My dear Miss Franklin

The President has received your kind letter of October 15th and has asked me to thank you ever so much for the little prayer book which you were good enough to send him. In these days of national emergency it is extremely gratifying to him to know that he has your friendly thoughts and your prayers.

Washington, D. C.

Honorable Sir:

In the feature called "Private Lives" in the Los Angeles Times, I saw that you have a collection of small books. I am, therefore, taking the liberty of sending you the enclosed book entitled "Pearls of Prayer," a prayer book of the Roman Catholic church, to add to your collection.

Since graduation from Northwestern University in 1937, I have been wishing to express, in some way, my appreciation and also that of my fellow students for the aid received through the N. Y. A. It was largely through the assistance of this organization, during those dark depression days, that I was able to complete my education and take up my life-long ambition of being an advertising continuity writer.

I also wish to take this opportunity to state that although my small voice may be lost in the din of harsh criticism against you and your administration, I, along with millions of fellow Americans, have great confidence in your leadership and heartily endorse your foreign policy.

I sincerely trust that this small book may have the honor of being added to your fine collection of books. With it goes a prayer for your guidance through these dangerous days for our beloved country.

Most respectfully yours,

Roberta Frankston

The President said: "Will you do me the favor of telling all members of The First Officers Training Camp Association of Texas that I am profoundly grateful to them for the book of pledges presented to me yesterday, in their names, by Amon Carter and Major Mack McGinley. This very precious and treasured document is being sent to the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library at Hyde Park, New York, to be preserved there 'for the men living in the future'. I hope you will also do me the favor of expressing my gratitude to one and all of the First Campers for their pledge of loyalty to their Commander-in-Chief and for rededicating their lives to the country for which they fought so gallantly in 1917 and 1918." - - - Attached is copy of Mr. Early's night letter, 10-10 to Mr. John Thad Scott, Jr., President, First Officers Training Camp Association, Houston, Texas and also copy of telegram to the President 10-8-41 from Mr. Scott in this connection. Wrote to the President enclosing, with the compliments of his Prime Minister, Mr. Peter Fraser, volumes published in connection with the celebration of the Centennial of the "Treaty of Waitangi". These books give a documental outline of New Zealand, its form of government, its institutions and accomplishment of its 100 years of historical development. - - - The President replied 10-16-41 and expressed his appreciation for having this comprehensive survey of New Zealand for his library. He asked that Mr. Langstone please convey his thanks to Mr. Fraser for this thoughtful gift. (President's letter is as per draft supplied 10-15- by the Honorable Sumner Welles in response to Miss Tully's request Oct. 6.)

Writes to Gen. Watson asking if he can make arrangements for her to see the President for a few minutes. She states that she has an "object" which she would like to show the President; it is a world flag. Says the ideal which this flag expresses is that of Mr. Churchill and the President.

See P.P.F. 9-D

NOTE:- Attached is a letter to Gen. Watson from Miss Dumm, 10/3/41, re the above.--Attached office memo indicates that Miss Dumm arrived on 10/10/41 to leave the flag with Gen. Watson, who was unable to see her at the time, and that she would not leave it with anyone else, saying that "the President must be protected and no one else must know about it." Consequently, she said that the appointment was postponed "indefinitely".

Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt:

I am sending you, I PAID HITLER, the Fritz Thyssen memoirs, which we are bringing out on October 13th.

The introduction by Emery Reves explains the method by which they were written, and the chapters which were corrected by Thyssen after his original dictation as well as the ones which were not gone over by him.

If you care, to, it might be very helpful to have a statement from you, not necessarily an ordinary "quote" on the book, but rather a statement of what we can learn from Thyssen's experience.

Yours sincerely,

John Farrar

Dear Miss LeHand:

In the year 1934, I sent to President Roosevelt in your care a copy of our 1934 edition of "The Lincoln Library of Essential Information." This great work is without a doubt the most complete, up-to-date, and accurate general source of reference that there is of its kind in print. It contains the answers to approximately a half million questions pertaining to the history, government, geography, economics, etc. of the principal countries of the world.

Last year in a September issue of the magazine LIFE, I saw a picture of President Roosevelt's desk and on which appeared his copy of "The Lincoln Library of Essential Information." Evidently it was one of the reference books that he was keeping at his elbow.

We have just brought off the press our new 1941 edition. It is the last word in up-to-dateness and accuracy. In the package to which this letter is attached, there is a copy of our new 1941 edition of The Lincoln Library. Please open the package, remove the copy of The Lincoln Library and present it to President Roosevelt with my compliments. I hope during the years to come that on many occasions he will open it with anticipation and close it with satisfaction.

Sincerely yours,

Burt S. Kinsella

Lady:

Beside this letter I am sending to you an envelope with three pages of three N. Y. News papers; in each one "Progresso Italo americano", "Brooklyn Eagle" and "L. I. Star"; you will find a picture with the story.

It is a very interesting story because the two persons of the story are F. D. R. and myself; and the only thing I ask from you is to: Read those stories very carefully, go deep in it to understand how much I did work for the President and of so many long and very tedious hours spent in the "Music Room" for Him.

The original made from an animal Horn was presented in the 16th century to the King of Spain, so if it was good for a King I created from wood and made it fit for our President in appreciation of the Queensbridge home Federal financed and gratitude for F. D. R. that made it possible for me to live in.

Miss Le Hand it is a personal gift and as in it his personal seal decorated in it, it belongs to him now but it is still in my hand so if you please I wish you to see and make the arrangement to tell him all about it, and see if the President can make it possible to grant me my wish to present it to him in person for the New Year here at his home or in Washington.

Dear Lady:

I was disappointed with your letter in behalf of the President, but I am not mad because I can't give my gift to him in person as you said "F. D. R. as no time in these critical times," Miss Tully did you receive my envelope with my three news paper?.. you see I wish the President to know the story of how I created the gift and the reason why?...

Beside the long and tedious hours of work there was an other bigger sacrifice: some time I had to cut my lunch in half to save the money to buy some material to make work; a real job of craftsmanship and I am proud and happy now of my sacrifice: so next month Dec. the 13 I will send my "Music Hunting Horn" to you by post office and I'll make sure that it get there safe just as you suggested with my best wishes and my final instruction to you of how to present it to the President:

I leave it up to you to choose the day; it is a New year gift but in doing so at the same time I wish if you can arrange to let the President say "Thank you Mr. Fiorino" by long distance telephone call: Stillwell 4-6154: this is the Manager office

Package I am inclosing a little token ever supply of fruit, grapes that are just now in their prime and having more than we can eat in California we are impeded to divide.

Then too although only a private citizen I have felt impressed to have a talk with you al to ourselves. Now not for one minute would I venture to dictate to you, for I know that you are a very buisy and very burdened man.

We appreciate that you have kept us out of war to the extent that you have. But sometimes I wonder when I remember how General Dewey many years ago headed a fleet into the harbor of Manilla by darkness one night and by daylight was ready for action and before breakfast cleaned up the Spanish fleet.

As years have come and gone during your administration I have patiently waited to hear of a similar deminstartion before the gates of Tokio. The Japanese govermnet seems to be trying to play with the U. S. A. And all they will need to settle them forever would be a similar spanking such as they could remember.

I don't want to see war but if a sizable fleet would appear in the harbor in front of Tokio and first send a committie in to head quarters, demanding complete surrender and to get out of China now and forever, warning them of consequences that if they did not accede that withing ---hours their city would be reduced to ashes; Make plenty of demenstartions by sending 100 planes in formation, every hour over the city; have both American flags and Chinese floating from mastheads of ships, to show that both nations had united in the fray.

Mr President take all the advice you can get and the do the best you can, do as you please, disregarding all outside advice.

I wish you success in your work.

Dear Sir:

I am taking the liberty of sending The President a gift for his Christmas dinner -- a new ice cream, created by A. R. Sanna, famous dairy engineer, and named by him "President's Frozen Pudding."

The ice cream, packed in dry ice which will keep it frozen 36 hours from the time it leaves, is coming to you by Air Express, special delivery, via United Air Lines. It leaves Boeing Field, Seattle on Tuesday and arrives in Washington Wednesday evening.

We will appreciate it greatly if you will tend to the package upon its arrival.

Sincerely,

S. I. Powell

Dear Mr. President:

I am taking the liberty of sending you a special gift for your Christmas dinner.

It is a new ice cream, created by Mr. A. R. Sama of Madison, Wisconsin, noted dairy scientist and inventor. He has called it "President's Frozen Pudding."

I ask you to accept it with my very best wishes.

The shipment is coming to you by Air Express special delivery, via the United Air Lines. It leaves Boeing Field, Seattle on Tuesday and arrives in Washington 5:00 PM Wednesday evening.

I send it with my best wishes for a happy Christmas.

Sincerely,

S. I. Powell
