My dear Mr. Cherry:

The only way I know how to show my appreciation for what you have done for me and others is to send you a sketch of your likeness.

322 Beech Street
Greensboro, North Carolina
December 6, 1941

To the President of the United States
of America

Dear President Roosevelt:

I feel that it is my duty to let you know how much we colored Citizens of Greensboro, N.C. think of your great program.

I often visit public places such as Recreation Centers, Y.M.C.A. and the Barber Shops.

The other day a discussion came up about the Presidents and their achievements while in office. We came to a conclusion that you had and is still doing more for the Nation than any other President has done. From the beginning of your Administration up until now you have not only shown the masses the Promised Land, but you have carried us there and we are sharing in accord of its fruits.

Through the aid of one of your many Government Projects I was able to provide an honest decent living for my wife. The job lasted until I was able to find private employment.

The only way I know how to show my appreciation for what you have done for me and others is to send you a sketch of your likeness.

The medium is Lead Pencil. I trust you will like it. I hope that I may be able to send you one painted in oil. That is if I am able to continue my art course at A. & T. College, Greensboro, N.C.

I am a Negro, Naturalized, twenty four years old, and married to a beautiful little girl named Essie.

My ambition is like all other Americans: To provide a happy life for my family. I want the best thing I can do to be my vocation. I like to letter draw, and paint.

I will close. From a Loyal American Jasper A. Cherry, a son of Jasper A. Cherry, deceased Spanish-American War Veteran 10th Calvary.

My dear Miss Tully: ①

I have your kind note about the receipt of my copy of Robert Coffin's THE LAST OF THE 'LOGAN'. I thought that the President might like it, not only because it is about ships and the sea, but because it was written by a Dutchess County man.

In my book of N.Y. State folklore called BODY, BOOTS AND BRITCHES I have used for title an expression collected in Dutchess County. In the book you will find a chapter on the State's proverbs, including a number of ones encouraging at the present time. If you get an opportunity, I wish you would remind the President of our old saying, "If you can get over a dog's head, you can get over his tail." In other words, we have got ~~th~~as far; we can get through the rest of the way. The President is the greatest of the Yorkers, and he will be glad to be reminded of our courageous saying.

I took my class in American Literature down to the Museum, where I have a radio, and we heard his noble speech this noon. He has the "brave old wisdom of sincerity", as Lowell said of Lincoln. I read Lowell's Commemoration Ode to the class; ~~xx~~ it was delivered at Harvard for the men of the Civil War. I reminded the class that Roosevelt's Harvard lent Lowell to Cornell when this university was founded. We shall need a greater than Lowell to do honor To President Roosevelt.

Sincerely yours,

Prof. Harold W. Thompson

Wrote to Mr. McIntyre re incorporating following paragraph in his will: "To the greatest humanitarian of all time - President Franklin D. Roosevelt, I give and bequeath a relic which has been in my possession since the Spanish American War, viz., the ship's clock of the Battleship Maine sunk in the Havana Harbor February 15, 1898." — Dec. 4, 1941 Gen. Lorenzen wrote to MHM enclosing an editorial by Harry Newman, Editor, Kansas City Journal, thinking the Pres., STE, and MHM will get a kick out of it. In reply of 12/10/41 Mr. McIntyre stated the Pres. is very appreciative of the promised inheritance, and still wishes the General a long life and happiness even though it means waiting for the cherished historical memento.

MEMORANDUM FOR GENERAL WATSON.

Secretary to Congressman (Alfred) Elliott of California telephoned that the Congressman had received a telegram from Mr. Bill Baker of Ojai, California, stating that he has always sent a cake to the President on Christmas and that he is sending one again this year. He asked if they would present it, but they replied that in view of the present circumstances they suggested that the cake be sent direct to the White House. The cake should arrive about December 20th. EAK.

My Dear Mr President

Just a word of cheer in the hour of trial with nations who is world craged but will be soon sorry for what they have done.

This is a day of difficulty and the wheels of the Lord chariot are driving heavily. But He is unchanged and able to make all grace abound toward his people so our duty and privilege is to go steadily on in loyalty to Him and His Word and in due season we shall reap if we faint not. & no it was not your will to declare war with warring nations an if we go back to our Bible it was not the will of God to give his only begotten son to die to save the world for humanity. He did an was victorious even to the cross an to his Resurrection an so would you for the world Democracy At first may feel discourage but victory awaits us all. They that trust in the Lord shall be as mount zion which cannot be removed but abideth for ever

The test which is ahead will prove every Americans citizens for their loyalty to do their bit And every real Christians put their pray in practise for the welfare for one an all Don't be discourage I am praying as well as others that God would guide you in your task day by day
And that in Congress everyone with a understanding heart over your point of view to direct to success

Our Army & Navy many may fall some But others would be in place
To save our Country God be with you This is a little poem I read when things seem dark and I pass it on

Beyond the clouds must surely be a galaxy of light. For there was never day so black, It wasn't later bright. Beyond the breakers heavy foam
The ocean can be still. No matter how high up one goes. One must come down the hill, so there must always be some hope. Whenever fear abides
And comfort found within the thought all things have got two sides
The Lord is your strength. The knowledge of your guidance would give us courage we trust everyone is able would Co-operate for final victory

I thank my God upon every remembrance of you
In health and strength. Amidst all before you
This Christmas wish is sent of cheer will help you see
A day be filled with happiness from the start
And may the year bring worlds of cheer and contentment
to your heart

With hearty good will of your success
In the compliments of the Yuletide in Peace & Joy

President Franklin D. Roosevelt,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

This is an uncensored communique because the boss, Amon Carter, is away. I want to notify you with as little fuss as possible that the Smoked Turkey, which he asked me to ship to you, is leaving Fort Worth by express in a couple of days. If the Express Company loses it, it is my fault. If it gets there all right and you enjoy it and no one over-eats, then it is the boss' treat. That's the way we travel along together - just one beautiful understanding. When anything goes wrong, I am it.

Out at Shady Oak Farm, we did finally manage to raise quite a few of these fickle birds this year. I am supposed to say that it has been a joy and pleasure to shepherd a turkey for you, but it hasn't been any such thing. I had a tough time raising it - in fact, the whole gang has been the most restless bunch of turkeys I have ever herded. This is probably due to an unusual grasshopper shortage. They didn't arrive this year. Someone said they were on a strike (so we had to feed 'em milk and honey). And turkeys, like some folks I know, are always trying to chase things which usually turn out to be pests after they catch them.

I am, also, supposed to tell you that you are to receive the No. 1 bird and that your name is No. 1 on the list. Having wetnursed the turkeys to maturity and more or less fussed about the list, I want to tell you that that's not so, because I took the best one for myself while he wasn't looking - which, by the way, isn't the first occasion where he has been caught looking at 'em at the wrong time.

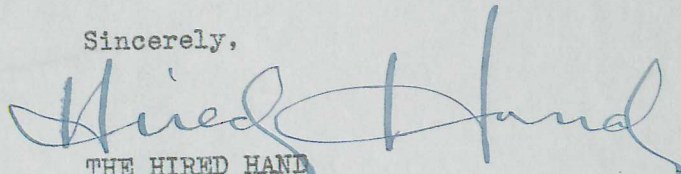

His being away is fortunate for you, because I don't have to write you much of a letter this year, telling you about the Happy and Prosperous Fort Worth and West Texas and all that usual stuff that goes into his Chamber of Commerish "Propaganda". I am merely going to say that I am happy and I sure hope he gets by. It's time you were getting some real facts about this place. Shady Oak Farm is probably one of the few farms in existence which has continuously lost money for the past seventeen years and still has no Government subsidy.

Yes, the bird is on his way with no eatin' rules attached. Please keep it in a fairly cool spot. It is a little rich for a regular diet but is fine for nibbling between new tax announcements. I am sure glad to get rid of the whole bunch. They have been a nuisance and interfered with a lot of things, and besides, I want to get busy and see if I, too, can rustle up some aluminum cans. I understand the permanent wave machines are about to shut down on account of this aluminum shortage, and I want to do my bit to keep up the morale of the Army.

Please deposit this letter with the bones.

Sincerely,

THE HIRED HAND

October 9, 1941

The President of the United States,
The White House,
Washington, D.C.

Mr. President:

I am taking the liberty of forwarding to you a photograph of an inscribed 155 mm projectile as a trophy which may be worthy of a place in your collection.

This shell was made by an improved, modernized method in cast steel foundry practice. The process is the result of recent research and development work as an endeavor to contribute something worthwhile to our national defense.

The trophy in the picture is cast of stainless steel metal for durability, to avoid rust and corrosion. The base is cast from Dirigold metal, which will not tarnish nor corrode, which makes this "token" practically indestructible to the elements over a long, long period of time.

Should you have any choice as to a preferred inscription thereon, a new trophy of like design could be made. Or, if you would like a pair of them for decorative purposes, it will be a pleasure to comply with your wishes.

Also enclosed is a photograph of some of our larger sized bombs, cast by the same method in a cluster of four pieces in a mold, displaying method for mass production.

Our efforts on products of this nature for national defense can be approved and used only by our Government. We are therefore ready to serve with an organization of 3000 mechanics, anxious to proceed on production. We need Government cooperation and assistance due to the many regulations now being placed on our manufacturing procedure.

I hope we may have the pleasure of your acceptance of our "remembrance-token" of this most strenuous period in the history of the world. In the interests of our Country, United We Stand, Divided We Fall.

Respectfully,

D.J. Campbell

MEMORANDUM

9-30-41 (Filed 1-6-42.)

Memorandum that Mr. Bart Campbell of the United Fruit Co., says that their New York Co. has a desk made of rare native wood which has been sent to the President by the President of Costa Rica. Mr. Campbell wants to know where the President wants the desk sent. He said that the wood in the desk will not stand artificial heat - that it will warp. He wondered, therefore, if the President might not want it sent to Warm Springs, or somewhere where it could be in a warm climate. He will check on whether or not the desk could be placed in an air-conditioned building. The desk would require a semi-tropical atmosphere. Mr. Campbell will call about 3:30 on above date (9-30-41) to find out what disposition should be made of the desk.

Penciled notation - "Mr. Campbell was told to call State Dept. - that we knew nothing about the desk. MW". "President of Costa Rica - Rafael Angel Calderon Guardia".
