My dear Mr. Carter:

Now that the holiday season is over I find that I have not told you how pleased the President was to receive those Shady Oak Pecans. The "Hired Hand" at the farm is mighty thoughtful and all of the delicacies which you sent to the President at Christmas time were enjoyed immensely by everyone.

SHADY OAK FARM

AMON CARTER

December 18, 1939.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

At the request of Mr. Carter, who is connected with Shady Oak Farm in some sort of capacity, I am shipping to you today some of our special Shady Oak Pecans. I want to tell you right now I am sure glad to get rid of these nuts. They grew so big this year that already a half dozen of my pet squirrels have broken their backs trying to carry them up trees. Everything else on our Texas Farm has, also, grown big this year - from turkeys to steers.

The boss has been kicking a little bit about what he calls "our farm deficit", but he doesn't understand. Take our neighbors, Lem and Zeke, who live up the creek. They just sign blanks and send them to Washington and wait for a check from Santa Claus, but he won't even let me keep a fountain pen on the place.

But I'm glad I have a job, and I'm glad we had a fine growing season. I'm also glad that I live in America where we have so much to be thankful for that it now fittingly requires two Thanksgiving Days to fully express ourselves.

While crops out on the farm have been pretty good, circulation down at the Star-Telegram has been mighty fine and it is now over 175,000 daily with over 135,000 Sunday - the largest in Texas. Although I wouldn't mention it to our editors, I find that a lot of people actually like to read our newspapers. And nearly everybody in the Lone Star State listens to our Radio Stations WBAP and KGKO, but I'll stop for fear you might think I'm bragging.

Yes, we are getting along pretty well.

Trusting you are the same, I am

Sincerely,

Hired Hand
THE HIRED HAND.

Keep the pecans in a cool place and they will retain their freshness.

Dear Miss Le Hand:

You, having been recommended to me by the Seattle, Washington Post Intelligencer Management as one who would assure me that my book,
"The New Industrial Dawn," would be placed in the hands of President Roosevelt for reading, I am sending you a copy with the following suggestions:

FIRST---It is my sincere belief that President Roosevelt is one of the greatest presidents since Washington and Lincoln, hence the people's most cherished friend and protector--we must not lose him;

SECOND--He has done more for the common people than any other president in the past history of our country, and he MUST be re-elected but on a sure winning platform;

THIRD---Were the Capitalistic Republican party to again return to power it would mean the doom of Democracy. It would result in capitialistic Republicanism, and later capitalistic dictatorship forever after;

FOURTH--Therefore, President Roosevelt MUST be re-elected in 1940.
But to assure certainty it must be on a PLATFORM OF PLENTY-- a platform that will set the wheels of production running day and night until ALL may be amply fed, clothed and housed and labor, both men and women given a purchasing power of ten dollars per day. This is not fairism but truth mathematically proven. See chapters 16, 17 and 18.

By way of suggestion (I know what time means to public men) I would recommend that you plow quickly through the first fifteen chapters, (They are not long,) after which you might better explain dates and the better world in which we all hope some day to live.

Sincerely yours,

A. Theodore Churchill,

The author of "The New Industrial Dawn."

My dear F.D.:

There is nothing that pleases me more, as a Yale man, having backed a Yale man's play, LIFE WITH FATHER, than the fact that we are giving a command performance of this production for a Harvard man's birthday.

I know you are going to enjoy it. It is a most amusing and delightful evening. Marguerite and I may be tempted to go to Washington to get a first-hand impression of your reaction.

In the meanwhile we send you and yours our every possible good wish for Yuletide and the New Year.

The President of the United States

Dear Mr. President:

Last night you said on the radio that religion had to be brought sharply into the lives of the young generation, and I felt while you were speaking that if this is to be done it must be a broader religion than was taught to you and to me.

Our idea of nationalism has changed greatly in these "ten years;" we now embrace the thought of other nations being one with us in an eventual world government. So is it with religion: we cannot any longer view the religion we happen to have been brought up in as the only one to be considered seriously, for we know that the other Great Faiths, all of which were born in the East (as was our own) are likewise authentic, valid and permanent. If the followers have spoiled these faiths, just as the Christians have done much to spoil their own, that has nothing to do with the original beauty of the teachings which the various great blocks of humanity live on. Consequently, my opinion is that the children of a maturing civilization should be taught to love and revere the Nine Great Religions of the World. Such religious teaching would have a kick to it and would go far toward bringing about the brotherhood of man.

I am taking the liberty of sending you "The Bible of Mankind" published some six months ago. I would be so grateful if it could be included among the volumes which you intend to read, for I am sure that it is a book after your own heart.

My dear President Roosevelt:-

While we cannot honestly say that "Organized Labor and Production" by Philip Murray and myself is exactly bed-time reading, we do think you will be interested in seeing how far we have been successful in finding common ground for Scientific Management and present-day labor uneasiness.

Not so many years ago these movements were constantly at each other's throats! This book could only have been written in recent months and for this we have you and those you have inspired and aided to thank.

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Miss Le Hand:

As I realize that these radio talks become more and more important, I am taking the liberty of recording all of the President's talks in the future and would greatly appreciate your notifying me as to when such talks are scheduled.

In the event you should be on the "Hill" in the near future I should be pleased to have you stop in my office and inspect the facilities. I have been located at the above office for the past four years, serving members of Congress with electrical transcriptions which they have been using to send to their home stations for broadcast. The recordings are furnished to the members at cost plus twenty per cent to take care of the overhead. Livro essencialmente evangélico, escrito por um neo-converso e, por isso mesmo, composto e revisto com grande afobamento por entre dificuldades de toda espécie afim de proclamar, antes da então iminente ATUAL HECATOMBE EUROPEIA, as sublinhadas da Revelação Divina e a maravilhosa precisão das PROFECIAS BÍBLICAS, não foi possível esconder-lo, em sua 1^a edição, de numerosíssimos erros, incorreções e lacunas que aparecem, em mínima parte, já corrigidas ou completadas no exemplar ora oferecido a V. Mr. William D. Hassett,
The White House,

Dear Bill,-

The author of the enclosed book is an old and close friend of mine, and ever since he published it I have been urging him to send a copy to the President. He hesitated to do so on the theory that the President might be offended, and also because he was hesitant to push himself forward. I assured him the President had an excellent sense of humor, and never objected to good, clean fun, even if he himself was involved.

I finally persuaded him to inscribe a copy and let me send it over. Personally I believe, if Mr. Roosevelt has a chance to read it, that he will find it very entertaining. Even though it was published nearly two years ago, it is not too far out of date.

I might add, as an afterthought, that Carson is and always has been a warm admirer of the President and a firm believer in his policies, always allowing for minor divergences on individual matters.

The Hon. Franklin Delano Roosevelt,

Dear Mr. President:-

My book, "THE INDIVIDUALIST", recently published, has been sent to you, with my compliments. It is a novel about my many years experience in Northern Canada. The money due me from its sale, will be given to the Red Cross Society and paid directly to it by the publishers.

If you should be willing to read it and happen to reach the opinion it was worth reading - and that opinion became known to the public - an enormously increased sale of the book would most assuredly result - and a goodly amount of money go to the Red Cross Society.

While I have tried to be unbiased as to certain industrial subjects in the book, yet, as my Grand-fathers and my Father were Democrats as well as myself, it is natural that Agriculture would be considered as the most desirable occupation.

You appear to be the only President in many years who clearly and deeply sees the vital importance of the Agricultural status; also, instigated, or co-operated with, any affirmative action to financially aid it.

My summer home is a farm of 365 acres near Ghent, Columbia County, N.Y., acquired about fifty years ago, but I spend winters at the Granada, Miami. And so - I am an "Old-Timer" Columbia County man and, unless greatly mistaken, have the esteem of my neighbors.
