NAPERVILLE CLARION,

Christmas Scenes at Library Are Attractive

During the busy week preceding Christmas the bright lights of Nichols library were unusually attractive, seeming to promise the quiet and tranquillity we always hope to have at home and never quite achieve during these days.

The mantle in the foyer was flooded with a blue light over the traditional manger scene. On either side were small trees decorated with real candles.

All the children and many grown-ups find the case in the children's rooms lovelier each year. The setting and lights here are white illuminating the pastoral scene below. The little figures in the Nativity scene were handmade in Nuremberg, Germany, and were added to Miss Egermann's world doll collection over 20 years ago.

But this year the real interest centers in the reading room which many people visit each day to pay honor to our many local boys and girls in the service of their country.

On the satin "Pledge of Allegiance" stands a small Christmas tree decorated with red, white and blue lights and tiny American flags. Behind the tree and on either side are photographs of the leaders of the armed forces, and below are photographs of 172 Naperville citizens who are serving the United States in every part of the earth.

We have watched the faces of men and women as they stand and look at these pictures and it is evident that this spot is almost a shrine where citizens see the enormity of the sacrifice being made to keep our lives safe and free.

All of us are grateful to Miss Egermann, the librarian, who is so enthusiastically collecting these photographs and keeping in touch with those in national service. Our city library is one of the important agencies in the community for colecting news about the boys, and it is also a favorite meeting place for those who are home on furlough.

A souvenir card was sent for Christmas to every Naperville man and woman in service, from the Nichols library board and librarians. This card was a photograph of "Naperville's Own Service Men and Women" showing the first hundred in the growing collection of pictures. —Mrs. H. Moy.

5. Since R. B. didn't get to Berkeley in Washington — I ask it including in my thanks prayers for Our Commander in Chief — "Thank you Sir! will make a quick gamble. — R. B. is a "trump". — And make him an Ensign or Lieutenant — Skipping all the aged traditional "red tape". R. B. will pay colossal dividends and he sails soon from the Golden Gate.

Does my chatter sound absurd — Please Sir! I appeal to your great heart to grant my wish.

This I do know — That you Mr. Roosevelt — can "swing" the impossible in any situation. I stake my all on my "Chief" and R. B. Connally, 484 Hickson Ave. Oakland, Cal.

Here's another strange quirk of my wish for R. B.

This week our Standard plumber came to fix my plumbing — a very old, poor and uneducated man — but oh! so kind of heart. As he worked he told me that his boy who went

2. Lead. Tall Robust athletic, weighs about two hundred — age early thirties. I have often thought as the gallant automobile tragic — pausing to assist a frail old grand mother across the street — how grandly he would serve on The White House Patrol. I Resolved at the time to call your attention to R. B.

Please do not think I am too sentimental or childish — But I seem to have included Yourself Mr. Roosevelt in everything especially nice — in my life's adventures for many years past. And to me living is one continuous adventure. Last Summer I tried to get a chip of the "Kit Carson" tree Stump as I crossed the pass through the Sierras into Nevada. I am still trying to get a chip from The Historical Sacramento. I also have a large piece of cork taken by myself from the first and until Recently only Cork Oak tree on this Continent — The tree is growing

4. He knew I had a personal grudge against R. B. So R. B. had gone at once to Oakland his mothers home and to work in the Ship Yards. I thought then I should ask you to let him come to Washington.

On the evening of Mar. 17th, as I sat in my car waiting for my high school daughter and her chum to the rounds of an Elks "Benefit Jubilee" - The Chief of Police handed me a message from R. B. saying: he had enlisted in the U. S. Navy at San Francisco & that he must "Reaching Nyo".

Mr. Roosevelt I shall hope to tell you in person - just how and why R. B.'s uplift & morale is my every responsibility. He has potential possibilities & has made the Supreme Sacrifice - He has given all - Who can tell R. B.'s brilliant Service may go a long way toward the ultimate Victory in the Pacific. I appeal only the usually first of U. S.

3. Still, is more than a hundred years old. Right here in Tuolumne Co. only ten miles from Standard. I shall hope to bring them both to you in person in the near future.

Harrars! My epistle is beginning to "Dread" Returning to R.B. The morning that Batch of soldiers to be kept for Sacramento last April- Good Friday it was - Sir! I gave R. B. a copy of The Holy Bible - just as I had, had the Names of all the other boys engraved on each Bible - I or Rather an inexplainable Something prompted me to have simply "Angel" engraved on R. B.'s Bible in which I enclosed a note that The "Angel" was a name that he could always Reach up to.

No one in Sonora or in this entire District heard from R.B. Seven months elapsed. Then one evening the head of our Drug-Board told me the tragic Story of how R.B. had been Rejected because of his teeth by the M.D. in Sacramento - whom

My Good Friend:

The strangest quirks of coincidences always seem to be happening.—Perhaps, after all it does seem, that such seeming coincidence; is in Reality, God's Divine plan for our own good. Something happened yesterday, that assured me that another of my wishes for Your good, had come true in an altogether way.

For the past year I have wished that a young man on the Bonza Police Force I would be sent to you in Washington to serve on "Guard Duty". R. B. Connelly is the man wanted and my ellest type of man—

6. to the Army - was transferred from his Transat Camp to Washington D. C. where he was on Guard Duty at the White House. How sad old Mr. Friar beamed as he told me his boy had actually seen Mr. Roosevelt - and even on to say: You know Mrs. Ebersol - its a blessing to the Nation that had those a Preachers - that can't walk - all the other "big boys" can walk - but they just aren't doing anything about it - And all of them are getting nowhere fast. This old man's simple logic, agreed with my sentiments exactly - And we both wish you all the good you can wish.

Sincerely yours,

The President asks me to thank you ever so much for sending him that most amusing and delightful picture. Dear Miss Tully:

+ P.P.F. 2

Last night when Mrs. Roosevelt was at the house for dinner, I showed her the enclosed picture which amused her greatly.

I found it in a collection of pictures for calendars shortly after I was at the White House in December.

At dinner one night I heard the President refer jokingly to an international poker game, so when I saw this picture, it struck a responsive chord.

I did not want to send it, however, until I had Mrs. Roosevelt's approval. She suggested that I direct it to you, so that you could bring it to the President's attention because she thought it would amuse him.

I hope it will give him a smile in these hectic days.

Very sincerely,

Dear Lady
Please overlook the seeming foolishness of this letter at this particular time. yet if our President gets only a few moments of relaxation, it will be worth while.
I have an Easter Gift for his Museum; a pair of Beaded Egg Shells (hand sewn with thread;) they are 36 years old, and are still in perfect condition.
I do not want to risk them by mail as they are very fragile; in fact have not removed them from basket, in 15 years.
I expect to start back to Texas next thursday and would stop in Washington if in some way I could contact someone who would deliver this unique Gift.

These were made for the President by Maria Arredondo of 420 Corpus Christi St. Loredo (She is my cook and gets her mail at home or through P.O. Box 146). Maria was born in Mexico but has taken out her first papers for American citizenship.
Maybe some children at the White House can enjoy these - or the President might crack one on the head of his Cabinet!"

Dear Mr. President,

I am sending you a Hand Knit Convalescent Jacket which I hope you will accept.

I am a Designer of Hand Knitwear and offred my services to both the Red Cross and W.P.B. over period of past two years.

Last July when at Red Cross Headquarters and Mr. Nelsons office W.P.B. showing them my "Dummy" of Instruction Book to conserve yarn and Standardize Knitting for our Armed Forces, among the designs was this Convalescent Jacket I designed for Canadia and Britian for men who had to remain in Bed. original design of mine, made for the men in Service in Grey and Tan.

The gentlemen at Red Cross and W.P.B both suggested I make one for yr and I did same using white wool.

When the book was ready for approval of Red Cross & W.P.B. both there refused to even look at same.

I have heard from many members of Mr. Nelsons office also Red Cross Headquarters each passing the idea and responsibility to another to O.K the book.

Have decided the Government and Red Cross do not consider conservation of wool or properly designed knit wear of importance to the Armed Forces and have decided to publish the Book without them.

This Jacket for yr was one of 100 very useful designs and the Jackets here brought comfort to hundreds of Boys in Europe.

I hope yr will like it and accept that and I only wish co-operation had been posible with W.P.B and Red Cross

Sincerely
Ethel Evans.

The Hon. Franklin Delano Roosevelt
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. President:

We are taking the liberty of sending you the first print of this year's official Mother's Day poster.

Mother's Day - May 9th - is dedicated to the vital role of Mothers in wartime and to the need for a strong, healthy, victory-determined Nation. Mother's Day - with America at war - will attain unprecedented observance throughout the Nation. The very nature of events focuses national attention on the Mothers of America.

This year, the sacrifices of Mothers are again brought to mind. The 1943 slogan "Remember Mother - Bravest Soldier of Them All" pays appropriate homage to Mothers throughout the land.

Undoubtedly you will soon issue your annual Mother's Day Proclamation calling upon the people of the United States to express the love and reverence which we feel for the Mothers of our country. We pray that no one will forget to "Remember Mother - Bravest Soldier of Them All".

Respectfully,

Irving K. Edwards
Executive Director

IKE:FG

OBJECTIVES: To promote the constructive observance of Mothers' Day as (1) an occasion for gift-giving and family homage to mother and as (2) an opportunity for making all mothers more aware of the vital importance of proper pre-natal care for themselves and wise post-natal care for their children.

HOW MOTHERS' DAY CAME TO BE OBSERVED: In 1914 Congress designated the second Sunday of May as Mothers' Day and requested the display of the American flag on all government buildings on that day. The meaning of the day has impressed itself increasingly upon the consciousness of the American people.

THIS YEAR Mothers' Day is dedicated to the vital role of mothers in wartime and to the need for a strong, healthy, victory-determined nation.

Substance of statements made by the writer:

He is a member of the "Foto Club" of Concordia. Nine photographs were chosen from the offering of this club, including three of the writer's, by the jury which selected Argentina's contribution to the Inter-American Exposition. Later, one of the writer's pictures received the Gold Seal of the Pan American Union.

This success emboldens the writer to offer one of his photographs - one of his favorites - to the President. It is the picture of a cloud, which the writer thinks might be symbolical of a ship carrying the promise of better times to far distant regions.

A MEMORIAL ADDRESS
"A Tribute To War Slackers"

I asked him for a donation
For the Red Cross or the U. S. O.,
Then he gave me this snearing answer,
"To hell with them, I need all my dough"
To buy clothes, gasoline, oil and tires,
Cigars, candy, ice cream and beer.
Then I and my gal will go motoring
And enjoy life's pleasures so dear.

What care I if the Smith or the Jones boys
Are fighting o'er land, air or sea,
So long as I stay here with mama,
Why worry; it's nothing to me.
If Mary or Nellie or Agnes
Are such fools to join the Waacs, Spars or Waves,
And meet with misfortune and hardship.
What a joke! You class them as the "Braves."

If Hitler, Mussolini or Tojo,
Win this war, it's indifferent to me,
For they are no more the Dictators
Than Churchill, Stalin or F. D.
For they all tell us what crops to raise
And what we must buy, sell, or eat,
To help out the government's program
And insure the Axis' defeat.
My folks rented the Johnson forty,
I'm deferred now; They can not spare me.
Of course dad does most of the farming.
And each night I go out on a 'spree'
I lie in bed most every morning,
'Til the folks have the milking all done,
Then I breakfast and jump in my fliver,
And take my gal out on a bum.

Mama says: 'I'm her pet and her darling'
So puny and I have nervous fright,
That I must not enter the service.
Let Jake go in my place to fight.
Now he has a wife and six children
And has passed his exam, that I know,
And if he should get killed in action
Why, his family would get plenty dough.

So don't ask me again for donations
For Red Cross, USO or War Bonds,
I'll not give or lend them a darn penny
To help carry this cursed war on.
You may say that I'm a Japanazi
Or with the Fascists go I hand in hand
But I'll trust those good old Isolationists,
To save us from sinking in sand.

Master XX.

John Doe's Reply

I'll not ask you again for donations
For Red Cross, USO or War Bonds.
Take yourself and your measly pennies,
To (—) the Axis where you should belong.
There are millions of men, women and children
That love the old Red, White and Blue.
Thank God! There are red blooded Americans,
Who will see that this war is fought through.

So go back to your mama and sweetheart
You dear little darling and pet,
Wear fine clothes, smoke cigars,
Eat candy, ice cream and beer.
Perhaps you'll survive us all yet.

While our sons, our brothers and husbands,
Our sisters, sweethearts and wives,
Are fighting like hell on the war and home front.
To see that Old Glory still flies.
There are still quite a few
Stay-at-homes just like you,
Who do nothing but curse, swear and pout
About your Uncle Sam and how war should be won,
And things you know little about.
Now please listen to me
President Franklin D
Is doing a good job you bet,
With Frank Knox and Hull,
Stimpson, Ickes and all
We will beat the damned Axis yet.

Now bear this in mind,
My young friend so dandy,
If Uncle Sam should lose this war
You would not wear fine clothes
Or turn up your nose,
Nor be half as smart as you are.

You had better be dead
Than living instead
Under Nazi or Fascist rule,
Your girl friend a slave
Under Hitler the knave,
Or Mussolini or Tojo's school.
You would not go joy riding on Sunday to church
Or take in a ball game so grand,
For churches and pleasures will forever be barred,
From this and all distant lands.

If you would but mention the name Jesus Christ,
Most likely they would chop off your head.
Or put you in prison; it would be worse than death,
For you would be starving for bread.
If you had any wealth
They would take it away
And leave you with nothing to eat.
You could sleep in a shed
Without any bed,
Or walk naked and cold in the street.

So now take your choice,
Lend your hand and your voice,
Help Uncle Sam this war to win.
Or keep right on going the way that you are
And the Axis will soon have your skin.

Now when Roosevelt and Churchill
Chiang-Kai-Shek and Stalin,
Shall strike their last final blow
The Axis will think they sure are in Hell
For the fires will surround them a-glow.

Now when these four allied leaders
So noble and grand
Stand with our boys at St. Peter's gate,
Believe me I tell you they will not tarry long,
For they'll meet with a most joyful fate.
St. Peter will greet them
With a most cordial smile
And He'll say: "Welcome boys, enter in,
Enjoy to the fullest the Kingdom of God,
For you've rid the world of their (the Axis) murder and sin.

But Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo so so bold,
St. Peter will look them o'er there.
And He'll open the gate to the regions below,
And give them a kick down the stairs.
Saying "Go meet the Devil,
Your father and friend.
He awaits you with great joy and mirth.
And may God's blessings forever abide,
With Peace and with plenty on earth."

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mrs. Eben:

Yesterday I mailed you a package containing two small bottles of Pine Body Cologne, which I would like to have you place one in the guest bath room, occupied by Mr. Churchill, and give one to the President. I better explain why I sent you these bottles.

Mrs. Thompson sent me a rush order of six of these bottles to be sent to Hyde Park just a few days before Mr. Churchill was due. I presume and certainly hope that this was meant to be used by the President and his visitors, which of course made me very happy.

Although the terrific heat wave has passed, I know it is still very warm in Washington, so I do hope these two men will enjoy the lovely cooling effect of the Pine Spirits.

While the package was being packed in my office, I sneaked in a little package for you of my Pine Bath Crystals, wrapped in cellophane (I'm trying to conserve on bottles and jars). Would you kindly transfer this into an air tight container? I think I told you the natural oils would evaporate and the Crystals would loose its strength when exposed to the air. You will also find a small bottle of Spirits and Bath Oil.

I hope that this will not put you to too much trouble in doing this favor for me, and thanking you for your kindness, I am

Sincerely yours,

Elene

Dear Mr. President:

It gives me great pleasure to present to you a bound copy of a series of patriotic advertisements entitled, "Battle Cries of Famous American Heroes."

The subjects of this roll of American Heroes were selected by Dr. Edmund C. Burnett of the Carnegie Institution of Washington. As he states in his foreword, "These are but a few of the heroic figures among the builders of the Nation... yet from twenty mountain peaks of character and achievement we may, if we have vision, survey the Nation's growth, its hopes, and its ideals, both spiritual and material."

In view of your personal interest in the historical background of our splendid Navy, it may be worthy of special mention that no less than seven of the twenty subjects that constitute the series pertain to some exploit of the men whose traditional bravery have made our Navy a symbol of Freedom and Mercy in every corner of the globe.

Respectfully yours,

C. H. Ellingson.

HOW TO REALIZE WORLD PEACE AND DEMOCRACY
ON
THE FEDERAL INTERNAL BALANCE PLAN

by
CHARLES SUMMER EARLY
P. O. Box 6574
Cleveland, Ohio

November 13,1943

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

I am enclosing a booklet entitled "HOW TO REALIZE PEACE AND DEMOCRACY ", or "THE FEDERAL INTERNAL BALANCE PLAN", copyrighted 1931-32, which I hope will eventually find a place in your Library at Hyde Park among the thousands of other pamphlets and books which will be preserved there to be reviewed by peoples of this and succeeding generations.

The International, Social, and Public Service suggestions which are the principal features of this booklet will make it possible for millions, instead of a comparative few, of this and other countries to visit your Library and peruse the books and papers of not only the greatest humanitarian of all times -- but also the world's most visionary and far-sighted individual, who single-handedly saved civilization by his sponsorship of the Lend-Lease Act -- and by his insistence that the Act be passed, in the face of such tremendous short-sighted opposition -- the defeat of which made possible the successful leadership of the three other world saviors : Churchill, Stalin, and Chiang Ki-shek .

Respectfully yours

Dear President:

I just mailed you under separate cover the last of the sixth botlle of Lilly's Entoral, Cold Vaccine in capsule form. That makes six thousand capsules that I have sold since the fifth of August. We used eight thousand last winter and I expect to use twenty five thousand this winter.

It has been so successful for so many many of my friends and customers, I couldn't help but believe, that it might likewise be successful with you.

I hesitated to send these to you, for the reason that you might not use them, but perhaps you will purchase a bottle of Entoral and try them. The idea of sending them occurred to me last night when I was reading a news item in the Star and I just couldn't resist the temptation of mailing them to you.

The company states that they are effective in sixty to seventy percent of thecases, but I have found them to be ninety percent perfect,

I do hope that they will be of service to you, I remain

As I cherish the memory of my mother, as I am sure you do yours, I esteem a sacred privilege the carrying out of what I realize would be my mother's wish and a custom of hers for many years.

As Christmas day it may be a pleasure for you to put a single rose by the picture of your mother in the privacy of your own room to purchase which I enclose a dollar as I am too far away to have it delivered fresh in any other way.

On the first Christmas day following your mother's death anonymously I sent madonna lillies to be placed on the altar of the lovliest Episcopal chapel in and Ralph Adams Cram ever built, St. Ann's

Arlington Heights Mass.

Under separate cover I have ordered shipped from S.S. Pierce Co. Boston four red candles for your library on Christmas eve. As you see their flames moving about may you know again the actual presence and feel that your mothers and fathers are ever now with you. More than ever may they guard and protect you and your fire as these candles radiate their light over and about you.

My mother Sarah Bigelow Fiske Estabrook, a friend of Mrs. Ireland Poorest in their girlhood days would wish me at this time to recognize in this quaint way this attachment of many years. I.E.

Realizing her dislike of ostentation I am regarding what would be her expression by a simple token. She was the daughter of Rebecca Washington Fiske, Grand daughter of the Reverend Samuel Phillips Churtleff, Chaplain at the battle of Bunker Hill

Robert Morris also an ancestor in an early generation turned over his entire fortune to his friend George Washington to finance the American Revolution in its darkest period which act made possible the freedom of our country.

Our family also transferred to the United States Government for about Five thousand dollars the land which became the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

Other messages of the rose and the lights in any way give you a better mental picture and add physical strength it is but a slight token of the many unexpressed wishes that are going out to you from all the Christian world
