Dear Mr. President:

Baked Beans - the Boston kind - and steaming Brown Bread topped with melting butter ! Doesn't that bring up memories of the "Cruise of The Amberjack"?

Yes, this starts like a "sales letter", but it's not. It's merely from a New Englander who watched the Amberjack skirting Casco Bay at a time of day when you may very conceivably have been partaking of that good old New England dish.

And as press notices credited you with a fondness for this well-known New England Saturday Night "supper", I am forwarding you a few tins of the complete combination - which I hope may reach you safely if General Farley's Department does not hold up the package on suspicion of its contents.

B & M Brick Oven Baked Beans are not "just canned beans". They are genuinely baked all day in open pots, in brick ovens, before being sealed in tins - this fact merely being mentioned in the hope of inducing your trial of this old New England dish as prepared and supplied to all parts of the Country by an old New England firm.

Incidentally, these Beans and Brown Bread were produced "under the Code". And while Maine did not vote Democratic last November, I feel quite sure a re-election would produce a different result. And a vote based on actual personal accomplishment should give far more satisfaction than one based on Party Promises.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Mr. President -

The enclosed drypoint was made by me when your car and its retinue passed by my studio window at 130 W. 57th Street N.Y. City - on your way to the inauguration - March, 1933.

It was a momentous event, and I wished to record it spontaneously - so I reached for a copper plate and cut into it with my drypoint needle.

It will make me very happy if you will accept this picture with my greetings and respect for your great intuitive leadership of our Country - and my best wishes for the success of your N. R. A. plan.

Dear Mr. President:

In connection with the celebration of its
One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary, in March, 1934, the Bank of New York and Trust Company is printing an article by Andrew D. White, entitled "Fiat Money Inflation in France".
Andrew D. White was a true scholar, and, like everything else he wrote, this is a scholarly, thoughtful discussion of a subject which is of interest to everybody at the present time.
It seemed to me that it would interest you to read it, because there is a certain similiarity between the present business and commercial conditions in the United States and those existing in France at the time of the French Revolution.
Perhaps you will find time to read it while you are at

Dear Sir:

I am presenting you herewith a copy of my book "EXPERIENCE", written in 1931. My mother has repeatedly asked that I send this copy to you. She is one of the millions who implicitly believe in F.R. She has 100% faith in your wisdom, faith in your character and faith in your integrity.

With the sole responsibility of the monetary policies for the first time completely in your hands, she believes that you will not go so far along the primrose path of inflation that there can be no turning back.

May I take this opportunity of congratulating you upon your Savannah speech, which in itself is most re-assuring?

Very truly yours,

Paul W. Emmel

Dear President:

Unknown to his parents, our 9-year-old boy Jerry, evidently wanted to make sure you had a souvenir, asked of the Fair. So on his last visit, he mailed the enclosed from the Chrysler exhibit.

Because of insufficient postage, the package was returned, and our first thought was to keep it to show him when he grew older.

However, a second thought prompts us to send it to you in its original state, as his wishes certainly merit fulfillment, there being no greater admirer nor more staunch supporter of our leader than he.

Respectfully yours,

SHIPPER'S PREPAID SERVICE

RAILWAY EXPRESS AGENCY

INCORPORATED
UNIFORM EXPRESS RECEIPT—NON-NEGOTIABLE—TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. The provisions of this receipt shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the consignor, the consignee and all carriers handling this shipment and shall apply to any reconsignment, or return thereof.
2. In consideration of the rate charged for carrying said property, which is dependent upon the value thereof and is based upon an agreed valuation of not exceeding fifty dollars for any shipment of 100 pounds or less and not exceeding fifty cents per pound, actual weight, for any shipment in excess of 100 pounds, unless a greater value is declared at the time of shipment, the shipper agrees that the company shall not be liable in any event for more than fifty dollars for any shipment of 100 pounds or less, or for more than fifty cents per pound, actual weight, for any shipment weighing more than 100 pounds, unless a greater value is stated herein. Unless a greater value is declared and stated herein the shipper agrees that the value of the shipment is as last above set out and that the liability of the company shall in no event exceed such value.
3. Unless caused by its own negligence or that of its agents, the company shall not be liable for—
 - a. Difference in weight or quantity caused by shrinkage, leakage, or evaporation.
 - b. The death, injury, or escape of live freight.
 - c. Loss of money, bullion, bonds, coupons, jewelry, precious stones, valuable papers, or other matter of extraordinary value, unless such articles are enumerated in the receipt.
4. Unless caused in whole or in part by its own negligence or that of its agents, the company shall not be liable for loss, damage or delay caused by—
 - a. The act or default of the shipper or owner.
 - b. The nature of the property, or defect or inherent vice therein.
 - c. Improper or insufficient packing, securing, or addressing.
 - d. The Act of God, public enemies, authority of law, quarantine, riots, strikes, perils of navigation, the hazards or dangers incident to a state of war, or occurrence in customs warehouse.
 - e. The examination by, or partial delivery to the consignee of C. O. D. shipments.
 - f. Delivery under instructions of consignor or consignee at stations where there is no agent of the company after such shipments have been left at such stations.
5. Packages containing fragile articles or articles consisting wholly or in part of glass must be so marked and be packed so as to insure safe transportation by express with ordinary care.
6. When consigned to a place at which the express company has no office, shipments must be marked with the name of the express station at which delivery will be accepted or be marked with forwarding directions if to go beyond the express company's line by a carrier other than an express company. If not so marked shipments will be refused.
7. As conditions precedent to recovery claims must be made in writing to the originating or delivering carrier within nine months after delivery of the property or, in case of failure to make delivery, then within nine months and fifteen days after date of shipment; and suits shall be instituted only within two years and one day after the date when notice in writing is given by the carrier to the claimant that the carrier has disallowed the claim or any part or parts thereof.
8. If any C. O. D. is not paid within thirty days after notice of non-delivery has been mailed to the shipper the company may at its option return the property to the consignor.
9. Free delivery will not be made at points where the company maintains no delivery service; at points where delivery service is maintained free delivery will not be made at addresses beyond the established and published delivery limits. Special Additional Provisions as to Shipments Forwarded by Vessel from the United States to Places in Foreign Countries.
10. If the destination specified in this receipt is in a foreign country, the property covered hereby shall, as to transit over ocean routes and by their foreign connections to such destination, be subject to all the terms and conditions of the receipts or bills of lading of ocean carriers as accepted by the company for the shipment, and of foreign carriers participating in the transportation, and as to such transit is accepted for transportation and delivery subject to the acts, ladings, laws, regulations, and customs of overseas and foreign carriers, custodians, and governments, their employees and agents.
11. The company shall not be liable for any loss, damage, or delay to said shipments over ocean routes and their foreign connections, the destination of which is in a foreign country, occurring outside the boundaries of the United States, which may be occasioned by any such acts, ladings, laws, regulations, or customs. Claims for loss, damage or delay must be made in writing to the carrier at the port of export or to the carrier issuing this receipt within nine months after delivery of the property at said port or in case of failure to make such delivery then within nine months and fifteen days after date of shipment; and claims so made against said delivering or issuing carrier shall be deemed to have been made against any carrier which may be liable hereunder. Suits shall be instituted only within two years and one day after the date when notice in writing is given by the carrier to the claimant that the carrier has disallowed the claim or any part or parts thereof. Where claims are not so made, and/or suits are not instituted thereon in accordance with the foregoing provisions, the carrier shall not be liable.
12. It is hereby agreed that the property destined to such foreign countries, and assessable with foreign governmental or customs duties, taxes or charges, may be stopped in transit at foreign ports, frontiers or depositories, and there held pending examination, assessments and payments, and such duties and charges, when advanced by the company shall become a lien on the property.

Dear Sir:

The most sad and the most disappointed
Christmas in one life is over. But not even yet I have no faith in you, President of this great country. I thought and has expected some words of you, to the folk of these land of plenty; except charity. Even it is possible now, in 1933 to say some good words for it. Columbus has asking one of the great ad Queen the world has, for assistance. Columbus get not only one sailor he get three. But in our more nobler world, a good man idea for charity has a very little assistance. But sailor, which cost nobody much money, is as high and noble as the sails of Columbus. Our sailor sails in every house; in every children heart; in every mother heart; in every good American heart. It sails around the world to the universe. "And it's bring's us next to God the Almighty;" in practice "Love, Faith, Charity." — I has not so much contribution for me, but for you President and for Mothers and other's and all willing to help. If it is possible for you, say a good word for said 500 Million or more Dollars foundation for the poor Children and Mothers.
Then these idea plan goes in, for the year 1933. My very hearty Thanks.
Sincerely; Yours John A. Eisenring.
