President F.D.Roosevelt
The White House
Washington, D.C.

My dear Mr. President:

The standing and progress of a trade or craft can generally be measured by the progress of the tools employed, and as the "Woodman's Pal" and "Pruning Pal" have been designed especially for the use of your CCC Organization, I take the liberty to let a "Pruning Pal" bear my Christmas sentiments, engraved on its Sheath of stainless steel, to outlive the fickleness of human mind.

For hundreds of years tools have been manufactured to cut down trees, but the "Pruning Pal" has been desinged to grow and protect trees, just as the Forestry preceeding your adminstration consisted primarily in cutting down and reducing the Forest area of the United States, whereas with the help of the CCC Camps and appropriations real progress is being made to protect American Forests from deliberate extermination.

I feel that I am expressing in my personal action the sentiments of a large number of nature lovers and friends of Forestry, and hope that this little testimonial may add cheer to your great responsibility.

Yours very sincerely,

Frederick Ehrsam.

THE
"WOODMAN'S PAL"

with Military Handle, in Safety Carrying Sheath, most practical tool for Fire Wardens, Sportsmen, C.C.C. Camps, Surveyors, etc.

VICTOR HONING STONE

Combination Carborundum (Rough) and Washita (Fine) grain. Round edges. Pocket size. Just the thing to keep your "Pal" razor sharp.

THE "PRUNING PAL"

with Sport Grip; combining Sickle, Axe and Pruning Saw — used for Improvement Cutting, Blister-Rust and Orchard Pruning. The Forester's boon companion.

THE FIRE WARDEN GAME

Lively, entertaining, instructive in Forest Protection. A novel game for young and old.

Dear Sir:

I wish to thank you for the kind consideration which you have given my request of December 17th regarding the Firewarden Game. I have just received a letter from Director Robert Fechner, which I hope in due time will result in the Firewarden Game being used as a Fire Prevention Medium by the CCC Forces.

I also take the liberty to inclose a letter dictated for you but erroneously not mailed, and ask you for your kind indulgence regarding this oversight.

Yours very truly,

Dear Sil:

Larry Espinosa, an employee of the Mt. Hood National Forest who is engaged in making rustic signs for camp grounds, trails, etc., carved out this desk marker for the President. This was wholly his idea and he did the work on his own time. It probably never occurred to him that the President had no need for a name plate on his desk to let his visitors know who he was! The President, however, should get a kick out of it, and I am not so sure but that he would rather enjoy displaying the marker on his desk whenever he thought the occasion was appropriate.

At any rate, not knowing what else to do with it, I am sending it to you for presentation to the President, if you think with me that he would enjoy the humor of it.

Sincerely yours,

Wu

Dear Mr. President:

I am sending this picture as a birthday gift - in advance, because of avalanche of letters and mail you will most likely receive around the thirtieth. I do hope you will like it.

Do you think I have sufficient talent to warrant my taking up an art course? If so, will you please name an art school? I know of none around here.

I am a teacher, but at present am unemployed. My hobby is painting, which I do during my spare time.

Thank you very much.

Dear Mr. President-

Under orders from the author and a Grand Master of the White Brotherhood I am sending you and Mrs. Roosevelt an advance copy of the book OPEN THE DOOR, by Wilfred Brandon, to by issued by the Knopf firm on February 6th.

In the avalanch of your daily mail I have small hope that it or this letter will reach you. If, however, it can be given to Mrs. Roosevelt, she may be interested in its contents and its national purpose, also she may be impelled to call it then to your attention.

If its 192 brief pages require too much time for you to spare I will ask you to read only the authors Foreword and the chapter , The Last Morning beginning on page 92. This will enable you to realize, I believe, the purpose and scope as well as the unusual revelations in this work.

Etheric Science is here in the Radio and Television. Next will come Inter-Plane Telephony or Telegraphy. This book will then be the key, as the new Science explains, what Life really is.

With profound gratitude for your efforts on behalf of our people and the Republic,

I remain yours faithfully ,

Dear Mr. Roosevelt.

I am sending you a pair of mittens as a birthday gift to show you in a small way that I appreciate what you have done and are doing for the american people

I am a widow seventy four years old, I am very interested in old age pension and I trust that before long it will take effect in our state.

The mittens I am mailing to you, I have knitted by hand, and as you will see I won first price at our county fair, I trust you will accept them in the spirit I am sending them.

Respectfully.

During the holiday
week, I sent our dear President a gift it was a book with pictures and clippings sort of a news reel, with all the good deeds the President had done during 1934 also pictures of his vacation trips, and clipping of what people, think about him, as I always receive an acknowledgement, for my poems, and letters, I never did hear if he recived it, as I had it insured still, I always feel, it never reached him, Now I me know. I read, he recieved over 6000 gifts, so perhaps he has not came to mine as yet.

As I mailed it from a drug store, the clerk seemed to hold a keen intrest over it when he seen, who it was addressed too. And was sort of one of those curious ones who would love to know the contents, this made me sort of suspicious often leaving it there and I kinda held a feeling it never reached its destination.

Thanking You.

Dear President Roosevelt,

I am dropping you a few lines to let you know, that I drew your picture, in charcoal. This picture was drawn without any school-training in art. I hope you will like the picture. Ever since I was a small boy, I took an interest in art, but as my father passed away when I was two years old, and since my brother and sisters were small, my mother had to go out and work to earn us a living. My mother's only wish was to send me to art-school, but never had a chance to do so because of the lack of money. She was trying her best to save money for me, but it seemed that something always turned up,

that took the money she did have saved. My mother died two years ago, and her wish was never ful-filled. I have been trying my best to get a chance to go to school, so I drew your picture to see if there might be a possible chance for you to help me.

My friends and neighbors think my art-work is very good without any training.

I intended to send your picture for your birth day, but I needed some material to finish it, and was so delayed because of the lack of money.

Please answer.

Respectfully yours,

Am sending you under separate cover what is a rarity. A friend of mine has "discovered" an original portrait of a "smiling Lincoln", as he was just prior to his election in 1860. Photographs have been made of the painting and so beautiful are they that I have asked for one to send you. Your own capacity to smile in time of adversity, to face crises like those Lincoln faced, should cause you to love this portrait of your great predecessor President. There is a sweetness and a profound understanding in this picture that no other Lincoln portrait evidences. Particularly interesting is the legend by the painter on the back of the picture.

Am sending you under separate cover what is a rarity. A friend of mine has "discovered" an original portrait of a "smiling Lincoln", as he was just prior to his election in 1860. Photographs have been made of the painting and so beautiful are they that I have asked for one to send you. Your own capacity to smile in time of adversity, to face crises like those Lincoln faced, should cause you to love this portrait of your great predecessor President. There is a sweetness and a profound understanding in this picture that no other Lincoln portrait evidences. Particularly interesting is the legend by the painter on the back of the picture.

The "discoverer" is John Woodruff of the firm of Sackett & Wilhelms, Long Island City, N. Y. The picture is in Phillipse Manor, Yonkers.

Please accept it with my very warmest regard and continued loyalty.

Sincerely yours,

Henry Epstein.

Dear Mr. President:

I hand you this picture as a token of friendship and good will. The scene is at the east base of the Grand Tetons in Jackson Hole, Wyoming. I have stood at this place and admired the majesty of the Tetons while my soul was inspired by the peace and quiet and the grandeur wrought by the Almighty. The title I have given the picture needs no explanation.

This picture seems appropriate and fitting as a gift to you. It depicts the strength of the Tetons and the nobleness of the family of Servus Alces, traits which we search for in all men. While I am proud of my membership in the Masonic Order with its traditions running back so far into the dim and misty past, I am also proud of my honorary life membership in the newer and more distinctly American - Benevolent Protective Order of Elks.

Yours is a tough place to fill and requires both strength and nobility, but back of the exterior which is, of course, necessary as a shield against a calloused world, I like to think of you as one with a heart of gold. As a Brother Elk I hope this picture may be an inspiration to you in your efforts in behalf of the American people.

Most sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. President:

I am presenting this picture entitled 'A New Dealer' in the hope that it may occasionally inspire your mirth. The title was furnished by the Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

I purloined the picture from a disabled war veteran at Jackson, Wyoming, who told me that shortly after you came into office he had to go to work but that he had done so well in photography that he intended to vote twice for you in 1936.

The veteran said he copied this picture from the cover of an "Asthmatic Agricultural Administration Journal from Texas" and got into trouble over the copyright and had only the one copy left. He was sure Rex Tugwell could fix it for him.

In big town political fashion, I promised to fix up the copyright, so he sold me the picture with the distinct understanding it would go to you.

When I arrived here last month, not having either the time or pep to look up copyrights and thinking I might sidestep my obligation to the vet, I wrote him that I could do nothing because you had not yet lifted the embargo on Democratic National Committeeman appearing in public in Washington. To my surprise, the old boy replied that all would be well if I would only deliver this picture to you and furthermore that if I would come back to Jackson Hole this season he would help me catch another mess of trout for your dinner table.

Adios.

Recently when in Kansas City, I met one of the Rettoutne from the Jounnal-Pacr. M. H. McIntyre, Esq., Assistant Secretary to the President,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mac:-

This will acknowledge your note of the 20th; and I will send you, at the White House, a brace of pheasants from our shoot of Saturday.

Because of the heat I do not think it would be wise to ship pheasants to the President at Warm Springs as they would be very apt to spoil in transit. We will have three shoots in December, the 7th, 14th and 21st; and if you will be good enough to let me know when you return to Washington I will then send some to the President and will also send you some more.

May I make a suggestion to you? I have a wonderful landing field at Airy Hall. It would take you probably 30 minutes to land there from Warm Springs. Why don't you fly up and shoot some wild turkeys, dove, quail, or deer? Take someone with you who would enjoy the sport. We can take care of you at Airy Hall; and if you do decide to go just telephone my Superintendent, Thos. L. Martin. You can get him by calling Charleston, S.C. - long distance -then ask for Airy Hall, and you will be put through. I think you would really have a wonderful time as we have quantities of game. If you have no guns with you, you will find plenty of them - and ammunition - on the place, so you won't need to bother about that; I am sure you can be supplied with everything you will need. I shall write Mr. Martin today that you may possibly do this. We probably have more wild turkeys at Airy Hall than there are in any other place in the country. If you like to shoot deer, I can arrange to have all the leading politicians in the state there and give you a real party. I would like to go down myself if I can get away. I do wish you would do this as I am sure you would enjoy it. So, hop to it, and see if you cannot make the trip.

599 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK

ROBERT G. ELBERT

Please tell Mrs. McIntyre the pheasants should arrive on Monday or Tuesday of next week; and be sure to make a note to let me know when you return so I may send you another brace and also send some to the President.

With kindest regards and hoping you will have a very pleasant time at Warm Springs, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Bob:

Your letter of November 21st has just reached me here at Warm Springs.

I have gotten word to Mrs. McIntyre that the pheasants will arrive on Monday or Tuesday, and you may be sure she appreciates your courtesy.

I do wish I could take advantage of your hospitality and fly up for some shooting at Airy Hall. Am afraid it is out of the question, however, as I must stay pretty close to base while down here.

We will return to Washington about December 10th, and you may be sure the President will be delighted to have some birds any time you wish to send them, as shall I.
