First of all, I must join with the millions of people in wishing you a very happy birthday, and hoping that you will have many more of them.

Mr. Roosevelt, Mother had a small gift all wrapped up and ready to mail to you on your birthday, but a few days before, she took sick and had to be rushed to the hospital, where she still is, but now, but now, as soon as she was able to talk, she asked me to mail it to you with her best wishes. I don't think there is a person in all the United States who admires and appreciate you more than my mother. I remember during the last election, she held many heated arguments with some opponents, and could not see how anyone could vote for anyone but you. She admires you for the way you manage to bring out the nation from the worst depression and mostly, she's grateful to you for during your presidency, she was able to bring her family, whom she loves very much, to join her here. My dear Mrs. de Duran:

Your letter of February eighteenth has been received. The President is especially pleased to have that fine crocheted gift, a product of the handiwork of your little granddaughters, Carmen Beatriz and Edna, and asks if you will tell them how deeply he appreciates their friendly thought in presenting it to him.

The President hopes that Antonio is now on the road to recovery and sends his cordial good wishes to you and to all your grandchildren for your welfare and happiness.

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
Washington D. C.

Dear Pres. Roosevelt:

It is sent from Adjuntas, Puerto Rico this handmade present worked by two school girls: Carmen Beatriz (aged 10) and Edna (15), as a token of admiration, to you, the President of our Nation with hopes for victory in our war.

Both little sisters together with two younger brothers do not have a mother. Their father a young Puerto Rican working at present at Rahway, N. J. on Elm Ave. #101, sends them a few dollars weekly with which I, their grandmother, manage to support us five on this island. But we live happily and look up to our strong nation and President, with pride.

Upon the re-election of Mr. Roosevelt for a third term, we were so glad we could not fail to congratulate our President. So we wrote to him, sending a picture of the four kids: Antonio (7) who happens to be suffering from infantile paralysis for seven months, Edelmiro (8), Carmen Beatriz and Edna; (surname: Figueroa). Their father is Mr. Edelmiro Figueroa, my son in law.

The curtain needlework presented to His Excellency, the Prsident, has been done by young hands with devotion, hoping it will reach either Mr. or Mrs. Roosevelt. The lettering on it reads:

President - Third Term
Frankin D. Roosevelt and his wife Eleanor Roosevelt.

Very, very respectfully,

(Mrs.) Sofía Irizarry Vda. de Durán

HON. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT,
President of the United States,
White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I am an aged, disabled veteran (76 on March 30th), and earnestly desire to do something of benefit in this the greatest calamity that has ever visited the world of men.

Herewith (under separate cover) is a gavel of some little historical significance.

I would like, sir, to feel that this gavel be given a place right to hand on your desk. This gavel typifies the history of the United States from the time they were a group of British colonies until the present. On one side of the head is wood from the Washington Elm, under which General Washington took command of the Patriot Armies July 2, 1775, at Cambridge, Massachusetts. The other side of the head is oak from the doorstep of the Old South Meeting House, Boston, which was used as a riding-school by Burgoyne's troops during the Revolution preceding the Evacuation of Boston. Embedded in each face of the head is a piece of brass from the engine-room of the battleship Maine, salvaged after the ship was raised in Havana harbor and before she was sunk at sea. The handle is black walnut from the desk of the captain of the Frigate Constitution (Old Ironsides), built at Boston(1794-97). On the end of the handle is a small button worn in the coat lapel of a World War boy before he got into uniform.

The material forming this gavel was given me by a friend, George Gibson, who got it from his father, the late Robert Gibson, a contractor and builder. The gavel was made for me by my brother Arthur C. Dennison of Boston.

The gavel was used by me while commander of Vigan Outpost (Boston) National Society - Army of the Philippines, of which organization General Arthur MacArthur was the second National Commander in 1901; and his son General Douglas MacArthur, has been a member for the past 27 years. Splendidly unafraid, General MacArthur and his gallant men are carrying on. Of them I repeat what I said when they were first attacked, "By the Eternal, what we have we'll hold."

The gavel was also used at a meeting of the Massachusetts Department, auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans, in historic Faneuil Hall, Boston, the afternoon of June 14, 1936, at which I had the honor to represent the veterans of the Philippine insurrection.

BY. JOSEPH. DEIGHAN.

Being called upon to speak, I may be pardoned if I give a synopsis of what I said at this crowded patriotic meeting. The galleries had small American flags draped over the railing, clear around in two tiers. Rising, I first saluted the flag at the right of the platform, and then said, pointing to the small flags hanging over the balconies, "I helped put one of the stars in those flags." A gasp of astonishment was made by the audience. Continuing, "Many years ago, as a young printer, I arrived, via prairie schooner, in the little cow town of Albion, Cassia County, Idaho Territory. Albion was on the old Fort Hall Trail from Salt Lake, Utah, to join the main Oregon Trail at Fort Hall on the Snake River, Idaho Territory. Jim Lamoreaux, of The Cassia County Times, offered me a working interest in the paper. The printing office was in a log cabin. I took him up, and made my debut in sage-brush journalism. The Territory was knocking at the door of Congress for statehood. A constitutional convention had been held at Boise. Now an election was in order to adopt the constitution by the electorate. The election was held. Every man had a vote. I was one of the three judges of election in Albion. There were no clerks. The ballot-box was a cracker box, with a hole cut in the top to insert the ballots. At dinner-time we closed the polls for an hour. One of the judges, an old retired rancher, non-chalantly tucked the ballot-box under his arm and went home to dinner. And that ballot-box was as safe from tampering as if it had had ten men with loaded Winchesters guarding it. The constitution was adopted, and Idaho was admitted to the Union of States the next year. Now, I respect-fully submit, ladies and gentlemen, I helped put one of the stars in the flag."

I would like to have you, sir, have this little tangible bit of United States history right to land on your desk while as both president and commander-in-chief you so manfully put your hand and soul to the greatest task ever offered a single man in guiding this Nation, under God, in the heartbreaking effort that lies ahead. I see Washington as a world capital at the end of the war, with you, sir, sitting at the head of the peace table with the little gavel in your right hand as you call the meeting together.

In my daily prayers I ask God to bless all the peoples of all the earth. Give them justice and mercy, understanding and good will, that the Brotherhood of Man shall obtain under the Fatherhood of God. I ask help and guidance for those of the United Nations who bear the weight of affairs, for strength of heart and arm without faltering, that the forces of evil be crushed. Keep me steadfast in the faith that no weapon forged of man shall withstand God and His righteousness.

Sir, I would request that I may be allowed to make this letter and your answer public. Not for personal notoriety on my part, but for the effect upon public morale. You and I both know, sir, that the intangibles and imponderables count for much.

Believe me, sir,

Yours most sincerely,

Leslie E. Dennison

Mr

I hope you can accept,

. This pin is a symbol of good neighbor policies which you have always advocated, and which I hope will endure for ever and ever. Canada needs the aid of the United States, as we in turn need their aid and esteem.

During the Spanish American War, in 1898, and while in Montreal with my father on business,their was a good of agitation for the Union of Canada and the United States, and the whole population was as anxious about the war as we were hereat home. I remember they had large bulletin boards all over the city of Montreal,which kept every one informed as to the wars progress.

The sinking of the Maine had just occured and everyone was angry. So while there, my father saw this pin,a symbol of their desire to unite,and bought one, and I doubt if it has a duplicate herein the United States.

Am glad to see by the paper that you have ordered the enlistment of we older citizens. I am anxious to enlist and have had military experience, but also have two sick dependents so I cant offer my services without receiving an adequate return to take care of them. I hold a registered Pharmacist certificate,have had experience as a Chemist, besides other qualifications, and still my fifty-five years,bar me from a chance to serve. Our son is now serving with the Navy, and stationed at the Naval Hospital Laboratory, San Diego, California. He just passed his examination for Chief Pharmacist Mate, so are we proud. This only serves as a stimulant to my desire to do my bit. Hoping for your continued good health, any praying you can continue to steer this country towards Victory, I remain,

Very Truly Yours,

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
Executive Mansion,
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. President:

Enclosed please find a present for you, which I hope you can accept, however, if for any reason you can not accept, just return same to me and you will still be my President to honor and obey. This pin is a symbol of good neighbor policies which you have always advocated, and which I hope will endure for ever and ever. Canada needs the aid of the United States, as we in turn need their aid and esteem.

During the Spanish American War, in 1898, and while in Montreal with my father on business, their was a good of agitation for the Union of Canada and the United States, and the whole population was as anxious about the war as we were hereat home. I remember they had large bulletin boards all over the city of Montreal, which kept every one informed as to the wars progress.

The sinking of the Maine had just occured and everyone was angry. So while there, my father saw this pin, a symbol of their desire to unite, and bought one, and I doubt if it has a duplicate herein the United States.

Am glad to see by the paper that you have ordered the enlistment of we older citizens. I am anxious to enlist and have had military experience, but also have two sick dependents so I cant offer my services without receiving an adequate return to take care of them. I hold a registered Pharmacist certificate, have had experience as a Chemist, besides other qualifications, and still my fifty-five years, bar me from a chance to serve. Lacrymae Christi

Tears of Christ, oh, tears Divine!
Flow upon this soul of mine—
Sanctify and make it pure,
Teach it truly to endure;
Wash away its ev'ry stain—
Only let God's love remain.
Tears of Christ, oh, tears Divine!
Flow upon this soul of mine.

Tears of Christ, oh, tears most blest!
Flow upon my aching breast;
And the cross which pressed there
Shall be wreathed in pearls so fair,
That for aye my soul shall cling
To this trophy of her King.
Tears of Christ, oh, tears most blest!
Flow upon my aching breast.

Tears of Christ, oh, tears most dear!
When mine agony draws near,
Flow upon each sinful hand,
Thou, my God, wilt understand
How in pity—as I died,
Jesus, watching by my side,
Gave me of His tears so sweet,
To lay before Thy mercy seat.

Dear Secretary,

Naturally, I know that the President will not have time to read this letter, but would you, Mr. or Miss Secretary, have the great kindness to see that he gets this book, "This War is the Passion"?

p1

This small gift for

I understand that it was written in sections in mimeographed form, and that it was distributed in the air-raid shelters of London, with such splendid results in the clarifying of the spiritual values of all who read it, that it has been compiled in book form.

As our great President is such a God fearing, God-loving man he could not fail to be spiritually strengthened and encouraged in his great task, by the reading of such a book.

True, only a Catholic can understand and appreciate some parts of the book, but most of it will be of immense benefit to all who read; proof - the tremendous good it has already effected in England.

To my mind, one of the strongest proofs that God will give us final victory, is that He has given us such a leader as Franklin D. Roosevelt in our time of need.

I made a couple of these samplers for some boys' rooms, but grown ups became so impressed with them that I soon found I had some extra work on my hands. I have made about three dozen of them and they have gone into nine different states, being scattered from New York to California.

My dear Sir:

I, Edward Dunn, born in Manchester, Conn. September 17, 1857 - went to the Monroe Fair in Los Angeles, California, in 1923 and while there, went over and visited Inglewood Lodge 421 F. and A.M. witnessed the laying of the cornerstone at the New Temple - I am standing at the flag, no hat on, God bless the dear Old Flag! I brought home two pictures taken at the laying of the cornerstone - I am sending one for your Hyde Park Library.

In June 1941 I requested George I. Kay, Secretary of Scotia Lodge No. 634 F. and A.M. to send to the Inglewood Lodge No. 421 F. and A.M. Masonic Outlook December 1935, showing Franklin Delano Roosevelt, President of the United States, and Grand Representative of the Grand Lodge of Georgia. Raising his sons in -- Architect Lodge 519 - James Roosevelt and Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr. to the Sublime Degree of Master Masons in the Grand Lodge Room.

It is my wish to give those photographs to the Hyde Park Library.

Doubtlessly you will recall the letter you wrote to the Commanding Officer, at Fort St Michael, Alaska, about a year ago inquiring about a private Dunn, whose father was a fellow member of your lodge.

Mr. Stephen T. Early
Secretary to the President.

Dear Sir:

A few weeks ago I mailed the Prospectus of the "Life and Military Exploits of General Douglas McArthur" hoping the President and his friends would subscribe. I had taken a few subscriptions before and put their names in memorandum book. Such men as Arthur Clarendon Smith, Dr. D. L. Rose & Francis P. Heartsill and a few others. But I did not offer them the Prospectus to put their signatures on because I wanted the President Secretary Knox, Secretary Stimson and others to head the list. I want to buy some defense stamps or bonds but unless I can sell a considerable quantity of these, I'll have nothing to buy bonds with. I am an old man 73 this coming August, suffering with Arthritis and all my income comes from taking orders for Mrs. Steven's candies, some greeting cards and bridge cards and visiting cards and do not average over $5.00 per week. Have to pay $2.00 per week for insurance, industrial and my pass $1.25, lunches etc. By pushing this sale - I am in no way trying to boost General McArthur for President. For a man may be a splendid military man and not be in the least qualified for President. Generally are not so qualified. Andrew Jackson was an exception. I would want to know how he stood on domestic issues as I have always been with the liberal and progressive wing on the democratic party. Am an ardent New Dealer. Was the first man in D.C. to declare for Woodrow Wilson in 1912 - Predicted in June 1911 he would be the next President. Supported Bryan ardently in three campaigns but Theodore Roosevelt in 1904;could not stand Alton B. Parker.

My father's maternal grand father was Dr. LeGrund, who was a Captain in the war of 1776 - & was with Washington at Valley Forge. His wife was of the Carrolls of Carrolton. By the way my dear Mr. Early, I would love to sometime to meet my President and shake his hand just once. I'll promise not to bother him about anything personal. While always respect the office of President, I have never cared to shake any with any of them but Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson and President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The first two I did have the pleasure and honor to shake hands with, but I consider our present President the best and greatest we have ever had since our Government was established, not even excepting Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Monroe & Lincoln. They had their troubles and disloyal ones to contend with but nothing to compare with Continual fight our beloved President has had since he took office March 4th 1933. First a fight against sordid selfishness and greed; then 5th and 6th columinists and isolationism and against the Paganism of the Axis. God bless him and give him Victory over all his enemies at home and abroad is part of my daily prayer.

A resident of Washington, D. C. has a picture of a telephone operator and an American Flag she has painted on glass. She wants to know how best to get it to the President so it will not be broken. Is afraid to mail it. (Intimation is she would like to bring it in.) Also has a poem concerning same telling of the operator's part in the emergency. Conveys expressions of confidence in the President's leadership and extends prayerful wishes for him.

The President has asked me to thank you for your very cordial letter to him. He appreciates your thoughtfulness.

I am sorry we cannot arrange for you to present your painting on glass to the President in person, but I know you understand how difficult it is for him to make appointments of this kind during the present emergency, when all of his time is taken up with matters pertaining directly to the war effort. Dear President Roosevelt (via dear Mr Secty.)

I know you are a busy man & I know also that I shouldn't trouble you - but please Mr President - just this once?

I made a picture for you & a verse to go with it. It does sound so unimportant & yet I did work so hard on it.

It's a picture of a telephone operator & the American flag & the prose poem is about their part in this emergency. I painted it on glass in watercolors. It was hard for me to do as I'm not really an expert at all -

Now that its finished I'm afraid to mail it for fear it will break & the glass has the picture on it.

(Mr Mc Intyre won't you please tell me how I can get it to Pres. Roosevelt, please?)

I wish I could tell you Mr President how I feel about you & the great work you are doing in this terrible war that has been thrust upon us. It's in my heart - as it is in every you can depend on us, the little

Oh Mr. President it would do your

I hear it all around me because I am

We are the unseen — ever watchful,
never asleep,
Binding the atoms together.
Not ours the glory nor applause
We wear no uniform, and yet, are part of our landsdesting,
Guarding her secrets well.
We are the unseen — loyal — true to an ideal,
One God — one country — one flag.
We want no praise, knowing, outthere soldiers have shed their blood that we might live ---
with others soon to follow them.
Our reward shall be — one day — with the touch of magic at our fingertips,
To send across the quivering wires
One far-flung cry — "Ours is the Victory!"

I am sure that the President would be very glad to have the ivory cane which Reverend J. J. Davis wants to present.

As you know, he has a great collection of canes, but this is an unusual type.

I infer from your letter that the Doctor does not expect to present it personally, so if he wants to send it or bring it in I shall be very glad to accept it for the President and will, of course, see that appropriate acknowledgment is sent.

Dear Marvin:

An admirer of the President, Reverend J.J. Davis, whom I met the other day in Wilmore, Kentucky, has just returned from Africa with a cane made out of an elephant tusk. It is pure ivory and very beautiful. He would like to present it to the President.

I don't know what the ruling is on gifts of this kind, but he asked me to find out whether there was any rule against the President receiving such gifts.

Best wishes.

Dear Mr. President

You will recieve under seperate cover an oil painting as a gift to you.

Several weeks ago my three little daughters were sticking some war saveing stamps in their stamps books, and while looking at all those stamps together, I could just visualize line after line of minute men marching to back up our boys on the different war fronts.

This being my first ~~oil~~ painting, I hope you will like it and be able to use it to some advantage.

Yours very truly

Dear Mr. President,

In 1917, I was connected with a laboratory pioneering in color photography and color cameras. On Feb. 13, 1917, a color-separation negative of the late President Wilson was made at the White House. Only a few prints were made, and the firm soon after went out of business.

I believe this was the only color-negative made of President Wilson. Recently, I discovered this negative, and have made a limited number of prints. I am taking the privilege of mailing one to you.

A personal acknowledgment would be greatly esteemed.

Respectfully yours,

EARLY EXECUTION OF HITLER

True believers in Witchcraft will strictly follow the instructions.

1. Place Hitler standing on the platform on the Guillotine (His Book).
2. Read "The Execution of Adolf Hitler" putting into it all the hatred at your command.
3. Lay Hitler on the bench face up —while lifting the upper part of the block of the guillotine so that Hitler's head will protrude—put the block down.
4. Tie Hitler with ropes which are attached to the bench.
5. Release cord from holder and let go at once. The swastika which represents the knife of the guillotine drops on Hitler's head and chops it off.

May 26, 1942

Letter to Mr. Early, stating he was appointed Aviation Cadet, U.S. Army Air Corps and upon his arrival at Maxwell Field he was given what is known as the 6-4 Flight Physical exam, the same exam he was given at Mitchell Field, Long Island, prior to his appt. He was told that he has a curvature of the spine and is to be given a Certificate of Disability Discharge and sent back to civilian life. He asks for furlough for couple of weeks in order that he may go to Walter Reed Hospital for complete check-up and another examination of the spinal condition. He wants to find out if he could qualify for Officers Candidate School or some similar organization which would offer an opportunity toward a commission in some branch of the Service. ———— Referred by memorandum, May 27, 1942 for Colonel Maxwell D. Taylor, "To look into and advise the young man". ————Letter to Mr. Donohue from Mr. Early, 6/4/42, saying that the War Department is checking into his case.

Letter from Mr. Donahue, 8/10/42 to Mr. Early, saying that he stopped by the White House with gifts for he and the President as a small appreciation for what they did for him. He would like to call later and see Mr. Early and give him the gifts, also wishes to discuss his situation and probably get some advice as he has been sent back to Civilian life and wants a job that is in someway connected with the Army Air Corps. ———— Memorandum attached, 8/13/42 from Miss Runeli to Jim Sloan, stating that the gifts are being returned because the White House does not accept gifts for favors done ————Also attached is memorandum for Miss Winegar, 8/13/42 saying that Mr. Donohue is to be turned over to Major McCarthy with no request to the Major but it is to be handled on its merits only. ——— 8/24/42, notation, Donohue called at the office and appointment made for him to see Major McCarthy, War Department, two o'clock 8/24/42.

DAVIES, Hon. Joseph E.
Washington, D. C.
February 4, 1943

Presidential letter to Mr. Davies saying "The ATVOSOFSKY MARINE is a gem and I just want to tell you and Marjorie how grateful I am—thank you both ever so much."————Letter to Miss Tully, 5/27/42 from Miss Suckley asking for name of artist and other information on above painting. Another letter from Miss Suckley 6/9/42 to Miss Tully, saying a Mr. Gregory J. Plamurovsky stopped by the Library and studied the painting and found exception to their card which names the artist as Aivasovsky and enclosing tracing of artist as near as they can get it. This tracing was sent to Mr. Joseph E. Davis, 6/22/42 thinking it will help him to locate the name. On September 23, 1942, Mr. Davies wrote to Miss Tully, saying the name of the artist of the Russian seascape is ALEXEI PETROVICH BOGOLIUBOW, AND encloses copy of excerpt from Brockhaus Encyclopedia Ilfron giving in more detail facts with reference to the artist. On October 5, 1942, Miss Tully sent Miss Suckley the information she had asked for in May, 1942.
