore I know what I am talking about. Perhaps you will remember the manuscript I wrote, "Democracy at the Crossroads" and broadcasted in the last campaign for you.

Awaiting your pleasure, I am,

Asks if the President desires to continue custom of presenting awards of autographed books to two foremost speakers in the Senior and Junior Debating Societies of the school. -- The President wrote Mr. Peabody June 11th that the cane arrived and he is duly grateful. Indicates he has so many canes, he, confidentially, will give it to someone who needs it more than he does. Says he does want to continue giving the prizes and will sign the books, if the recipients this year will send them to him.

Dear Mr. President:

I am sending you, under separate cover, with my respectful compliments, my latest book, DON'T PAY TAXES. No, it is not advocating refusal to pay taxes to the government; it is assuredly not in favor of the Old Deal.

The writer has been in full sympathy with the objectives of the New Deal; he has watched your efforts during the past five years as those of the greatest humanitarian the world has ever known. However, the writer believes that there are other and better ways to accomplish the end in view. Most probably, it is a matter of opinion.

The book is in the form of dialogues, the characters in which have the same names, same occupations and same opinions as many living notables, prominent in government, business and politics----including yourself. The characters being only platonic counterparts, permission has been asked of none. The dramatization is with a view to making it interesting reading.

Mr. Marvin A. McIntyre,
Secretary to the President,
White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

This letter will introduce Miss Anne Carlisimo who is due to arrive in Washington Tuesday morning, August 16th.

Miss Carlisimo, a student in the Thomas R. Proctor High-school, Utica, New York, recently won first prize in a contest promoted over radio station WIBX in Utica to discover Central New York's "New Betsy Ross". Her trip to Washington, D.C., constitutes the grand prize and was made possible through the co-sponsorship of WIBX and the following Utica service clubs: Utica Kiwanis, Rotary, Exchange, Lions, Comity, and Kirotex Clubs.

The handmade flag with which Miss Carlisimo won first honors in the contest is in her possession and it is her wish to have this flag presented to President Franklin D. Roosevelt with her compliments. In the absence of the President, she would be very proud to present this flag to one of the President's secretaries.

Through the interest of Charles S. Donnelley, Postmaster of the city of Utica, this letter was made possible.

We appreciate your interest and courtesy.

Sincerely yours,

THE WHITE HOUSE

Dear Mr. President:

AUG 12 9 27 AM
For quite some time I had been wondering how I, an ordinary eighteen year old boy, could send a message to you that you would really see, instead of just one of your secretaries. For although many people have expressed their admiration for you, I could imagine that it would become tiresome for you to read all their messages personally. Therefore I believe and I hope that the gift I have enclosed is the solution to my problem.

My message is very brief, and I presume similar to others you have recieved, but I, can truthfully say that it comes from the heart. It is just that my ambition is not to become President of the United States, but as fine a man as yourself.

As for the picture, it took three months, not steadily, but every now and then a whole day, and sometimes a night, to plan and figure the position of each letter.

And as for myself, as I've mentioned before I'm an ordinary fellow, whose main interest is photography.

I hope you will like the picture and can find time for a personal letter for me.

Sincerely,
Sidney Norman Cohen

My dear Mr. Cohen:

This will acknowledge the receipt of your letter to the President. Permit me to again assure you of the President's sincere appreciation of your thoughtfulness in sending the picture to him.

His time is so fully taken up with the many urgent official matters requiring his attention that it is impossible for him, personally, to acknowledge the many letters, pictures and others articles presented to him. I am sure you will understand.

Very sincerely yours,

M. A. LeHand
PRIVATE SECRETARY

Dear Mr. President:

At the beginning of the month of August I sent you a picture of yourself that I made on the typewriter. It took four months to make copy after copy until I reached what I thought was perfection. All of my work was done with one thought in mind, that it was the opportunity for me to express my admiration for you.

Several weeks after I sent the picture away, I recieved a letter from Secretary M. A. LeHand, thaking me on your behalf for the picture and for the letter which accompanied it. He promised to have it shown to you and that he knew you would more than appreciate it, the picture, and thoughts I expressed in my letter.

If you had seen the picture and read the letter I'm sure you would have written me a few words for all the four months work that went into that picture was with the hope that you would personally write me a few words. A poor eighteen year old fellow like myself doesn't expect favors from Presidents but a very small request like this from Franklin Roosevelt was a different matter. That is my way of thinking about you, and so I'm sure you haven't seen the picture. Every day I anxiously wait for the mailman, but he hasn't brought the one thing I've worked for and waited for, a few personal words from yourself. Possibly you've seen it and forgotten about it, well I can understand that a President is a very busy man. If so let this be a reminder from an anxious and not to well boy who is waiting for that ray of sunshine.

Sincerely, Sidney Norman Cohen
