c/o Postmaster,
New York, N. Y.
Oct. 24, 1944.

Wrote to the President saying he was sending a wood carving in the shape of a dressed chicken, as a Christmas gift for the President.----1/9/45 President wrote following letter to Capt. Spivack: "Dear Spiv.: That is a fine bird you have sent to me for Christmas and I am glad to have the little history of what it symbolizes. He will join the merry throng at the Hilltop Cottage with that delightful pig. Ever so many thanks for thinking of me. It has been a long time since we have heard from you. I hope all is going well. Do come in and see us when you get a furlough. With all good wishes for a Happier New Year."

My dear Mr. President:

It gives me great pleasure to send you a copy of PEABODY OF GROTON by Frank D. Ashburn which I think you will want for your personal library.

As a Groton graduate, I well understand your appreciation of and affection for this remarkable man.

You may remember that Frank Ashburn was the graduate who made the very amusing speech about the Rector at the dinner you attended on the school's Fiftieth Anniversary.

Mr. Coward, president of Coward-McCann, sent the copy of PEABODY OF GROTON to the President. He too is a Groton graduate and thought that the President might like to have a copy of the book.

I suddenly became self-conscious over typing a letter to the President, and decided to do it over, for a better paragraph arrangement, and carefully put it in the envelope to keep anything from happening to it between the time of my writing it and the next day when Mr. Coward would sign it. And then I let it go out.

Needless to say I was mortified to have done such a perfectly unnecessarily stupid thing--the one letter I would write for Mr. Coward to the President. Also needless to add, Mr. Coward was much irked by my carelessness.

However, we are glad that the book arrived and that the President is glad to have it.

June 21, 1944.

Wrote to Theodore Francis Green, U. S. Senate, stating that he has come across a very unusual family bible bound in 1824 with the name Eliza Parker on the outside of the binding. The following is written in pencil on one of the pages: "given to Sarah A. Delano by Mrs. Eliz. wife of Warren Delano who died August 17, 1865." Since the pencil writing would indicate that at some time the bible belonged to the President's mother, if Sen. Green thinks that the Pres. would like to have it for his museum, the writer would be glad to send it to him to present to the President.---6/23/44 the Senator wrote to the President, enclosing copy of above letter, and stating that he will be glad to hear from him regarding this matter in order that he may notify Mr. Crowe.---6/28/44 the President wrote the following letter to the Senator: "Thank you so much for your letter of June twenty-third. Will you tell your friend Mr. Crowe that I shall be delighted to have the family bible described in his letter to you? You might also tell him that Eliza Parker was the second wife of my great grandfather and that my mother remembered her when she was a little girl. I much appreciate Mr. Crowe's thought of me and send to you and to him my best wishes."

Also said: "I know the President will be glad to have the Bible you have in your possession, and if you will let me know when you want to come down and see us I will arrange a mutually convenient time."---Telephone memo. of 8/28/44 in re above is also attached.---pencil notation on copy of Gen.'s let. to Sen. Oct. 3, 1944.

Wrote the President stating that because of war-time delays, it was not possible for the university to obtain from England the cap and gown which they had ordered for the President to wear at the special Convocation in Quebec. Has now arranged with Mr. Winant to forward these to the President in the near future. Further adds that he has not been able to obtain from any of the reporters who were present, the text of the President's remarks. Would like to have these if possible. - -Mr. Early on Oct. 10, 1944, wrote Dr. James stating that at present the President is out-of-town. Mr. Early is sending a rough draft of the informal remarks the President made on the occasion of the special Convocation in Quebec. Feels certain the President will be delighted to know Dr. James has arranged for him to obtain the cap and gown, and they will find a conspicious place in the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library at Hyde Park. - -Typed notation - Enclosure (copy of informal remarks of the President made on the Parapet at The Citadel in Quebec, Canada on the occasion of the McGill University Honoary Degree Ceremonies for the President and Prime Minister Churchill, Sept. 16, 1944, around 3:30 P.M., E.W.T.) - - - The President on Nov. 3, 1944, wrote Dr. James stating that he has a deep sense of pride in possession of the cap and gown - a lasting reminder of the special Convocation in Quebec which came to him through the courtesy of Ambassador Winat. Expresses his sincere and heartfelt thanks for the interest in making it possible to add this memento to the academic collection at Hyde Park Library. - -Attached - Letter to Mr. Early dated Oct. 14, 1944, from Dr. James expressing his thanks for the notes of the informal remarks that were made by the President on the occasion of the special Convocation in Quebec. - -Penciled notation - entire file with cap and gown to library.

Dear Sir:

Under separate cover I have mailed a copy of our Armed Forces Ranks and Insignia game to the President in your care. A card representing the President's Constitutional designation as Commander-in-Chief ranks highest. Perhaps in some moment of relaxation from harrowing problems Mr. Roosevelt might find interest in looking through the cards and chart of comparative ranks. (This chart was adopted for instruction of V-12 and ROTC students by the Commandant of the training schools at Harvard last Spring.)

I have also mailed copies of the enclosed copyrighted Chart of Ranks to the publicity director of the Democratic National Committee suggesting that, with the words COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF in type slightly larger than the rest, a picture of F. D. R.* and a short quotation from the President, ~~urging every man to do his duty and vote~~, these Charts--widely distributed in the last two or three weeks of the campaign--would be about the highest-grade and most effective piece of political literature we voters have ever been offered.

Instead of being quickly tossed away, as you know most political printed matter is, these Charts would be kept in pocket or tacked up, for such an original and easily understood compilation of ranks is valuable for future reference and discussion in every home in the land!

Very truly yours,

Emerson S. Cooper

CONDICT, Alden S.
New York,N.Y.,
August 28, 1944.

Writes the President saying that he and Charles McCoy are sending the President the "Blueprints for Freedom" and two books, the complete set, Volume 1 and Volume 11, "Edward Delano, from his affectionate brother Franklin, 1834". Also enclosed is a picture of the President. Wishes the President to write a few lines in the corner of the picture and return to him. Asks that the President sign it Franklin Delano instead of just Franklin D.--Mr. Condict, Sept. 30th, wrote to Miss Tully asking if the President had received the package above referred to.--Miss Tully, Oct. 16th, wrote to Mr. Condict saying she was very sorry for the delay but that she had been waiting until the President had an opportunity to sign the poiture so she could send it along at the same time. Miss Tully said the President has inscribed the picture but did not write out the Delano as he never signs his name that way. Miss Tully said the President was extremely grateful to him for Volumes 1 and 11 of "Tales of a Grandfather", which she thinks belonged to his great-uncle. States the President was also pleased to have "Blueprints for Freedom" sent to him by Mr. Condict and Mr. McCoy and wishes much that he had the time to discuss this with Mr. McCoy, but unfortunately he is so very busy at this time that they are unable to arrange an appointment.

Dear Mr. President,

Enclosed in the parcel you will find a pencil sketch of your wife, a woman I have admired for a long time, you should be very proud of her.

I only wish I could be there in person to give you the picture but it is impossible to do so. I know you are a very busy man but I hope you will take time out to receive this gift. The picture was drawn some two years ago, and I've been very proud of it. I drew it myself.

Everyone kept saying send it to the President and see what he does. So I did.

m a girl from an ordinary family, seven children, one married, a young brother of nineteen on Guam with the Marines (may God Bless him.) whom I haven't seen for a year, and my Father and Mother.

Well Mr. President I guess I've taken up enough of your time when it is so precious now. But in closing may I say your a wonderful man and doing a wonderful job, and may you be as proud of the picture as I have been and still am.

Reference is made to IOC dated September 25, 1944 received from SA M. F. Reilly, White House, requesting as soon as possible a general idea of the background and reputation of the subject who desires to present a gift to the President. It was not desired that the subject be interviewed.

Discreet inquiries in the vicinity of 8067 Penrod, Detroit, Michigan, the address of the subject, disclosed that he had moved to this address about four weeks prior, this being a newly completed home; and that he is employed in the Plant Protection Department, Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, Michigan. Through the Ford Motor Company it was learned that subject is 62 years of age; that he was hired by this company during December, 1943 and is a plant protection employee. The personnel records covering this man disclosed no additional information. It was, however, learned through a confidential source that Arthur Cole was employed, during the horse race seasons, at the Detroit, Michigan Race Track; and that he was registered with Selective Service Board No. 35, Louisville, Ky. At the local Selective Service Transfer Board it was ascertained that subject's file has never been transferred here from Louisville, Kentucky.

Mr. John J. Gerdert, Secretary, Detroit Racing Association, Detroit, Michigan, was interviewed and advised that Arthur Cole was employed during the past eight or nine years, during the horse racing seasons, as a ticket seller; that he also was employed at a similar position at other horse race tracks throughout the United States, and bore a good reputation.

Through the Detroit Edison Company, Detroit, Michigan, it was learned that Mary E. Cole (present address 8067 Penrod, Detroit, Michigan) first applied for local service during February, 1942, at which time she was employed at the Lane Bryant Company, Detroit, Michigan, and resided at 93 Kenilworth, Detroit, Michigan; that on October 1, 1942 electrical service was transferred to her new residence at 1151 Merrick Avenue, Detroit, Michigan; that on May 1, 1943 this service was transferred to another residence on Maybury Grand Avenue, Detroit, Michigan; and that on August 17, 1944 this service was installed at subject's present address. At the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, Detroit, Michigan their records showed service similar to that outlined above which was applied for by Miss Mary E. Cole.

Mr. Louis Frank, General Manager, Lane Bryant Company (Ladies' Wear Store) 1452 Farmer, Detroit, Michigan, advised that Miss Mary E. Cole has been employed by that concern since September, 1941, and bears an excellent reputation. Mr. Frank advised that her father, Arthur Cole, subject of this report, formerly followed "races", and was employed at various horse race tracks throughout the United States during the past nine years; that during that period he drank and gambled considerably, and his home conditions were not satisfactory. Mr. Frank stated that since subject's employment at the Ford Motor Company he has discontinued his drinking and gambling habits, and that his home conditions were now very satisfactory.

The information outlined above is all that could be learned regarding this subject, and it is suggested that if additional information should be required, that same might possibly be obtained at Louisville, Kentucky, through Selective Service Board No. 35 where he is registered, whose files might contain additional information regarding his previous employment.

Unless otherwise directed, further investigation in this matter will be considered closed in this district.

When I was about 10 years old I did many things un-becoming a girl-child. but one thing I'll always remember; I attempted to sit on a board and slide down an old mine dump. after about 4 feet on the board, I lost it and went the other 30 feet on just me. Pieces of pants and epidermis were draped all the way down on those little sharp rocks. now if any one can tell us, or help us, to stay on the board and steer to the bottom, you're that man. a lot of us may lose our pants, but if we can save the hide, we'll recover quickly.

APPLE CAPITAL OF THE WORLD

THE STORY OF THE APPLES
That Made Wenatchee Famous . . .

In the early 1900's, what was destined to become the greatest apple-producing area in the United States had begun to develop. The magic wand of irrigation fast transformed the district into a great orchard, producing more than one-half the apples grown in the State of Washington, which in turn contributes approximately one-fifth of the total United States commercial yield!

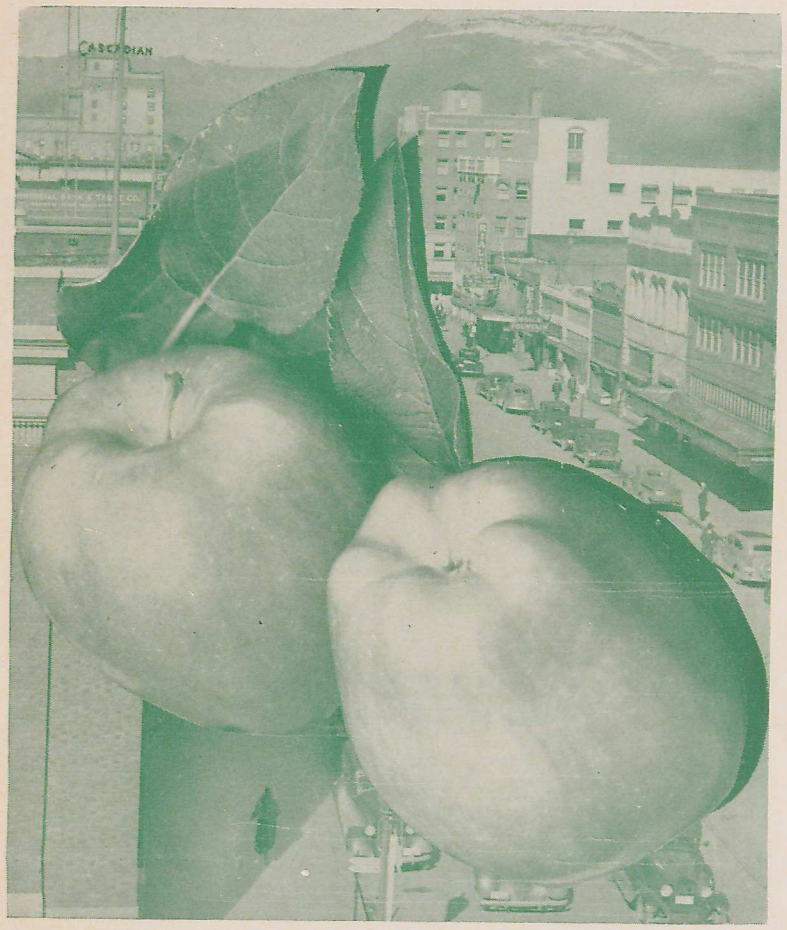

In 1902 fifteen hundred bushel boxes of apples were shipped from the now-famous district. Year after year this has increased and this year nearly 15,000,000 boxes will be sent out to the markets of the United States and foreign countries.

The Wenatchee-Okanogan district embraces the protected valleys at the foot of the eastward slope of the Cascades, the Wenatchee valley along the river of the same name at its junction with the Columbia, Entiat valley, Lake Chelan, Okanogan valley and Methow valley—a district extending about 150 miles north and south. The irrigated lands run in ribbon-like stretches on benchlands along the streams, 40,000 acres of which are under irrigation.

Apple growing is a specialized business with the Wenatchee people, many of them devoting their entire time to the industry. They have taken a commanding lead in scientific apple growing. From early spring until the crop is harvested, careful and scientific methods are used to insure millions of perfect apples—matchless in texture and flavor, with a beauty of coloring unsurpassed in any part of the world.

The yield per acre is very high—running from 300 to 1,000 boxes. The Wenatchee-Okanogan district enjoys natural advantages also—even temperatures, freedom from spring frosts, and the favorable elements of the volcanic ash soil all have helped to make Wenatchee apples famous throughout the world.

Wenatchee

Trading Center of North Central Washington

Wenatchee is centrally located in the state of Washington, halfway between Seattle and Spokane, on beautiful oiled and paved highways. It is served by the Great Northern transcontinental railway, as well as by auto freight and bus lines.

All of the myriad items needed by the highly developed agricultural program of this great inland empire are funneled out of Wenatchee. Hardware, spray materials, wrapping paper, ladders . . . all come to Wenatchee in Paul Bunyan quantities.

The city of Wenatchee is a thriving metropolis of 12,000 population. In 40 years it has grown from a small village to its present size and the assessed valuation of the surrounding territory from $2,000,000 to more than $50,000,000.

Wenatchee

Gateway to the Scenic Cascade Wonderland

One of America's Great Outdoor Playgrounds . . .

surrounds this rich farming district. A nationally known attraction is Lake Chelan, set amidst glacial peaks often referred to as the "Switzerland of America."

Only 35 miles from Wenatchee, this huge inland sea winds for 60 miles into the heart of the Cascades. A boat trip uplake is a never-to-be-forgotten pleasure. The lake also is the means by which copper concentrates from the famous Howe Sound mine are brought to railhead, great barges plying the sky-blue waters daily.

Up the beautiful, winding Wenatchee valley, past Cashmere, lies Leavenworth—winter playground set against a backdrop of the towering Cascades. It is here that the world's largest fish hatchery is located . . . where salmon are brought to spawn after being trapped at Rock Island dam.

Around the corner is Tumwater Canyon, a narrow gorge through which the Wenatchee river cascades down from Lake Wenatchee. This beautiful lake is but 50 miles from the city whose name it bears, and is surrounded by summer homes and resorts.

BUT these are only two of the better known attractions. Within 30 minutes' driving time from Wenatchee are literally hundreds of beautiful canyon and mountain trails, leading to countless alpine lakes and glacial streams. The hardier vacationers hike into these primitive areas, but pack strings are available in almost every section of this great Cascade wonderland.

Many visitors find Pine Canyon, Waterville and the legendary "Big Bend" country immortalized in Zane Grey's "Desert of Wheat" of great interest.

Stevens Pass highway is the short route to coast points, and Blewett Pass affords quick access to the Ellensburg and lower Yakima valleys.

Wenatchee

HUB OF THE SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE

Stream Fishing — Besides the Wenatchee, Entiat, and Methow rivers, scores of smaller streams course out of the Cascades, well stocked with every variety of trout.

Lake Fishing—Every type of lake fishing is possible within 70 miles of Wenatchee. Lakes Wenatchee and Chelan abound in silvers, rainbow and cutthroat. Moses Lake and Fish Lake offer bass and crappie. And nearly all the hundreds of mountain lakes are stocked with everything from silvers to the giant mackinaw, ranging to 30 pounds.

Bird Hunting—The lover of upland game bird shooting finds Chinese Pheasants, Quail, Hungarian Partridge, and Blue Grouse, in season.

Big Game Hunting—The seeker of big game can trail deer, elk, and bear in consecutive seasons, and in half a dozen different areas.

Mountain Climbing—The enthusiastic hiker can tackle peaks—some 10,000 feet high, or stick to well-defined forest service trails, either in the high Cascades or in the Wenatchee mountain area.

Boating—Power boats and sail boats of all types ply Lakes Chelan and Wenatchee, as well as the 107-mile lake behind Coulee Dam.

Skiing—During the winter months, three different courses operate within 25 miles of the city. Wheeler Hill is in our backyard, Badger Mountain, 25 miles east near Waterville, and Leavenworth, 22 miles west. Leavenworth's annual ski jumping tournament is a feature of the Northwest winter sports calendar, and attracts the nation's best. Torger Tokle set the old national record of 277 feet in Leavenworth's 1940 tournament. For spring skiing, Stevens Pass, 60 miles distant, is unsurpassed. Here hickory enthusiasts ply their "boards" from December 'til June over vast stretches of ski-ideal snowfields.

Golfing—Two turf golf courses—one at Wenatchee, the other at scenic Leavenworth—afford the divot fraternity an interesting variety. At the Wenatchee Country club, the season is ten months long, light snows in January and February only preventing year-round play.

Wenatchee

Its Environs . . . Points of Interest

. . . In the City That Apples Made Famous

A clean, progressive, modern community of 12,000 population, boasting a mild, temperate climate. No cyclones, storms or severe weather of any kind. The summers are warm with cool nights, the Indian summer is delightful, and the winters are moderate.

Wenatchee is proud of its homes, churches, schools and public buildings. Its hotels and auto camps are outstanding. A sporting golf course, municipal swimming pool and night-lighted baseball park are other features.

In Wenatchee you'll want to see the blocks of fruit-handling and packing plants . . . the world's largest cold storage plant . . . canneries, apple by-products plants . . . a large frozen food packing plant . . . 12 acres of city parks . . . a museum filled with Indian relics, geological specimens and relics of the Old West . . . two airports, Fancher and Pangborn fields.

. . . In the Surrounding North Central Washington Territory

Grand Coulee Dam and the Columbia Basin Federal Irrigation Project, located 97 miles east of Wenatchee, the Western Gateway. Grand Coulee, when completed will be the largest power and irrigation project in the world, with an ultimate capacity of 2,000,000 horsepower and creating a great agricultural empire of 1,200,000 acres of arid land. It will furnish homes and work for over 100,000 directly—indirectly for thousands more.

Thirty-thousand 40-acre farms with diversified crops will create a bustling, booming empire, where now there is but dust and sagebrush. The irrigation project awaits only the end of the war . . . some say it may come sooner . . . and Coulee Dam's power output is gradually being increased because of the war.

Power from Coulee has made possible the transformation of the Northwest into a war-booming industrial section, producing light metals, airplanes, warships and cargo vessels, and myriad other items of war materiel. Grand Coulee's present installed capacity is 1,000,000 horsepower.

Grand Coulee Dam has backed the waters of the Columbia up to the Canadian border, creating a vast inland sea, 107 miles long. It waterfall is mightier than Niagara's. It is topped by a four-lane roadway nearly a mile long. Grand Coulee is the world's largest man-made edifice, dwarfing even the great pyramid of Cheops!

Dry Falls State Park . . . in the Grand Coulee, has been called the "Eighth Wonder of the World." The Coulee itself is the old Columbia river bed, some glacial action of countless eons ago changing the great stream's course.

The Chelan and Wenatchee National Forests . . . offer unparalleled mountain drives, opening up vistas of snow-clad mountains and mountain lakes and streams.

Wenatchee

And Environs . . . Points of Interest

Rock Island Hydroelectric Dam, 12 miles below Wenatchee on the mighty Columbia river, with installed capacity of 80,000 horsepower and ultimately to produce 240,000 horsepower.

Ohme Alpine Gardens . . . a gorgeous, man-made beauty spot, carved out of a rugged hill bordering the Columbia river. It affords an unsurpassed view of the Wenatchee and Columbia river gorges, and the snow-capped Cascade mountains.

Leavenworth Fish Hatchery . . . the world's largest, where thousands of salmon are brought for artificial spawning. The fish are trapped at Rock Island Dam on their return from the sea. This revolutionary process was made necessary by the construction of the Grand Coulee Dam, 90 miles up the Columbia river from Wenatchee. Grand Coulee, "the big slab", proved too big an obstacle for the salmon to leap in their return to spawning grounds.

At Cashmere . . . the Aplets plant, where originate the "Confection of the Fairies," and their companion Cotlets—two delicious, world-famous delicacies manufactured from apples and apricots, with a patented recipe.

The West's Outstanding Roadside Shrine . . . Lincoln Rock—an exact replica of the famous Abraham Lincoln Cabin, located in sight of a gigantic rock from which nature has carved a perfect likeness of the "Great Emancipator."

Wenatchee

AN EYE TO THE FUTURE

Wenatchee's heritage is rich . . . it's future unlimited. Always dependent on but one industry—fruit—this rich district only recently has awakened to the latent opportunities its location and resources offer.

Wenatchee is strategically located to become an important air center—especially with relation to the north-south traffic to Alaska and "over the top." Traveling the "inside passage" from Alaska to Wenatchee and beyond, the airplane of today . . . and tomorrow . . . would virtually never be hampered by fog and bad flying weather.

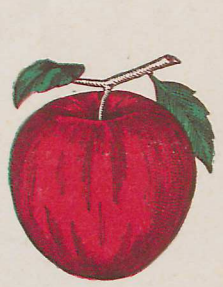

In preparation for tomorrow's emphasis on the airways, the City of Wenatchee has constructed and is maintaining a super-airport, Pangborn Field, boasting three mile-long runways, 150 feet wide, paved with asphaltic concrete. Taxi strips also are paved, and 50 feet wide. Complete with boundary lights, the field covers two square miles.

The mountains of North Central Washington are rich in nearly every mineral . . . iron, copper, gold, silver, chrome, manganese, magnesite, nickel, molybdenum, alumina clays. Among non-metallics there are salts, limestone, and diatomaceous earth.

With a new manufacturing era dawning, utilizing hydro-electricity from the nation's greatest power-producing stream, the mighty Columbia, this district's future is indeed bright.

Grand Coulee and Rock Island dams already are constructed, flanking Wenatchee on both the north and the south, and four more great power dams remain to be built, all within 80 miles of the "apple capital." They are Foster Creek, Rocky Reach, Chelan and Priest Rapids.

Together with the projected Umatilla dam, 200 miles south, and Bonneville, these six dams will generate 16,000,000 horsepower. Wenatchee indeed will be the "buckle in the power belt of the Pacific Northwest."

This booklet was prepared by the Wenatchee Junior Chamber of Commerce. Should you desire extra copies, or any other further information concerning Wenatchee and North Central Washington, please write the Wenatchee Junior Chamber of Commerce, Box 274, Wenatchee, Washington.

5 medium Washington State Jonathan, Winesap, Staymen, Yellow Newton or Golden Delicious Apples.

¼ cup of corn syrup or honey.
½ cup of sugar.
2 tablespoons of flour.
1 tablespoon of butter.
Cinnamon to taste (approx. ½ teaspoon).

Line a 9" pie tin with rich pie crust; wash, quarter and core apples, but do not peel; Cut in medium thin slices, crosswise. Mix all dry ingredients in a bowl and add to apples, turning until each slice is covered with dry mixture. Fill pie shell, pour corn syrup or honey over the top, dot with butter, cover with top crust, sealing well on edges. Bake 10 minutes in hot oven (425°); reduce heat to 325° and bake until done, approximately 45 minutes.

WASHINGTON BAKED APPLES

The finest baking apple in the world is the Washington Rome Beauty. Other varieties bake well, but this is the king.

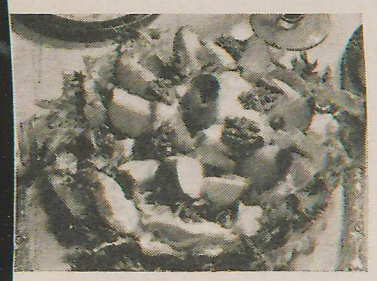

To prepare, wash and core carefully. Fill the cavity with any one of the following:
8 lemon drops and 6 cinnamon candies; or
3 marshmallows; or
1 teaspoon sugar and 1 teaspoon corn syrup; or
2 teaspoons of honey; or
2 or 3 old-fashioned chocolate drops; or
1 teaspoon corn syrup and 1 little pig sausage; or
2 tablespoons mincemeat (sweetened).

Place in buttered baking dish and bake 45 minutes at 375°; cover dish and bake an additional 10 to 15 minutes. Baste occasionally with syrup which gathers in bottom of dish. Serve slightly warm with milk, syrup, cream or whipped cream.

WASHINGTON APPLE SALAD SUGGESTIONS

Salads add piquancy and glamor to the most ordinary meals, and there is no salad ingredient which is so versatile as fresh apple. You may use your own cleverness and intuition in working out combinations, for apples combine well with all fruits and vegetables, but we give you the following suggestions:

Apple, carrots, celery and mayonnaise;
Apple, pineapple, banana, chopped nuts and boiled dressing.
Apple, marshmallow (bits) and raisins, dried figs or dates.
Apple, cottage cheese and chopped almonds on lettuce;
Apple, raw cabbage, raisins, a dash of lemon, mayonnaise;
Apple, flaked salmon or tuna fish, celery, walnuts and French dressing.

Washington State Delicious are the perfect salad apples.

APPLE MEAL STRETCHERS

Minted Apples — Heat one cup of water and one cup of sugar until sugar is dissolved; tint green and flavor lightly with peppermint oil (about 3 drops). Pare and core 6 small apples, place in syrup, cover and cook slowly until transparent but not soft. Remove carefully and chill. Fill with grated American cheese and top with mayonnaise and sprig of parsley. Delightful with lamb.

Apple Rings — Wash and core apples and cut crosswise in rounds. Do not peel. Dip each round in sugar and cinnamon and fry slowly in butter until delicate brown on both sides. Serve with pork dishes.

Apple Snow — Beat 2 egg whites until they are stiff. Add ¼ cup powdered sugar while beating. Add 1 cup grated apple and ¼ cup powdered sugar alternately as beating continues. Flavor with fresh lemon juice. Use as topping for any cream pie or as dressing for fruit salad.

DELICIOUS—The perfect eating apple. Large, firm, juicy—"broad shouldered" at the top, tapering to 5 rounded points at the blossom end. Its white meat is crisp as a frosty night, fine-grained. At its best during the holiday months

Doctors say apples do you the most good when you eat them fresh. For example, fresh Washington-grown apples are a good source of valuable vitamin C—the fresh fruit vitamin that helps build sound teeth and bones. Apples also contain the essential vitamin A that helps protect you against colds. To help keep your vitamin supply up to par, eat plenty of fresh Washington State apples—at least 2 every day

Waldorf Salad

- 6 Washington State apples
- 2 tbsps. lemon juice
- 1½ cups diced celery
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- Mayonnaise or salad dressing (about ¾ cup)

Wash apples, quarter, core and dice coarsely without peeling. Sprinkle with lemon juice and toss to prevent discoloration. Add celery, nuts and enough mayonnaise or salad dressing to moisten thoroughly. Serve on crisp lettuce in a salad bowl. Serves 6.

Waldorf Salad in Corkscrew Cups:
Pare apples thickly, making long unbroken paring Drop into water containing lemon juice. Use remainder of apples for Waldorf Salad. Curl paring into cup shape on lettuce, fill with salad.

Molded Apple Salad

- 1 pkg. lemon or lime flavored gelatin
- 1 cup hot water
- ¾ cup cold water
- 2 cups Washington State apples, diced
- 2 tbsps. lemon juice
- 1 cup diced celery
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- ¼ tsp. salt
- Lettuce
- Mayonnaise or salad dressing

Add hot water to lemon or lime gelatin, stirring until dissolved then add cold water. Let cool until it begins to thicken. Pare and dice apples, add lemon juice and toss to prevent discoloring. Add diced celery, chopped walnuts, and salt. Fold into gelatin, and pour into one large mold or 8 to 10 individual molds. Chill. To serve, turn out on crisp lettuce and top with mayonnaise or salad dressing. Serves 8 to 10.

WINESAP—Deep red and glossy, Washington's Winesap is winelike in flavor. So crisp and juicy it pops as you bite into its firm white meat. Grand to eat fresh, it is also an excellent baking and cooking apple. Keeps unusually well, late as June.

Youngsters grow strong and sturdy in the State of Washington—in fact, insurance companies give them a longer life expectancy than other average U. S. children! This is due in part to an abundant supply of protective foods like the health-giving apples we grow in the State of Washington. For robust health, do as our "huskies" do —every day eat a couple of fresh apples

Apple and Carrot Salad

- 3 Washington apples, coarsely diced
- 2 cups shredded raw carrots
- 1 small onion, finely minced
- ½ cup cream, sweet or freshly soured
- 1 to 2 tbsps. lemon juice
- Salt and pepper to taste

Dice apples without paring and combine with grated carrot and minced onion. Add cream blended with lemon juice and salt and pepper to taste. Serve on lettuce. Serves 6.

For the children's lunch some day, try this clever apple health trick. Cut unpeeled Washington State apples into small wedges and spread each wedge with cream cheese moistened with milk. It's a nourishing, wholesome combination that all youngsters go for.

Apple in Cottage Cheese

- 3 Washington apples, coarsely diced
- 1 cup diced celery
- ¼ cup sliced stuffed olives (or ½ cup diced cucumber)
- ¼ cup sharp French dressing
- Lettuce
- 1 pt. cottage cheese
- ½ cup chopped salted almonds
- Cooked salad dressing or mayonnaise

Wash and dice apples without paring and combine with diced celery, sliced olives or diced cucumber, and French dressing, and toss until well coated. On each salad plate place crisp lettuce leaves, then with a spoon, shape ⅓ cup cottage cheese into a rough ring. Heap each ring with the apple mixture, and sprinkle chopped almonds over all. Finish off each serving with a top-knot of fluffy salad dressing or mayonnaise, and serve. Serves 6.

GOLDEN DELICIOUS—Aromatic in flavor, slightly tart, the Golden Delicious is ideal for eating "as is," or to put a snap in salads. Under its golden, speckled skin lies gloriously crisp meat. At its best in November and December

To help combat harmful winter germs, each day eat plenty of fresh apples from Washington State. Science finds apples are a big factor in keeping the lower intestine free of germs and their poisons. Also, apples are rich in pectin. And pectin combines with water to form a gentle bulk that insures normal regular elimination—yet it does not irritate the delicate intestinal membrane

Apple-Salmon Salad

- 2 Washington State apples, diced
- 2 tbsps. lemon juice
- 2 cups (1 lb.) canned salmon, coarsely flaked
- 1½ cups diced celery
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- Salt and pepper
- French dressing or mayonnaise or salad dressing to moisten

Coarsely dice the apples without paring, sprinkle with lemon juice to prevent darkening. Flake canned salmon and add to apples with diced celery and chopped walnuts. Season to taste, and add sufficient dressing to moisten thoroughly. Serve in a salad bowl lined with lettuce or in crisp lettuce cups on individual plates. Serves 6. With hot rolls and coffee, this Apple-Salmon Salad makes a delicious main course for your luncheon parties. If you like, canned tuna may replace salmon in the above recipe.

Apple and Cabbage Salad

- 3 Washington State apples
- 3 tbsps. lemon juice
- 1 cup seedless raisins
- 4 cups shredded raw cabbage
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- Salt and pepper

Wash apples, and dice coarsely without paring. Add lemon juice and toss. Mix with raisins and shredded raw cabbage, then add mayonnaise, and season to taste. Toss and serve at once. Serves 8.

Apple Meatwiches for between-meal munching or a bed-time snack. Place a sliver of cold meat (ham, beef, lamb, or pork) between thin slices of unpeeled Washington State apple, sprinkle with salt—eat with gusto!

Baked Apples

Wash and core 6 Rome Beauty apples; prick with a fork in several places, or pare off a wide band of peeling from the stem end. Place in a deep baking dish. Mix 1 cup sugar and 1 cup water, and boil, stirring, until sugar is dissolved. Pour over apples, cover, and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) until apples are almost tender (about 30 minutes). Remove cover, increase heat to 425° F., and continue baking 20 to 30 minutes longer, or until apples are tender, basting frequently with syrup in baking dish. Take up apples into serving dishes, pour syrup over them, and serve warm, with cream or top milk slightly sweetened and flavored with a drop of almond extract if desired. Serves 6.

JONATHAN—Mostly bright red outside, creamy-white inside, the Jonathan apple is crackling crisp, pleasantly tart in flavor, and very juicy. Often called the Hallowe'en apple, the Jonathan from Washington State is a prime favorite among eating apples in the fall

For firm gums, strong white teeth, doctors and dentists agree it's good insurance to eat a fresh Washington State apple each day. Biting into the firm white meat of one of these crisp, juicy apples cleanses your teeth . . . keeps them white and gleaming, too. Chewing each bite well gives your gums the exercise they need to make them firm and rosy

Washington Apple Pie

4 to 6 Washington State apples
¾ to 1 cup sugar (white or brown)
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. cinnamon
Pastry for 2 crusts
2 tbsps. butter

Pare and slice apples, add sugar, salt and cinnamon, mix well, and let stand while preparing pastry. Line a deep pie pan with the pastry, put in the apples, and dot with the butter. Roll out top crust, cut a few slits to permit escape of steam, spread loosely over apples, and trim edge, leaving ½ inch overhang. Tuck this edge in between under crust and pan, and crimp or flute edges, to prevent overflow of syrup. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 350° F. and continue baking 25 to 35 minutes, or until apples are tender and crust golden brown. Makes one pie. Serve slightly warm.

Transparent Applesauce

4 Washington State apples
2 tbsps. butter
3 tbsps. water
¾ cup sugar
Cinnamon

Pare, core and cut apples in thick slices. Melt butter and add apple slices and water; cover and let steam gently until apple slices are almost tender—about 4 or 5 minutes. Remove cover, add sugar, sprinkle generously with cinnamon, and cook, stirring gently, until the apple slices are transparent and glazed with thick syrup. Serve warm. Serves 4 to 6.

Old-Fashioned Applesauce: Core and quarter apples, but do not pare. Stew until tender with just enough water to keep them from sticking to the pan. Press through a colander, add sugar and cinnamon to taste, and stir until sugar dissolves.

YELLOW NEWTOWN—Like its skin, the meat of the Yellow Newtown varies in color from pale green to lemon yellow. Has a clean, bracing flavor, delicately tart. Stays crisp and fresh a long time. Grand for eating "in the raw;" good for cooking, too. Available January to June

When hungry youngsters clamor for "something to eat" —give them a glass of milk and a big juicy apple from the State of Washington. Kids go for this delicious combination, and is it good for them! So keep a bowl of apples in the refrigerator handy for between-meal munching. And just before the family goes to bed each night, bring out the Apple Bowl and let everyone help himself

Apple Sherbet

2 cups applesauce, sieved, sweetened and flavored to taste
1 tbsp. lemon juice
½ cup whipping cream

To well-chilled applesauce add lemon juice. Whip cream. Gradually add applesauce, continuing to beat until very stiff. Freeze in refrigerator tray until firm but not icy-hard. Stir with a fork, and serve in sherbet glasses to accompany the meat course at dinner, or with cookies for a light dessert. Serves 4 to 6.

Tasty Apple Sandwich Ideas! Blend finely chopped apples with orange marmalade and spread on bread. Or mix 1 cup grated apple with ½ cup chopped walnuts and just enough mayonnaise to moisten.

Apple Crisp

6 Washington State apples, sliced
2 tbsps. lemon juice
¼ cup water
½ tsp. cinnamon
1 cup sugar
¾ cup flour
¼ tsp. salt
6 tbsps. butter

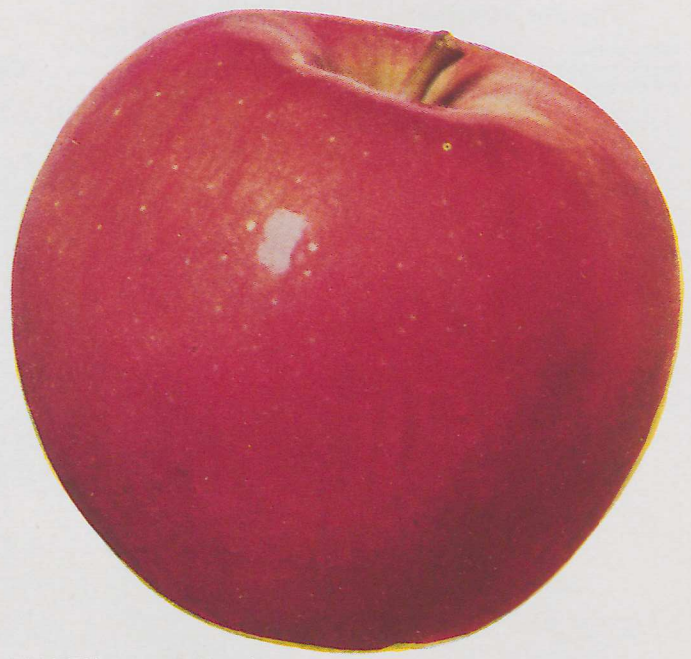

Pare, core and slice the apples into a large shallow baking pan. Add lemon juice and water. Mix cinnamon with ½ cup sugar and sprinkle over apples. Combine remaining sugar with flour and salt, and work in butter, using pastry blender or finger tips, until crumbly. Spread over apples, and pat smooth with back of spoon. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 40 minutes, until apples are tender and the crust is crisp and lightly browned. Serve warm with cream or hard sauce. For a party touch, top with ice cream. Serves 6 to 8.

ROME BEAUTY—Called the king of all baking apples, the Rome Beauty keeps its large round shape, its mildly acid flavor during baking. Its juicy meat is fine grained and aromatic, with a yellowish tinge. November to March

The State of Washington is truly "The World's Apple Bowl." Here apples grow sweet and juicy in the long warm days . . . crisp and red in the frosty nights. Here, too, the volcanic ash soil is rich in those minerals apples need. Washington State apples are picked by hand, washed, wrapped in tissue, carefully packed in sturdy boxes, and shipped to market in iced cars

Apple Whip

1 egg white
Few grains salt
¼ cup sugar
1 cup grated apple (1 to 2 Washington State apples)
1 tbsp. lemon juice

Add salt to egg white and beat stiff. Gradually add sugar, continuing to beat until very stiff. Wash apples but do not pare or cut up; grate into a bowl and stir in lemon juice. Add to beaten egg white, and beat until well blended. Serve on gingerbread or spice cake. Serves 6.

Taffy Apples: Boil 1 cup each white and brown sugar, ½ cup each vinegar and water. Cook until small amount dropped in cold water cracks between fingers. Dip apples on sticks in syrup, cool and eat.

Apple Dumplings

1½ cups sugar
2 cups water
4 Washington State apples, finely diced
Juice of 1 lemon
Rich biscuit dough (made with 2 cups flour or prepared biscuit mix)
2 tbsps. butter

Boil sugar and water to a thin syrup (about 5 minutes) stirring until sugar is dissolved. Pare apples, dice and combine with lemon juice. Roll out the biscuit dough into rectangle, about ½ inch thick. Spread with diced apples; sprinkle with sugar, and roll up in jelly-roll fashion. Cut into 1½ inch thick slices, place cut side down in buttered baking pan. Dot each slice with butter, pour hot sugar-syrup over all, and bake in hot oven (425°F.) until apples are tender and crust is golden brown—30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm with cream. Serves 8.

Apple Garnishes

- Cut unpeeled apples in rings ⅓ inch thick. Brush with melted butter, broil with chops or ham until lightly browned, turning once. Or brown in hot butter in a skillet. Sprinkle lightly with sugar before serving as garnish with meat.
- Sweeten 2 cups sieved applesauce to taste, add 1 tbsp. lemon juice and 2 tbsps. or more prepared horse-radish. Serve hot, or chilled, with ham, pork or veal.
- Spread thick slices of apple with grated American cheese blended with a little mayonnaise, broil slowly until cheese is melted and lightly browned. Excellent to eat with meat and vegetables.
- Brush uncooked apple rings with lemon juice and sprinkle with paprika or minced parsley, or half-and-half, and use to garnish platter of pork chops or sausages.

Ham-Apple Casserole

4 or 5 Washington State apples
2 thin center slices of ham
Brown sugar
1 tbsp. lemon juice

Pare and slice apples. Trim off part of fat from ham and cut ham into serving-size pieces. Into a baking dish put a layer of ham, cover with sliced apples, and sprinkle lightly with brown sugar—1 to 2 tbsps. for each layer. Repeat until all ingredients are used, having top layer apples. Sprinkle lemon juice over top, cover, bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) about 25 minutes, or until apples are tender; then remove cover and bake 20 to 25 minutes longer, until apples brown slightly and juice thickens somewhat. Serves 4 to 6.

Good Eating...Good for You

These Fresh, Crisp Apples from Washington State

The world's finest eating apples—that's what folks say about these apples born and raised in the State of Washington.

You see, we growers start with ideal apple growing conditions. First, good soil of volcanic origin, rich in the minerals that apples need. Next, abundant fresh mountain water for irrigation. Plus long warm summer days that give our apples plenty of time to grow sweet and juicy. And cold frosty nights that paint our apples a rosy red, crisp up their firm white meat.

Then, when these apples of ours reach their peak of flavor, we carefully pick them by hand, wash them, and grade them for size and quality. Then we wrap each apple in tissue, pack them in boxes, and ship them to market in iced refrigerator cars.

Right here—a word to the wise. Apples, you know, keep best under refrigeration. So when you bring home these apples of ours, keep them in your refrigerator until you're ready to eat them. Then they'll be crisp and flavorful right up to the minute you bite into one.

Munching one of these big juicy fellows is a delightfully easy way to get your daily quota of the fresh fruit vitamins. For instance, vitamin C so essential for building strong teeth and bones. Vitamin A, too, the protective vitamin that helps you throw off colds and other winter ills. What's more, apples contain the vital food minerals—calcium and iron. Too, they aid in preventing "acidosis" by helping to keep the blood normally alkaline.

Apples are good to include in reducing diets, also. High in vitamins and minerals, apples are low in proteins and contain a relatively low number of calories. So while they guard health, apples also help keep your waistline under control.

For your health's sake and for goodness' sake, eat a fresh, crisp apple from Washington State—every day.

Washington Apples supply vitamins A, C, G, and food minerals.

The eating of apples is helpful in fighting off germs in the lower digestive tract.

To get the greatest good, eat apples fresh—skin and all.

It is best to chew each bite well.

Washington apples help keep one "regular." The pectin, combining with water in the system, forms a jelly-like, non-irritating "bulk."

Enjoy at least 2 or 3 apples every day—make it a habit.

It is now known that apples supply more energy values—more real sustaining power—than the nutritional books formerly showed.

Dentists say that chewing apples helps clean the teeth—and exercises the gums.

Dear Mr. President:

Your reelection for a fourth term is, in my opinion, the greatest thing that could happen to the United States at this time.

Under separate cover, I am taking pleasure in sending you a copy of a new collection of stories that has just been published, called TRY AND STOP ME. If you can find a chuckle or two in its pages, I will be deeply gratified.

Most cordially,

UNRESTRICTED

No. 15942

Subject: Transmitting Copies of the 1944 Edition of the Guía Postal y Telegráfica Panamericana

The Honorable
The Secretary of State,
Washington.

Sir:

I have the honor to report that Señor Oreste CENTENARI, Director of La Guía Postal y Telegráfica Panamericana, San Martín 752, Buenos Aires, has sent three copies of the 1944 edition of the Guía to the Embassy with the request that they be transmitted to appropriate offices in Washington. The specially bound copy is a gift to the President. The Embassy has been informed that the Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service of the Federal Communications Commission is desirous of obtaining a copy of this postal guide and suggests therefore that the other two copies be forwarded to the Post Office Department and to the Federal Communications Commission respectively. The three copies are being transmitted by steamer pouch as an accompaniment to this despatch.

Respectfully yours,

For the Chargé d'Affaires ad interim:

DAVID C. BERGER
First Secretary of Embassy
