Dear President Roosevelt:

In the Summer issue of Common Ground which I enclose, we are running a group of photographs by Alexander Alland on "Freedom of Worship," which I think will interest you. As you will see from the explanatory note which accompanies them, these are the first of a series on the Four Freedoms.

I don't know if you are familiar with Common Ground as yet or the work we are trying to do, but we think it is a big exciting job with endless possibilities, and hope you will be as enthusiastic about it as we are.

Dear Mr. President:

I am sending to you to-day a mural done by the 6th grade children of the Delaney School at Orlando, Florida.

These children, 12 to 13 years old, became so interested in the history and welfare of our country that they were able to evolve a mural, with suggestions from the teacher, Mrs. Sanders, which I feel is typical of the spirit and attitude of these children.

This mural was displayed recently at the CENTRAL FLORIDA FAIR, and some of our citizens thought you should see it because it represents such a fine patriotic spirit.

Mr. President, we are for you every step of the way, and our prayer is that our Heavenly Father will give you and our leaders great wisdom and clarity of vision in these days of strife and stress.

Yours sincerely,

Pope Declares Human Life Is Service in a Militia

● Vatican City—The great dignity of Christian family life and the sacrifice one must be willing to undergo to preserve it, were emphasized by His Holiness Pope Pius XII in a recent discourse to a large group of newly-married couples whom he received in audience.

The Holy Father said human life on earth is service in a militia. He added that, while war itself is a frightful thing, deeds of heroism reveal individuals ready to make every sacrifice for what a Christian conscience tells them is their duty. It is much more necessary to display such heroism in Christian family life, His Holiness said.

In describing this heroism, Pope Pius declared it is now often displayed on battlefields, on the sea and in the sky. "Although war saddens every gentle heart and makes it shudder," His Holiness said, "it cannot be denied that the fierce and bloody clashes and the severe obligations imposed upon combatants and non-combatants alike, reveal the greatness—often unimagined and unexpected—of so many heroic souls ready to sacrifice everything, even life, to fulfill the duty directed by their Christian conscience."

THE RUSSIAN CATHOLIC CHURCH

● With deep insight into Russian mentality the Holy Father has entrusted the care of the Russian children in Shanghai to the care of the Sisters of St. Columban and arranged to have services in the convent chapel conducted in the Byzantine rite. An American priest has been ordained in this rite and as our correspondent informs us:

"It is grand to see him celebrating Mass in the Russian Catholic church and incorporating America in the grand drive to regain the Russian Kingdom of Christ. The new college and hostel for Russian boys, that is rising up in front of us is another sublime effort to help this grand cause and there are hopes that the students will provide some members to build up the Russian priesthood so ruthlessly extinguished by the revolution. I said 'extinguished' but there are in reality a few survivors. Before the persecution there were a thousand priests; about a year and a half ago 250 were still alive and these were mostly imprisoned in Siberia. The latest tidings of all tell that a very few of these sufferers for the faith have survived. What a toll of martyrs will be interceding now for the resurrection of poor Russia! Their prayers will surely prevail over every flood tide of antagonism until all things are restored in Jesus Christ Our Lord. There are actually only three parishes of Russian Catholics where the priests can minister quite unmolested—two of these are attached to foreign embassies and the third is the little gathering here in Shanghai. So the flock here is one of the brightest hopes for the future. There is an encouraging growth of fervor among our Russian Catholics as this year the total of confessions and communions at Easter time doubled that of last year."

In addition to this undertaking in Shanghai the Ursulines are working for the Russians in Harbin, Manchukuo, where they also conduct a school for girls and follow the Byzantine rite.

BEAUTIFUL CHINA

● During our affluent days, when round the world cruises were possible, returning voyagers were loud in acclaiming their intimate knowledge of the countries visited. Yet we know that one learns and sees very little, figuratively speaking, during a sojourn of a few days, several weeks or even some months. This is particularly true of China, which is considered a "truly beautiful land" by those who really know the Flowery Kingdom. Therefore we are pleased to repeat the considerations of Rev. H. Delmasso, who really knows whereof he speaks.

"One who has been to Shanghai or Hongkong does not know China," he states. "These, like other coastal towns, are more or less Europeanized or Americanized and do not really represent the real China with its ancient customs and beliefs. Since I have had the good fortune to live in China for 20 years I am convinced that this is one of the most interesting countries in the world."

"From the tourist point of view all tastes are gratified, from the coast dotted with large industrial towns, intermingled with beautiful fishing villages, to the highest mountains crowned with forests, centuries old. Chinese climate is as diversified as her terrain, since it changes from the intense cold of the Gobi desert to the sultry heat of Canton. But always nature's panoramas are enhanced by the presence of the truly lovable Chinese people, whose peaceful and industrious lives I have grown to understand and admire during my sojourn of two decades."

Portrait of India Poet In Catholic College

● Kura vilangad, Travancore, India — A portrait of the late Rabindranath Tagore, great Indian poet and philosopher, has been unveiled at St. Joseph college here in the presence of a distinguished gathering.

Former Premier Raja Gopalachari of Madras officiated at the function at the request of Rev. Jerome De Souza, S.J.,

Day of Recollection For Service Men

● London — Local army authorities are cooperating in making a success of a day of recollection which is being arranged at Notre Dame convent, Nottingham, for Catholic officers and men, and members of the women's services. The event has been posted on orders and transport is being provided for troops living at a distance.

To His Excellency
Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States,
Washington, D.C.

Sir:
Your high ideals, your lofty patriotism, your love of free men, inspired me to express these as best I could in the plaque which I have created.

I trust you will honor me by accepting the representation of a feeling engendered in me by listening to your words and following your deeds as President.

No greater honor could be conferred upon me than to have this installed in the room where you are so masterfully guiding the affairs of the world.

In World War #1, I served under the American Flag. Age prevents my active participation with the present armed forces, but, once a soldier, always a soldier. I salute my Commander in Chief.

Dear Sir:

Some time ago, while working with the War Department in the development of a lubrication program for Ordnance Materiel, we were impressed by the analogy between Benjamin Franklin's famous lines, "All For the Want of a Horse Shoe Nail" and the importance of lubrication that protects our tanks, trucks, jeeps and other vehicles of the current war--in other words, our mechanized iron horses.

We accordingly paraphrased a version of these famous lines, and take the liberty of sending you under separate cover two framed copies. It has been so well received by Army Officers, and the moral it carries is so timely and important, that we thought the President might like to have a copy also. We are also including in the package a few horse shoe nail rings. These have also been received with enthusiasm by the men in the Army.

Raymond Shaw, President

Dear Johnson:

I have read with interest your letter dated December 24, 1940, transmitting a painting executed by Professor Chang Shu-chi of the National Central University. I greatly appreciate Professor Chang's courtesy in presenting me with this painting. The title written in the hand of General Chiang Kai-shek and the poem by Dr. Lo Chia-lun give the scroll added distinction.

Please convey to General Chiang, Dr. Lo and Professor Chang my thanks for this handsome presentation and express my pleasure in receiving it.

Very sincerely, yours,

(signed) Franklin D. Roosevelt

Dear Mr. President:

My dear Mr. Slack:

The President has received your letter of July ninth and it was more than kind of you to send him the photograph which accompanied it. He is glad to have the picture of the author of that scroll presented to him recently and appreciates your thought of him.

It is indeed gratifying to note the fine spirit in which you express your interest in serving in the armed forces.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. President:

Some weeks ago it was my pleasure to do something for China Relief. In natural color I photographed the great scroll depicting the "hundred doves of peace" which Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek presented to you.

X
A few days later when the artist Chang Shu-chi was in the studio, I thought that you might like to have a portrait of the man who produced the beautiful scroll. It is herewith enclosed. I hope you will like it.

X150-a
The camera has here caught so much of the fine quality of the Chinese and in this particular portrait, the hand is well projected. Art must carry on, and later will help so much in reconstruction.

This is one of my last works before I join the armed forces of our great country. I am proud to go and shall serve to the best of my best of my ability.

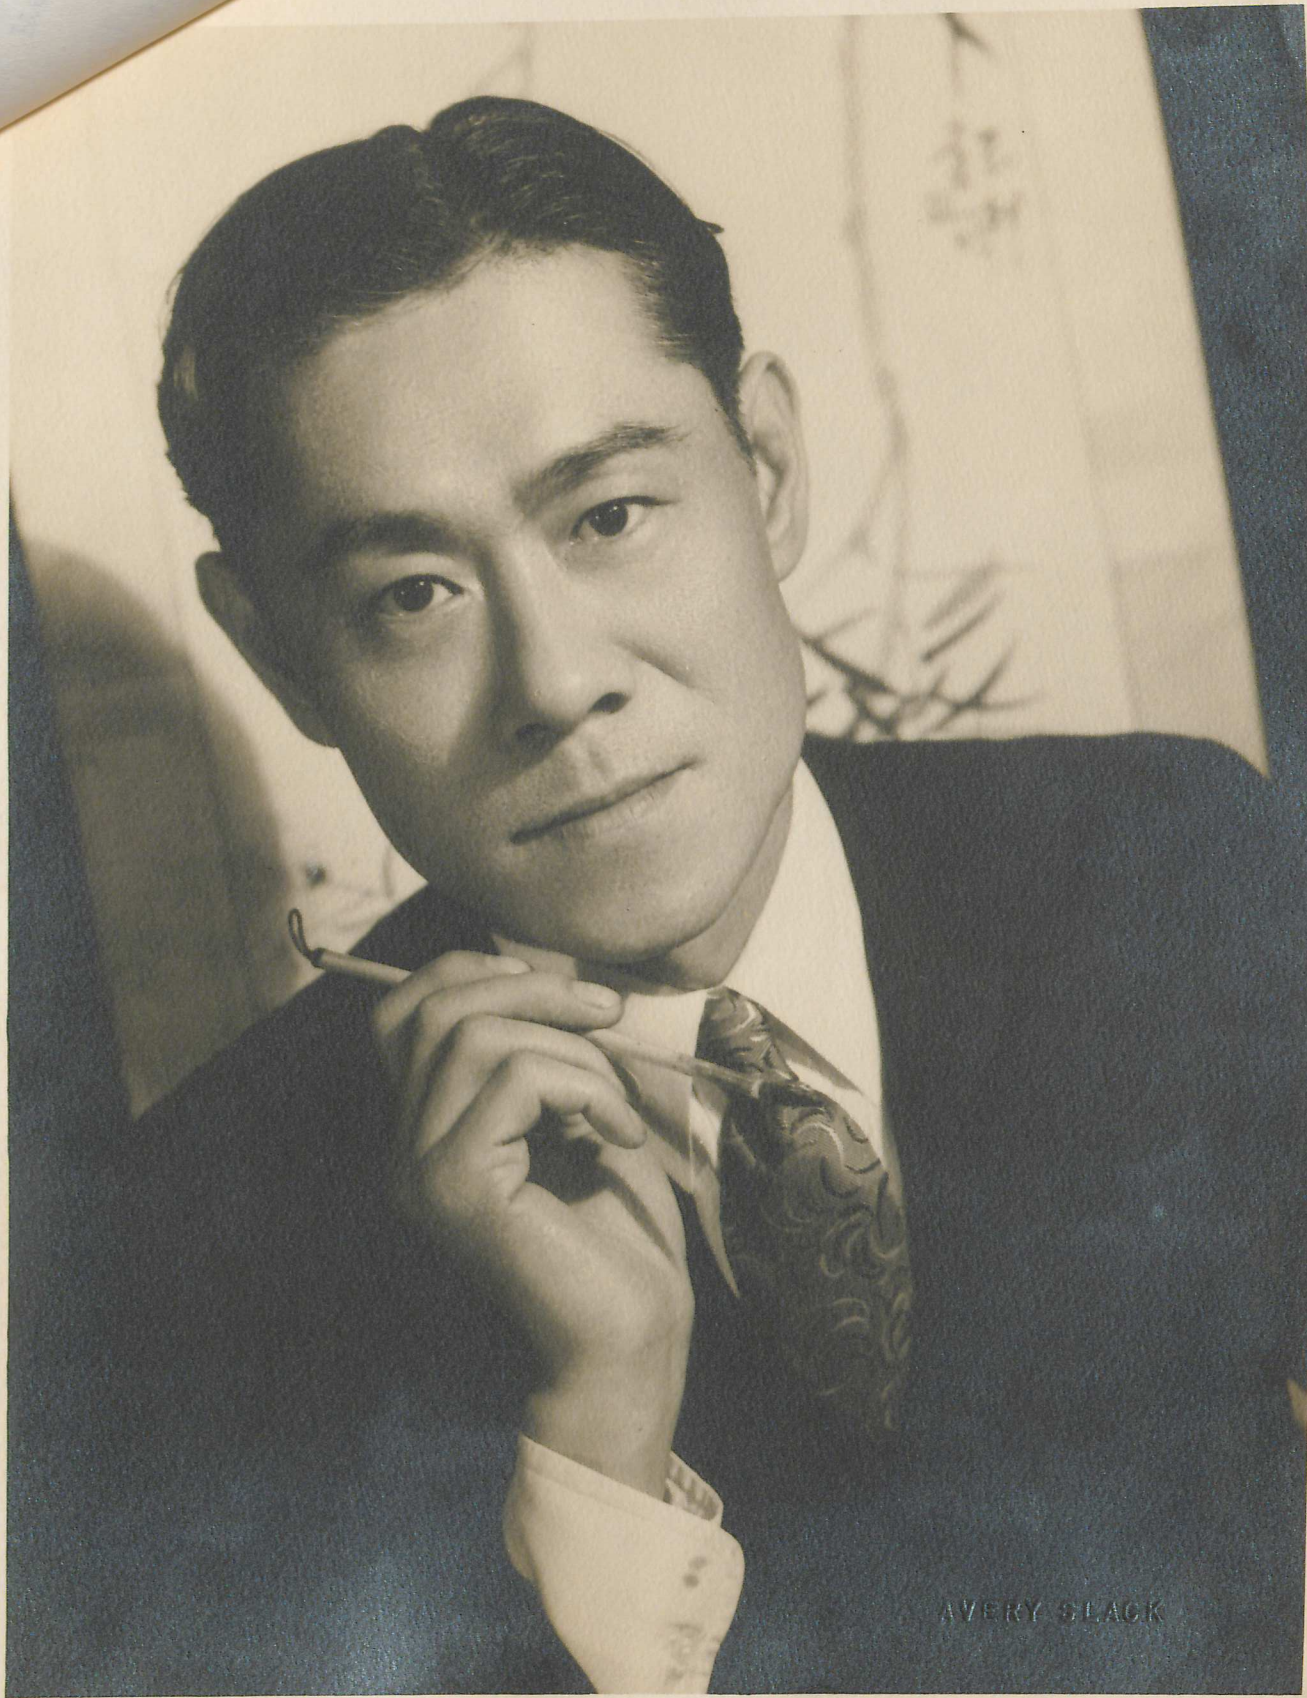

With best wishes for your health and happiness.

Sincerely

Writes to the President enclosing a "Memorandum Upon the Laws of Oregon as they Affect The Malheur Division of Lake Malheur Reservation in Harney County, Oregon", on which is notation "To Franklin Delano Roosevelt my Commander in Chief in the Battle for Malheur - Benjamin Catchings, July 18, 1942", and attached to which is an old cow-bell. Asks immediate extension in the case involving State or Federal jurisdiction of certain lands involved in claims of settlers. Says he has been sent out by the Government to investigate for the Government on several occasions and gives resume of legal action. Also says that July 21, 1942 will be "Surrender Day if my Commander-in-Chief in the Battle of Malheur does not request the Chief Justice or an Associate Justice for a sixty-day extension to enable our Supreme Judicial Power to correct the unconstitutional acts of its inferior courts."--On July 22, 1942 the President wrote Memo for the Secretary of Agriculture as follows: "Will you be good enough to reply to the enclosed letter." - He transmitted the above mentioned letter (copy retained in file).--Attached is a supplemental memo to the Sec'y. of Agriculture, 7/28/42, from Miss Tully re above.--Under date of 7/22/42 Miss Tully wrote to Mr. Catchings thanking him for the copy of the book and bell which he sent the President, and stating that by the President's direction his letter of July 18th, is being referred to the officials of the Department of Agriculture for consideration.

Dear Mr. President:

From time to time you have heard something about the productiveness of West Texas - a matter which, incidentally, we have never tried to keep a secret.

I recall one thing that Will Rogers said, "If you don't like Oklahoma weather, just wait a minute". So any exaggeration made about West Texas today may be the truth tomorrow.
Anyway, I am having a good "Share-Cropper" Tenant, Ben E. Keith, ship you a crate of Pecos Valley melons which are produced exclusively in West Texas and I hope they arrive in good condition and that you will enjoy them. Without going into detail, you can consider these melons as average standard of everything produced in Texas (with the exception of policits at times).

I have just received a cable from Amon Junior, who is with the Armed Forces in Northern Ireland, authorizing me to buy for him
$1,000.00 worth of "Bonds for Bombers".

I know you are busy and I should not take up your time in writing a letter but I do want to extend my best wishes and deep appreciation for the great job you are doing.

Most sincerely,

A. G. Carter
